The virtues of Liquozone are derived solely from gases. The formula is sent to each user. The process of making requires large apparatus, and from 8 to 14 days' time. It is directed by chemists of the highest class. The object is to so fix and combine the gases as to carry into the system a powerful tonic-germicide.

Contact with Liquozone kills any form of disease germ, because germs are of vegetable origin. Yet to the body Liquozone is not only harmless, but helpful in the extreme. That is its main distinction. Common germicides are poison when taken internally. That is why medicine has been so helpless in a germ disease. Liquozone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying; yet no disease germ can exist in it.

We purchased the American rights to Liquozone after thousands of tests had been made with it. Its power had been proved, again and again, in the most difficult germ diseases. Then we offered to supply the first bottle free in every disease that required it. And over one million dollars have been spent to announce and fulfill this offer.

The result is that 11,000,000 bottles have been used, mostly in the past two years. Today there are countless cured ones, scattered everywhere, to tell what Liquozone has done.

But so many others need it that this offer is published still. In late years, science has traced scores of diseases to germ attacks. Old remedies do not apply to them. We wish to show those sick ones—at our cost—what Liquozone can do.

Where It Applies.

These are the diseases in which Liquozone has been most employed. In these it has earned its widest reputation. In all of these troubles we supply the first bottle free. And in all—no matter how difficult—we offer each user a two months' further test without the risk of a penny.

RAILWAYS AS DEVELOPERS.

Mr. Goldwin Smith, writing as Bystander in the Toronto Sun, and commending Hon. Mr. Aylesworth's remark, that sentiment influenced the construction of railway lines from East to West, instead of from North to South, says:

"Nature and commercial interest point plainly to lines running from south to north, through peopled and paying districts, not to lines running from east to west through great unpaying expanses, and amidst all the disadvantages of a sub-arctic region and commercial interregion. Will sentiment continue to prevail forever over nature and commercial interest?"

Mr. Goldwin Smith is an authority on literature, history and great topics of that sort, but his position as to railways is open to criticism. In a country like Canada, with tremendous expanse of territory, with tremendous undeveloped resources, the construction of railways through "great unpaying expanses" has been amply justified. The Canadian Pacific Railway at the beginning traversed great "unpaying expanses." But not for a great length of time. The railway itself, made these "unpaying expanses" pay, and now there is not a great railway on earth that pays better, or has a more prosperous existence, than the Canadian Pacific Railway, and contributes more to the development of new regions, and, through them, to the general prosperity of the country. With this experience in mind it is not unwarranted optimism to predict a similar history for the two other projected transcontinental lines. The Ross Government projected the Temiscamingue and Northern Railway into a dense and unbroken wilderness, and their faith in the benefits the railway would create has been amply justified. A wide region has been opened to settlement and improvement, and the railway has led to the discovery of one of the richest mineral deposits of its kind in the world, which, but for the building of this railway into "a great unpaying expanse," would have lain dormant for years and years, as it had done before discovery since the dawn of creation, or the seismic cataclysm that jumbled together "unpaying" rocks and priceless minerals. Development follows the railway, as trade follows the flag.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Ontario Government can't get over the habit they got, under Liberal management, of running to surpluses. Even the pessimistic Mr. Matheson is embarrassed with a surplus.

The Mail says, "With education excluded from politics through the appointment of a non-political superintendent a great step foward will be accomplished." It is perhaps proper to inquire, whether the divorce between politics and education is to be as complete as between License Law Administration?

If that statement of Robert Anderson before the Tariff Commission is not refuted the sugar refiners would appear to have a pretty good thing. The ordinary 7 1-2 per cent. clear profit is not a bad reward, but when $2,000,000 more is given them by the duty they ought, in exchange remarks, to feel quite jolly.

The surplus boasted by the Whitney Government is entirely due to the succession duties "robbery" against which Mr. Whitney used to declaim, and which he was pledged to abolish. But for the $700,000 thus "stolen" from private families, the Government, remarks the Hamilton Times, would have a deficit of $100,000.

The Lord's Day Alliance people are going to ask Mr. Whitney to prevent operation on Sunday of all electric railways, except the Toronto Railway Company, and those chartered before April 1st, 1907. Is that, asks the Hamilton Times, wise or fair? Are any of these people shareholders in the Toronto Railway, or the other earlier chartered roads? Perhaps Mr. Whitney will think over the request before granting it.

In an address to the Canadian Club in London, England, Mr. W. B. Northrup, a leading Conservative member of the Dominion Parliament, who will be remembered as one of Mr. R. L. Borden's touring party in the west a few years ago, is reported as saying that "Canadians were not on their knees," and that "if the Mother Country could not accept their advances they might go elsewhere." The gentleman who, unless the report has misled him, has thus misrepresented Canadian loyalty as a commodity requiring to be bought with a price, is a shining light in the party that has hitherto claimed the British flag as its chief party asset.

LEGAL COSTS.

Chief Justice Meredith, of the Ontario High Court, has been making remarks about a lawyer's bill, and thinks that the Government should take up the question of law costs and try to reduce the scale.

The occasion was this: A case was tried—a disputed mortgage account—involving the sum of $631.94. Appeal was made to the supreme court. Judgment was given for the plaintiff, and the winner and his solicitor collected $1,217 costs against the other side. Then the successful plaintiff came to settle with his own laytera. They rendered a bill for over $2,700. In other words, the successful litigant not only was asked to let his lawyers have the $1,217 costs they got from the other side, and the amount of the mortgage he had collected, namely $631, but also nearly a thousand dollars more. He made a great kick, and his lawyers generously knocked off $900, so that he got off by only losing $100 or so in addition to his mortgage and his trouble, but we guess he won't go to law again in a hurry.

Of course it is as exceptional case. Toronto lawyers, some of them, have large ideas financially. The Journal is willing to bet that such a thing, or anything like it, could not happen in Ottawa, where the members of the bar are as fair in their charges as are other bussness men. But that such an episode was possible at all, with the sanction of the law, is worth attention. The community owes thanks to Chief Justice Meredith for calling attention to it. — Ottawa Journal.

A DICKENS BIRTHDAY FACT

New York World.

The made pursuit of the "six best sellers," had not yet been invented by the publishers in Dickens's day. They understand the art of advertisement better nowadays. A novel may be born to-day and dead and buried a year hence, and yet lead the book-lists for as long as eight weeks.

It was Boz's birthday, Feb. 6th. No pushing publisher thought to get out a new "Pickwick" poster for the occasion. There were no red-letter signs in the subway informing breathless readers that the world's greatest literary success had just been published, and that the presses could not keep up with the demand. That distinction is reserved for the very latest newcomer. He may not stay long, but he has just arrived.

Yet an incautious publisher or two caught off their guard, ingenuously let slip the remark that they had been selling Dickens for twenty years and his stories never sold better than to-day. It is probably the same with Scott and Dumas and Thackeray. For some unaccountable reason people go on reading them, publishers put out new editions and reissue old ones, and nobody says a word about it, while the budding novelist, just graduated from the magazine columns, is heralded from every book-shop window.

Probably more books are read than ever before. No doubt a new class of novel readers has been created, but in the long run it turns out that the old books are still the best books, in spite of the fashion of the hour.

A Citizen Of Prominence

That Mr. Robt. Innis is pretty well known in Peterborough was demonstrated on Saturday, when, in response to the question, "Who is it?" asked in respect to the "prominent citizen" picture in the Examiner that day, a large number of persons telephoned in identifications, and all except one were right. No doubt Mr. Innis was the most surprised man of any who read the Examiner that night, because he had no idea that his picture was in the possession of this paper. There are surprises in store for others in the future too.

The first to identify Mr. Innis again was Mr. F. J. R. Mitchell, who holds the record by a wide margin, but Mr. Mitchell wants to be careful that he will not be surprised some of these days to see his own picture. Others who telephoned in identifications were W. J. Walton, Ed. Conroy, Miss Alta Cawanah, Dr. Burnham, Jos. Picard, W. G. Monrow, D. Bellegheim, F. Sandy, Harry Phelan, Miss Annie Wood, A. P. McDonald, N. Lush, Miss May Courtney, W. Henderson, Ald. Johnston, D. H. Moore, W. Yelland, F. E. Bell, Jas. Hamilton, Mrs. Brandt and G. Edmison.

An interesting feature in connection with the publication of the picture of Mr. N. T. Laplante, which was published a week ago Saturday, is that a gentleman in the city, an ex-Mayor, in fact, came into the office that night to ask if it was not his picture that was published, and there was some little difficulty in convincing him that it was not.

"I didn't think it looked much like me," he said, "but I had a picture taken once amid similar surroundings. My wife told me it wasn't me, but I though it was." Some of these days soon he will see his picture in this paper, perhaps.

"THE OLD SCRATCH"

How the Evil One Came to be Popularly Known as "The Old Scratch."

One of the many familiar names of his satanic majesty is "The Old Scratch." It is undoubtedly due to the fact that scratching is so disagreeable that people thought it no worse than the evil one. A scalp full of dandruff keeps one scratching all the time, not only disagreeable, but considered very inelegant in polite society — as it should be—because one ought to keep the scalp so clean that it would not itch. To cure the scalp of dandruff effectively, use Newbro's Herpicide. It kills the germ that creates the dandruff, which is preliminary to falling hair, and finally, baldness. No other hair preparation kills the dandruff germ. Herpicide also is a very delightful and effective hair dressing.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. Ormond and Walsh, special agents.

An Interesting Programme Given

Third Y.M.C.A. "Pop" on Saturday Was Much Enjoyed.

The third Y.M.C.A. Pop for Saturday night proved to be a thoroughly enjoyable one, the attendance being large and the programme highly entertaining.

Mr. F. D. Kerr was in the chair, and in his opening address, as well as in the remarks sandwiched in between the different numbers, provoked much merriment with his witty sayings and anecdotes.

The Y.M.C.A. orchestra rendered three selections, showing up the good musical ability of the members who comprise that organization. They were obliged to respond to encores.

Mr. Will Dundas is a master on the banjo, and made it do everything but talk. His imitations were very clever.

Miss Mabel Pringle, though suffering with a cold, gave one of James Whitcombe Riley's selections, "The Man in the Moon," and received merited applause.

Mr. W. D. Campbell gave a very amusing reading out of "Letters of a Self-Made Merchant to His Son."

Mr. F. H. Dobbin, in his verbal sketch, made some good hits, and his talk sparkled with humour.

The entertainment closed with "God Save the King."

The fourth Pop on Saturday evening, February 17, will take the form of a steriopticon travel talk by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, the subject to be "Florence the Beautiful."

Grafton & Co.'s Real Estate Deal

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review of yesterday, announces one of the largest real estate and mercantile transfers in the history of Woodstock, which was effected yesterday by Charles R. Clapp, of the firm Ormsby & Clapp, when he sold the building and business belonging to George Robinson, clothier, at 434, 436, 438 and 440, Dundas street, to Grafton & Co., Limited. The figure at which the transfer was made is not for publication but is known to have been a very large one.

The announcement of the transfer has caused considerable surprise in business and other circles, coming as it did so unexpectedly. Mr. Robinson will retire permanently from active business life, and will continue to make Woodstock his home. The stores will be closed to-morrow morning for stock-taking and the Grafton Company will assume control as soon as it is completed. The present business of the company will continue to be run in conjunction with the Robinson business for some time.

The Robinson Block was formerly known as the Scott Block, and was bought and rebuilt by Mr. Robinson some years ago. The transfer includes the entire stock of the three stores and the good-will of the business.—Hamilton Herald.

Churches Were In Darkness

But Otonabee Power Company Has Repairs Completed Now.

The Otonabee Power Company patrons may again depend on a continuous service. The break in the main wheel shaft, which occurred on Friday night, was repaired yesterday, when a new shaft was placed in position. The job was completed late in the afternoon, and the plant started up. But in their efforts to get a light going as quickly as possible, the men neglected to tighten the bolts under the cans on the shaft, and this omission was noticed as soon as the plant was started. Some delay was experienced in remedying the trouble.

The shutdown occured at an unfortunate time, just as the church services were opening, and in those churches served by this company, there was a general scurry for lamps, and for the most part the services had to be conducted in semi-darkness. This, however, did not interfere with the services to any appreciable extent.

The repairs were finally completed, and the service will continue without interruption in future.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer took another low dip between Saturday night and Sunday morning, reaching 15 degrees below zero. Last night it got down to within 5 degrees of zero, but at daybreak stood at 12 above. There is every indication of another

Rev. Mr. Leggott Spoke On Special Work For Each

No One Can Do Our Identical Work—Character and Manhood Building Essential in Good Living—Assist Others in Everything Noble—A Man's Profession is Judged by His Works—Large Congregations Were Present.

HELPFUL SERMON WAS DELIVERED

A large congregation was present last night at the Mark street Methodist church to hear the Rev. T. W. Leggott, of Lakefield, who exchanged pulpits with the pastor, Rev. Mr. Lewis, and those who attended the evening service were well rewarded by hearing a splendid and most beneficial sermon, as Mr. Leggott is a very interesting and effective speaker, who is able to command the individual attention of his hearers.

The reverend speaker took as his subject for the evening's discourse, the sixth chapter of Joshua, which relates the story of the fall of Jericho and the part played by each of the Children of Israel. In this world, he said, every one has a great labour to perform, and no other person can do that identical work, which God has laid down forhim. The Word of God reveals that He is the rewarder of righteousness and the punisher of wickedness, and as life's encampment is so brief we should be alive to the necessities which meet us at every turn, and do our duty here. What we can do for ourselves God will not lend his aid, but what we cannot do alone He is ever ready to assist, and we should serve and honour Him in preference to everything else.

The law of cause and effect, he said, was never failing, and our lives will have the issues sometimes which shall be just reward in accordance with the labour we have performed. The greatest assistance in knowing our special work and aiding in the doing of it is a study of the practical experience of the age before us. Character building, true religion and everything noble and grand in helping others is the great general work for all, and those who do this with all their might will be a credit to their God.

The reverend gentleman then explained how and at what times the work should be accomplished. Progress, he said, could only be made in continuous labour and by a systematic plan.

Actions, and not words, is the only reliable means of discovering what a person professes. . . Every one should take a retrospect of his or her life, and blot out, by living, the wrongs committed in the past. "Does my life correspond with my profession?" is an question each should ask himself intelligently.

God, he said, would have us all deal under the greatest principle that can be laid down—"Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you."

The inevitable result that we shall receive just what we live for should form an impetus to do our best and lend a helping hand to others, so that when death stares us in the face, each may be able to say that "The time of my departure is at hand. I have fought a good fight, and there is a crown of glory laid up for me above."

More Than Half A Century Away From Peterboro'

Mr. Wm. N. Down Returns to Visit This City After Fifty-five Years Absence—Now a Prosperous Northwest Farmer—Is Visiting His Cousin, Mr. Wm. Yelland, Here—Great Strides Made by the New Land of Wheat.

FORMERLY RESIDED IN CARTWRIGHT

After an absence of more than half a century, 55 years, to be exact, Mr. Wm. N. Down, of Glenboro, Manitoba, is in the city on a visit to his cousin, Mr. W. Yelland, and to the Examiner, a representative of which ran across Mr. Down, he told a most interesting story,. He lived in Cartwright, Durham County, after his arrival from England, until 23 years ago when, catching the western fever with many others, who have since made fortunes, he packed up and with his eight children—one has since died—left for the then almost unknown, and by many unappreciated, Province of Manitoba.

That was a move that Mr. Down never regretted, for he has been successful there even beyond his expectations. This is Mr. Down's first visit east in the 23 years that he has spent in the west, and of course, the opinion he holds, is that he would not think of living in the east again. He would not be a true westerner did he not hold that opinion. One of the first places he visited when he returned to the east was his township of Cartwright, and there he met many of the men whom he had known in the early days, and where he found, generally, that the same conditions prevailed as 23 years ago.

Then he came on to Peterborough to spend a few days with his cousin, Mr. W. Yelland, and the re-union was a pleasant one to both. Mr. Yelland met Mr. Down for the first in 45 years on the occasion of the former's visit to Manitoba, a few years ago.

1,760 acres of the best land in the Glenboro District, and there is none better outdoors, are in the name of Mr. Down and his three sons. So that it will be easy to convince one that his move to the west was an advantageous one to him. When he first went to that country he lived in Portage Lapararie for three years, and then moved south to Glenboro district, where he has since lived, though at the present time he is retired, having disposed of his own farm to a son-in-law, and lives a quiet life, contented and happy.

Last year was, according to Mr. Down, a much better year for the farmers in his district than 1904, because in the latter, the rust played havoc with the grain, but in 1905 there were no disadvantageous circumstances, and as a result the farmers are feeling particularly well pleased with their lot.

Of course, Mr. Down holds the opinion which is absolutely universal in the west, and well nigh so here, that the future holds only the best things in store for that part of the Dominion.

He will remain a few weeks longer in Ontario, before he leaves for the west again.

Store Is Now Dream Of White

Elaborate Decorations in Richard Hall & Son's Establishment

As the result of over a week's work by Mr. A. M. Bunt, the interior of Richard Hall & Son's establishment is a dream in white. Everywhere the eye meets white goods tastefully arranged. The scheme, is very cleverly carried out and the store is everywhere decorated with handkerchiefs, laces, curtains and other articles in white. The decorations have been done in preparation for the ten days White Goods Sale which opens on Thursday morning.

On the north side of the store is found lattice work of ball puffing and at the back a similar lattice work of embroidery with a show of silks. Curtains are hung evsrywhere throughout the store. There are six ledges, one draped with embroidery, one with laces and white collars, another with corsets and embroidery, another with handkerchiefs another with silks and the last with white dress goods.

On the south side of the store there is a display of door and window shades, white bed spreads, bolsterrs and window drapes, the latter manufactured on the premises. A large double arch will be erected near the main entrance. Upstairs there will be found an elaborate display of white goods, and the same plan of decoration has been carried out.

The windows will a so be elaborately adorned in white goods and in fact the whole store will be a symphony in white.

Wednesday's Game Should Be Fast

The next game the local team will have will be with Brockville on Wednesday night. In spite of the fact that the Brockville team was defeated on Friday they put up a game fight and the prospects for a close game here are excellent. The local team, if it should win the district on Wednesday will have to go up against a western team, and a long trip will have to be made, taking considerable funds. In view of this fact it is hoped that there will be a good crowd for Wednesday's game to put the finances of the club in satisfactory shape to enable them to make their next trip. The team is playing great hockey, and deserves the support of the public.

A Great Career Ended By Death On Saturday

E. B. Eddy of Hull Passes Away On Saturday.

DEATH OF THE MATCH KING

Fire Marked His Industries for Destruction 27 Times, But He Rose Superior to These Continued Misfortunes—Remarkable Career of a Great Canadian Manufacturer, Who Helped to Build Up Canada.

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—Ezra Butler Eddy, Hull's industrial prince, known the world over as "the Match King," died Saturday afternoon at his home at Hull. The cause of death was stomach ailment, owing to which he was unable to retain nourishment. He was in the office last on Jan. 25.

His industries at Hull embraced 27 mills, employing 2,000 hands, and manufacturing matches, woodenware and kindred articles. The product of the match factory alone was 52,000,000 matches a day.

E. B. EDDY.

In his career he had 27 fires, twice being burned out completely.

A widow and one daughter, Mrs. Bessy, survive him. Mrs. Bessy is at present in a sanitarium in Guelph, and her only son bears Mr. Eddy's name, and lived with him, his father being dead.

The funeral will take place this afternoon, when the remains will be taken to Bristol, Vt., for burial.

Sketch of His Career.

Ezra Butler Eddy was one of the largest manufacturers of woodenware and paper in the British possessions, his establishment at Hull employing between 2,000 and 3,000 hands. His ancestors came originally from Scotland.

He was born near Bristol, Vermont, Aug. 22, 1827, the son of the late Samuel Eddy and Clarissa Eastman, who was a direct descendant of Miles Standish. Mr. Eddy was educated at the district school at Bristol and commenced his business career in New York City. He afterwards removed to Burlington, Vermont, and embarked in the manufacture of friction matches in 1851.

In 1854 he removed to Hull, where he erected extensive shops and warehouses, the business at that time being confined to the manufacture of matches, but in 1856 he added woodenware, such as pails and tubs, and, in 1892, paper. Mr. Eddy formed a joint stock company in 1892 and since then the business has been carried on under the name of the E. B. Eddy Co., of which he has been president.

From 1871 to 1875 he sat for Ottawa County in the Quebec Legislature as a Conservative. He also served a term as mayor of Hull.

Mr. Eddy held high rank in the Masonic Order, and was a member of the Presbyterian community. His first wife, whom he married on Dec. 1, 1846, was Zalda Diana, daughter of U. F. Arnold. She died in 1893. In 1894 he married Jennie, daughter of the late John Sherriff, of Chatham, N. B.

He was accounted one of Canada's millionaires.

Daring Diamond Robbery.

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 12.—A daring diamond robbery occurred here Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, whereby A. F. McMillan, jeweler, is loser to the extent of between fifteen and twenty thousand dollars. The thief threw a brick through the plate glass window and snatched two trays of valuable diamonds and rushed off. Owing to the fog he quickly was lost to sight. McMillan came here from Winnipeg and opened last November. He is now in the east.

Confesses Eight Burglaries.

Detroit, Feb. 12.—With stealthy tread, inherited from his Indian mother, Joseph Hanavan, halfbreed, invaded eight residences in three nights. Trapped as he was contemplating the Ford residence at Woodward and Ferry avenues, early Saturday morning, and taken to the station Hanavan confessed everything. "I was forced to do it," said Hanavan. "I had no work and no money. I came here Jan. 22 from Toronto, Ontario, where I worked as a compositor."

Redmond Again Leader.

Dublin, Feb. 12.—At a meeting of Irish members of Parliament Saturday, John E. Redmond was re-elected chairman of the Irish Parliamentary party. The members who acted as whips for the party during the last session of Parliament were also re-elected.

C. P. R.'s Forestry Scheme.

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—It is understood that the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. has decided to plant large quantities of young trees at various points along its prairie lines, so as to be able, in future time, to supply its own ties and fence posts.

Spoils System In Operation In Province

Whitney's Axe Descends For Second Time In Lincoln Co.

MR. WM. FORBES DISMISSED

Police Magistrate of Grimsby Receives Notice—No Apparent Cause, But a Prominent Tory Worker, John W. King, Gets His Place—Mr. Forbes Was Magistrate Since 1874 and Dispensed Justice Ever Since.

St. Catharines, Feb. 12.—Whitney's axe has again descended in Lincoln County. The first application of the spoils system in the riding by the Whitney Government came nearly a year ago, when License Inspector Fowlie was dismissed without apparent cause and a prominent Tory worker, John W. King, put in his place. Now Police Magistrate William Forbes of Grimsby village has received his walking ticket, the letter informing him of his dismissal from the office of the Attorney-General being brief but to the point:

"William Forbes, Grimsby—Upon the recommendation of the Attorney-General the committee of Council advise that you be removed from office in the public interest."

There is not much in the position, no salary being attached, but evidently some good Tory coveted it and the Whitney Government did the rest.

Justice Without Fear or Favor.

Mr. Forbes ever since 1874 has performed the duties of magistrate in Grimsby and district, having been appointed Police Magistrate some years ago, prior to that being a Justice of the Peace, and in all that time, as far as can be learned, there never was any complaint against him. He was known as an honest, upright magistrate, fearing or favoring none. It was largely through his influence that action was taken against a large number of Grimsby men who were responsible for the holding of cock-fights in the vicinity of the village last month, which resulted in 32 men, some of them well-known citizens of Grimsby, being fined. Announcement of Mr. Forbes' dismissal, without warning or explanation, came like a bolt from the blue, as he was about the last Ontario official in the county it was supposed the Whitney Government had designs upon.

Endless Annoyance and Misery.

"As a man of seventy years I am grateful to God and to Dr. Chase's Ointment for a cure of piles which had caused me endless annoyance and much misery. The itching and burning was almost beyond endurance, but Dr. Chase's Ointment brought quick relief and I believe that the cure is lasting." Rev. Wm. Thomas, Brownsville, Ont.

WEAK MEN AND WOMEN

The Most Perfect Restorative Known and Invigorating Tonic Vitalizer —Greatest Health-Renewer

Nature's greatest cure for weak, pale men and women is Ferrozone. It is invaluable for run-down, overworked, delicate people, and will restore them to robust health more quickly, at smaller expense, than any other tonic you can select.

We quote the following cases to show what Ferrozone has done for others. In your case it will act just as efficiently:—

FOR BUSINESS MEN

The Experience of a Well-Known Lawyer Proves Ferrozone an Ideal Tonic.

Mr. N. W. Burke, a well known lawyer in Meriden, says:—"When I first took Ferrozone I was in a nervous run-down condition, almost sick enough to give up work. I lacked strength, and felt as if I could not get down to work. Ferrozone at once gave me a good appetite, and drove away the nervous, apprehensive feelings that formerly made my life miserable. As I continued the use of Ferrozone I grew stronger, and am glad to say it has brought me back to perfect health. I know that Ferrozone is an excellent tonic for business men and people inclined to a sedentary life. I can recommend it to such."

FOR NERVOUS WOMEN

Nothing Compares With the Nerve-Strengthening Power of Ferrozone.

Mrs. E. D. Emmerson, of Centreville, says:—"I am glad to think that there is at least one honest remedy for nervous people. No one can imagine what I suffered with my nerves, and I sometimes wonder at the number of useless prescriptions and medicines I took. But Ferrozone acted differently from all the rest. It built up my system, and gradually the irritability left my nerves, and I got well. Ferrozone cured me by removing the cause of my trouble, and by giving me enough additional strength to overthrow the attack of nervousness. I can recommend Ferrozone strongly."

THOUSANDS ANNUALLY CURED BY FERROZONE

If you want to get well and keep well, by all means use Ferrozone. If you suffer from insomnia, nervousness, debility, loss of appetite, poor digestion, or any other symptom of disordered blood, nothing will tone up and vitalize your system like Ferrozone. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by all druggists, or sent safely by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

Brockville Thinks

PETERBOROUGH TEAM Equal To The Seniors

What The Recorder of That City Has to Say of the Game There on Friday Night—Some Marvellous Work by the Visiting Team Praised.

That the Peterborough team made an impression in Brockville is evident from the references which the Recorder of that city makes in reporting the game played there on Friday night. It gives Peterborough credit for possessing a team which it says can give any of the seniors a hard run for their money. A portion of the report of the game taken from that paper follows:

Beaten, but not disgraced, may be quite applicably applied to the result of last night's match. The Invincibles were defeated by the score of 14 goals to 2, by the Peterborough team, on home ice, but they were as far out of their class as juniors from seniors, and, in fact, the Peterborough bunch that played here last evening will give any of the senior teams of to-day a close chase. Why they are scheduled in intermediate company is more than the Recorder can understand, for they are not only big and husky individually, but play with a snap and vigour characteristic of many champion senior teams. When they appeared on the ice last night, the 800 or so spectators present were at once struck with this fact, and their observations formed many opinions as to the result, but the majority of these were not miscalculated, for they simply ran in, knocked down and skated away from the plucky home bunch almost at will. They are all fast skaters, beautiful stick handlers, possess a combination that would be hard to beat, and if the local senior aggregation had been their opponents they would have been more in the r class. Despite the large score, however, the game was interesting, the local seven never letting up until the final gong had sounded, although they had played against tremendous odds. What caused the visitors to pile up the score they did is more than any could understand, in view of the fact that the locals are scheduled to play the return match in Peterborough next Wednesday evening, but score they did, and no opportunity for so doing was missed until the game was declared over.

Play had no more than started in the first half when, in less than a minute, Morgan tallied. Cavanah, who was Muldoon's check, and one of the fastest wing players ever seen here, took the next four, three of which were in quick succession. The locals were unable to cover their men, and when their opponents did lose it, they simply overtook the locals, took it away and shot on Brockville's goal. To Burns' credit, however, the score was not larger, for he was simply made a target for several cannon-ball like shots, but he was ever on the alert, and passed them out with quick dispatch. The local forward line would then go up the ice, but to get past the visitors' defence was like getting over a huge stonewall. They did, however, get there, and Muldoon tallied to the unexpected joy of all present, but it was from a slight off-side, and was called back. A minute later the same lad was presented with the same opening, and scored, the score now standing 5 to 1. The visitors took the next two goals, the half ending 7 to 1 in their favour.

The second half was simply a repetition of the first, each team doubling on their score. The locals' goal was scored from a mix-up in front of the visitors' flags, both Fergo and Kerr being responsible for the tally. The combination work of Whitcroft and Cavanah was alone worth the price of admission, their system of drawing out the local defence for a tally being marvellous. To their lot fell the work of doing the tallying.

The referee was W. E. Burke, of Belleville, and to his credit it must be said he was fair and impartial. Le Sueur, of Smith's Falls, who was to have officiated, was unable to come owing to business reasons.

The Quakers' Smile Came Off

G.T.R. Team Beat Cereal Office Staff Saturday Night.

In a warmly contested game at Brock street rink, on Saturday night, the G. T. R. team tied a knot in the Quaker smile when they defeated the office staff of the American Cereal Company by 2-1. The half-time score was 1-1. The game was exciting and very rough at times. The G.T.R. combination won out for them. The teams were:—

North Ends Won Fast, Clean Game

A clean fast game of hockey was played on Saturday afternoon at All Saints' rink when the North and South ends of the C. G. E. Brass Department met the south winning out by 3-2. The North End were the heavier team, but were unable to hold the fast forwards of the south, who played clever combination.

Special Train From Lakefield

Will be Run for the Game on Thursday.

The prospects are that the games on Thursday in the city league will be the most warmly contested of the whole series, especially that between the High Lites and Suburbs, upon which the championship practically depends. The Lakefield team is running a special train to the city that night, and Mr. Chas. Gray of that village was in the city to-day arranging for the special.

HOCKEY

A Keene correspondent sends the following report of two games played on Saturday:—

Keene Junior hockey team journeyed to Peterborough Saturday morning, and played two return matches with the Central School team and the Victors of that place. The game in the morning could not be said to be very fast hockey at times but both teams played clean hockey only two men being penalized. Lech of the Aberdeens was the star for the Centrals, who won a victory by a score of 5-1. Mr. Wallace, manager of Central School team, refereed the game. Keene line-up was as follows:—Goal, R. Weir; point R. Newton; cover point, Leo Welsh; right wing, P. Skinner; left wing, L. Roach; centre, T. Campbell; rover, W. Edwards.

At 2 p. m. the Juniors of Keene were again lined up against the Victors, who were also assisted by the star of the Aberdeens. Both teams played excellent hockey, although the "Black and Yellow" were at a disadvantage in the very small rink. The boys held themselves well and although the Victors were inclined to be rough, very little penalizing was done. Hall of Peterborough made a very efficient referee. Keene team was as follows:—

For the Victors Lech and Pratt were prominent and for Keene Skinner and Welch did some gilt edged work.

Thee Victors line-up was:—

Referee, Arthur Hall.

The great press game has been postponed indefinitely, owing to the fact tha t the gladiators have not been able to secure the rink. The public will be greatly disappointed no doubt, but the players are not to blame for the postponement. Many Places Will be Represented in To-monow's Contest.

The great annual Peterborough Bonspiel commences to-morrow afternoon at 1.30. Rinks from Napanee, Stouffville, Lindsay, Keene, Port Hope, Norwood, Lakefield, Beaverton, are expected and a number of others have signified their intention of being represented. Therefore, if the weather permits, this year's bonspiel will be the greatest in Peterborough's history and the results will undoubtedly create much interest among local broom handlers.

Curlers To Use Brock Street Rink

The Curling Bonspiel opens here tomorrow in the Charlotte street and Brock street rinks, the latter having been engaged by the curlers for this event. Consequently there will be no skating in Brock street rink to-day and to-morrow. BOTH FOOD AND MEDICINE.

We like best to call Scott's Emulsion a food-medicine. It is a term that aptly describes the character and action of our Emulsion. More than a medicine—more than a food, yet combining the vital principles of both. It is for this reason that Scott's Emulsion has a distinct and special value in all wasting diseases. There is nothing better to remedy the troubles of imperfect growth and delicate health in children. The action of Scott's Emulsion is just as effective in treating weakness and wasting in adults.

Metropolitan Agents Were In Convention Here

Thirty Representatives of Peterborough District Met on Saturday Afternoon.

A convention of the agents and managers of the Peterborough District of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., representing all the towns and villages within a radius of one hundred miles from Peterborough, was held on Saturday afternoon, in the office of Mr. John Rothwell, superintendent, here.

About thirty agents and managers were present, including several Peterborough old boys, notably H. H. Gray, Orillia; Fred Watley, Port Hope; W. A. Chisholm, Belleville, and J. D. Martin, Oshawa.

Mr. J. E. Cavenagh, of New York, the General Superintendent for Western New York, and the Dominion of Canada, also a former resident of Peterborough, was present.

The representatives had dinner together at the National, after which they met at Mr. Rothwell's office, in the Bank of Toronto Block. Here plans for the coming year were discussed and the work of the company during the past year was reviewed. It is a significant fact that the Peterborough district stood second in the list of twenty districts in western New York and Canada, and forty-second in the list of all the districts in America.

It was shown at the convention that the new insurance of the Metropolitan Co., in 1905 amounted to over $458,000,000, and that the company had increased its assets almost $24,000,000, and its surplus over $1,000,000.

The Lecture Was Much Enjoyed

A Pleasant Evening Spent at St. Mark's, Otonabee—Other Church Notes.

The lecture given last Thursday under the auspices of St. Mark's Woman's Auxiliary, was attended by a large number of people, among whom some who had come from Keene. Mr. Joshua Smithson acted very acceptably as chairman. The Wilson orchestra was in attendance and rendered several selections. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt lectured on "The Evolution of the Boy," and held the attention of the audience throughout the lecture. The proceeds were given to the Women's Auxiliary for their missionary work, and amounted to a handsome sum. Next Sunday the Holy Communion will be administered at the afternoon service, which begins at 3 o'clock.

THREE TRYING TIMES IN A WOMAN'S LIFE

There are three periods of a woman's life when she is in need of the heart strengthening, nerve toning, blood enriching action of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

The first of these is when the young girl is entering the portals of womanhood. At this time she is very often pale, weak and nervous, and unless her health is built up and her system strengthened she may fall a prey to consumption or be a weak woman for life.

The second period is motherhood. The drain on the system is great and the exhausted nerve force and depleted blood require replenishing. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills supply the elements needed to do this.

The third period is "change of life" and this is the period when she is most liable to heart and nerve troubles.

A tremendous change is taking place in the system, and it is at this time many chronic diseases manifest themselves. Fortify the heart and nerve system by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and thus tide over this dangerous period. Mrs. James King, Cornwall, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled very much with heart trouble—the cause being to a great extent due to "change of life." I have been taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for some time, and mean to continue doing so, for I can truthfully say they are the best remedy I have ever used for building up the system. You are at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of other sufferers."

Yesterday In City's Churches

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

At St. John's church yesterday Rev. Gilbert Davidson, Vicar of Guelph, preached the sermons morning and evening, to large congregations, and excellent, practical and impressive sermons they were.

His morning text was St. Matthew xx; 4, "Go ye also into the vineyard." The general application of the text was a call to work, especially in the vineyard of the Lord—the church and its allied activities. The speaker combatted the idea that labour is the result of sin; it was the law which God imposed upon mankind when he placed the first man in the Garden of Eden to dress it. Work instead of being the result of sin was the natural outcome of God's creation, in which man was placed to work out his salvation. Thus the call came to all to "work in his vineyard," to work out in ourselves God's great ideal. We were called upon to do the work given us whether in the Sunday school or other organizations of the church or in the daily round of life, however humble. This responsibility rested upon all, and though many might feel themselves unworthy, they, by earnest endeavour to do their best, would be doing their duty and would realize the promise "My grace is sufficient for my strength is made perfect in weakness."

The text of the evening sermon was the 9th verse of the 78th Psalm, "The children of Ephraim being armed and carrying bows turned back in the day of battle." Everybody despised cowardice and admired courage in every thing but religion, where moral cowardice, indifference and indicision were most made subjects of condemnation. Indifference and half heartedness in religious matters were the greatest foes to spiritual progress and these arose from three causes—the fear of God, which sprang from a misconception of his nature—that a religious life was necessarily sad sombre and gloomy. Christ came not only to make atonement but to teach men that God was so much a God of love as to encourage men to seek Him. Man was not attracted by the fear, but by the love, of God. Another cause was the fear of the devil—of his influence which often led to despair of breaking off sinful habits—of being able to face the struggle of living a holy life. The third cause was the fear of man—of being ridiculed and scoffed at. When we set our hearts on attaining an earthly object we persevered in spite of the derision of others and the realization of our object was found worth while. In facing the world's ridicule to seek to follow the ways of God the result would be also found worth while.

Rev. Mr. Davidson is a fluent and pleasing speaker, saying a great deal and saying it pointedly and well in a short space of time. His lecture on "London by Lime light," in St. John's School House on Monday evening will be well worth hearing.

ST. LUKE'S.

The monthly meeting of the Men's Guild will be held to-night at 8 o'clock in the Guild Room. A large attendance is requested.

The Girls' Auxiliary meets to-night at 8 o'clock.

The Mothers' Guild meets on Wednesday at 2.30. Preparations are being made for the annual Pancake Social and Entertainment on Shrove Tuesday. A lecture, illustrated by 70 lime-light views, on "St. Petersburg and Moscow," will be given by the rector.

Week night service and Bible study on Wednesday at 8.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The attendance at St. Andrew's church yesterday at both services was large, and the sermons preached by the pastor were helpful and inspiring. That of the morning was on the subject, "The church, her place and power," and in the evening he preached on "Jesus Christ, His Mission and Message."

At the service last night Miss Mary Rush sang the solo "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," and Mr. Campbell took the verse in the "Pilot Song" as a solo. A quartette, Mrs. Greenslade, Miss Rush, Mr. Greenslade and Mr. Campbell, taking the chorus.

To-night the Young People's Society will meet, and on Tuesday at 7.45 the Young Ladies' Mission Band. On Wednesday at 7.30 the Teachers' Training Class will meet in weekly study and the prayer service at 8 o'clock. The choir concert on Friday night will be one of the musical events of the week.

MURRAY STREET.

The services yesterday in Murray street Baptist church were of an evangelistic nature, continuing those of last week, and the sermons, which were preached by the pastor, Rev. F. J. Scott, were specially appropriate, and were listened to by large congregations. The musical service by the choir was appropriate to the occasion and was much enjoyed.

To-night Rev. Mr. Welch, of Lindsay, will be here again to assist in the services, which will be continued this week.

ST. PAUL'S.

Yesterday morning Rev. W. Johnston, of Millbrook, preached in St. Paul's church, and the pastor, Rev. Dr. Torrance, in the evening, both services being well attended.

To-night the Presbyterian Guild will meet in Knox church when Mr. J. A. Fife, will give an illustrated lecture on the Northwest.

To-morrow night the Missionary Committee of St. Paul's will meet and the office bearers on Thursday night.

CHARLOTTE STREET.

Two excellent sermons were preached yesterday in Charlotte street church by the pastor, Rev. W. J. Jolliffe. The subject of his morning's discourse was "Opportunity," while in the evening he spoke from the text "A Country without a Temple." The choir, as usual rendered a very effective musical service. In the morning "So Near to the Kingdom," a hymn was sung, the last verse being taken as a solo by Miss Clara Bethlehem. After the sermon Miss Bethlehem also sang "O Happy Day," in excellent voice and with good effect. The anthem at the evening service was "Our Blessed Redeemer," with solos by Miss Bethlehem and Mr. Clarke, and for the offertory Mr. Jos. Legg sang Torrington's "Abide With Me."

ALL SAINT'S.

The feature of the services in All Saints' church yesterday was the sermon at night by the Rector, Rev. Wm. Major, on the "Firmament," the second of the series of sermons on the "Creation." Mr. Major referred to a number of the characteristics of the atmosphere and drew lessons from them. Among them the estimable value of common mercies. He pointed out that as the air dispelled the dampness so exhalations of prayer and praise should ascend to God.

On Wednesday the Girls' Guild Valentine Social will be held, and the ladies of the church will meet on Thursday at 3 o'clock for the purpose of forming a Ladies' Aid Society.

PARK STREET.

At the Park street Baptist church large congregations turned out to receive the pastor yesterday, especially at night. A very enthusiastic after meeting followed the evening service, when several responded to the leader's appeals for decision. The teachers are arranging for their annual Sunday school festival to be held on March 16th. An attractive programme is in sight. The Musical, Platform and Programme Committees were appointed. The Quarterly business meeting of the church will be held on Wednesday next, at 8.30. The public service on Wednesday will commence at 7.30.—Com.

Letters Of Approval And Condemnation

Some Comments on The Examiner's Recent Editorial on the Collegiate Institute—Mr. Dumble's Disapproval of the Position Taken—"Ratepayer" Endorses It.

Editor Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I am heartily in accord with the position taken re school buildings in your editorial of the 9th instant.

By all means remove the Separate School building. A progressive, prosperous city with a promising future cannot afford to have a municipal "wart" on its finest square and that under the auspices of Education (which more than any other department of civic affairs should cultivate good taste.)

The very idea of retaining the building is a reflection on the qualifications of the members of the Board. They are either lacking in true appreciation of the actual worth of good taste or carried away with an old-womanish idea of economy.

It is all right to draw the line at too much plate glass and quartered oak, but luxury is one extreme and hideous economy the other, and even this supposed economy is an illusion.

If these ardent "economists" will place their wood sheds on their front lawns they will have a faint idea of how the Separate School building will harmonize with the Collegiate and Armoury buildings. May they also have a faint idea of how posterity will bless them.

We cannot afford to have such an Architectural outrage inflicted upon us. Intelligent taste recoats it, and the so-called arguments in favour of such a blunder savours more of fussiness and senility than of real economy or progress.

By all means remove the "wart." We are the lowest of the 20 leading towns and cities of the province in municipal debt. This does not mean we can be lavish, but it means we can at least afford to have sufficient self-respect to keep back-yard cribs out of sight. The old school did very well back of the old drill shed but what would it look like in front of the new armoury?

By all means remove the white-fronted, red-backed round-topped wart. And if the School Board will take a leaf from the Water Commissioners' book, and place some real proposition before us, we will be in a position to support them.

The Board is evidently in either a kindergarten stage or utterly incapable of directing public investment.

An intelligent electorate demands something better than a poverty-struck domestic economy basis for such an important undertaking.

Yours truly,
RATEPAYER.

Peterborough, Feb. 10th, 1906.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Sir, — I was glad to read in Friday's Examiner, under the heading of "Get Right; Then Go Ahead," a long editorial on the school matters. When the local papers show interest in our local government, and try to guide the people, it is hopeful; and though they may not be always right, it is better that they should show some interest than to be wholly indifferent.

Your editorial was not calm, dispassionate and fair—on the contrary, it was one-sided, and wholly unfair, as it distorted facts and figures so as to leave the impression that it was more anxious to attain an end than to arrive at the best conclusion.

This matter is a public one, in which no one is supposed to have any private interest, and therefore we can afford to discuss it in a fair and kindly way.

Let me state wherein I think your conclusions are so far wrong:

First, you use intemperate language in saying the Separate school is like the old town buildings, and never intended for the use it is proposed to put it to.

To that I say it was built for a school, and is a school.

You say it would have four small rooms.

To that I say it has five large rooms, the orthodox, approved size, for 40 to 45 pupils, which is the largest number a teacher should have, and the rooms now occupied by the janitor will make a sixth room, which is the number in the new $30,000 Roman Catholic school. The building is well lighted, and has spacious halls, and is sound; of course a little out of repair.

You call it a "ramshackle, architecturally incongruous wart." That is strong, and ill-deserved. Is it not a handsomer building than the present Collegiate Institute, or the South Central school, or the West Ward school?

You say it will cost $6000 to $8000 to "revamp the old school," and this you say in face of the fact that an experienced builder offers to contract to shingle and paint, to re-floor, to take out cellars, and put in complete heating apparatus, and complete plumbing, for $3000. Are you justified in ignoring this fact?

You say if the Menzies school is vacated, it will save $800 a year—as the rent is only $400 a year, where is the other saving? Won't whatever school the Menzies children go to require heating and a janitor?

The Public school now gets from the Collegiate Institute $1200 a year for rent. This they will lose when the Collegiate leaves their present building — and the new Public school in the old Collegiate will cost that $1200 a year, and all the cost of janitor, heating, etc., but they will save the $400 they now pay for the Menzies building.

This is fact, and it is legitimate to consider it, but argument rests on it for or against the Separate School.

If, as you say, the new Catholic school, with its six orthodox rooms for, say 240 pupils, cost $30,000, is it not wise for our people to spend $3,000, or even $4,000, to "revamp" the old Separate School, which will accommodate exactly as many pupils as that $30000 school? And you say the eight-roomed old Collegiate is worth $30,000. How is it the old six-roomed Separate School is worth so little?

By some queer figuring, you talk of an expenditure of $28,000 if the Separate School is "revamped," but that paragraph will stand reconsideration, as no one can understand it.

You say the new public school in the Collegiate Institute, with its eight rooms, will accommodate 400 pupils. That means 50 pupils to a room, when you know right well that 40 pupils to a room is the proper limit of a teacher's capacity. So that at the utmost it will only accommodate 320 pupils. I agree with you that the old Institute will, for the present, accommodate about 160 pupils more than are now accommodated at the Menzie School, but what about the overcrowded South Central School, where it is proposed to put on a third storey?

Could not 160 pupils be sent from homes near that school to the Separate School building, and room made there for children from farther south?

It is not to be assumed that children in a city with beaten streets and cleaned sidewalks cannot walk half a mile, if needs be, when the same children, if in the country, with rosier cheeks, would walk two or three miles as they frequently do.

Now, as to the new Normal School. You write as taking for granted that the Government will select Peterborough as the site for it; and, secondly, they would unite with the Collegiate Institute in putting their Institute under the same roof, and thirdly, that they would select the park as their site.

It is very doubtful if they will select Peterborough; it is more doubtful that they would unite with the Collegiate; and it is very much more doubtful that they would place an institution, having many hundreds of pupils, on the same little ground with the 300 or more pupils of the Collegiate, on a public ground devoted to Armouries, drilling and parades.

Throughout your article you have begged the question, and appear too anxious to throw away a good and substantial building, good looking and capable of good service to the people.

A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. Let us hold what we have, and not be too quick to drop the bone for the shadow.

I am, Sir,
Your Obedient Servant,
D. W. DUMBLE.

To Double The Capital Stock Of The Company

Shareholders of Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company Decide This at Annual Meeting Held Yesterday--$100,000 Will be New Capital--A Satisfactory Showing Reported for First Year's Operations--Board of Directors for 1906.

OUTPUT THIS YEAR WILL BE 15,000 DOZEN

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company, was held in the office of the company on Monday afternoon, at two o'clock, when a large number of the shareholders, representing a majority of the stock, was present.

The president of the company, Hon. J. R. Stratton, occupied the chair, and Mr. R. H. Fortye was appointed secretary of the meeting.

The report of the Board of Directors, giving the receipts and expenditures, assets and liabilities, and the profit and loss account, up to December 31st, 1905, was presented, and unanimously adopted.

It was decided to increase the capital stock of the company from $50,000 to $100,000, and application will be made to the Legislature for the right to increase. When the authority to increase the capital has been given the directors will issue $25,000 worth of new stock.

Mr. A. A. Hollingshead, who has been auditor of the company for the past year, signified his desire to be relieved from his duties, as he wished to devote his entire time to his banking business, and Mr. W. R. Morris, C. A., was appointed in his place.

The election of directors took place, resulting as follows: Hon. J. R. Stratton, W. Irwin, D. J. Lundy, W. Rudkins, T. Fortye, F. J. Jameson and Alex. Elliott.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, the following officers were elected for the year:

Hon. President—J. J. Lundy.
President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.
Vice-President—W. Rudkins.
Executive Committee — Hon. J. R. Stratton, W. Rudkins, T. Fortye and W. Irwin.

This committee meets each Monday morning, and the the directors meet on the first Monday in each month.

The shareholders inspected the factory and saw the shovels in process of manufacture, as well as the finished product. They expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the factory and its equipment, as well as the satisfactory showing the company had made during the first year, in which the factory building had been erected, and the complete plant installed, with the exception of one large machine which will be ready for use about March 1st.

The output of the factory this year is estimated at 15,000 dozen shovels, which, if reached, will be a most satisfactory record, indeed.

The shareholders expressed great confidence in the future of the company.

An Association Of Poultrymen Is Now Proposed

A Movement on Foot Among the Fanciers in the City to Reorganize an Association—Object Would be to Get Together and Discuss Various Matters in Connection With Breeding Poultry—A Meeting May be Held.

A MATTER OF SOME GENERAL INTEREST

A gentleman, who, in the past, has taken considerable interest in poultry associations, has supplied The Examiner with the following article in reference to the proposal to reorganize the Peterborough Association:

During the last few months there have been some opinions expressed that there ought to be an association formed (if not for exhibition purposes, which could, of course, be taken up at any time) for to get the local poultry men together in a way that they could discuss the different breeds, the best methods of handling their products, and by considering what was essential in many ways, for the best interests of the industry. Would it not be an advantage to have meetings once or twice a month, to which some of the members would bring specimens of some of the breeds and have them judged, and discuss those matters from a common standpoint. We think it would be a step in the right direction, and would propose or ask that all fanciers who wish for the formation of an association would send in their names to Mr. Wm. Collins, Box 926, who will call a meeting for the purpose of discussing the project, looking towards the formation of an association. There is lots of good material if they will only move at once. Who will be the first to respond? In connection with the above we might state that in 1897 an association was formed here and was kept going for four or five years, and it gave quite an impetus to the business by holding exhibitions, but it had to be let drop on account of the want of funds. True, small grants were given by the town and county councils, but the patronage, as visitors from both town and county, was so small, that for financial reasons the show was abandoned. Now, in contrast, a few days ago a show was held in Lindsay by their newly-formed association, which was a great success, owing to the fact that the county and town councils gave them a substantial grant each, while the business men contributed very liberally towards it by subscriptions. Then to the credit of the people of the town and county be it said, they turned out in large numbers, all classes being represented, to encourage those who were holding the show, and also the exhibitors who had brought together such a splendid exhibit of poultry and pet stock. We think that just such an association as they have in Lindsay could be with a great advantage to the poultry interests of Ontario, started in every county in this Province, and the Ontario Government should give a grant to each, as it now does to most of the fall fairs. The poultry gets but very little recognition at the hands of exhibition boards, and it is useless to expect the poultry industry to expand as it should do without any assistance except what is given to the eastern association at Ottawa, and the western at Guelph. These are all right in their place, but are entirely inadequate to foster and help this very important industry. Other lines are not being treated so parsimoniously, and why not give the little hen fair play?

New Assessor Was Appointed By The Council

Thomas McKee Resigned and John Kincaid Gets the Position.

At the conclusion of the joint meeting held last night with representatives of the Board of Trade and Board of Education, the city council held a short session, at which the resignation of Mr. Thomas McKee, as one of the city's assessors for 1906, was received.

The resignation, which was for personal reasons, was in writing.

A bylaw appointing Messrs. McKee and Thomas B. McGrath was passed at the last meeting of the council.

Ald. Ball moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the city solicitor be instructed to prepare a bylaw appointing assessors by submitting the name of John Kincaid for that of Thomas McKee. This was carried, and there being no further business the council adjourned.

Rice Lake Men's Narrow Escape From Drowning

Their Team Broke Through the Ice While Crossing the Lake to Gore's Landing—Were Rescued With Much Difficulty.

A story of a very narrow escape from drowning has just reached the city from Rice Lake. It appears that Mr. Bruce Johnston, a farmer, residing on Cow Island, near Jubilee Point, accompanied by another resident of that vicinity, whose name could not be learned, was attempting to drive across the lake to Gore's Landing one day last week. Near the middle of the lake the party drove into a hole, and men and horses were struggling in the icy water. The two then managed to crawl out on to the ice with great difficulty, and although almost paralysed with cold, succeeded in rescuing their horses.

It was indeed a very narrow escape for all concerned, and it is almost a miracle that the horses should have been saved.

St. Luke's Guild Will Hold Concert

The Man's Guild of St. Luke's church held their regular monthly business meeting last night. There was a large attendance of members. The chair was occupied by the President, Mr. G. F. Warder. After a number of accounts had been passed, the proposal of Mr. Walter Wesley, that the Guild should hold a concert soon after Easter, was discussed and it is likely that it will take place.

Canada Flakes Wins A Diploma

To-day the Peterborough Cereal Company received from the secretary of the Dominion exhibition, held at New Westminster, B.C., during last September, a diploma, which was awarded the exhibit of Canada Flakes made at the fair by the local company.

Mr. Collins states that the exhibit aroused considerable interest in British Columbia, and the effect on the business of the company as a result was good.

Then the people with the opera glasses woke up and laughed a real hearty laugh.

She was out in the woods—yum! the candy goods—
Busy a-tappin' sap!

She wore her daddy's knee-top boots,
An' her granny's flannel wrap,
An' she stood by the pot, with grace untaught,
Busy a-biltin' sap!

And laid it across my lap,

No Interference With The Present Law

Premier Whitney Promised This to Lord's Day Alliance Deputation Yesterday—Local Divine on the Deputation and Referred to Conditions in This City.

Rev Dr Crothers was in Toronto yesterday and was one of a deputation of sixty which waited on Premier Whitney as representatives of the Lord's Day Alliance. The News reporting the visit of the deputation says:—

The Lord's Day Alliance, by a deputation sixty strong, asked the Provincial Government this morning to strengthen the Sunday legislation already on the statute books and allow no exemptions in favour of electric or radial railways.

"You need have no fear of any reaction or change in the present law referring to the working of electric or other railways on Sundays," replied Hon. Mr. Whitney, who was accompanied by Hon. Messrs. Matheson, Foy, Monteith and Pyne.

Mr. J. K. Macdonald, president of the Ontario branch of the Alliance, introducing the deputation, said they represented no religious body or bodies but came as citizens to urge the view that every working man was entitled to one rest day in seven. What was asked was purely civil legislation in connection with electric railways of a local character which would preserve Sunday. It was also desired that the legislation passed in 1895 be retained.

Premier Whitney asked if the deputation had any desire in reference to the clauses enacted in 1904.

Want Uncertainty Removed.

Mr. Macdonald replied in the negative and spoke of the uncertainty regarding it. There was also an uncertainty in the public mind as to the powers of the Province to deal with the matter of a weekly rest day, since the Privy Council decision, but the Alliance contended that the decision did not shut out the Province from legislating along purely civil lines.

"We do not regard ourselves as guardians of the morality of the province, but we do regard ourselves as the representatives of the view of the province in regard to rest day legislation," said Mr. Macdonald. "We do not say that a man should worship here or there, or worship anywhere, but we do believe every man should be free to worship as he pleases, according to the dictates of his conscience, and that legislation guaranteeing him in the exercise of that God-given right should appear on the statute book."

The Premier asked if there was any information from Ottawa as to what the Federal Government purposed.

Mr. Macdonald replied that he gathered from the press that a draft Bill would be introduced at the coming session.

"It would be a pity if there would be any conflict," remarked the Premier.

Mr. Macdonald and Rev. Mr. Shearer assured him that there would be no conflict between the legislation asked for from the two Governments.

Rev. Dr. Ross, London, voiced the fear of that city that if there are any exceptions in any Bill that is enacted suburban lines may run and lead to an agitation for Sunday cars in the city.

Rev. Dr. Crothers had the same to say in regard to Peterborough, and Rev. Dr. Snider condemned Sunday excursions from Berlin's experience of them.

Rev. Dr. Ross, Oakville, pleaded against any Sunday traffic on the Toronto and Niagara lines, and Dr. Rodgers, Aurora, against Sunday cars on the Metropolitan Railway.

"Legislation should be along the lines of God's law," said Senator McMullen, Mount Forest. "Open desecration of the Lord's Day on railway lines is eating out the vitals of the United States. I have grown to admire the Premier for many things he has done since taking office, and I tell him that he cannot do more to popularize his Government than to give us the legislation we ask."

Legislation in Northwest.

Rev. J. G. Shearer, just back from the West, said Manitoba and Alberta were about to introduce similar legislation, and Saskatchewan would probably follow suit. He laid stress on the fact that the Alliance did not raise the question of Sunday cars in cities where these were running on April 1, 1897.

Other speakers were Rev. Dr. Carman, general superintendent of the Methodist Church; Rev. Dr. Milligan, ex-moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly; Mr. N. W. Hoyles, K. C., and Rev. T. A. Moore.

Premier Whitney assured the deputation that the Government welcomed a body so large that it manifested the strength of public feeling. At the outset he stated that there need be no apprehension that any change was intended in the law, as seemed to be expected from the remarks of some of the speakers.

The Debate At Literary Society Was Interesting

Philomathean Society of Collegiate Institute Regular Meeting.

A very interesting meeting of the Collegiate Philomathean Society, was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M.C.A. The good programme presented gives evidence of the progress of this thriving society.

The first number was a recitation by Miss Feeney. Miss Feeney is a young elocutionist and promises great things for the future. Miss Routley then favoured those present with a piano solo, rendered in a masterly manner.

The most important number on the programme was a debate, "Resolved—That happiness decreases as civilization advances." Mr. H. Theobald, leader of the affirmative, began by defining happiness. He said that it consisted in the fulfilment of one's desires. He spoke of the naturalist, compared the rich man and the poor man, and pointed out the result of the strenuous life.

Mr. Max. Fife, leader of the negative, spoke from a moral point of view. He gave his definition of happiness as the absence of misery, and brought out many good points. Miss Helen Denne, the second speaker of the affirmative, said that as men became more civilized their wants increased. She also drew a comparison between the city man and a man from a village.

Miss Bellingham said that education had a great effect on the happiness of people. As an example, she pointed out that Russia, the uneducated nation, was perhaps the most unhappy, while Japan was the happiest. She spoke to some extent on scientific achievement, and modern inventions as great sources of happiness.

Mr. Stanley Pringle was the next speaker of the affirmative. He argued that to be truly happy one must be healthy, and stated that diseases are much more prevalent now than they used to be.

Mr. Percy Skinner next spoke for the negative. He pointed out that the telephone and the postal service were great conveniences, thus adding to the happiness of man.

Mr. Theobald was then given some minutes to sum up the different points, which he did in an exceedingly clever manner.

While the judges, Miss McGrath, and Messrs. Brace and Maguire, were considering the points made by the debaters, Miss Duncombe recited in a clear and expressive manner "The Judgment Day." She is an artist of no mean ability.

The judges then brought in their decision in favour of the affirmative, after which Misses M. Robertson and G. Crane, gave a piano duet, in their usual capible manner.

The last number was the recitation "Canadian Born," by Miss Eva Stevenson. Miss Stevenson was greeted with great applause and shows that she possesses great elocutionary powers. The meeting then adjourned, after the singing of the National Anthem.

A Seed Fair Is Proposed

Feb. 13th. 1906.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sirs,—As the season is approaching when the farmers will be looking out for a change of seed to use for seeding purposes, and as there is a growing demand from year to year for good, clean seed of the best quality, I think it is high time the Farmers' Institute took this matter up and arranged for the holding of a seed fair in connection with their society. Quite a number of these societies have already held successful fairs which have been of great benefit to the farmers and why should Peterborough not do likewise.

Bovril the Kitchen Economist

When looking over your market accounts do you realize how much of what you pay for is wasted?

Often the bits that you usually throw out because you cannot serve them as they are, can be transformed into delicious, toothsome dishes with the help of a little BOVRIL. Here's a dainty Luncheon Dish from the remnants of roast mutton:

MUTTON FRITTERS. Finger-shaped slices of cooked mutton should be coated with a little salad oil and vinegar and left awhile, then spread lightly with Bovril, coated with thick frying batter, and cooked a nice brown in hot fat. A little grated cheese put on the meat is a further improvement. Drain well and serve very hot.

Eight pounds of prime beef is concentrated in four ounces of BOVRIL.

Light Docket This Morning

John Oakley Gets Two Months in Goal for Vagrancy.

At the police court this morning John Oakley, an old man, who for the past few moons has made a board in a police station cell his nightly couch, appeared before His Worship Police Magistrate Dumble this morning on a charge of vagrancy. John pleaded guilty, but wanted his liberty. He had some work to do, he said.

"How would it do, Mr. Dumble," he said, "if you would let me go now, and I would call around again in a few days?"

"Mr. Dumble" seemed to see the matter in a different light, and thought that it would be well for John to go to gaol for two months. "You'll be much more comfortable there," he said, "and when you come out the trees will be budding and the birds singing."

The case of three men charged with being drunk and disorderly, was next heard. Two pleaded guilty, and were fined $2 to be paid in ten days. The other entered a plea of not guilty, and his case was enlarged until Thursday.

For Family Colds

A reliable cough and cold cure should be always in the house ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear.

It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning.

It is safest, too.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in Canada and the United States to-day are never without it.

A dealer writes: "Shiloh's Consumption Cure is without doubt the best remedy for Coughs and Colds on the market. Once used, my customers will buy no other.—L. Elsley, Nemagoosagos, Ont."

If it were anything but the best would this be so? Try it in your own family. If it does not cure, you get back all it cost you. We take all the chances. Neither you nor your dealer can lose. Isn't that fair? 25c. is the price. All dealers in medicine sell 93

Fine Lecture Was Delivered At St. John's

Rev. G. L. Davidson, Vicar of Guelph, Speaks Very Interestingly on London.

Rev. G. L. Davidson, Vicar of Guelph, gave a very able and interesting lecture on London at St. John's schoolhouse last night. It was held under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's church, and was a success in every way. The speaker was a very fluent and pleasing one, and the views most comprehensive. The audience was large, and the spacious lecture room well filled. The speaker held the rapt attention of his listeners during the whole of his very able discourse.

Rev. Canon Davidson occupied the chair, and in a short address warmly welcomed the lecturer. All the views were very clear and excellently illustrated the lecture. It is impossible to deal with each separate view, there being over 100 altogether, but some of the most interesting are given below.

The City of London, Tower Bridge, The Bloody Tower, Wakefield Tower, The old pensioners of the sovereign, Inside the Bell Tower, Crown Jewels or regalia, Series of photos relating to the Crown Jewels, and their history; Passage into St. John's Chapel, Interior of St. John's Chapel, Beaucamp Tower, river from Tower Bridge, London Bridge and the Diamond Jubilee Procession. This bridge was first built in 941, and was rebuilt in 1831. Views of St. Peter's Cathedral were shown; the west front of St. Paul's, begun in the reign of Queen Anne and completed in the same reign; Bishop Ingrace, D.D.; Rt. Rev. Lord Bishop of London; St. Paul's Cross and Grammar School, Fleet Street, the old palace of Henry VIII., now a barber shop; British Museum, Interior of Library of Museum, reading room, Syrian room, Egyptian rooms, church of St. Bartholomew, the great Christ Hospital, or the Blue Coat School; Dutch church, Bank of England, Royal Exchange, Mansion House, Lambert Palace; residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury, built in 1187; group of some of the most ipmortan divines of the Church of England, St. Stephen's, Westminster Abbey, interior of the House of Lords, tradition of the founding of St. Paul's Cathedral, Chapel of Henry VIII., Solomon's Porch, Westminster Abbey Choir, Crusaders' tombs, chancel arranged for Coronation of King Edward, Crowning of King Edward, Crowning of Queen Alexandra, Chapel of King Edward the Confessor, Coronation Chair of Queen Mary, Leaving the abbey at the Coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra, Roman Catholic Cathedral of Westminster, Coronation procession in Whitehall; coming down from Whitehall and passing under the Canadian arch, Canadian arch, Trafalgar Square, National Gallery, time of Diamond Jubilee, 1897; St. James' Palace, Marlborough House, Horse Guards' Building, George, Prince of Wales, Princess of Wales, Prince Edward of Wales, saluting the colours, Buckingham Palace, private sitting room of Queen Victoria, and many other very interesting illustrations.

Peterboro' Man Prominent In West

The Regina Leader gives the following account of an important insurance meeting held there in which Mr. R. G. Williamson, a former Peterborough man, is very prominent and receives much praise for his work:

The Provincial Board of Directors of the Crown Life Insurance Company for Saskatchewan held their adjourned quarterly meeting in the offices of Mr. R. G. Williamson, the Provincial Manager, yesterday afternoon. The directors present were His Honour Lieut.-Gov. Forget, Mayor McCra, W. H. Duncan, Mr. T. C. O. Johnstone being unavoidably absent. Celebrated The Wedding Day

Mr. and Mrs. Symons Married Ten Years Yesterday.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Symons, 291 Reid street, was the scene of festive gaiety last evening, when about 50 guests assembled to celebrate the tenth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Symons' wedding day.

The rooms were beautifully decorated, emblematic of the occasion, and the proximity of Valentine Day permitted the intermingling of decorative hearts and Cupid's characteristics of that time-honoured saint. The ruddy glow from the hearth mingling with the soft light from Chinese lanterns transformed the interior into a sort of fairyland.

Games of a various character were indulged in till about 9.30, when all sat down to a sumptuous wedding course-dinner, and "merry was the feast and long." One of the interesting features of the dinner was the cutting of a layer of the bride's-cake, which had figured prominently in the original ceremony. After ample justice had been done to the viands, a toast-list followed, over which Rev. Mr. Major, ably presided. In proposing the health of the bride, Mr. Major voiced the sentiments of the guests in expressing the hope that Mr. and Mrs. Symons would be spared to celebrate not only their golden, but also diamond wedding. Mr. Symons, in a few well-chosen words, responded. The toast-list having been completed, a very pleasant social time was spent, in which some of the older guests, becoming reminiscent, related many interesting incidents of the "long ago." "All went merry as a marriage bell" till the wee sma' hours heralded the approach of the coming day, when the guests took their departure, leaving their best wishes for the future happiness and prosperity of the host and hostess.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. Symons' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Symons, sr., of Hope; Mrs. Shier, of Lindsay, aunt of Mrs. Symons, Mrs. Mockridge, of Lindsay, and others.

SUPPORT THE TEAM.

To-morrow night the Peterborough hockey team will play a game with Brockville, which, if they win, will place them at the head of all the Intermediate teams in the O.H.A. this season, making them winners of three districts, without a single game having been lost this season.

Up to the present time the team has not been supported by the public as it deserves, and as it will have to be if it finishes the season with credit to the city. The gate receipts have been disappointingly small and, as a consequence, the finances of the club, under a heavy expense for travelling, etc., as it is, are not in a very satisfactory state.

The team is doing its best to win out this season, and deserves much more generous public support than has been given in the past. To-morrow night's game will furnish a good opportunity for the citizens to show that they appreciate the work of the boys who, for the love of the game and for the honour of the city, are working hard to win out. Possibly if they had refrained from scoring as many goals in the Brockville game, and made it closer, there might have been a better chance of a big gate, but they were taking no risks. They played the game like true sportsmen, and it is up to the public now to show that they appreciate this fact.

Surely there is enough local patriotism in Peterborough to give the hockey team the support which they deserve.

HEROES ARE VERY SCARCE.

Carnegie some years ago set apart a large slice of his fortune so that from the accumulating interest upon it fitting rewards might be given to heroes of the day.

"There may be something amiss with the commission's definition of a hero," says a contemporary, and for the reason that so far, out of over seven hundred cases, only nineteen have been found to receive gifts with Mr. Carnegie's blessing.

What is the matter? Risk and recklessness do not make of any one a hero. Specific acts of courage may be selected for admiration, but courage is not heroism, and the commission does not seem to have had much difficulty in distinguishing between them.

Heroes are born and not made. The men—or most of them—for all time have sprung into prominence and won a nation's applause by virtue of impulse and that exercised at the becoming moment.

Men cannot determine to be heroes. They may not have the fibre out of which heroes are made, and the opening may never come to them to win the fame they seek.

The real heroes are scarce, and the percentage does not become the greater because a rich man condescends to help the cause by his prodigality.

Realizing that it is time for a change. The gift of Carnegie's millions to genuine philanthropy would do more good.—Kingston Whig.

DEPUTATION OF FIFTY

To Support Memorial

Urging Upon the Minister of Education the Advisability of Establishing One of the New Normal Schools in This City—Meeting Was Held Last Night at Which the Personnel of the Deputation Was Decided Upon.

A special meeting of the joint committee and the City Council was held last night in the clerk's office to make arrangements for the big deputation which will wait upon the minister of Education to-morrow to urge that Peterborough should be selected for one of the new Normal Schools. There were present Mayor Best, Ald. Adams, Mason, Tovey, Graham, Duncan, Ball, McWilliams, Elliott and McIntyre; Mr. D. Walker, School Inspector, R. M. Dennistoun, J. Coyle Brown, County School Inspector, Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P. P.; W. H. Moore, E. G. Patterson and W. H. Meldrum, of the Board of Trade, Wm. Pringle and W. H. Hill, of the Board of Education.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, chairman of the special committee, read the memorial which will be presented to-morrow to the Hon. Dr. Pyne. The memorial was unanimously adopted.

The meeting then went on to discuss the personnel of the deputation. It was suggested by some that more than fifty names should be included, as it was almost certain that all would not be able to go. After some discussion it was moved by Ald. McWilliams and seconded by Ald. Elliott, that a deputation be appointed composed of the City Council and clerk, the Board of Education and its officers, the Separate School Board and inspector, 10 members of the Board of Trade and 10 representatives to be selected by the Mayor, and that the expenses therewith at the rate of $3 per member be paid by the treasurer. The motion carried unanimously.

The deputation will consist of Warden Johnston and as many of the County Council as can attend. Mayor Best, Ald. Mason, Adams, Hicks, Tovey, Johnston, Elliott, McWilliams, Duncan, Kelly, Graham, and Ball; Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, W. H. Hill, John Crane, Dr. Burnham, Dr. Morrison, B. F. Ackerman, Robt. Fair, D. W. Dumble, L. M. Hayes, Wm. Pringle.

Peterboro' Civic Buildings Behind

Says County Council Deputation That Recently Visited Western Ontario Cities.

Some reminiscences of the County Council tour were gleaned to-day from Mr. E. A. Peck, County Solicitor who accompanied the Council, and was greatly pleased with the reception given by the leading citizens of the western cities, who were proud of an opportunity of showing to advantage their admirable city buildings.

Mr. Peck stated that Stratford, Woodstock and St. Thomas had buildings worthy of the name of city, while if tourists journeyed to our fair and progressive city we could not, with pride, display any eminent structures that the citizens of Peterborough are proud of.

In Stratford the city building is a most beautiful structure, the interior being superbly finished with the finest of oak, and is a building of which the citizens of Stratford may decidedly show their appreciation.

Another structure with which the Council was favourably impressed was the General Hospital, an institution owned by Stratford citizens, which is also a building worthy of recognition. The sleeping chambers of the nurses of the hospital are in a separate department from the main building, so that all odors which are necessarily associated with such institutions are dispelled.

In the cities of St. Thomas and Woodstock, similar modern buildings were visited by the Council, all of which left very favourable impressions.

Considering these municipal advantages which cities of less population have over Peterborough, it is opportune time for the City Fathers to take steps in the advancement of our institutions, which should be of the most modernized character to keep abreast of the prosperity which is being manifested in all parts of our progressive city.

Young Men To Address Meeting

The attendance last night at the meeting in Murray street church was large, and the interest is increasing satisfactorily. The pastor, Rev. F. J. To-morrow night the pastor will also conduct the meeting and on Thursday and Friday expects that Rev. Mr. Welsh, of Lindsay, will be in the city to help in the services.

Squalor Of Galway

HOME ALMOST TOO GREAT FOR

Adequate Description

The Children's Aid Society Rescues Five Children From Incredibly Miserable Surroundings—Family Lived in a Wretched Lean-to With Almost no Furniture—Another Illustration of Noble Work Being Done by Children's Aid Society.

A mother struggling in the face of the utmost difficulty to support her family, six children, the eldest only thirteen years of age, living in the squalid wretchedness and poverty of a hovel that comes nearer little to the elements that go to make up a home, amid surroundings so miserable as to be almost incredible except to those whose business calls them to contemplate such scenes as these. Such was the condition in which Mr. Geo. Cochrane, the agent of the Children's Aid Society, found the family of Mrs. Mountenay of Galway yesterday. A report had been received by the Society as to the poverty in which the family was living, and accordingly Mr. Cochrane, accompanied by Mrs. Henry, the matron of the Shelter here, went to Galway yesterday to get the children.

An Examiner reporter was at the G.T.R. station this morning when the party arrived and saw the five children brought down by Mr. Cochrane. The hardships which they have endured was manifest in their faces and the little group of children was remarked by everyone on the station platform. Several of them were dressed in the clothing taken up by the agents of the society but the rest were clad in the rags in which they were found and the spectacle they presented was indeed a pitiful one. The reporter afterwards visited the Shelter and in a short space of time a remarkable transformation had been made in their appearance. The children looked brighter, happier and a good deal cleaner, and are apparently quite content with their new home.

From Mrs. Henry the reporter was able to get some idea of the conditions in which the children were living. Their home if such it could be called, is about five miles from Kinmount, and consists of a one-roomed log shanty with a lean-to attached. In the latter place the family consisting of the mother and six children lived. There was very little furniture and it was almost impossible to describe the squalour and wretchedness of the place. One corner was boarded off as a sleeping room, and the only apology for a bed was a straw tick with a few ragged blankets. A few tin dishes and a rough table were the principal articles of furniture, the miserable hut contained. In addition to the poverty manifested everywhere there was an almost equally great disregard for cleanliness.

"I did not believe it possible that a house with a woman living in it could be so dirty," said Mrs. Henry to-day in relating her experiences to the Examiner.

The story of the family is a simple one only too common among the people of the back township, concerning whose lives residents in this prosperous city have not the least idea. The father died early in the fall leaving the mother with six small children and nothing with which to support them. Since that time it has been a constant struggle to keep the wolf from the door. The woman it is said has been gaining a livelihood in an illegimate manner. It is quite evident that she has not been caring for her children. Even the poverty amidst which she is living, does not excuse the dirt and filth of the wretched home.

The woman did not offer the least resistance to the Society taking possession of her children, in fact she seemed and undoubtedly was glad to have them taken off her hands. She exhibited an almost unhuman-like heartlessness at their departure, and did not even bid the little ones goodbye. They in their turn were equally glad to escape from their home. They seemed to realize that they were in good hands and when at Lindsay Mr. Henry asked the youngest, a boy of two years of age, if he wanted to go back to his home, the little fellow answered in the negative.

Mr. Cochrane left the youngest child with the mother. The rest of the family, consisting of three boys and two girls, ranging in age from two to thirteen years, are now at the Shelter where they should be happy and contented, under the kindly charge of Mrs. Henry. None of the children have ever been to school and the Society will see that this is remedied.

The case seems a particularly pathetic one, but those who are acquainted with the country to the north know that it contains something more than rocks and forest. They know that there are scores of homes situated there where poverty reigns supreme, and where children are growing up in surroundings that even the slum of a great city can hardly equal in wretchedness and squalour. Truly one half the world knows not how the other half lives.

The case is but another illustration of the noble work being carried on by the Children's Aid Society, which has rescued many children from homes as terrible as this one, with the result that there are many young people now happy and prosperous who have the Society to thank for giving them a start in life.

The first organized movement ever started to abolish smoking cars on railway trains was undertaken by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Galesburg, Ill.

TO-DAY IN HISTORY

St. Valentine's Eve.—This day appears to be still kept as a time for general giving and receiving of gifts at Norwich. The streets swarm with carriers, conveying baskets laden with treasures, which are deposited on the doorsteps of those for whom the gifts are destined. Tricks are sometimes played on the unsuspecting—monster parcels that dwindle to nothing when opened, and mock parcels disappear, and vanish from the doorstep by invisible agencies when the door opens.

1689—The reign of William and Mary commenced this day.

1543—Catherine Howard beheaded in the Tower.

1905—Snow still drifting very bad. 35 to 5 below last night.

Question Has Been Delayed For Many Years

So Ex-Premier Balfour Says of Tariff Reform Question.

AN INGRATIATING SPEECH

At a Banquet Mr. Balfour Would Not Discuss Protection and Free Trade, But Said His Policy Was Designed to Diminish Burden on British Industries and to Maintain an Increased Foreign Market.

London, Feb. 13.—Arthur J. Balfour's dialetical skill has again served him well, and has probably reinstated him in the leadership of his diminished party. He has still to run the gauntlet of the party meeting, which has been arranged to be held at Lansdowne House next Thursday, but after the speech which he delivered in this city last night, at a banquet given to Sir Edward Clarke, former Solicitor-General, and Alban G. H. Gibbs, who has relinquished the seat in Parliament to which he was recently elected, in order that Mr. Balfour may have another opportunity to obtain a place in the House of Commons, it is fairly safe to say that little further will be heard of any alternative leadership.

Mr. Balfour had a flattering reception. He looked rather tired and worn, but spoke with great energy and managed to please all sections of the party.

Not Final Verdict.

Mr. Balfour did not speak at great length, confining himself mainly to fiscal questions. He maintained that the results of the general election could not be accepted as a final verdict against fiscal reform. He declined to argue the question of protection versus free trade, but maintained that the policy he has hitherto advocated is altogether apart from the controversy. His policy was designed so far as might be to diminish the burden on British industries. This policy is hostile to the tariffs other industrial countries have imposed, he said. In countries where hostile tariffs did not exist, it was the intention to preserve neutral markets, and at the same time preserve the interests of the British colonies on an equal footing. It was, he said, a policy intended to maintain an increased foreign market for British manufacturers. Protection was an attempt to keep the home market against equal competition from foreign countries.

Has Sentiment With Him.

Mr. Balfour said the sentiment favoring his policy was not diminishing, but increasing, and unless it were carried out he believed as the world became more and more industrialized and as civilized nations under their control the question of markets for Great Britain would assume proportions which could not be ignored. The world saw great nations using not only diplomatic but their whole military and naval forces in order to push their commerce. To fight for British markets might again be inevitable; but fighting is a barbarous method where negotiation might succeed, and negotiation never could succeed unless it were backed by some power of dealing with the country, with whom we might be negotiating, if the latter asked extravagant or impossible terms.

The End of the Cost.

Mr. Balfour said he viewed the industrial conditions in the United Kingdom with the greatest alarm. Possibly nations which built up industries behind tariff walls were acting foolishly, but nevertheless they did it, and the result undoubtedly was injurious to the United Kingdom.

Mr. Balfour asked was it possible to carry out retaliation unless a general tariff formed a part of the scheme? He declined to commit himself on that point, but he said what the country had to make up its mind to was: Is the end at which we are aiming worth making a sacrifice for?

The cause of tariff reform, Mr. Balfour said, must be delayed some years; but in the meanwhile it was the duty of the Opposition to the present Government to point out the mistakes of the latter and direct the country along the best lines looking to the future of the country.

On Chamberlain Indirectly.

In indirect reference to Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Balfour then said: "Some gentlemen try to limit on one side or other the methods to be employed. I deprecate limitations. If some one says to me, "You can deal with this part of the subject without a small duty on food," I would reply undoubtedly a duty on food would be most unpopular in some constituencies. Another section of friends says that a shilling or a two shilling duty on corn is an absolute necessity. I refuse to make that limitation also.

No One at the Helm.

Continuing, Mr. Balfour said that never had a Government been returned with a large majority without a cause which it wanted to carry out, and without any great personality to guide it, but he was ready to concede the present Government an even longer life than five years.

In conclusion, Mr. Balfour welcomed the workingmen into Parliament, but said he doubted if the present Labor representatives were destined to introduce legislation beneficial to the country, or which the Unionists could support.

Kier Hardie Elected Chairman.

The new Labor party members of Parliament, to the number of 29, who were nominated under the auspices of the labor representation committee, held their first meeting in a committee room of the House of Commons yesterday afternoon and elected J. Kier Hardie chairman for the coming session. The members who attended the meetings also decided that they would sit on the Opposition side of the House. This group is distinguished from the rest of the Labor party by the fact that it is pledged not to enter into an alliance with the Radical party.

The meeting also decided to co-operate with the trades unionists members on labor bills without formally allying themselves with that party.

EXPENDITURES DEFERRED.

Federal Government Decides to Finance Transportation Facilities First, Buildings to Come Later.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—(Globe Special.)—For the present the erection of the proposed new department block, which it has been estimated would cost by the time it was built and furnished fully two and a half million dollars, has been deferred. Other expenditures of a similar character are being held over.

The reasons for this are obvious. The public works department has to provide immediately for outlays in transportation, so as to move cheaply and speedily the grain products of the Northwest to the seaboard. This means improvements at the lake ports and also at the ocean terminals. The Government have yet to decide whether they will build the Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal or not. If they determine to undertake the work it means an expenditure of from eighty to one hundred millions of dollars, spread over a period of years. A great engineering problem is involved in providing sufficient water at what may be called the "crain" or "summit" of the route of the canal, to ensure a steady and continuous supply for 21 feet navigation. This is one of the questions to which the Government engineers are addressing themselves.

Not only is there some likelihood of provision having to be made for large outlays on the Georgian Bay Canal, but the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway will make large demands upon the country's financial resources. Under the circumstances, the Government are calling a halt in order to review the situation, and see where they stand. In view of the possible large drain upon the exchequer soon to be felt it is likely that only the more pressing public works will be undertaken immediately.

GROWING IN POPULARITY

The More People Know Newbro's Herpicide the Better They Like It.

The more it becomes known the better it is liked. One bottle spells two, and those two sell four. Newbro's Herpicide is what we are talking about. It cleans the scalp of all dandruff, and, destroying the cause, a little germ or parasite, prevents the return of dandruff. As a hair dressing it is delightful; it ought to be found on every toilet table. It stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It should be used occasionally, as a preventive to protect the scalp from a new invasion of the dandruff microbe. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, special agents.

SPOKE OUT IN CHURCH.

George Turner, Ex-Mayor of Thorold, Resents Pastor's Remark.

Thorold, Feb. 13.—A sensational incident occurred in the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. Rev. W McLeod referred to the movement to secure a license for the Mansion House and said any man or woman who signed such a petition was not a Christian. Ex-Mayor George Turner promptly arose in his pew, and addressing the preacher, said:

"I want to say to you, Mr. McLeod, that I am one of those who signed the petition to re-open the hotel. I had good reasons for doing so, and I want to say that I consider myself just as good a Christian as anyone in this church."

Mr. McLeod made no reply to Mr. Turner, but went on with his service as if nothing had happened.

Mr. Borden to the Students.

Toronto, Feb. 13.—The students' parliament of the University of Toronto met last night with Speaker Macbeth in the chair, and listened to an address from R. L. Borden, K. C., M. P., before proceeding with the regular business. President Loudon and Hon. Mr. St. John were also among the visitors. After a rising vote of thanks the students proceeded to give Mr. Borden an object lesson. Their Parliament got down to work. Mr. Borden seemed deeply impressed.

Earl Grey at Montreal.

Montreal, Feb. 13.—Their Excellencies Earl and Countess Grey arrived here yesterday from Ottawa for a ten-days' visit. Upon their arrival they took up residence at the mansion of Lord Strathcona. Viscount and Viscountess Ingestre, who were their guests at Government House, will also be here for a week, and have taken quarters at the Windsor for that time.

A WOMAN'S BACK IS THE MAINSPRING OF HER PHYSICAL SYSTEM. The Slightest Backache, if Neglected, is Liable to Cause Years of Terrible Suffering.

No woman can be strong and healthy unless the kidneys are well, and regular in their action. When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to have filtered out of the blood are left in the system.

The female constitution is naturally more subject to kidney disease than a man's; and what is more, a women's work is never done—her whole life is one continuous strain.

How many women have you heard say: "My, how my back aches!" Do you know that backache is one of the first signs of kidney trouble? It is, and should be attended to immediately. Other symptoms are frequent thirst, scanty, thick, cloudy or highly colored urine, burning sensation when urinating, frequent urination, puffing under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, floating specks before the eyes, etc.

These symptoms if not taken in time and cured at once, will cause years of terrible kidney suffering. All these symptoms, and in fact, these diseases may be cured by the use of

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

They act directly on the kidneys, and make them strong and healthy.

Mrs. Mary Galley, Auburn, N.S., writes: "For over four months I was troubled with a lame back and was unable to turn in bed without help. I was induced by a friend to try Doan's Kidney Pills. After using two-thirds of a box my back was as well as ever."

Price 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25 at all dealers, or sent direct on receipt of price. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

The Demand Of Britain Meets Prompt Answer

CHANGPU OUTRAGE AVENGED

Leader of the Mob Will Be Executed—Others Concerned In the Destruction of Missionaries' Property Will Be Severely Punished—Reports of General Unrest In China Are Conflicting.

London, Feb. 13.—Great Britain yesterday demanded that China compensate the missionaries for the destruction of their property at Changpu, near Amoy, and also asked for the punishment of those responsible for the disorders.

The Government here has no information regarding the general unrest from China beyond the reports of the consuls, which are conflicting, some of them considering that the disorders are local, while others believe that they foreshadow a general anti-foreign uprising.

While Great Britain with the other powers agreed at Emperor William's suggestion to withdraw her troops from Chili Province, it has now been decided to leave the question in the hands of the Ministers at Pekin.

Execution Is Ordered.

Pekin, Feb. 13.—The Imperial Government has ordered the Viceroy of Foochow to immediately execute the leader of the Changpu mob and to punish severely the others concerned in that affair. The viceroy reports that the trouble at Changpu arose over the detention of a Chinaman by the Catholic mission there. The populace destroyed the mission and then the anti-foreign element arose and wrecked the English mission.

Troops fired on the mob and killed twelve of the rioters.

MR. EDDY'S FUNERAL.

Not Since Sir John A. Macdonald Obsequies Has Such a Cortege Been Seen in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—The whole City of Hull, hundreds from Ottawa, and many who came from miles away yesterday paid last tribute to E. B. Eddy. The funeral took place at 3 p. m., and not since the memorable obsequies of the late Sir John A. Macdonald has so large a cortege been seen. Thousands of people either lined the streets, joined in the procession afoot, or occupied rigs.

As has often been said, it was Mr. Eddy who made Hull, and the whole population seemed to turn out to honor its dead. The square facing the main offices of the company was packed, while the gathering extended all the way up to Standish Hall, the family residence. Hundreds during the day had viewed the body.

The funeral service at the house was touching in its simplicity. "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung, and then Dr. Herridge read the Scriptural lesson Rev. Mr. Scott offered prayer and Rev. Mr. McElroy led in the Lord's Prayer. This ended the service.

The body was carried out by six employes. Then the procession started towards the Central Depot.

J. R. Booth's mills were shut down during the funeral, and all the employes were lined up on the bridges.

The remains were forwarded to Bristol, Vermont, Mr. Eddy's boyhood home. They were conveyed in J. R. Booth's private car—The Opeongo—which was attached to the 4.25 Grand Trunk train. Messrs. Rowley, Millen, Gormully, Cushman and Sheriff went to Bristol, and a number of the pallbearers and agents went as far as Coteau.

KAULBARS' DRASTIC ORDER.

Odessa, Feb. 13.—Gen. Kaulbars, Governor-General of Odessa, yesterday issued a proclamation saying that everyone attempting to kill or killing an official by means of explosives, arms or otherwise, or who is found in possession of deadly implements, will henceforth be condemned to capital punishment without inquiry or trial.

The proclamation covers the Governments of Kherson and Odessa, inclusive of Bessarabia, Ekaterinoslav and the Crimea.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 13.—A massacre of Jews is reported to have taken place at Kalarashi, Bessarabia.

$200,000 to Aid Women-Workers.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 13.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw submitted to Congress yesterday a recommendation of Secretary Metcalf of the Department of Commerce and Labor, that $200,000 be included in the estimate for the bureau of labor to investigate the condition of women wage-earners in the United States.

College Girl's Plucky Action To Save Friend

Lost Her Own Life At Ontario Ladies' College.

MISS ABEL FATALLY BURNED

While Endeavoring to Extinguish Fire In the Hair of Another Pupil She Received Her Injuries — Her Own Dress of Light Silk Took Fire, But Was Put Out Too Late to Save Her Life.

Whitby, Feb. 13.—A sad affair culminated in the death at an early hour Sunday of Miss Delila Abel, a student of the Ontario Ladies' College.

In a successful attempt to save the life of her roommate, she lost her own. On the evening of the annual conversatione, Friday last, in dressing her hair, one of the students was using a spirit lamp to heat a pair of curling tongs. Having only one match, which she had already used in lighting the lamp, and the methylated spirits running low, an attempt was made to refill the receptacle without first putting out the light. Both lamp and matches are prohibited, as the college is illuminated with an all-night electric service from the town system.

The lamp, blazing up, set fire to the young lady's hair, and also to the carpet. Miss Abel, her roommate, ran to her aid. Whilst she succeeded in extinguishing the fire in her companion's hair, Miss Abel's own light silk garment caught fire from the floor. Finding her own clothes were burning, Miss Abel ran across the corridor to the room of another student.

With the assistance of the latter and of Miss Tesky, the first of the college faculty to arrive on the scene, blankets were wrapped around the burning girl.

Prof. W. G. Greenwood used the fire hose to extinguish any remains of the incipient conflagration.

Every possible care and all that the best medical skill could do was immediately available for Miss Abel. Her parents, Mr. Norman and Mrs. Abel of Troy, Ontario, arrived by the following train. Although a strong girl of 18, her system was overcome by the shock and she succumbed.

Feet and Hands Frozen.

Brockville, Feb. 13.—Adams Emons, an elderly farm laborer residing near Eloida, was brought to the hospital yesterday suffering badly from frozen hands and feet. Saturday night he started to walk from Athens to his home, four miles distant. Within half a mile of the house he laid down in the woods and went to sleep, remaining there until Sunday morning, when neighbors heard his cries and went to his assistance. It is thought that his hands will be saved, but the indications are that his feet will require amputation. Emons had been drinking.

Children Killed by Train.

Glencoe, Feb. 13.—Two children of Mrs. McIntosh of this town — Bertha and Lillian, aged 10 and 12 years—were instantly killed when on their way to school, by being struck by a G. T. R. train at 1 o'clock yesterday. They were attempting to pass over the crossing in front of the train, and evidently did not see their danger until it was too late.

Fifteen Bodies Found.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 13.—The bodies of fifteen men, probably members of the schooner Coleman's crew, at Yakataga Bay, have been found.

BRAIN AND NERVE
DEPENDENT ON CERTAIN ELEMENTS OF NATURE, WHICH ARE FOUND IN

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The Christian Scientists are right enough when they claim that the mind influences the body.

Worry, excessive mental toil and strong emotions consume nervous energy at an enormous rate.

Rest of mind and body is essential for the restoration of the exhausted nervous system.

But the mind is dependent on the brain, and the brain in turn is a bundle of nerve cells, which are nourished and sustained by pure, rich blood. Hence the absolute necessity of supplying the elements from which blood is made.

These elements of nature which go to form new rich blood and revitalize wasted and depleted nerve cells are found in splendid proportions in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

By using this great food cure you supply the material substances from which are found brain and nerve force.

By all means have a cheerful, hopeful mind, but do not depend on this to make you strong and well or you will be terribly disappointed when it is forever too late.

It may take weeks or even months to thoroughly restore your health with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, but you can be absolutely certain that every dose of the great food cure is at least of some benefit to you.

Mrs. J. B. Huffman, 268 Reid street Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is employed at the Canadian General Electric Co., states:

"For over a year I suffered with nervous headache and feelings of weakness and dizziness would come over me. My nervous system seemed weak and exhausted, and hearing of the success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I began using it. I am now pleased to state that the headaches do not bother me any more and my system is entirely built up and restored."

The healthful complexions, the well-rounded forms, the energy and elasticity of movements characteristic of persons who have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are the strongest evidence of its wonderful restorative influence. 50 cents a box, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Why Tea Quality Varies

YOU know how the quality of strawberries from the same patch will sometimes vary from one day to another.

One day sweet, compact, well ripened, well colored, richly flavored—next day it rains, is cloudy,—following picking is soggy, sour, green, coarsely-flavored, poor.

Tea, also, on account of its volatility of flavor, after picking and during the curing process is very susceptible to weather changes. A few hours of sunshine or bad weather after picking may make the difference between good and poor tea.

So that while one picking may be first class, the next from the same garden may be very poor.

I select only the pickings which come up to the Red Rose standards of richness and strength in Indian, and delicacy and fragrance in Ceylon teas, and thus that "rich, fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea is produced and maintained.

Red Rose Tea is good Tea

Peterborough's Big CURLING BONSPIEL Opens This Afternoon

One of the Most Important Curling Events in Peterborough's History—Large Number of Outside Curlers Here Participating in the 'Spiel—Both Charlotte and Brock Street Rinks Being Used by the Curlers.

This, the commencing day of the great Peterborough Bonspiel, is a gala-day for the curler. Half a hundred of Peterborough's citizens have laid aside their duties to indulge in the recreation so long due them. With the additional representations from other towns the city is to-day a scene of mirth and jollity for none other than the curler could make it so. The local rinks are to-day spectacles of hilarity and Ramsay very appropriately describes the charm by his apt quotation,—

"The Curling stane, Slides murm'ring o'er the icy plain".

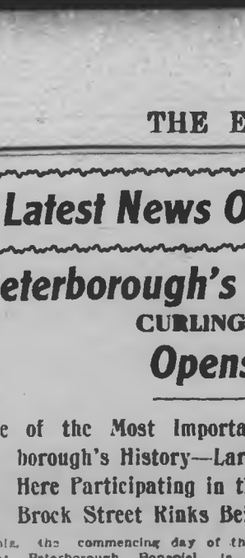
Curling as a winter pastime is fast becoming infectious. Each year the ranks of the curlers are enlarging with recruits who in enthusiasm soon become veterans so that in Canada to-day there are thousands who believe that the game is a right royal sport and stands unrivalled.

Curling was first introduced into Scotland about three hundred years ago by the Flemings. It made its advent into Canada about the year of



MR. J. S. KNAPMAN,
Secretary of the Bonspiel Committee, Is a Busy Man.

Queen Victoria's accession when the curling stones were made of rounded blocks of maple wood with bent pieces of iron for handles.

On the curling rink all rank and distinctions are laid aside, the ties of friendship are strengthened, the asperities of sect and party are abandoned and harmony and good fellowship promoted. It is this sense of brotherhood that accounts for the enthusiasm and contagious merriment manifested by the curler. It has the power of absorbing one's thought and giving oblivion to the troubles and worries of life. The curling rink supplies the necessary recreation for body and mind, an essential need to the pulpiest professional or business man.

The game has prominent advantages for the body as well as for the mind and is most beneficial to the physical condition of its devotees. To be a successful curler one must be active hardy and capable of enduring strong, muscular strains, and practicing the game is the only certain method of obtaining these intrinsic qualities.

Curling develops the powers of quick observation, the activity of the foot and of the hand and there is not a more healthy exercise for the propogation of all the physical powers. A level head and a steady nerve is required to place a stone where desired.

If the ice is keen, the element of making an accidental good shot is diminished and the result depends on scientific playing alone. The curler is therefore always striving for perfection and it is this impetus that entices him on, which fact produes an obvious ethical advantage. There is no sport in which merriment and goodfellowship reigns such as in curling and those who have had awakened in them an interest in the famous game consider it a famous stream on their minds to believe that the garden of Eden was located in a country where the water never congealed.

In to-day's games there are 96 curlers wielding brooms, and both rinks are resounding with the cheers resultant from the spectacular plays made by different members.

Twelve rinks were engaged at the Charlotte street rink and eight at Brock street this afternoon. The visiting rinks are from Norwood, Campbellford, Keene, Beaverton, Bobcaygeon and Lakefield.

The Big Match Is Postponed

The Examiner-Review match has been indefinitely postponed. The ice has been previously arranged for by other clubs. The owner of the restaurant at which the supper was to be provided by the losers for both teams has given back the money to the secretary of the Review seven. Great rejoicing on the part of the Review "hockeyists". Intense depression in the Examiner camp—the proverbial blue Monday in fact. Those who have purchased tickets will be refunded their money upon application to the "Man from Glengarry" at the Review office. As soon as it was definitely known that the game was postponed several who had been in the city departed for their different homes.

Enthusiasm in hockey was at its height last night when Havelock and Norwood met in a lively game on the latter's open air rink. It is reported that over 500 people from four townships witnessed the game which ended in a victory for Norwood with the score 8-6, the half-time score being 5-1 in the winners' favour.

Brockville Team Will Be Strong To-morrow Night

It is Said Eastern Seven Will be Strengthened by Federal Leaguers.

It is rumoured that the Brockville Invincibles will be reinforced by four Federal League men when they meet the locals to-morrow night. If this is the case the game will be much more interesting than if the Invincible seven that the home team defeated so decisively in Brockville faced the strong Peterborough septette that have already demonstrated their superiority over the Island City team. The news that the Brockville team will be strengthened will be gratfully received by local fans and in view of it the spacious rink should be full to overflowing when the home pets meet the doughty rubber chasers from the St. Lawrence town.

Finally, "The Golden Monitor," edited by Drs. Kennedy & Kergan fell into my hands. I learned the truth and cause. Self abuse had sapped my vitality. Influenza Epidemic Prevails In The City

Several Hundred Persons Suffering From Colds—Nothing Serious is Anticipated, However—No Danger If Reasonable Care Is Taken.

Peterborough is just at the present time experiencing an epidemic of influenza. The doctors report that at the present time several hundred persons are sufering from a "cold," while there are hundreds more who have not yet given themselves into the hands of the physicians, and these the druggists are dealing with. During the last few days the local drug stores have been doing a "land office" business in Bromo Quinine, one store reporting that on Sunday more of this cold smashing article was sold than in any one day in its history. The epidemic, however, is not serious. It is certainly not pleasant, and incapacitates the victim from strenuous work, but the physicians state that there is no special danger, provided, of course, that the persons, afflicted adopt the usual precautionary measures, and take reasonable care of themselves.

It is probable that the epidemic will continue for some weeks yet, and those who have been congratulating themselves upon having escaped it, when they read of the misfortunes of others, had better not bank on it because their turn will probably not be far off.

In the meantime, the doctors and drug stores are reaping the harvest.

Waterous Co. Will Take Old Engine In Trade

Mr. Hugh Cameron Estimates, However, That it Will Not be Worth Much--Suggestion of $1000 is Laughed At--Only Use for It, He Says, is to Loan to Municipalities--New Engin Ready Now.

THE COMMITTEE WILL PROBABLY DECIDE SOON

Mr. Hugh Cameron, of the firm of Hugh Cameron & Co., selling agents for the Waterous Engine Works, of Brantford, was in the city yesterday and to-day in connection, of course, with the proposal of the council to purchase a new steam fire engine.

Mr. Cameron came here in response to the request of the Fire, Water and Light Committee to give them a price on the old engine in exchange for a new machine. To-day Mr. Cameron saw the old engine in the hall, and made as close an inspection of it as was possible, and he will submit a price, as requested.

To the Examiner, Mr. Cameron said that it would be impossible yet to state what the company would be willing to allow the city on the engine and, in reply to the suggestion that it might be in the neighbourhood of $1000, he laughed, and said that Guelph had an engine as good ass Peterborough's, and it could be bought for $125. If the company took the engine, it would not, he said, be with a view of selling it again, but of repairing it for the purpose of loaning it to municipalities while new engines were being made.

The company has a new 1000-gallon engine almost completed now, and this they could ship to Peterborough in two weeks at the latest. The price of this engine is $6000, but he intimated that they would be willing to allow the city something for the old engine in part pay for the new machine.

It is probable that the Fire, Water and Light Committee will deal with the matter in the near future.

Mr. P. Davies Sights A Fine Silver Grey Fox

One Passed About Forty Feet in Front of Him Yestereay.

Mr. Peter Davies of this city, captain in the Third Dragoons, reports that while hauling wood yesterday in a bush in North Monaghan, about eight miles from the city, he saw a splendid specimen of a silver gray fox, that passed in front of his team, as he was near a swamp in a rather thick part of the woods. The animal was about forty feet away from him, and stopped and coolly surveyed Mr. Davies and the team, apparently not frightened in the least. He stood for a moment however, and then calmly trotted off into the thicket.

Silver grey foxes are very rare, and much prized by hunters. Their pelts bring anywhere from one to two hundred dollars.

The Illustrated Lecture Enjoyed

The meeting of the Presbyterian Guild which was held last night in Knox church, was one of more than usual interest. There was a good attendance and the programme was much enjoyed. The feature of the evening was the illustrated lecture given by Mr. J. A. Fife, B.A., on the Canadian Northwest, which Mr. Fife visited last summer. The lecture was very interesting and was much enjoyed.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Mysterious and bewildering, with a dainty plot running throughout, was the production of Chas. H. Yale's everlasting "Devil's Auction," as presented to a large house at the Grand last night. The scenic effects were very elaborate and effective, and so profuse, and ever changing that they were absolutely amazing. The presentation in itself is really a pantomime, and generally speaking gave good satisfaction. Some parts were hilariously amusing. George M. Topack, who portrayed the part of a donkey, afterwards transformed into a man, is a clever comedian, and evoked rounds of laughter from the audience. From the vaudeville standpoint the production was particularly good, and some really clever work in this line was done. Miss Jennie Prager is easily the best toe dancer ever seen in this city, and Walter Belair, as Chaos, an imp of darkness, was a very funny and inimitable "little devil." He is a veritable humourist, contortionist and acrobat, all rolled into one ball of lightning liveliness. He and Rinzetta, as comedy acrobats, did a very clever and laughable turn—one that would be well received in the best of vaudeville circles. Their specialty was the best presented. The music and singing were not very good, although some nice chorus work and dancing was seen. The scenery is the most attractive feature of the performance, and the closing scene, "Amour," was very attractive. Taken altogether, the "Devil's Auction" is a good show.

Mr. George Houlihan, whose stage name is Walter Belair and who played the part of Chaos, an imp of darkness at the Devil's Auction last night, is a nephew of Mr. Thos. Houlihan, the well known builder of this city.

Warm Praise For Miss Roger

Talented Local Pianist and Her Work Referred To.

The Globe to-day says:—Enterprise is a quality of mind which is always regarded, in America at least, as wholly admirable. For that reason alone, if for no other, the booklet just issued by Miss Alice Roger, concert pianist and teacher, of Peterborough, is worthy of high praise. It contains brief tributes to Miss Roger's ability from such authorities as Prof. Martin Krause of Berlin, Mr. Harry M. Field and the critics of the daily press, and typographically is most artistic. Miss Roger's talents, however, are known to the majority of music-lovers in Toronto, for she has played here in recital and moreover has a class here as well as in Peterborough. She possesses brilliant powers as an executant and adds to these with a keen sense of the poetic beauties of the music. More than that, she is beginning to attract the notice of prominent singers, both in Canada and the United States by her compositions. Her song "Du Bist Wie Eine Blume" has grace of melody and an admirably written accompaniment, and is now being sung extensively.

The gigantic task of piercing the Alps between Brigue and Iselle was begun in August, 1898. The tunnel is egg-shaped, being 18 feet high and 12 feet broad. It is 12 3-4 miles long, and consequently the longest tunnel in the world. More than a hundred lives were lost during the construction of the tunnel. Its total cost was $20,000,000.

Peterborough's Claims Impressed The Minister

Deputation Which Waited on Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, This Afternoon, Received Encouragement--Says Peterborough's Plan Best He Has Yet Heard--A Strong Deputation Waited on Cabinet Ministers --Premier Promises to Give it Best Thought.

Toronto, Feb. 14.—At noon to-day a deputation comprising over fifty representing the County Council, City Council, Board of Education, Separate School Board and Board of Trade, with a number of citizens, introduced by Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., waited on Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, to present Peterborough's claim as a site for the location of the new Normal School. Premier Whitney, Hon. Dr. Beaume, Minister of Public Works; Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agricultural, were also present.

Mr. W. H. Moore, presented the following memorial:—

The Honourable, the Minister of Education, Toronto, Ont.

Sir,—The undersigned are the Warden of the County of Peterborough, the Mayor of the City of Peterborough, Chairman of the Peterborough Board of Education, the Chairman of the Peterborough Separate School Board and the President of the Peterborough Board of Trade.

The following are advanced as reasons why a Normal School should be located in the City of Peterborough:

1. That part of the Province lying east of a line drawn from Parry Sound to Toronto, can be divided into two convenient Training School districts, by a line running from Pembroke to Kingston. Each of these districts will be approximately 150 miles in width and the centre of the one will be Ottawa and Peterborough of the other.

In the Peterborough district there are at present, within a radius of 75 miles measured in a direct line from the City of Peterborough, no less than eleven Model Schools, seven Collegiate Institutes and twenty High Schools, exclusive of four in the immediate neighbourhood of Toronto. That is, this district contains nearly one-fifth of all the teachers' training and preparatory schools of the Province.

2. The City is situated inland and from it lines of railway radiate in every direction. Strategically it is one of the most central points in the Province of Ontario.

3. The population of the city is 15,000 and it is steadily increasing; the City is progressive and healthy; it is well served by systems of waterworks, sewers and electric railways.

4. It is the See City of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Peterborough, and is therefore peculiarly suitable for a training centre for Separate School teachers.

5. The City contains Four parks, one of which is known as Central Park, containing six acres of land, this park is available as a site for a Collegiate Institute, by reason of a special Act of the Legislature passed in the year 1905. The land is worth at least $60,000. The Dominion Government has taken two acres of it for the purpose of an Armoury, leaving two acres for a building site and two acres for a park in common to both.

6. It is suggested that a site for a Normal School can be procured on this property without expense to the Government.

7. The Peterborough Board of Education suggest that the Normal School be combined in one building with the Collegiate Instituet. The rate payers of the City of Peterborough have recently voted $50,000 for the erection of a Collegiate Institute, and $40,000 of this money is now available for building purposes. It is suggested that the Normal School and the Collegiate Institute might be built under one roof to the advantage of both institutions, and at a considerable saving of expense.

8. The main items upon which expense would be saved by an amalgamation of the two buildings, are as follows:—

(1.) Site.
(2.) Gymnasium.
(3.) Assembly Hall.
(4.) Scientific Laboratories.
(5.) Drill Instruction.
(6.) Instruction in Music and Art.
(7.) Heating.
(8.) Plumbing.
(9.) Janitors.

9. There are in the City six Public and three Separate Schools providing fifty-four class-rooms available, if required, for Normal School practice teaching.

10. If, however, the Government can not see its way to the proposal for a joint building to accommodate the Normal School and the Collegiate Institute on the said Park, the City can readily secure a central and desirable location for the school.

11. There is no institution controlled by either the Provincial Government of the Dominion Government, within the County of Peterborough, and it is felt by all classes of citizens, that Peterborough is entitled to recognition in this respect.

Addresses illustrated by references to maps of the province and city were made by His Worship Mayor Best, R. M. Dennistoun, Principal Fessenden, Dr. Coughlin, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, D. Hughes Charles and D. W. Dumble. These gentlemen pointed out the advantages which Peterborough offered for the location of the Normal School asked for.

In reply to the deputation the Premier promised that the request made would receive careful thought, and Hon. Dr. Pyne said, that when the Government's decision was made Peterborough's claim, which had impressed him more favourably than any other plan submitted, would receive the best consideration.

General Exodus To Queen City This Morning

Many Citizens Went to Toronto To-day--Excursions Were Well Patronized--125 Went by the C.P.R.--Normal School Deputation Will be Large--Others Went to Attend the Mendelssohn Choir Concert--Other Attractions in the City.

LOW RATES WERE TAKEN ADVANTAGE OF

A considerable portion of Peterborough's population is in Toronto to-day, and many of the prominent citizens are out of the city.

The deputation to wait on the Minister of Education in an effort to have a Normal school established here took about fifty citizens, while the Mendelssohn concert at Massey Hall was an attraction to many more.

The special C.P.R. train which left at 8.45 o'clock this morning carried 125 people en route to the Queen City. Among those on board were: His Worship Mayor Best, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., Ald. Adams, Ball, Mason, McIntyre, Dunsom, Hicks and Johnston; Jas. Kendry, W. H. Moore, William Pringle, C. Fessenden, principal of the Collegiate Institute; D. M. Roger, R. A. Morrow, G. W. Hattos, R. M. Dennistoun, E. G. Patterson, T. F. Matthews, W. H. Meldrum, John Crane, City Clerk Armstrong, John Corkery, secretary Separate school board, D. Adam's Glove Sale.

Notwithstanding the stormy character of the weather the ladies came out in large numbers to Adams Glove Sale this morning. At the hour advertised for the sale to commence, (9 o'clock) the store and entrance thereto was completely crowded with eager shoppers. The result was that every pair advertised was sold, except a few small sizes.

A woman who knows her business
Will win at every turn,
Because, tho' she sees many a bargain,
The cash in her purse won't burn;
But when she comes to Adams'
She's there with every dime,
And you'll notice that what she is buying
Is a bargain every time.

Runaway Wife Was Discovered In Peterborough

Mr. Arthur Townsend Finds His Spouse Here—Pathetic Story of Domestic Trouble—Caused by a Young Englisman Named John Cowan--His Attentions to Mrs. Townsend and the Result--She Left Her Home Saturday.

A RECONCILIATION HAS BEEN EFFECTED

A visitor in the city to-day from Norwood gives the Examiner some details in reference to a story of domestic infelicity, which reached a climax on Saturday last, when a woman who has been almost a life-long resident of that village left home, taking one of her two children with her, and came to Peterborough, where it is alleged, that she met the man who has been the cause of the trouble which has been brewing in the family for some time.

It appears, according to the information furnished the Examiner that some months ago, last summer, in fact, a young Englishman named John Cowan, went to Norwood, from Port Hope, and took a position with Tucker Brothers as baker. He did not "make good" on the job, however, and had been there only a short time when he was discharged, it is said. At any rate he left, and since then, until a few weeks ago had not been doing anything for a livlihood.

When he went to Norwood first he went to board with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Townsend, and continued to live in this home until a few weeks ago, when Mr. Townsend, it is said, ordered him out of the house, for reasons which are not stated, but which may be imagined when the events which followed are learned.

After he was put out of house and home so summarily, young Cowan went to the country and worked for a Mr. Gardner, but he did not stay there long, and on Friday last returned to Norwood, and the same day came to Peterborough.

The following day, on the afternoon train Mrs. Townsend, who it is alleged, entertained feelings for Cowan other than those of a platonic nature left Norwood, and also came to Peterborough, bringing with her one of her children, a girl about 5 years old, and leaving the youngest, a boy about 6, with her mother, who also lives in Norwood.

Mr. Townsend had been working in the country for Mr. Harry Buck in a camp, and the first intimation he had of his wife's desertion of her home was when on Saturday night he arrived home to find that there was no one there to greet him. He visited his mother-in-law's home, and obtaining an idea of the intended destination of his wife he took the early train Sunday morning, and came to Peterborough in search of his missing partner.

He was successful in his search, finding her in the city, and by means which have not been stated, persuaded her that her place was in Norwood with him. Accordingly the now reconciled man and wife left for home again Monday morning, and to all appearances the sky of domestic felicity is now as unclouded as if nothing had ever occurred to mar the happy meal.

Mr. Townsend is a man who is highly respected by all who know him, and considerable sympathy is expressed for him. It is said that Cowan's presence was the disturbing element, and that with him away the affairs will proceed without any recurrence of the estrangement.

A Run-down Woman
Cured by
Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women.

Mrs. W. H. Graham, of, Halifax, N.S., writing to us about the great benefit she received from Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women, says:

"If I had gone to Paris and consulted Dr. Hugo himself I could not have got more benefit that I did from his tablets."

And Mrs. Graham was right, for according to her statement, she was suffering from a run-down condition brought on by overwork. These tablets are just what Dr. Hugo would have given her.

Women are realising more and more the value of a prescription of this great specialist, sold now in tablet form.

These tablets put within their reach the skill and experience that come from Dr. Hugo's forty years' treatment of diseases of women, and the latest and best in medical research and discovery.

They make healthy women. Improvement is noticed the first week.

LENDRUM

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest-fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until to-day Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With woman assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound: made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

To-day Is Old St. Valentine's Day

Away back in 1645 there were kickers and scoffers, and no doubt men were to be found even at that time of literary following who discussed the degeneration of the stage and of poetry and the arts in general. At any rate, Lord North, in his "Forest of Varieties," in a letter to his brother, poured out his bile on St. Valentine's Day. "A lady of wit and qualitie," he says, "whom you well know, would never put herself to the chance of a valentine, saying that shee would never couple herselfe but by choyce. The custome and charge of valentines is not ill left, with many other such costly and idle customes, which by a tacit general consent wee lay down as absolete."

Have we, "by a tacit general consent," finally, 250 years later, laid down the "idle customes" of St. Valentine's Day as obsolete? If we have, it is a great pity, if for no other reason than that by so doing we give satisfaction to the shade of this bilious old Lord North. The particular custom to which he refers we have certainly laid down, even in the country districts of England, where it was longest preserved. That custom consisted of putting the names of various girls into a vessel, whence they were drawn out by an equal number of young men. The girl whose name was drawn was considered the man's valentine, and it was looked upon as an omen of her becoming his bride. In Thomas Shipman's "Carolina" will be found this poem, called "The Rescue, 1672, to Mrs. D. C., whose name being left after drawing valentines and cast into the fire, was snatched out:"

I, like the angel, did aspire
Your name to rescue from the fire.
My zeal succeeded for your name,
But I, alas! caught all the flame.
A meaner offering thus suffic'd
And Isaac was not sacrificed.

The costliness of the custom lay in the fact that the man was often supposed to buy a gift for his valentine. Does not Pepys record in that wonderful "Diary" of his that "this year I am my wife's valentine, and it will cost me five pounds?" It is hard to see what there could have been in this rather jolly custom to inspire anybody to bile. Perhaps Lord North was jilted by his valentine on some occasion! And surely, in the custom of sending verses on St. Valentine's Day, which appears to have arisen somewhere near the end of the seventeenth century, there is nothing but pretty sentiment.

It is this custom, along with the children's custom of leaving these verses, printed or written on special cards, at various doors, making frantic efforts not to get caught in the act, which has persisted down to the present time, in America as well as England. But it is a question if even this custom is not dying out now. A trip through the stores where the valentines are sold discloses numerous so-called "valentines" which are little more than a variant of New Year or Christmas cards. The old-fashioned creations of paper lace and pasteboard hearts, beneath which was buried a tender verse, are getting rarer, of course, because the demand is growing less and less. In the big cities like New York it is also growing rarer and rarer for children to have any neighbours, and the delights of St. Valentine's Eve, the joy of chalking an imaginary envelope on the stoop and watching from behind the hedge while Susie comes to the door and tries to pick it up, or of hanging on Nellie's doorknob a wonderful creation of paper lace containing a verse at which you blushed when reading it, and then of asking Nellie next day if she received it, and wondering how she ever guessed you sent it, are rapidly being banished further and further into the country.

The "comic valentines" persist, those dreadful combinations of coloured pictures and bad verse, which you used to be punished for buying if your parents caught you at it. The "comics" are at least one hundred years old, however, and should rather be revered like any tradition. For instance, in an old chap book published in London in 1800 is a verse "addressed to a very ordinary and vain lady, with a caricature picture:

Those charms divine might well be sainted,
But Cupid whispers they are painted,
And wrinkles filled with paste and paint
Are little fitted for a saint.

This, of course, is the modern comic valentine, but with a good sight better verse. The "caricature drawing" has, unfortunately, not been preserved. Perhaps it was to be by the sender, for the chap book only pretended to supply valentine verses.

These valentine chap books were very common one hundred, and even fifty, years ago, arguing the prevalence of the custom of sending verses on that day. In this urbane age we look with some scorn on books of etiquette, valentine writers and all ready aids to proper conduct.

It is a curious thing about St. Valentine's Day that St. Valentine had nothing whatever to do with it. The custom of the day is older than Christianity, and is, of course, pagan. Thus we have the ironical picture of a Christian saint being foisted into world-wide celebrity by virtue of a pagan holiday. Butler says in his "Lives of the Saints" that "to abolish the heathen, lewd, superstitious custom of boys drawing the names of girls in honour of their goddess, Februta Juno, on the 15th of pastors, several zealous pastors substituted the names of saints in billets given on that day." This is only one of several explanations of how the name of St. Valentine became attached to the holiday, and may be as near the truth as any. The fact is, nobody knows how it happened that the old saint's name became a symbol not of celebrity and sackcloth, but of hilarity and Hymen, not of saintliness, but of sentimentality. It used to be an old superstition that birds mated on St. Valentine's Day, and doubtless an ancient pagan recognition of the amourous influences of the reviving spring lies at the source of the holiday.

If that be so, the saint, after all, need not be ashamed to lend his name, and nobody should be ashamed to celebrate the festival — but ashamed not to, rather. All hail to Hymen's holiday, and may its passing be only into a cloud, whence it will soon emerge and the shops once more flower as the rose with sentiment and paper lace on each recurring February 14th!

Charge Of Fraud Faced By Crofts

An Interesting Case Being Tried at Belleville.

The Belleville Intelligencer of yesterday said:—

A case of considerable interest was commenced at the Police Court at noon to-day and was in progress when we went to press. Norris P. Crofts was charged with obtaining, by fraudulent representation, four promissory notes from one J. C. Moore, of Madoc Township.

From the evidence of Mr. Moore it appears that he conducts a general store in the Township of Madoc. A year ago the accused, who was a traveller for a wholesale grocery firm in Peterborough, called upon Mr. Moore and represented that his firm had been compelled to take over a stock from a man who had failed, and he (Crofts) offered to sell Mr. Moore the stock at a wholesale price and 20 per cent. off. It was represented to be a good stock. Mr. Moore, on the representations made, purchased the stock and gave Crofts four notes, three for $60 each and one for $50. When the goods arrived at Mr. Moore's they were in such a condition that he would not accept them, and reshipped them to Peterborough. He made demands for the return of the notes, which up to the present have not been returned.

The accused was arrested for the offence some four weeks ago, and has since been out on bail.

We understand that the defence is that the goods were all as represented when shipped to Mr. Moore.

Anniversary Of W. M. Society Was Celebrated

George Street Methodist Branch Held a Most Profitable and Interesting Meeting Yesterday —Fine Address on Mission Work Was Given by Mrs. Campbell.

TWO FINE SOLOS WERE RENDERED

A most interesting meeting was held in the Sunday school room of the George street Methodist church yesterday, when the silver anniversary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was celebrated. Twenty-five years ago the society was organized and the various branches all over the country are this year holding services in commemoration of this event.

There was a large attendance of the ladies of the society present and the programme was thoroughly enjoyed. The gathering evinced a deep interest in the affairs of the society. The feature of the afternoon was a splendid address on Missions by Mrs. Campbell. Mrs. Jas. Kendry, the president of the society, occupied the chair.

The meeting opened with the usual devotional exercises, after which Mrs. Campbell gave her address. In beginning she referred to the founding of the society 25 years ago, and in a comprehensive manner dealt with its growth and development during that period. She showed that from very small beginnings the society has grown to be of the greatest assistance to the church.

Passing on, Mrs. Campbell gave a short review of the work now being done. In Japan the number of stations had increased from one to five. From these the light radiated to the other towns and villages. Twenty-three earnest Christian girls were in the field there and were assisted by a faithful band of native helpers. There were two stations in China where the work was different. Here, medical as well as missionary work was carried on. There was no need of the former in Japan, where medical science was well known. In China the medical missionaries relieved the woes of humanity, and at the same time preached Christ.

The speaker next referred to the work among the French-Canadians in Lower Canada. Here French Protestant schools had been established and although the work was not as extensive as might be desired, yet good was resulting.

There was also good work being done among the Galicians in the Northwest. There Miss Munro, of Peterborough, was earnestly and successfully working. The work was full of promise, but more money and missionaries were needed. The Indian work was also flourishing. The newest mission undertaken was among the Italians in Toronto, where it was proposed to instal a teacher who could speak Italian.

During the afternoon Miss Kendry sang "Just for To-day," and Mrs. (Dr.) T. H. Trust, "Thy Will Be Done." Both singers were in good voice, and their solos were greatly enjoyed.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served and a social hour spent.

Much Interest Manifested In Browning's 'Saul'

"CLEON" WILL BE THE NEXT SUBJECT

Mr. Earle has kindly permitted the Examiner to publish an outline of his lesson on Browning's Saul last Monday evening in the Y.M.C.A. The publication of it meets with the approval of those of the Examiner's readers who are interested in literary subjects and especially of those who are interested in Browning. Mr. Earle's summary of the lesson referred to is as follows:—

Saul, the son of Kish, has from my childhood, been, to me, one of the most interesting characters in the Old Testament Scriptures.

Tall, and of commanding presence; endowed with great courage; a respectful son and loving father, not deficient in religious feelings, and possessing a remarkable modesty; he comes before the world from his simple shepherd life, one of most kingly figures in history.

The readiness with which he sprang to arms and summoned his clansmen to march to the relief of the men of Jabesh-Gilead remind us of Scott's description of the passage of the Fiery Cross. These, and the successful wars which he waged against the surrounding tribes attest the warlike qualities of the Soldier-King.

Nor is it our admiration alone that he commands. In spite of his faults—nay, in part at least, on account of his faults, he excites our sympathy and our love, as he did those of the stern unbending prophet who knew him best.

Of his faults I shall say nothing except that they were very human, and due mainly to his impulsive nature.

Browning's Saul.

This "Messianic Oratorio in Words" as it has been called, is one of Browning's grandest poems. The influence of music not only on man, but on the lower animals, and even on inanimate objects has been recognized in all ages, and has always been a favourite theme with poets.

The poem opens with a pleasing and impressive description of the meeting between David and Abner. Our hearts go out at once to the youthful musician and we are almost in love with the captain of the guard. The description of David's entering Saul's tent and recognizing in the dim light Saul standing beside the central support with his arms stretched along the crossbeam calls up a picture as clear in outline and as perfect as if some great artist had placed it on canvass.

The task which David has before him is very great. Saul is dead to the world, and it is for David to awaken in his mind an interest in the affairs of life.

Like David, Saul had been a shepherd, and love for the lower animals has always been a Jewish characteristic. He begins with the "thing all our sheep know" which Saul had often heard before at folding time.

The beauty of the figure in the last two lines in Stanza V is worthy of notice.

Gradually the music assumes a more moving character, still, however dealing with the lower animals—the quails, the crickets and the quick Jerboa—half-bird and half-mouse.

Note David's assertion of a common brotherhood of God's creature. "Give them our love and our fear," i.e., love and fear such, in character, as we have.

The interest rises. It is the joyous time of the harvest. We have the wine-song of the reapers. Hand clasps hand and the eye lightens up with the feeling of good fellowship. Then came the thoughts of the noble dead; the solemn funeral march; the grief of the bereaved. These mournful strains yield to the glad chant of the marriage; the abounding joy of the young maidens; the fresh beauty of the bride. Next we have the joining of men in a common cause (perhaps war) followed by exalted religious strains as the Levites go up to the altar.

At last some effect has been produced and the poet-musician pauses and listens.

The song proceeds, "The wild joys of living" being the theme. The vigour of young manhood the aged but heroic father sending his son forth to battle; the pious mother strong in her grief; the companionship of brothers; the friends of boyhood, pass in review. Then the high ambitions followed by deeds which surpass them, the fame crowning them, all setting on the head of the creature—King Saul. The spirit of the musician leaps with exhaltation, all his powers combining to uplift the name of Saul.

The fine descriptive passage which follows is worthy of the most careful attention.

What shall I do next? I offer him the cup filled to the brim with the wine of this life, but he lips refuse it. He assents to my praises of life, but prefers death.

Then come the youthful fancies that were long ago called up as, standing the sheep, he lay on his back in the narrow valley watching the soaring eagle and trying to picture the world beyond the mountains which he never hoped to see. As the old trains of thought arise in his mind, his imagination is quickened, he grows surer, his heart responds to his spirit, and with prophetic strains he describes Saul's future. The palm-tree rises slowly. It reaches the kid's lip; the stag's antler; branches outburst; they break into bloom; and the palm-tree seems perfect. But perfection is not yet. Shall we light the dates or the wine that makes glad the heart of man? What does it matter if the palm-tree decay? The wine remains. I offer thee such wine. If the body be wasted the spirit remains, and, by the Spirit, thou shalt enjoy more in age than youth can bestow. Each deed performed goes to work in the world. Every ray of thy will, every flash of thy passions, shall thrill thy white people till they give forth a cheer to their sons and all the influence thou hast exerted shall roll on through the ages. True, thou must die, but the memory of they great deed shall survive, carved in marble, engraven in tablets, and inscribed on papyrus.

The invocation in stanza xiv is very fine.

While I sang, Saul slowly resumed his old position. He arranged his hair, adjusted his turban, girded his loins and was once more himself.

When the music ceased I found myself seated between Saul's knees, felt his hand lay gentle on my brow, his fingers pushed through my hair. My head was bent back, and as the King gazed lovingly into my face, my whole heart went out in love toward him.

Stanzas xvii and xviii contain a grand Messianic prophecy, and the spirit of the youthful seer seems to have reached a height too lofty for harp or song.

The last stanza shows how all the powers of nature, all things in the earth and in the air, in the heavens and the lowest hell, felt the influence of the new law of universal brotherhood, and ushered in by the coming of Christ.

Mr. Earle assured the Examiner that during the reading of the poem which followed, he felt himself carried away, as he has seldom been before, and that the deep interest manifested by the class afforded him deep pleasure. The lesson lasted about an hour and a half and, though an hour is the usual time, most of the class remained to the end. A few were obliged to leave on account of previous engagements.

The class will meet again next Monday evening at 7.15, when the poem Cleon will be taken up.

Travel Talk At Y.M.C.A. "Pop"

The 4th Y.M.C.A. "Pop" next Saturday night will furnish another treat. The feature will be the delightful travel talk on "Florence the Beautiful," by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, B.A., of the Collegiate Institute staff.

Those who have heard Mr. Kenner's lecture have enjoyed it greatly. Last year when a similar lecture was given in connection with the "Pops" every available seat in the hall was occupied.

Those who wish a good seat on Saturday night should come early as the attendance will be large. The "Pops" are open to both ladies and gentlemen. Silver collection at the door.

The butter famine is becoming more pronounced in England, and the scarcity of supplies is having a serious effect upon prices. In the London provision market the price of Danish butter was advanced. A telegram from Liverpool says unless the colonial supplies increase the position will be unprecedented, and dealers there state that it is nearly impossible to meet the present requirements.

MOTHER AND CHILD.

"Let the mother take Scott's Emulsion for the two; it never fails to benefit them both. One can eat for two, but nourishing two is a different thing. It calls for a degree of internal strength that the average woman lacks. People of luxury are not very strong by habit; overworked people are weak in some functions from exhaustion or their surroundings. Scott's Emulsion can be depended upon to overcome such conditions. It is a wonderful food for a mother and child.

Ancient Order Of Foresters Hold At-Home

One of the Most Gratifying in Their History—Instrumental Selections Form Pleasing Portion of Programme—Comic Songs Were Features of the Evening—Many Songs Rendered—Refreshments Were Served.

THE EVENT WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL

One of the most interesting At Homes in the history of Court Stanley, No. 7880, Ancient Order of Foresters, was held last night in the Sons of England Hall.

During the evening very palatable refreshments were served, followed by a delightful programme of a musical and elocutionary nature which was heartily enjoyed by all present.

By a few suitable remarks the chairman, Mr. Wm. Johnston, introduced the pleasing programme. A piano solo by Miss Moss was much enjoyed as was also an instrumental trio, "The Boulanger March," by the Misses Smith and J. Shodgett. Mr. Blackwood's song was the next item and received the recognition which it merited. Miss L. Smith gave a recitation which demonstrated her elocutionary power, after which "Georgia" was delightfully rendered by Mr. Edwards. A comic song by Mr. Henderson was one of the chief features of the evening and its appreciative effect elicited an encore. The first part of the enjoyable programme was fittingly closed by a violin selection by Mr. D. Webster.

An instrumental trio opened the second part after which another song was heard from Mr. Blackwood. Mr. Webster again favoured the assembly with a violin solo. A song by Mr. G. Dickson was the next number and was much enjoyed. Miss L. Smith's second recitation was effectively given and elicited much applause. Mr. Henderson's humourous song was as before enthusiastically received, and the last musical item was a solo by Mr. Blackwood. A speech from Mr. Edwards was the last number of the lengthy and much appreciated programme, and a delightful evening was brought to a close by the singing of God Save the King.

The committee in charge of the At Home were Messrs. Hagwell, Truman McWha, Geddenough and Edwards, who are to be congratulated on providing such an interesting programme and were instrumental in bringing the charming social event to such a successful issue.

Concert Held On Easter Week

Peterborough Choral Society Arranges to Hold it Then.

The weekly practice of the Choral Society was held last night. A new choral number "The Miller's Wooing," by Eaton Fanning was tried, also Bishop's "Now Tramp o'er Moss and Fell," with soprano solo by Miss Helen Davies, who also took the solo in Garrett's "Farewell." Pinsuti's "Watchword," Lemmen's "Drops of Rain," Barnby's "Lullaby," and a German "Volkslied" (the two latter unaccompanied) were also rehearsed.

The attendance of sopranos continues very good, but the men do not seem to take as great an interest in the work. A committee meeting was held after the rehearsal and it was decided that as the attendance of tenors and basses had not been satisfactory for the last two or three weeks it would not be possible to to have a concert this month, as originally intended, but subject to the improved attendance of the male members of the chorus, a concert will be held in Easter week.

The rehearsal next week will be on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, when another new number will be taken in hand.

ASTONISHING RESULTS

Follow Each New Discovery of Science

The great strides that medical science has made in the last few years is due to the germ theory. When the germ of a disease has been discovered, the doctors have not been slow in finding a drug to kill it. In a few years it will be rare to find a bald-headed man or woman. The falling out of the hair is due to a dandruff germ, and now it has been discovered how to kill this germ. The remedy used is called Newbro's Herpicide. Its success has been marvellous. Not a failure has been so far reported. It is also a delightful hair dressing, free from oil or sticky substances. Try it and be convinced of its actual merit. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

The Young Men Gave Addresses

The meeting in Murray street church last night was of a special nature, and was well attended. The feature of the meeting was the presence of five young men on the platform, and these men gave addresses, which added greatly to the interest.

It is probable that to-night the meeting will take a similar form, and to-morrow and Friday nights, Rev. Mr. Welsh, of Lindsay, will be here to assist with the services.

Signor Bosco, Now David Hyam, Returns To City

After Nearly Twenty Years Absence the Once Famous Magician Comes Back to Represent the Noted Fays, Who Come Here Next Week—Bosco Was at One Time the Greatest Entertainer of the Country—Some Reminiscences.

THE FAYS TO COME HERE FOR A WEEK

Mr. David Hyam, professionally known as Signor Bosco, for years a magician who travelled through Canada and the United States, and who, in that capacity, visited Peterborough three times, in 1874, 1879 and 1888, playing each time in the Bradburn Opera House, is in the city to-day, representing the Fays, who will be in the opera house from Tuesday to Saturday next week. The Fays have been playing in Ottawa, during the last week, where crowded houses greeted them.

Mr. Hyam is an interesting character and related to The Examiner a story of his first visits to Peterborough, which was decidely interesting. He produced a clipping from The Examiner of February 20, 1888, in which reference was made to the show which his company gave here. The clipping is as follows:

"Bosco, the magician, entertained the people at Bradburn's Opera House on Wednesday night. The performance was a good one, the principal features being, of course, the feats performed by Bosco. The magician lacks not in the least in point of cleverness, but if he did his personal appearance and manner would make up for any deficiency. He has light hair, a luxuriant moustache of the same colour and he wears faultless evening dress and a seemingly perennial smile. His voice is so musically persuasive that it lulls the audience into a sense of comfort and good humour. The presents given away were really a valuable lot, about 100 being given away. Among other things there was a handsome silver ice pitcher. It was drawn by Mr F. J. Lewis."

Mr. Hyam is greatly pleased with the progress Peterborough has made in the 20 years since he was here last, and says Peterborough is the best little city in the world, and he should pretty nearly know. It would hardly do to tell what he said about Port Hope, where he spent yesterday, but at any rate he is pleased with Peterborough.

The Fays are his special care now, and he is enthusiastic over the performances which they give. They will open a five nights' engagement on Tuesday next at the Grand.

Temperance Was Subject

At Weekly Meeting of Mark Street Epworth League.

At this week's regular meeting of Mark street Epworth League a varied temperance programme was presented. There was a good attendance of the members, several of whom assisted in making the meeting one of interest and profit.

Several Scripture selections were read, bearing on the topic, and on each brief comments were made. Interspersed between the various numbers, items of interest in connection with local, Provincial and national temperance work were given. Mr A. A. Fowler gave a helpful reading, and Mr. John Millor, sang a solo, prefaced by a few pointed remarks along temperance lines. Mr. Deacon read a very suggestive temperance story, and Mr. W. Hooper rendered an appropriate solo. A number which was also much enjoyed was a vocal quartette by Mrs. W. K. Payne, Mrs. Calvert, Mr. J. Speir and Mr. J. Miller. The benediction by the pastor, Rev. J. G. Lewis, B.A., closed the evening's programme.

Not Monday evening the monthly business meeting will be held and the usual offering taken. Mrs. Payne will have charge of the topic, and Miss Effie Fowler will conduct the meeting.

Stole Clothes And Revolver From Father

Quick Work by P. C. Miller in Arresting George Valois.

George Valois, who pleaded guilty to the charge of breaking into the residence of his father, Mr. Jos. Valois, 180 Edinburgh street, and stealing a suit of clothes and a revolver, was the only offender who was dealt with at the police court this morning. He was remanded until Saturday morning February 17. Valois was arrested last night by Constable Miller about 12 o'clock. On his person were the revolver and knife, both of which his father identified this morning as being his property. He also had a pair of his father's boots on. He took them off and gave them to their rightful owner, and walked up to jail in a pair of overshoes which were also his father's property. He seems to admire very much his father's taste in buying clothing and furnishings. He was arrested just as he was about to take the midnight train for the east, and as the police had only been informed of the theft about an hour previous to the time the prisoner was taken into custody, P. C. Miller deserves credit for capturing his man upon such short notice. Valois is a labourer, and temperate. He is not endowed with particularly brilliant powers.

Big Real Estate Deals

—BEING PUT THROUGH WHICH—

Mean Much For This City

Indications That New Industries are Quietly Preparing To Locate Here--Some Significant Land Purchases Made--Toronto Capitalist Buys Twenty Acres of Land in South End--Other Deals Which May Mean a Great Deal for This Community.

To use a common expression, there is "something doing" in Peterborough real estate those days, and the activity which those on the inside are aware of is an indication that there is something in store for Peterborough which the general public are not aware of.

Within the last few days Mr. M. A. McNamara purchased the old Dr. Kincaid farm of 200 acres in North Monaghan, south of the city limits. Mr. McNamara paid in the neighbourhood of $12,000 for this property, and he did not buy it with the intention of going farming, either. There are other and bigger schemes than that. He states that he purchased the property with a view of its increasing in value by reason of the fact that a number of new industries were to be located in that section of the city and township, and Mr. McNamara's purchases in the past have not indicated that he bought this in the dark.

There is little doubt that there is an activity in real estate in that section which the ordinary growth of the city alone would not warrant.

It is stated on what is believed to be good authority, that a Toronto capitalist, who generally knows what he is doing, has bought 20 acres of land just outside of the city limits, and this fact is taken by those who know, to mean car shops. This same gentleman has, it is learned, also secured options on considerable additional property in the same locality.

The indications are that there is a big scheme on foot, which, if it is carried out successfully, will mean a great deal for this city. That Peterborough is destined to be one of the greatest industrial cities in Ontario is becoming more and more evident, and The Examiner is making no breach of confidence when it states without specifying, that there are plans under way which will place this city in that position much earlier than most people expect.

Citizens Support The Hockey Team

An Opportunity To-night to Help Them.

The team which will represent Peterborough to-night in the semi-final game with Brockville at the Brock street rink, will be:—

Goal—Wasson.
Point—Glover.
Cover Point—Moore.
Rover—Whiteroft.
Centre—Morgan.
Wings—Cavanah and Graham.

There is no doubt that the game will be fast and the Brockville team will do their best to wipe out their defeat of Friday night.

It is to be hoped that the public will turn out in large numbers to witness the contest, and to support the team as they deserve.

If the locals win this round they will have to make a long trip, and will require all the funds available.

Brockville Team Will Be Strong

The Fans are Promised a Great Game for To-night.

Great interest is being taken in the game to-night between Peterborough and Brockville. The easterners will have a very strong lineup and will come on the ice with a much more formidable septette than that which Peterborough trimmed in Brockville last Friday night. "Jack" Marks, formerly with Belleville, and who is one of the fastest forwards on the Federal League, will hold down left wing for the Island City bunch. The ice is in fine condition, and a fast game is assured.

From the line-up of the teams given below it will be seen that Brockville will have a team that will make matters interesting from the first tap of the gong to the end of the game. The teams:

TO-DAY IN HISTORY

St. Valentine's Day — Valentine's Day is not kept in Rome in the way in which it still lingers in some other parts of the world. No pictured missives are shown in the windows of stationery stores or burden the mails. As a real saint, a Roman priest and martyr, St. Valentine's feast was kept in all the churches on the 14th, which was the anniversary of his death under Claude the Gothic A.D. 270. The Cultores Martyrum have a special celebration every year on this day at his catacomb, on the Flaminian Way, outside of Porta del Topolo, to the right at the foot of the Monti Parioli. Here, too, above the graves are a few remains of the basilicate raised by Pope Julius I. in the middle of the fourth century, and dedicated to St. Valentine.

1838.—Rebels evacuated Long Island.

1884.—Second session of Nova Scotia Legislature opened.

1890.—Toronto University burned.

1905.—Clear day but cold: 11 degrees above to 13 degrees below zero.

The Speaker's Election Was Only Transacted

Only Business Transacted By British Commons Tuesday.

JAMES WILLIAM LOWTHER

Conditions of Unusual Interest Attached to the Meeting of the New House of Commons, and Entry Resembled a Theatre Pit—Great Reception Accorded the Party Leaders on Both Sides—Members Sworn.

London, Feb. 14—Although the ceremony for formally opening Parliament will not occur until Feb. 19, and while no legislative work can be undertaken until after the King's speech has been delivered on that occasion, the second Parliament of King Edward assembled yesterday afternoon for the election of a Speaker of the House of Commons. This was the only business yesterday, and the swearing-in of the members will occupy the balance of the week.

Resembled Entry to Theatre Pit.

The new House of Commons meets under conditions of unusual interest, and evidence of this was seen in the wild rush for seats at midnight, when the spectacle at the entrance of the House of Parliament at Westminster resembled the entry to a pit on the first night of a play by a popular author. Nearly 300 of the members are entirely new to Parliamentary life, as a consequence of the upheaval caused by the general election, and the House of Commons police had a difficult task in differentiating between members and outsiders, who attempted to take advantage of the occasion to view the proceedings.

Outside the House a great crowd showed keen interest in the proceedings, criticizing or cheering according to their political bias, the better known members, while the arrival of the yeomen of the guard to make the historic search of the vaults for a Guy Fawkes, with all the time-honored formalities, evoked unbounded enthusiasm.

Accorded Great Reception.

At 2 o'clock, the time for the opening, the House was crowded. The party leaders were accorded a great reception by their respective adherents, the Unionists trying to veil the noticeable paucity of their numbers by an extra display of enthusiasm. A minute or two later, Black Rod entered, and summoned the Commons to the House of Lords, where the Parliament was formally opened by a Royal Commission. Only a few peers were present. Upon the withdrawal of the Commoners the peers met to present their writs and subscribe the oath.

Elected a Speaker.

In the meantime, the Commons had proceeded to the election of a Speaker.

The Clerk of the House, who is not permitted to speak, solemnly rose and pointed his index finger at Sir Wilfred Lawson. The latter moved the re-election of James Wm. Lowther, and Mr. Lowther was re-elected unanimously. The House then adjourned until to-day.

BALFOUR UNOPPOSED.

London Liberals Consent to Former Premier's Election by Acclamation.

London, Feb. 14.—Former Premier Balfour's non-committal speech at the banquet of the Conservatives of the city of London Monday evening has apparently satisfied the Liberals, as at a meeting of the City of London Liberal Association yesterday afternoon it was decided not to oppose the former Premier's election for the city of London. Mr. Balfour, therefore, is assured of a seat in Parliament.

PIMPLES
FLESHWORMS
HUMORS

Many an otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly marred by unseemly Blotches, Pimples, Eruptions, Fleshworms and Humors, and various other blood diseases.

Their presence is a source of embarrassment to those afflicted, as well as pain and regret to their friends.

Many a cheek and brow—cast in the mould of grace and beauty—have been sadly defaced, their attractiveness lost, and their possessor rendered unhappy for years.

Why, then, consent to rest under this cloud of embarrassment?

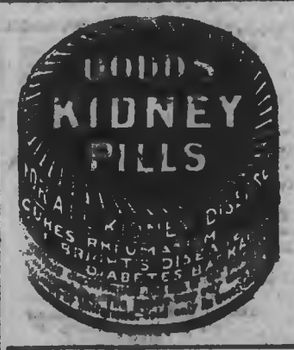
There is an effectual remedy for all these defects, to is,

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

This remedy will drive out all the impurities from the blood and leave the complexion healthy and clear.

Miss Annie Tobin, Madoc, Ont., writes: "I take great pleasure in recommending your Burdock Blood Bitters to any one who may be troubled with pimples on the face. I paid out money to doctors, but could not get cured, and was almost discouraged, and despaired of ever getting rid of them. I thought I would give B.B.B. a trial, so got two bottles, and before I had taken them I was completely cured and have had no sign of pimples since."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, for over 30 years, and has cured thousands in that time. Do not accept a substitute which unscrupulous dealers say is "just as good." "It can't be."



To Appoint Two Deputies Now The Proposal

Changes Proposed For the Lands and Mines Department.

IMPORTANT LEGISLATION

Reported That Mr. T. W. Gibson Will Be Made a Deputy Minister—Change. In the Name of the Department—Advantages of the Proposed Change Outlined—Lieut.-Governor Passes the Speech.

Toronto, Feb. 14.—It is reported that a measure will be introduced during the coming session of the Legislature marking an important and forward step in relation to the Department of Lands and Mines. As far as can be ascertained the projected legislation provides for the changing of the name of the department to the "Department of Lands, Forests and Mines," and the appointment, in addition to the present deputy, Mr. Aubrey White, of another Deputy Minister. The latter will undoubtedly be Mr. T. W. Gibson, the present Director of the Bureau of Mines. Mr. Gibson entered the civil service in 1880 at secretary to Hon. T. B. Pardee, then Commissioner of Crown Lands, and retained that position until 1886, when he left the service. He re-entered in 1891 as Secretary of the Bureau of Mines, which was established in that year with Mr. Archibald Blue as Director. When Mr. Blue resigned in August of 1900 to accept the position of Census Commissioner for the Dominion, Mr. Gibson was appointed to succeed him, and he has since conducted the work of the bureau with marked ability and success.

Mr. Aubrey White, the present Deputy Minister of the Department, will have direction, under the responsible Minister, of course, of all matters pertaining to Crown lands and forests. Mr. Gibson will look after matters pertaining to the mines, the parks and water powers, other than those now under the jurisdiction, or which may hereafter be placed under the jurisdiction of the Niagara Falls Park Commission or the Hydro-Power Commission.

The steady growth of the mining industries of the province and the immense possibilities in that respect in the Cobalt area and elsewhere in northern Ontario fully warrant, in the opinion of those familiar with the situation, the appointment of a Deputy Minister, whose principal care shall be the mining interests. This could be better done by Mr. Gibson as a deputy, responsible only to the Minister of the department, than under the arrangement now existing. The new plan will also enable Mr. Aubrey White to devote his time more exclusively to questions relating to Crown lands and forests, in which there has been a tremendous increase of business of late years.

The Speech From the Throne.

The speech from the throne was ratified last night by His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Clark, and is now in the hands of the printers.

Everything is in readiness for the opening to-day. The Legislative Chamber has been neatly tittivated, and the opening will be a fine function. Many invitations have been issued.

Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands and Mines, will sit in the House for the first time to-day. After the opening ceremony Premier Whitney will introduce Mr. Cochrane to the Legislature. Yesterday Mr. Cochrane took the oath of allegiance before Col. Clark, clerk of the Legislative Assembly, as the new member for East Nipissing, and he signed the roll. He was elected by acclamation June 18 last year.

E. J. B. Pense, M. P. P., will also be introduced to the House on retaking his seat, which he won in the recent bye-election in Kingston.

HEAVY SUCCESSION DUES.

Big Amounts Soon to Be Received By Provincial Treasury.

Toronto, Feb. 14.—Mr. J. B. McLeod, Solicitor to the Provincial Treasury, has received details of the estate of the late T. R. Wood of Toronto. It is valued at about $1,300,000, and is practically divided between two sons. Consequently the succession duties will be on a basis of 7 1-2 per cent., and the Provincial Treasury will benefit to the extent of $90,000.

The late Mrs. A. E. Ross, a Canadian lady who died in England, left an estate aggregating $700,000, mostly in Toronto realty. Until further information is to hand the amount to be received from this estate cannot be estimated.

From the estate of the late T. R. Merritt, St. Catharines, the Province will receive $31,000. The estate has been probated at $560,000.

North Toronto Nominations.

Toronto, Feb. 14.—To-morrow nominations will be received officially for contesting the riding of North Toronto. To-night both the Conservative and Liberal parties will hold nominating conventions to decide their own choice. Last night the local Socialist party nominated James Simpson.

1,200 Miners Strike.

Scranton, Pa., Feb. 14.—The twelve hundred miners and laborers at the two collieries of the Jermy Coal Co. at Rendham, near here, went on strike yesterday. The men claim the company has discriminated against them in a reduction of wages contrary to the award of the strike commission.

Is Awaiting His Chance To Square Matters

U. S. Ambassador to Bring Peace At Moroccan Conference.

HAS ACCEPTABLE PROPOSAL

Germany and France Can Both Afford to Accept It, It Is Said—Denial That Deadlock and Crisis Exists at Algeciras—Interviews Which Caused Much Comment, Although Result Is Still a Secret.

London, Feb. 14.—The Standard's correspondent at Algeciras telegraphed to his paper under yesterday's date:

"I am in a position to assert that the final solution of the Moroccan dispute will emanate from America. Ambassador Henry White is only awaiting the right moment to submit a proposal which it is believed will prove acceptable to both France and Germany. I have Mr. White's authority to state that a successful issue confidently is expected."

There's Still Hope.

Algeciras, Feb. 14.—The reports circulating in European capitals that a crisis has been reached at Algeciras are not warranted by the actual conditions here. The negotiations on the police and finance questions are proceeding uninterruptedly, but have reached a bed rock point on which neither the French nor the German delegates show any disposition to yield. This firmness on both sides has caused some apprehension of an eventual deadlock, but the delegates, so long as the negotiations continue, will not admit that a crisis has been reached.

Interviews took place yesterday morning between Herr Von Radowitz and M. Revoil, respectively, the first delegates of Germany and France to the Moroccan conference, and Count Von Tattenbach and M. Regnault, respectively, the second delegates of Germany and France. The interviews have caused much comment, but nothing has yet transpired as to their result.

In Paris.

Paris, Feb. 14.—Prince Radolin, the German Ambassador, had a conference with Premier Rouvier yesterday. A Government note issued last night says Prince Radolin did not submit to Premier Rouvier any new proposition relative to the Moroccan question. All negotiations on that subject, the note adds, necessarily must take place at Algeciras.

DAJABON FALLS TO REBELS.

Another Revolutionary Outbreak In Santo Domingo.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, Feb. 14.—A messenger who arrived here yesterday from Monte Cristi, in the northern part of the Republic of Santo Domingo, reports that a revolutionary movement has broken out at Monte Cristi. Gen. Neney at the head of a numerous body of troops, has attacked and captured the town of Dajabon on the frontier of Hayti. Neney is a devoted partisan of Gen. Jimines, former president of Santo Domingo, and it is generally believed that the movement is in favor of Jimines and that his object is to prevent the Government from holding the approaching elections.

John A. McCall Is Dying.

New York, Feb. 14.—The last rites of the Roman Catholic Church were administered yesterday to John A. McCall, former president of the New York Life Insurance Co., at Lakewood, N.J., where he has been seriously ill for some time. John A. McCall has probably paid for his share in the life insurance revelations with his life.

Are Your Nerves In Health?

STUDY HERE THE INDICATION OF A FAILING NERVOUS SYSTEM

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

It is surprising what hosts of people are suffering as the result of an exhausted nervous system and do not know the nature of their ailment.

They cannot sleep at nights — are restless and fidgety in the daytime—their tempers are easily irritated—little things worry them—they cannot concentrate their minds, and find their memories failing — there are spells of nervous headache—the digestion is impaired—pains and aches of a neuralgic nature afflict them—feelings of discouragement and despondency come over them at times, and they get in the way of looking at the dark side of things.

If this describes your experience you will be interested in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for this great food cure gets at the very foundation of nervous troubles and cures in the only natural way, by enriching the blood, revitalizing the wasted nerve cells, and building up the system generally.

Diseases of the nerves take different forms in different people, but they slowly and surely lead to nervous prostration, locomotor ataxia or paralysis — to weakness and helplessness of mind and body.

Mrs. F. Turner, 636 Aylmer street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is employed at the Hamilton Foundry, writes:—

"For some months past I found myself growing nervous, and gradually becoming a victim of sleeplessness and subject to frequent attacks of nervous headaches. About six weeks ago I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and cannot speak too highly of this medicine. I can sleep well now, the headaches have entirely disappeared, and I believe that my system, generally, has been improved greatly by the use of this treatment."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food acts strictly in accordance with the laws of nature in creating nerve force in the body, and you can use it with positive assurance that every dose of it must do you some benefit. Prove this by noting your increase in weight. 50 cts. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

CHURCH UNION IN ONE RESPECT IS ASSURED

Clergy of Different Denominations Unite in Endorsing Psychine.

Psychine, in its great work of healing those diseases that lead to consumption, and even consumption itself, has naturally come under the notice of a large number of the clergy, and many of them have felt it their duty to let the public know what splendid results come from its use. Here are a few instances of what clergyman say :—

REV. JAS. ODERY, formerly of Broadway Tabernacle, Toronto.—

"I have found Psychine to be one of the best remedies for throat and chest troubles that I know. It is prompt, efficacious and reliable."

REV. WM. H. STEVENS, Paisley, Ont.—

"Psychine seemed just the stimulant my system needed. I shall add my testimony as to its efficacy at every opportunity."

REV. R. M. BROWNE, Amherst Head, N. S.—

"I have often recommended Phychine since taking it myself, for I believe it is a cure for the troubles you specify."

REV. J. J. RICE, 51 Walker Ave., Toronto—

"My wife suffered two very severe attacks of La Grippe, one of which threatened rapid consumption, there being a hereditary tendency in that direction. They were speedily corrected by Phychine, leaving no trace of the disease."

REV. CHAS. STERLING, Bath, N. B.—

"I used have Psychine in my family; the results were marvelous. I have visited people who state they never used its equal. I have no hesitation in recommending it."

REV. J. S. I. WILSON, Parkdale, Ont.—

"I have taken two bottles of Psychine, and am pleased to say that I am greatly improved in health. I was troubled with my throat, but now I find it about restored to its normal condition. I find my work very much less taxing. I have reason to believe Psychine is all that is claimed for it."

Where sickness is there the minister of the gospel is found. His is the opportunity to note how the sufferer got relief, what furnished the relief and what caused the cure. Large numbers of the clergy of Canada recommend Psychine. They know, out of their experience, that it is the greatest preventive of consumption, the greatest builder-up of weak men and women science has given to the world.

PSYCHINE

Pronounced (Si-Keen)

REMEMBER, Psychine cures Consumption, but its greatest work is the cure of those diseases that lead to Consumption. Psychine cures Colds, Coughs, La Grippe, Pneumonia and Catarrh. At all druggists $1 Per Bottle.

The Bonspiel Opened
YESTERDAY WHEN SOME Good Games Resulted

Large Number of Outside Clubs In the Competition--Local Curlers Did Well in Primaries--The Scores of Yesterday and To-day--Some of the Features of the First Games--Ice in Better Shape To-day.

To-day, the second day of the Peterborough annual bonspiel the rinks that played yesterday were reinforced by a Scarboro rink that joined the ranks this morning. The interest manifested in to-day's games was just as intense as that of the preliminary draws.

The losers in the primary draws yesterday were not disheartened, and curled just as keenly in the Consolation competions last night and to-day.

Undoubtedly the reminiscences of this year's great bonspiel will remain fresh in the memories of the enthusiastic participants who unmistakably betrayed their great zeal for the great winter game.

To Winners of Primary and Consolation Curling Games.

Judging from the prizes on exhibition in the Kingan Hardware Company's window for the winners of the Primary and Consolation curling games, which will be decided to-day, the competitors in the great 'spiel will do their utmost to win the victory or attain to as high a rung in the ladder as possible. The prizes given are both useful and beautiful and the possession of any will be a forcible tribute to the fame of the possessor, hence the keenest of curling competitions are witnessed to-day by a large number of the lovers of the unrivalled winter sport. The first of the primary prizes consists of four beautiful solid leather dressing cases.

The winners of the second primary will receive each a gold locket.

The first consolation is a solid leather grip; the second cut glass fruit dish; the third, silver-mounted carving knife and fork and the victors of the fourth consolation receive each a box of cigars.

Therefore, twenty-four of the ice sweepers in the city to-day will possess some beautiful and valuable prizes as evidences of their distinguished prowess at the great Peterborough bonspiel of 1906.

Some Facts About That Curling Cup
Lindsay Post Adds Some Information About Lindsay-Peterboro' Cup.

The Lindsay Post takes the Review to task for alleged discrepancies in its history. It says:—

"On looking back over the files of The Post we find that the Peterborough Review is astray in a number of its facts regarding the Peterborough-Lindsay Cup. No difficulty arose between the clubs in 1897, nor in any year between 1896 and 1904, and as a matter of fact the Cup was played for in 1897 and won by Lindsay by 78 points; played for again in 1898 and won by Lindsay by 39 points; played for again in 1899 and won by Lindsay by 13 points; played for again in 1904 and won by Lindsay; and in 1905 it was again won by Lindsay, making eight wins by play and three by default for Lindsay, and five wins for Peterborough. We understand that the Cup was cleaned up and expressed to Peterborough Club on Saturday, the day after the match, and if the Peterborough Club did not receive it for some days the delay cannot be the fault of our local curlers. In closing we desire to again express our pleasure that the games for this cup have been revived, and we express the hope that they may be as keen and as friendly each season as they have been since President Neill and his men came up to Lindsay in 1904, and for that matter as friendly as in the good old days when three and four and five matches were played each year for the Cup.

West Ends Will Play Nationals

The West End hockey team accept the challenge of the Nationals to a game of hockey the latter to secure the rink and make all necessary arrangements for the game. The West Ends wish it to be understood that this is merely a practice game. The West Ends will have a strong line-up and should make the undefeated red and white aggregation go the speed limit to beat them.

Two Games Billed For To-night

The hockey fans will be pleased to learn that there will be a double header at the rink to-night. After the big game the Grocery Drivers and Express Drivers will dish out a high class exhibition of Canada's National winter sport. The grocery drivers will be:—Goal, Kennedy; point, Polson; cover point, Hagerman; rover, Buller; centre, Isaac Watson, press agent; right wing, Herriman, left wing, Lefave.

Referee—Jack Seymour.

Grocery Drivers vs. Expressmen

The spectacular hockey event of the season will be seen at Brock street rink to-night at the conclusion of the Brockville-Peterborough game, when teams representing the Express and Grocery Drivers will essay to play hockey. As a fun producer the production should have them all distanced and its likely that ambulane calls and stops for repairs will be numerous.

The Wanderers Were Victors

The Charlotte Street Guild team met defeat in Lindsay last night at the hands of the Wanderers of that town, leaders of the town league, the score being 3-2. The half-time score was 2-1. The game was not rough, only one Charlotte Street man being boarded. Three or four Lindsay men were well perched on the timbers for short periods. The double referee system which was employed worked well. The winners scored the first two goals and it looked as if the Electric City septette would be completely outclassed. Such was the case, however, and when Charlotte Street woke up they scored two straight to the Wanderers' nil. The ice was not in good condition making it impossible for either team to play a good combination. Charlotte Street was beaten fairly and squarely, and have no kick coming. There was a fair crowd in attendance. The following was the line-up of the Guild seven:—

USED UP AND TIRED OUT MEN AT THE OFFICE
WOMEN IN THE HOME
CHILDREN AT SCHOOL

Every day in the week and every week in the year men, women and children feel all used up and tired out.

The strain of business, the cares of home and social life and the task of study cause terrible suffering from heart and nerve troubles. The efforts put forth to keep up to the modern "high pressure" mode of life in this age soon wears out the strongest system, shatters the nerves and weakens the heart.

Thousands find life a burden and others an early grave. The strain on the system causes nervousness, palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, faint and dizzy spells, skip beats, weak and irregular pulse, smothering and sinking spells, etc. The blood becomes weak and watery and eventually causes decline.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

are indicated for all diseases arising from a weak and debilitated condition of the heart or of the nerve centres. Mrs. Thos. Hall, Keldon, Ont., writes: "For the past two or three years I have been troubled with nervousness and heart failure, and the doctors failed to give me any relief. I decided at last to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial, and I would not now be without them if they cost twice as much. I have recommended them to my neighbors and friends.

The lofty Trimmers of the Matthews Packing House trimmed the hockey aspirants of the Downstairs Department last night at the All Saints rink by the score of 6-2. Ran Into Doctor In The Darkness

An Accident Last Night on Water Street.

The fog was the cause of an accident on Water street last night. A local physician was driving in his buggy, when he was run into by a farmer driving a team. The doctor's buggy was smashed up considerably and the occupant was thrown out but no damage outside of this resulted. The darkness resulting from the fog was undoubtedly the cause of the accident.

PARALYSIS YIELDS TO DR. WILLIAM'S PINK PILLS

AFTER SEVERAL DOCTORS HAD PRONOUNCED THE CASE HOPELESS.

Convincing Proof That Cure Was Permanent—In Five Years the Patient Has Had no Relapse—Facts in a Remarkable Case Substantiated by Sworn Statements.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are not a patent medicine, but the prescription of a physician, placed on sale with full directions for use under a trade mark that is a guarantee of their genuineness to every purchaser. They contain no stimulant, opiate or narcotic, and while they have cured thousands have never injured anybody. To show that cures effected by this remedy are really permanent and lasting we recently investigated the case of Mr. Frank A. Means, of Reedsville, Mifflin County, Pa., Mr. Means has been an elder in the Reedsville Presbyterian church for many years, has served three years as county commissioner and as school director for nine years. He was afflited with creeping paralysis, losing the entire use of the lower half of his body, and for a year was a helpless invalid, confined to his bed with no power or feeling in either leg, and physicians had given him up as hopeless. Mr. Means was cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and his testimonial was printed five years ago as follows:

"I had the grip for four winters and as a result my nerves broke down I lost the entire use of the lower half of my body. My stomach, liver, kidneys, heart and head were never affected, but the paralyzed condition of the lower part of the body affected my bladder and bowels. For a whole year I lay in bed perfect y helpless with no power in either limb and the feeling gone so that I couldn't feel a pin run into my legs at all. I couldn't turn over in bed without help. To move me a pulley was rigged up on the ceiling and a windlass on the floor.

"During two years of my affliction I had six different doctors, but none of them gave me any relief. A specialist from Philadelphia treated me for three months, but he was of no benefit to me. These doctors gave me up and said it was only a question of a few weeks with me as nothing more could be done. After the physicians had given me up, a friend sent me a pamphlet containing statements of two men who had been afflicted something like me and who had been cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I began taking them at once and although my improvement was slow it was certain. Now I can walk most of the time without a cane and everybody around here thinks it is a miracle that I can get about as I do. Your pills have certainly been a God-send to me. Within the last three years I have answered dozens of letters from invalids who had heard of my case and who asked me if it was true that I had been cured by Dr. Williams Pink Pills. I have told them all that this remedy cured me and I am glad of this opportunity of telling about my case so that others may find relief as I have done."

Signed, F. A. MEANS.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 17th day of April, 1901.

ALBERT S. GIBBONEY,
Notary Public.

One day recently Mr. Means was visited at his handsome home overlooking the valley of Honey Creek, near Reedsville, where he made the following statement:—

"Before I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I had been treated for a long time by my home doctor who pronounced my trouble creeping paralysis. I always believed that to be my trouble, and I do yet believe so. I had also spent five weeks in the University Hospital in Philadelphia without the treatment benefiting me, and had returned home to die. I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in 1897, but did not give a statement of my case for publication until I was sure that I was cured. After returning from the hospital I did not take any other medicine for my trouble, and I owe it to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and to them alone that I am able to be about to-day. Since my cure, as related in my statement of April 17, 1901, I have never suffered any relapse, nor had occasion to employ a physician except for minor troubles such as coughs, colds, etc. I endorse Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as fully and heartily to-day as I did five years ago."

Signed. FRANK A. MEANS.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 22nd day of January, 1906.

JACOB KOHLER,
Justice of the Peace.

Justice Kohler, of Reedsville, before whom the above affidavit was made, voluntarily gave and signed the following statement:

"I have personally known Mr. Frank A. Means for the past 45 years and know that any statement he makes is entirely reliable. I personally visited him when he was confined to bed and utterly helpless. I now see him daily and know him to be in as good health as most men of his age."

Signed. JACOB KOHLER.

Mr. Daniel W. Reynolds, postmaster at Reedsville, Pa., stated that he had received many inquiries from all parts of the country concerning Mr. Means' marvellous cure, and he cheerfully added his confirmation of the truth as follows:

"I certify that the facts stated in the testimonial of Mr. Frank A Means are absolutely true. I know him when he was unable to move and I see him every day now on the streets and in my office."

Signed. DANIEL W. REYNOLDS

Here is evidence that must convince the most sceptical. But because many of the cures accomplished by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are so marvellous as to challenge belief, the following offer is made:

$5,000 REWARD—The Dr. Williams Medicine Company will pay the sum of Five Thousand Dollars for proof of fraud on its part in the publication of the foregoing testimonial.

No sufferer from paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance or any of the lesser nervous disorders can afford to longer neglect to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the great blood builder and nerve tonic. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, the the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Melodramatic Story

—INVOLVING MUCH MARRYING—

Comes From Hastings

Who Will Get the Property of the Late John Wesley Carnrike?—His First Wife's Child, Who Had Disappeared for Years, Lays Claim to It—Carnrike Married Three Times and Has Many Heirs--A Scandal That is Causing Much Excitement in Hastings--Those Interested Have Resorted to Law to Solve the Complex Problem.

There is an old saying that "truth is stranger than fiction," and a big wave of melodramic sensation is at present sweeping over the usually quiet village of Hastings. It is probably causing more wild talk and speculation than anything that has disturbed the usual peacefulness of the pretty village on the banks of the Trent. The tale is so strange that had it been enacted on the stage or described in the form of a novel the majority of people would exclaim with one accord, "highly improbable!" But when all the facts in connection with it are known to be true, and when the characters are actually very much alive and fighting in their own interests, the accuracy of the affair is beyond denial.

It appears that on November 9, 1870, John Wesley Carnrike was married to Lydia Sophronia Crosby, in the Township of Murray, by Rev. Thomas Cobb. They lived together until about 1873, when Mrs. Carnrike left her husband and went to live with another man in the United States, and by him has five or six children, who are now living in Buffalo. After his wife had left him, Carnrike married a woman from Toronto and has several children, all of whom are living. His second wife died about six years ago. Carnrike again married, this time his bride being a Hastings woman, one child resulting from the union. On the 27th of February last, Carnrike was killed in the tannery at Hastings. He died without a will, leaving a house and lot in the village and some personal property as well. It was found necessary to apply for letters of administration to wind up the estate. Matters in connection with the winding up of the estate seemed to be progressing without a hitch, when word was received of an heir who was living in the land of the Stars and Stripes. This heir turns out to be none other than the daughter and legitimate child of the deceased and his first wife. It is stated, although The Examiner is not able to vouch for the truth of the statement, that this woman, when she arrived at the village, had what is generally known as a "good" time. It is said she put up at the best hotel in the place, drank the choicest wines the landlord could provide, and drove the finest livery equipages that could be procured. It is also stated that she was married while in the United States, but that her husband had died. No children are known to have resulted from the union. The young widow, who claims to be an actress, says that she has played in different countries in Europe, and has even had the honour of appearing before royalty. That a talented actress should marry a native of a quiet place like Hastings, for this is what this dashing young widow did, and is now living there, seems really inconceivable.

Wife No. 3 states that she never knew of the existence of wife No. 1 until a short time ago. The children of wife No. 2 also lay claim to the property. But it is said that the deceased married wife No. 2 while wife No. 1 was still living. If this is the case, then it would seem that the children of wife No. 2 are not entitled to any of the property. The whole affair seems to be a tangle which will be a source of much trouble before it is ultimately unravelled. The parties interested have employed lawyers to look after their interests, and it is said the case will be fought to the bitter end.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE FATAL WEDDING.

Probably no play produced in the last decade has achieved the success as has "The Fatal Wedding," written by Theodore Kremer, and produced by Sullivan, Harris & Woods, which will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House, Monday next, Feb. 19. So instant and emphatic was the verdict of the great New York critics and public when the play was first produced in the Metropolis, that the good repute of "The Fatal Wedding" quickly speard over the country, and its management had, perforce, to decline much of the very time offered them by the leading theatres of the country.

• • • •

What everyone says is great, must be great, and this is what everybody says who have witnessed the marvellous performance of the Fays, who begin a week's engagement at the Grand on Tuesday evening next. The Fays will present their wonderful testimonial here, including all of their novelties, the principal one being their weird and amazing latest oriental sensation, "Thaumaturgy," an act so bewildering as to make it almost impossible to describe, and being difficult to fathom in any way which cannot be contradicted by those thinking differently. The audience is told to watch carefully the Fays' performance, and then to attribute it to their power to the supernatural, or slight-of-hand; but whatever the means employed, if any, the whole entertainment is one of mystery, interest and amusement. The Fays are accompanied by a large company of artists. Matinees, for ladies only, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

• • • •

The St. John's church Dramatic Club have had several scenes painted for the production of the three act comedy drama "The Blacksmith's Daughter," which will be presented to-morrow night. The Club will also go to Bailieboro to give this performance and several other places in this vicinity will likely be visited.

THE WEATHER.

Yesterday we had the unusual occurrence of a winter fog. An old rhyming proverb rather inelegantly informs us that "after a winter fog, cold enough to freeze a dog." Whatever truth there may be in the old saw, the weather has certainly turned much colder. This morning the thermometer marked 7 above zero, and it has not risen any to-day. Prospects are for some decidedly cold weather very shortly. Winnipeg had it 32 below last night, and the cold wave is spreading this way, though it may moderate to some extent in its journey eastward.

Engineer Presents His Report On Investigation

Mr. Holgate's Report re Lift Lock is Published—The Engineers are Censured—Leaks Can be Stopped But Expense May be Considerable—Type of Lock Said Not to be Best Suited to the Locality—Some Probable Results of the Investigation.

Toronto Globe Special.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—The condemnation of the engineering staff found in the report of Mr. P. Holgate, C.E., of Montreal, to the Minister of Railways upon the leaks in the lift locks at Peterborough and Kirkfield and the negligence shown by the investigating engineer to have taken place point to a demand for the resignation of Messrs. R. B. Rogers, superintendent and engineer of the Trent Canal; R. A. Davey, resident engineer on the Kirkfield lift lock; his assistant, Augustus Sawers, Jun., and Messrs. D. E. Bethune and Spence, inspectors at Kirkfield and Peterborough, respectively. The belief entertained here is that Mr. Emmerson will forward a copy of Mr. Holgate's report to each of the gentlemen who have incurred criticism, together with a polite intimation that his resignation would be acceptable.

The Questions Asked.

The questions which Mr. Holgate was directed to answer in connection with the Peterborough lift lock were as follows:

Having regard to the novelty and importance of the hydraulic lift lock at Peterborough and to the non-existence on this continent of other similar work, were the plans and specifications prepared with the care and thoroughness such a work demanded?

Were the plans and specifications dealing with the embankment of a character that, having regard to all the circumstances, would secure a first-class job of work?

Was the work executed in strict accordance with the plans and specifications? If not wherein did any variation take place and by what authority was it made?

Was the work inspected by the superintending engineer as fine and as thorough as such a work would naturally demand?

What is the cause of the leaks that have recently happened?

Were they caused by the negligence or carelessness of any person or were they the natural consequence of the style of construction adopted and of what significance are they?

Do these leaks imperil the works?

How much money is involved in making the work safe?

Story of the Lift Lock.

The original contract for the Peterborough lift lock, according to Mr. Holgate, was accompanied by a plan, but it gave too little information and the works were not built on the location shown there. A supplementary contract was accompanied by a complete set of plans, general in character, which were in no way materially departed from in the construction and seem to have been well considered. No specifications accompanied the supplementary contract. The contract and specification for the steel work were carefully made and the work was completed in a satisfactory way. The original contract with Canty & Laverdure appears to have been premature, as far as work on the lift lock was concerned, for at the time of the letting of the contract there was not enough information in America to guide an engineer or contractor in designing or building such a lock. More care might have been taken in building certain minor parts relating to bridge construction. In view of the change in the location the object of the plans and specifications was somewhat defeated. The leaks were largely due to the settlement of the embankment owing to the presence of a stone drain which was built into it and imperfectly refilled. The leaks can be stopped. They are local in character and the manner in which they occur indicates lack of forethought. If allowed to remain they certainly would impair the character of the work.

Very Sharp Censure.

The cost of the lift lock was $600,000 and it cannot be shown that a lock of this description was best suited to the requirements of the locality, a double set would cost an ordinary citizen $450,000. A single set which would have taken care of ordinary traffic would have cost $300,000, and the difference between the two patterns of locks means a good deal in favour of locks of the ordinary type. This observation applies to Kirkfield as well as to Peterborough. The change of the location of both locks added very largely to the cost. Mr. Holgate does not see how the work could have been satisfactorily performed under the conditions which were found to exist. These were neither commercial nor businesslike, and in a private enterprise the work would have been reorganized and put on proper business footing.

The Kirkfield Lock.

The questions submitted in the case of the lock at Kirkfield were to the following effect:

After a thorough investigation as the construction of the concrete wall approaches, what have you to report?

Were the plans and specifications clear and adequate to secure first-class construction, having regard to the service for which it was intended?

Were the plans and specifications followed faithfully, and if not, were they altered, and, if so, by whom, and under whose authority?

Did the engineer give the work his personal attention to the extent the importance of such work demanded?

What caused the leaks found?

How were the defects remedied, and has the work been so finished as to be permanent?

Did the resident engineer and inspector faithfully perform the work entrusted to them?

Did the contractors faithfully obey the order of the engineers and inspectors?

Having regard to all the circumstances in the work done of the character demanded by such an important undertaking?

Not Properly Built.

Mr. Holgate finds that the concrete wall approaches of the Kirkfield lock, were certainly not built in accordance with the specifications and proper care was not taken in connection therewith. The alterations were not of a nature to cause the deterioration of the work, but rather effect improvement. They seem to have been made under the authority of Mr. Schreiber, chief engineer. The interpretation of the specifications should have produced better work and the failure was due to lack of ability in enforcing them.

The plans and specifications were not followed faithfully, so as to secure water-tight work. The plans underwent alteration, but were not even followed as altered. The superintending engineer visited the work a sufficient number of times to have detected any inferiority in construction, but his inspection was apparently not very rigid. The leaks were caused by the failure to prepare the rock bottom for the concrete wall so as to make it water-tight.

Obeyed the Letter but Not the Spirit

There was a failure to manipulate the concrete properly, and an omission of the mortar face specified. The manner in which leaks have been repaired is practically temporary. It is a very difficult thing to do successfully and further work will have to be done next summer. The resident engineer in the Kirkfield lock was R. G. Davy, and his assistant Augustus Sawers, jr., and the inspector D. E. Bethune. In this connection the manner in which these officials did their duty is severely condemned. The contractors obeyed the orders of the engineers and inspectors, but certainly did not carry out the spirit of the specifications.

The Normal School Matter Before Premier and Ministers of Ontario Government Yesterday—Addresses Given by Prominent Members of the Four-fold Branches of Deputation—A Good and Sympathetic Hearing Was Given—Superiority of Peterborough's Claim Considered—Premier Whitney Speaks—Reply of Ministers—The Deputation is Much Encouraged.

Everything was normal except the size of the deputation—and that was abnormal—in numbers and in the importance of the several interests represented. The object was normal—that is, to procure the selection of Peterborough as a site of a proposed Provincial Normal School, and the answer of the Government to the request of the deputation was normal, in its guarded indefiniteness, though there were present a large element of encouragement, Dr. Ryan, Minister of Education, [illegible] ing that the arguments of Peterborough in favour of this city had impressed him more forcibly than those in connection with any of the many requests presented from other places.

Norwood's Claim To House Of Refuge

Gentleman From That Village Gives Reasons Why He Thinks It Should Be Erected There—Is Easily Accessible and Possesses Peculiar Advantages, According to Claim of Norwood People.

Mr. J. G. Keefer, editor and proprietor of the Norwood Register, was in the city yesterday, with the curiers from that town, and was spoken to by The Examiner in reference to the location of the proposed County House of Refuge. He is, of course, of the opinion, that Norwood has the best claim to the institution if suitable location is the consideration. He believes that as far as accessibility is concerned, Norwood possesses equal, if not superior advantages to Lakefield. The people of the north country state that Norwood is as easily reached as Lakefield. Then as far as a site is concerned, Mr. Keefer feels that Norwood has its rival village beaten again. There are a number of available farms of from 40 to 50 acres each, which are situated on the outskirts of the village and which can be purchased for reasonable amounts. Two of these farms, the Grover and the McNaughton properties, have water powers on them, which could be utilized for a waterworks system and for other purposes in connection with the House of Refuge.

Then again, the soil in the neighbourhood of Norwood, Mr. Keefer claims, is admirably adapted to the culture of small fruits and vegetables, which would be about the extent of the farming operations carried on by the inmates of the House of Refuge.

The Norwood people, taking everything into consideration, feel that their claim to the institution is a valid one, and they hope eventually to make the County Council see the matter in the same light.

Mrs. D. A. Fraser Was Honoured By Choir Members

Former Peterborough Lady Presented in Norwood With Silver Sugar Bowl by Members of Methodist Choir—Was Organist for Fifteen Years—A Pleasant Gathering on the Eve of Her Departure for Alberta —Other Norwood News.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MONTHLY MEETING

Special to The Examiner

Norwood, Feb 12th. — On Friday evening last an event occurred here which will be of special interest to Peterborough, in view of the fact that Mrs. D. A. Fraser, a former resident of Peterborough, where she has many relatives at present, was honoured by the members of the Methodist choir, of which she has been organist for the past fifteen years. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser entertained the members of the choir at their home, prior to their departure from the village, and before leaving Mrs. W. Fry read an address to Mrs. Fraser, while Miss Edna B. Waters presented her with a beautiful silver sugar bowl. The following is the address:

Dear Mrs. Fraser — For many years you have performed the very onerous duties pertaining to your position with credit to yourself and acceptance to the church.

We, personally, and as a choir, have received many kindnesses at your hands, and can not allow you to sever your connection with us without expressing our sincere appreciation of you, not only as organist and leader, but as a lady whom we have learned to esteem. The position which you have so long and so efficiently held is one beset with many difficulties, and one which requires much tact, judgment and discretion.

The fact that we have held so well together, and that our relations have been so cordial, speaks volumes for your administrative ability. We have not forgotten how often you have so generously entertained us at your home, and we would be ungrateful indeed were we to allow you to leave us without in some manner reciprocating the very great kindness you have so often shown us.

Our prayer is that you and your family may enjoy in your new home in the West, all the blessings a bountiful Father may be pleased to bestow, and what we lose in you as a leader and friend may be gained by those with whom you may mingle with there.

We ask you to accept this sugar bowl as a slight expression of our regard, and we trust that as often as you look upon it you may remember the many warm friends you have in Norwood Methodist choir.

Signed on behalf of the choir,
George Duffield,
R. H. Leighton,
Edna B. Waters,
Maud E. Fry.

Norwood's First Game in 2 Years

Defeated Havelock in Hockey Game by 8-6—Other News.

Special to The Examiner

Norwood, Feb. 14th.—The first hockey match that has been played here in a couple of years was seen on Monday evening at the open air rink, the opposing teams being Havelock and Norwood. The ice was in fair condition and the game was fast and interesting throughout. There was a very large crowd present which helped to cheer the home team onto a victory by a score of 8—6. Both teams were considerably strengthened since the game in Havelock and showed formidable line-ups, Norwood being reinforced by Kempt at centre and Havelock by two ex-Norwood players, Chas. Pearce and Jack Rathwell. Kempt and R. Pearce were out of their class and played rings around their opponents, the former being responsible for nearly all the scores. Doherty at left wing, played a cool game, his checking being perfect. Hyuck at right wing also put up a steady game. McCleary at cover, played well and generally got away with the puck. B. Huyck, at point stopped innumerable shots and proved great assistance to Power who showed himself to be a first-class goal keeper. For Havelock Neill and Chas. Pearce on the defence played strong hockey, the latter being always in the way. On the forward line Rathwell was the star. Norwood were without their star cover point, Hermie Nicol, but he will be found on the line-up in future games. Mr. Hector Reindeau refereed to the entire satisfaction of both teams. The line-up was as follows:

The Government Heard Request

train at 8.45 o'clock, which carried, besides, a contingent of citizens perhaps twice as strong, who went to Toronto to attend the Mendelssohn Choir concert.

The deputation, according to previous arrangement made by Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P. for West Peterborough, was granted an interview with the Government at 12 o'clock. Some time before that hour the Peterborough deputation assembled in the members' reception room in the western wing of the Parliament Buildings, where the interview had been slated to take place. Those present on the deputation were the following gentlemen, representing the several bodies designated: City Council—Messrs. H. Best, Mayor; Aldermen Mason, Adams, McWilliams, Johnston, Graham, Ball, Tovey, McIntyre and Dunlop; City Clerk Armstrong, and W. Blackwell, architect. Mr. W. H. Moore, as City Trust and Water Commissioner, may probably be included in the civic branch of the deputation.

Board of Education—Mr. W. G. Ferguson, chairman; Messrs. Pringle, Crane, Dumble, Fair, Hill, L. M. Hayes, Dr. Morrison, Messrs. Ackerman, Jas. Stevenson, ex-member; Mr. C. Fessenden, principal of the Collegiate Institute, and Mr. D. Walker, inspector of Public Schools.

Separate School Board—Rev. Dr. O'Brien, representing the City Superintendent, Rev. Father McColl; Messrs. J. Murty, chairman of Board; J. Primeau, J. T. Laffe, J. Gieselin, John Burns, M. L. Henry, Jas. Hourigan, Jas. Hickey, T. McGrath, R. Sheehy, John Corkery, secretary, and M. O'Brien, Provincial inspector of Separate Schools for Eastern Ontario, and Dr. Coughlin.

County Council—Messrs. Thos. J. Johnston, Warden; Mr. J. Coyle Brown, County Inspector of Schools; Board of Trade — Messrs. D. Hughes Charles, president; John Carnegie, W. H. Meldrum, G. M. Rogers, William Langford, H. Rush, Jas. Kendry, ex-M.P., H. LeBrun, Adam Hall, H. C. Wirch, R. A. Morrow and George W. Bennett.

Before the proceedings began other members of the Government came into the apartments — Hon. Dr. Reaume, Minister of Public Works, and Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, but took no part, except that of interested listeners. Later, however, Hon. Mr. Whitney also came in and was greeted on his entrance with very hearty applause. He found time to spend a few minutes with the deputation, retiring after a few remarks.

Opening the Ball

Promptly at twelve o'clock, Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, entered the room, and was greeted with applause.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, the representative of West Peterborough, briefly introduced the deputation en masse, and subsequently introduced the several speakers as arranged; and here it may not be amiss to mention the fact that all the speakers were very happy in their remarks, saying concisely and pointedly what they had to say, without circumlocution or prolixness.

Mr. Bradburn, in introducing the deputation, explained the several interests they represented, and the subject which they wished to urge upon the Minister and the Government. He first called upon Mr. W. H. Moore to read the memorial, which had been prepared for presentation, and to be left with the Government for reference. The memorial was printed in yesterday's issue, but since it is so comprehensive and so fully sets forth the case of Peterborough, in regard to its claims to be made the site of one proposed Normal Schools, its repetition is justified:

The Memorial.

The Honourable, the Minister of Education, Toronto, Ont.

Sir,—The undersigned are the Warden of the County of Peterborough, the Mayor of the City of Peterborough, Chairman of the Peterborough Board of Education, the Chairman of the Peterborough Separate School Board and the President of the Peterborough Board of Trade.

The following are advanced as reasons why a Normal School should be located in the City of Peterborough:

1. That part of the Province lying east of a line drawn from Parry Sound to Toronto, can be divided into two convenient Training School districts, by a line running from Pembroke to Kingston. Each of these districts will be approximately 150 miles in width and the centre of the one will be Ottawa and Peterborough of the other.

In the Peterborough district there are at present, within a radius of 75 miles measured in a direct line from the City of Peterborough, no less than eleven Model Schools, seven Collegiate Institutes and twenty High Schools, exclusive of four in the immediate neighbourhood of Toronto. That is, this district contains nearly one-fifth of all the teachers' training and preparatory schools of the Province.

2. The City is situated inland and from it lines of railway radiate in every direction. Strategically it is one of the most central points in the Province of Ontario.

3. The population of the city is 15,000 and it is steadily increasing; the City is progressive and healthy; it is well served by systems of waterworks, sewers and electric railways.

4. It is the See City of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Peterborough, and is therefore peculiarly suitable for a training centre for Separate School teachers.

5. The City contains four parks, one of which is known as Central Park, containing six acres of land, this park is available as a site for a Collegiate Institute, by reason of a special Act of the Legislature passed in the year 1905. The land is worth at least $60,000. The Dominion Government has taken two acres of it for the purpose of an Armoury, leaving two acres for a building site and two acres for a park in common to both.

6. It is suggested that a site for a Normal School can be procured on this property without expense to the Government.

7. The Peterborough Board of Education suggest that the Normal School be combined in one building with the Collegiate Institute. The rate payers of the City of Peterborough have recently voted $50,000 for the erection of a Collegiate Institute, and $40,000 of this money is now available for building purposes. It is suggested that the Normal School and the Collegiate Institute might be built under one roof to the advantage of both institutions, and at a considerable saving of expense.

8. The main items upon which expense would be saved by an amalgamation of the two buildings, are as follows:—

(1.) Site.
(2.) Gymnasium.
(3.) Assembly Hall.
(4.) Scientific Laboratories.
(5.) Drill Instruction.
(6.) Instruction in Music and Art.
(7.) Heating.
(8.) Plumbing.
(9.) Janitors.

9. There are in the City six Public and three Separate Schools providing fifty-four class-rooms available if required, for Normal School practice teaching.

10. If, however, the Government can not see its way to the proposal for a joint building to accommodate the Normal School and the Collegiate Institute on the said Park, the City can readily secure a central and desirable location for the school.

11. There is no institution controlled by either the Provincial Government of the Dominion Government, within the County of Peterborough, and it is felt by all classes of citizens that Peterborough is entitled to recognition in this respect.

Mayor Best was the first speaker in support of the memorial. He said he fully endorsed the facts as set forth. He wished to emphasize the fact of Peterborough's geographical superiority as a site, and its central position. Another reason not mentioned in the memorial, was the fact that Peterborough was a growing city — the best city between Toronto and Montreal; and it was surrounded by villages like Lindsay, Port Hope, (laughter from the deputation), Lakefield, etc., and we would be in a position to educate these places, (smiles.) As Peterborough was the best site in the province for a Normal School, the Mayor hinted that the city would be willing, he thought, to provide the best site in the city. (Hear, hear.)

Warden Johnston, on behalf of the County Council, heartily endorsed the representations of the memorial, and expressed the belief that Peterborough was an altogether admirable site for one of the proposed Normal Schools.

Mr. W. G. Ferguson also expressed his emphatic endorsation of the memorial, which, however, did not fully cover the situation, and he would ask Mr. Dennistoun on behalf of the Board, to emphasize the features of the memorial and strengthen it by some additional facts.

Mr Dennistoun submitted a few additional figures respecting training schools and pointed out upon a map of Ontario, the fact that Peterborough was the centre of a district of seventy-five miles on each side. Since this district on the east was served by Ottawa Normal School, Peterborough was geographically the best fitted for site of the proposed school. He amplified the figures mentioned in the memorial and showed that geographically tributary to Peterborough were one-fifth of the educational interests of the province. It was plain therefore that Peterborough was well situated as a centre for a Normal School. The city could offer excellent school facilities. We had six public schools, three Separate schools and 3,000 children, and fifty-four rooms in the public school and in connection with these the Board was willing to afford all possible facilities for serving Normal school purposes in connection with the schools. He referred to the suggestion that had been made to build the Normal School up connection with the new Collegiate Institute. A map of the town was submitted to the Minister, showing that there were six public schools in connection with the street railway, thus assuring easy communication.

Mr. C. Fessenden principal of the Collegiate Institute, referring to the suggestion of co-operation in building a Normal School and Collegiate Institute, said there was a site of four acres available. If the Government saw fit to have the two buildings thus united, it could be done to material advantage, there being no necessity to duplicate some of the rooms, such as the assembly hall, gymnasium, etc.,

Dr. Coughlin speaking for the Separate School Board, referred to the advantage of locating a Normal School on Peterborough, a growing city, a great industrial and commercial centre. The Public and Separate Schools and all classes in the city were united in the desire to secure the erection of the school in Peterborough. The Separate School had special reason for this desire; there were a large number of Catholic teachers in the Dioceses of Peterborough and Sault Ste. Marie, who were members of the Sisterhood of St. Joseph with the Mother House in Peterborough. In regard to the matter of securing permanency in the teaching profession it would be a great advantage to have in Peterborough, the See City of of the Diocese, and the home of the Mother House, a Normal School for the training of these teachers and as they were teachers for life, the presence of a Normal School would be of inestimable benefit to both Peterborough and these Dioceses, which together contained a population of 57,000.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien pointed out that not only was Peterborough central as to east and west, but to north and south. He had been authorized by the Rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, to say that if the Normal School were established in Peterborough the Sisters in training for teachers would make use of it. Peterborough was the place of the Mother House for the two Dioceses, where there were 5 teachers. The Bishop had given the assurance that teachers in training would attend the Normal School if built in Peterborough.

Mr. D. Hughes Charles, President of the Board of Trade, had little to add to the memorial and the preceding remarks. The big deputation and the large interests it represented, emphasized the claims of Peterborough. It was a business deputation and the Ontario Government with the deputation of being a business Government should how to plain business facts. Peterborough was the hub of the district, its railway facilities giving pupils easy access to the city, which is large enough to give the accommodation to students necessary to the success of the school. Besides the positive claims of Peterborough, Mr. Charles pointed out that the city had not one Government institution, either Dominion or Provincial. We were in the right way now in relation to our political attitude to the present Government, and had a right to expect something being done for us. The Government should lay to heart the spirit of the Scriptural injunction to "do good to all men," especially to the household of faith. (Laughter and applause.) He was satisfied that a business Government would fall in with the business proposition submitted by the deputation. We had had, heretofore, promises of taking things into "serious consideration," but he hoped the Government would do better than that.

Mr. Whitney, here interjecting a few remarks, supposed that Mr. Charles would be satisfied if the Normal School proposition were made the subject of "a little thought" by the Government. He was glad to meet the deputation, and the Minister of Education would be able to say more than he could do. He would say, however, that the Government would look with sympathetic eyes upon the proposition, in respect of which others might not have the same claim to consideration. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. D. W. Dumble said he had little to add to what had already been well said. Speaking of Peterborough, he informed the ministers that if they were travelling west or east, and were at a certain point awakened by a noise, that noise would be the hum of industry in Peterborough, which was a bustling city, and we thought the Government would do the right thing by it. We were a refined people and could boast six fine parks. We had good public and separate schools, and a good Collegiate Institute; we had a good policy of employing good teachers and paying them well. We had had built a fine new separate school building, and were going to build a new Collegiate Institute building, and in building new schools we shall keep in mind that they shall meet the wants of a normal school. As to the matter of sites, there were several splendid ones, and the city will not be niggardly in the matter of helping furnish a proper site. Peterborough, as had before been hinted, had endorsed the Government, and we wanted a monument in the form of a normal school to celebrate the event. (Laughter and applause.) He trusted the Government would deal favourably with the proposition, and they would find Peterborough ready to meet them half way.

Minister's Reply.

Hon. Mr. Pyne expressed his pleasure in receiving the deputation, which must realize the difficulties in dealing with the educational problem. He referred to the policy of the Government to the end of improving the efficiency of the public schools, which would involve increased cost, and the people might bear their share of it. The first session the Government had done more for higher education. Now the public schools demanded attention, and the Government wanted to do all it could. Teachers were an important feature of public schools, and there were good and bad model schools. Reference was made to the large number of normal schools in the United States, and the necessity of making teaching a permanent occupation indicated better training facilities. Regarding the question of locating a normal school in Peterborough, the policy of the Government was not at a stage when it could fix the number. The Government did not know to what number it would increase the normal schools. Regarding Peterborough's claims, the deputation had made a good case—better than many of the several claims that had been urged upon the Government. When the time for decision came the claims of Peterborough would be well considered by the Government.

The deputation then withdrew.

Two Games Of Hockey Played

Keene and Hastings Break Even on the Round.

Special to The Examiner.

Keene, Feb. 14.—Miss Wand, of Peterborough, is the guest of Miss Jennie Kimhirst.

Mrs. (Dr.) McWilliams is visiting her parents in Toronto.

Mrs. David Nelson moved last week from Lang into the house in Keene formerly occupied by the late Archibald Davidson.

Last Thursday the Keene hockey team journeyed to Hastings, to be beaten by a score of 8-4. Tuesday night, in the return match on Keene rink, they evened up the score by beating Hastings 7-3. The game was fast and interesting, although the result was never in doubt. Hastings scored the first goal, but didn't score again until the Keenes had run up four goals against them. Dr. McWilliams, who refereed the game, had his hands full, as the players were inclined to be rough, and quite a number of players were penalized. The half-time score was 3-1. There was a fair attendance. The ice, notwithstanding the soft weather, was in good condition. Owing to illness, Dickson, Keene's star point player, was unable to play.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:

Goal Umpires—Harry Burnham and J. Carey.

The Cheese Factory Recently Destroyed to be Replaced.

Tenders for the erection of a cheese factory in North Smith, to replace that destroyed by fire recently, are being asked for. The factory is to be completed by May 1st this year, in time for the season's business.

The English Church army recently took an old disused chapel in Regency street, London, for use as a labour relief depot. Investigation showed that the society, without being aware of it, has taken the very building in which the Rev. W. Carlile, head of the church army, began his life work more than 20 years ago.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy, in my opinion, that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup, absolutely, in one night. CANADA, THE MOTHERLAND AND THE UNITED STATES.

Ottawa Free Press.

A good deal of foolish talk has been indulged in in Great Britain as to Canada's attitude towards the Mother Country as an outcome of the general elections just concluded. One writer in "Public Opinion," for example, tells us that "Telegrams from Washington state that in view of the British election results, another effort will now be made by the American government to secure fresh concessions from Canada. Hitherto, Canada has been held back by the dope that a reciprocal tariff arrangement with the Mother Country would be possible. Now Washington thinks it sees an opening. Canadians feel strongly that Mr. Winston Churchill's appointment as Under-Secretary for the colonies was a particular slap at themselves. The United States will do all they can to win Canada away from her allegiance to the Mother Country, but it is to be hoped that the Canadians will have patience until the next general election takes place in Great Britain."

It is certainly news to Canadians that the United States is anxious to enter into negotiations with the government at Ottawa looking to improved trade relations. We can assure our contemporary that neither the Canadian Government nor the people of Canada have been lying awake listening for a cry from our neighbours to go over and help them. The Canadian Government years ago stood ready to consider the question of improving the trade relations of the two countries by reciprocal arrangements. The United States declined to talk business, except on the jug-handled principle, with the handle on their side. And the Canadian people then, as now, neither fretted nor fumed, but turned their endeavours more firmly towards the British market, and the preferential tariff for British products. We shall always be ready to hear what our neighbours have to say when they begin to talk business; but the day has gone by, if it ever was, when anyone in Canada believes that we cannot get along without the removal of the great tariff wall which the United States, big baby that the country shows itself to be, has erected at the border to keep its people from buying freely in the Canadian market when it is to their advantage so to do.

If the United States is desirous to do more business with us, there is one effective way in which it can succeed, and that is by the lowering of its tariff on Canadian products to match the very moderate tariff which Canada—in her own interest, of course—imposes on United States products sold to Canadians.

We do not require to be lectured on the virtue of patience with the emphatic decree of the British electors against the taxation of articles of food entering the British markets, whether from foreign countries or from Canada. Canadians recognize the perfect right of the British people to make their own choice. They certainly did not authorize Mr. Chamberlain to promise for them that in exchange for a small tax on wheat we would give the British the control of our manufactures.

Nor is it true that Canadians feel strongly that Winston Churchill's appointment is a "particular slap at them." Canadians are the most complacent and self-respecting of peoples. They will take care of their own interests, as they see fit, and they believe that Winston Churchill, hot-headed though he has sometimes been like his father before him, will respect our constitutional right, and give of his best energies to assist his chief in promoting the welfare of the auxiliary nations of the empire, of which Canada is not the least in importance. So long as the new Under-Secretary does this—and we have no reason for believing he will ever depart from the true path of colonial policy—Canadians will be satisfied. Voluntary co-operation for the common good of the empire we are likely to have, as well as a tax-free market to which to send our products. Is not that a great deal? Why talk of despair? The future to Canadians is bright as the noon-day sun of a February day.

FAILURES OF 1905.

In an interesting and instructive pamphlet, Bradstreet's discusses the causes of business failures in Canada, says the Toronto News.

Experience shows that of eleven specific reasons for non-success, eight are contributed by those failing, while the other three may be said to be beyond immediate control.

The first eight, or personal, causes are: 1, incompetence; 2, inexperience; 3, lack of capital; 4, unwise granting of credits; 5, speculation outside regular business; 6, neglect of business due to doubtful habits; 7, personal extravagance; 8, fraudulent disposition of property.

The causes not due to the faults of those failing are classified as: 1, specific conditions such as disaster; 2, failure of others; 3, special or undue competition.

Four-fifths of all failures are charged to those failing, and in only one-fifth of all cases are the causes beyond the control of the insolvents.

In other words, a man stands or falls pretty much according to his own ability or equipment.

Failures in commercial pursuits are as a rule of such a character that the men failing have only themselves to blame.

Of the 1430 failures occurring in Canada in 1905 no fewer than 790 are put down as due to lack of capital. This is a heavy proportion—about 55 per cent. of the whole. The next most serious factor was incompetence with 257 failures to its credit, while fraud accounted for 118, specific conditions for 104, neglect for 64, and inexperience for 50. The lesser factors, speculation, competition, extravagance and unwise credits were blamed for from 4 to 14 failures each during the whole year.

Bradstreet's sees no reason to conclude that business has been hurt by the increase of competition in business or the upspringing of great commercial combines. The continued prosperous times have been responsible for this, and the authority we are now quoting does not expect to witness the menacing spectre of trust competition against the small individual trader until such time as the current of general trade and industry sets towards depression.

MUNICIPAL EXTRAVAGANCE.

Hamilton Times.

The tendency of Ontario municipalities is to increase the burdens of debt and taxation. The showing is one that ought to make municipal officials cause, and lead people to enquire where it will end. The statistics show that the increase is very rapid. In 1900 the taxation imposed was $12,992,821, in 1904 it was $15,553,950.

The rate per head in 1900 was $6.45 in 1904 it was $7.49.

The average rate on the dollar in 1900 was 15.8, and in 1904 it was 17.2.

In 1900 the debenture debt of the municipalities was $57,172,802; in 1903 it had increased to $63,927,539.

In 1900 the floating debt was $7,768,033; in 1903 it was $8,526,493.

The population has increased from 2,013,860 in 1900 to 2,066,970 in 1904.

The population has increased a little over three per cent in four years; the debt has increased about eleven per cent. in three years.

The figures should be studied. There is a warning in them against extravagance. The municipal councils are, generally speaking, poor financiers. In spite of the good times they have been running into debt and piling up tax burdens. It is time they began to take in sail.

The above figures in themselves contain nothing to justify, except upon general grounds—the warning of the Times. The real point at issue is to discover whether the increased expenditure represents necessary improvements, and good value for the expenditure made; the resources of the several municipalities, and their ability to pay. The good times mentioned have stimulated development in every direction, and if we do not make needed improvements in periods of good times, there is a chance, if not certainty, of their not being made at all. While extravagance is not to be encouraged in either individuals or corporations money judiciously spent in needed municipal improvements cannot be called extravagance. If the present generation of municipal rulers have increased the expenditure mentioned in good faith, posterity will get the benefit, and posterity will have to pay the bill.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The system of electing aldermen by the general vote does not appear to have worked well in some cities. The St. John, N.B., Globe says the system has proved a failure. And in Guelph they say the same result is evident. They want to go back to the ward system. Perhaps the system is not so much to blame as the fact that the elections have to be fought every year. Some good men refuse to enter a turmoil which requires to be annually repeated.

If a fifteen dollar bounty is not enough to effect the destruction of the timber wolf in Ontario, the bonus should be increased, says the Toronto Globe. The wolves are the great destroyers of game and the deer are so well aware aware of the fact that their favourite haunts are near the settlements in the northern part of the province. They are more afraid of the wolves than of men who shoot each other by mistake.

There is a double change in the political complexion of Great Britain. The "Whigs" have replaced the "Tories," and there is also a change in principles. The "Tories" have become Radical, and clamour for change—want the good doctrine of free trade set aside, and a hybrid protectionism substituted. The changeful Whigs have become Conservative, and wish to retain the trade policy which has made Great Britain the richest and greatest commercial country in the world.

Perhaps one of the saddest sights in recent history is that of Hon. James Pliny Whitney weeping salt, salt tears over the perfidy of Hon. Geo. W. Ross in permitting Dr. Jas. Mills to quit the nice little job he had at the Ontario Agricultural College and to retire into an $8,000 railway commissionership, without voting him a handsome retiring gratuity. J. P.'s sympathy for the poor professor and his scarification of the stingy ex-premier mark him, says the Hamilton Times, as a man of heart and chin.

Snaps in Carpets, Linoleums, Oilcloths, Curtains, Iron Beds, Mattresses etc. will be found at the Turnbull Co's Great February Housefurnishing Sale, which begins Saturday, 17th.

S.S. Union Will Meet To-morrow

The usual weekly meeting of the primary and junior union of Sunday school teachers will be held on Friday night at 8 o'clock. The primary lesson will be taught by Miss K. Phillips, and the junior lesson by Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., of St. Luke's Sunday school.

Fingers Caught In a Wind Mill

A Painful Accident to South Ops Farmer.

A peculiar mishap occurred yesterday at Mr. Sam Parkin's farm, south of the town. Mr. Parkin's son went up to oil the windmill on the top of the barn while it was running, but not at a very fast rate of speed, and while doing so he got his fingers caught in the three-wheeled cog gearing and was unable to pull them out. They were stuck so tight that tthe windmill was stopped. He yelled for deliverance, and after a while succeeded in attracting the attention of the lady inmates of the house, but from the ground they could not hear what he was saying, so his sister climbed up to the aperture in the roof and the young fellow instructed her to cut the wire holding the lever. While she was hunting up an axe to cut the wire, the young fellow had presence of mind enough to help himself, and by turning a wheel with his foot he succeeded in forcing the cogs backward and liberating the hand, which remained numb from the feeling of pain for some time. The three first fingers were badly bruised and crushed.—Lindsay Post.

Trades and Labour Council Met

The Trades and Labour Council held a regular meeting last night. There was a fairly large attendance of members but no business was transacted. Several questions of importance were discussed, however, and it is expected that there will be developments at the next meeting.

Runaway Couple Were Located By Chief Bond

Port Hope Was the Place to Which Mrs. Townsend and Her Young Lover Went on Saturday—Some Further Information in Reference to Elopment Case—Port Hope's Chief of Police Took a Hand in the Reconciliation.

HUSBAND WALKED TO PORT HOPE

The Port Hope Guide furnishes some further information in reference to the elopement case which was reported in yesterday's Examiner: Chief Bond was called upon on Tuesday last to straighten out a tangle similar to the incident which Mrs. Davison, of Rosemount, figured so prominently in last fall. A young married woman from the village of Norwood fell in love with a young man there, and on Friday night silently stole away from her hubby and joined her new friend in Peterborough. On Saturday they came to town and took up their abode at a local boarding house, but it was not for long. The husband went to Peterborough on Saturday evening, and after numerous inquiries learned that the pair had purchased tickets for Port Hope. The last train had left for Port Hope, and the thoughts of not seeing his fair damsel until the following Monday made him grow weary. But he was not to be denied and at daybreak on Sunday morning he set out to walk to Port Hope. The walking was not the best by any means, but nevertheless he reached there that afternoon. He told his mournful story to Chief Bond, and it was not long before the boarding house was found and the lost treasure located. Cowley, the gent who accompanied the lady to town, was also at the boarding house, and when confronted by the husband, had to confess his guilt.

Chief Bond interviewed the lady, and she was much put out about her husband following her on this little tour. The following day the husband and wife, in company with Chief Bond, waited upon a solicitor to have matters straightened out. The lady pointed out very emphatically that her husband did not use her right, and amid heavy sobs made it plain that she would not live with him. The hubby used all kinds of pet names toward her and promised her everything if she would only return. After much persuasion the lady decided to go back as they returned to the boarding house—the husband much relieved. But they were not there long before the lady decided that she would like to live in Port Hope, and there was trouble for the husband again, and he was kept busy until she marched into the coach of the 4.30 train Monday afternoon. While the train was standing at the Midland platform the naughty wife was making goo-goo eyes at Cowley, but this unfortunate chap was without money, and so was obliged to stay in town.

The couple were about the streets during the day, and it was quite evident that matters were not running as smoothly as they might be.

Cold on the Lungs.

"We have seven children and I have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for every one of them, and with good results. We get four bottles at a time and we find it a good remedy to break up cold on the lungs." — Mrs. R. T. Turner, Broadview, N. W. T.

Quarterly Meeting Held Last Night

The Park Street Baptist Church Finances in Excellent Shape.

There was a large representation of the members of the Park street Baptist church, at the regular Quarterly Business Meeting last night.

Pastor Rev. A. H. Bruce called the the meeting to order at 8.30. Mr. Alex. Haddow, church clerk, read the statement for the quarter. The business was routine. Reports from the Sunday school, the B. Y. P. U., Dorcas Mission Circle and Mission Band, being read and adopted. All the reports showed a marked increase in numbers and finance, with a balance on hand.

The most important report, showing the healthy state of the church's finances, was that of the secretary of the Finance Committee. The report showed an average increase for each Sunday in the quarter of nearly $3, and a total balance of nearly $30, with all liabilities met. On the whole the outlook is most hopeful and the members are full of confidence and inspiration.

The Dorcas Society is to have a birthday social on the 27th inst., and it suggested that all consult their certificates of birth in order to avoid mistakes when the deposits are made on that particular night.

Special Train Service Good

Much Praise Was Given the C. P. R. Yesterday.

The service given by the special train which the C.P.R. ran yesterday to Toronto was entirely satisfactory. The train comprised three first-class coaches, and a quick run was made going up. Messrs. C. B. Foster, W. T. Dockerill and W. McIlroy were on the train and looked after the comfort of the passengers well.

The return trip was somewhat longer on account of a strong head wind which blew, but those who travelled in the line were well pleased.

Some Otonabee People Dance

At the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Last Night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Thompson, of Otonabee, entertained a number of their friends and neighbours last night to a very pleasant dance. About eighty guests were present among whom were a number of Peterborough people. Luncheon was partaken of at 12 o'clock in the dining hall which was very beautifully adorned with Chinese lanterns and evergreens.

Among the guests who were present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and Miss Robinson, of Regina, Sask., and Miss Clara Madill, of Hall's Glen. The musical portion of the evening's programme was rendered by Messrs. J. Thompson and W. Miller, violinists, accompanied by the Misses Doris and Miss M. Miller, of Otonabee. Messrs. Jas. Powers, R. Cleghorn and A. Thompson, acted as directors of ceremonies in a very efficient manner.

The company dispersed a few hours after midnight, everybody joining in voting it one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

Special Services Are Discontinued

Last Meeting of Series Held in Murray Street Baptist Church Last Night.

The special services recently in progress in the Murray street Baptist church, were discontinued last night. It was hoped to have the assistance of Rev. Mr. G. R. Welsh, Lindsay, but as he is not in a position to give it, and the pastor not desiring to conduct the services further unaided, the series of meetings were brought to a close with that of last night. This service was well attended and was a fitting conclusion of the series which has been attended with gratifying results, from the point of view of their object.

Popular Young Man Honoured Last Evening

Mr. Willis Garrow Banquetted on Eve of His Departure From the City—Went to Spokane, Wash., This Morning to Live —Was Presented Last Night by His Young Gentleman Friends With Travelling Companion.

JOVIAL GATHERING AT McCALLUM'S RESTAURANT

Last night a number of the friends of Mr. Willis Garrow, gathered at McCallum's restaurant to say good bye to one of the most popular young men of the city, who left this morning for Spokane, Wash., where he has accepted a good position. No more fitting tribute to his popularity could have been paid than that which was accorded him last night, when about twenty-five of his most intimate friends gathered to spend the last night with him, and the many eulogistic speeches which were made had the ring of sincerity.

After the hockey game the young men gathered at McCallum's, where a banquet was enjoyed, served in Mine Host McCallum's best style.

Those who participated in the event, besides the guest of the evening, were: Messrs. J. Connors, Reg. Turner, E. G. Poole, W. W. Armstrong, H. Dunsford, F. McFadden, Bruce Hutchinson, Alex. Gillespie, A. Lockington, Robt. Cotton, J. Gould, Bruce Gillespie, Melville Moore, Fred Whitcroft, C. G. Graham, D. Patterson, Dr. McKercher, Roy Sisson, J. Lewis, W. Breen, W. Metheral and R. M. Glover.

Mr. C. G. Graham acted as chairman, and after the supper announced a short toast list, the King being first honoured in the usual way.

Mr. W. Breen followed with a solo after which the chairman referred to the occasion of this gathering, that of bidding good bye to one of the best liked young men in the city —a man that all who had come into contact with had learned to respect, and whose departure from the city would be deeply regretted.

Mr. Alex. Lockington then presented Mr. Garrow with a handsome travelling companion, on behalf of his gentlemen friends.

Mr. Garrow acknowledged the gift in a short address in which he expressed his surprise and pleasure at the very handsome manner in which his friends had honoured him. He assured them that he would never forget them and would always cherish kindly memories of his association with the young men of Peterborough. "For he's a jolly good fellow," was very heartily sung.

Short speeches, in which regret at Mr. Garrow's departure, were expressed, were made by Messrs. Reg. Turner, R. M. Glover, Fred McFadden, Jas. Lewis and others. Mr. W. Brien contributed to the enjoyment of the evening by giving a recitation.

The ladies was the next toast proposed by Mr. Graham, and responded to by Mr. J. Connors and E. Gould.

A toast to St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild, of which Mr. Garrow was a member, was proposed by Mr. Reg. Turner and responded to by Mr. R. M. Glover.

During the evening many kindly references were made to Mr. Leslie Scott, who left the city some months ago for Spokane, and whom Mr. Garrow will join.

The gathering closed after singing Auld Lang Syne and after three cheers were given for Mr. Garrow.

Pleasant Evening At S.O.E. Hall

The regular White Rose meeting of the Sons of England was held last night in their hall, Hunter street. After the regular business of the evening was transacted, the company retired to the dining room where refreshments were partaken of and an impromtu programme was rendered.

Bro. Geoffrey Pratley gave some excellent selections on the phonograph which assisted greatly in making the evening an enjoyable one.

Bro. Rennet gave a number of patriotic recitations which formed fitting interludes between the instrumental selections.

In the future these meeting will be held on the first Friday of the month instead of the second Wednesday.

The Price Of a Leadership Is His Surrender

Balfour Sends a Satisfactory Valentine to Chamberlain.

HE IS NOW A WHOLE-HOGGER

"Balfour's Surrender" Is "Chamberlain's Victory"—Takes His Position Practically on Mr. Chamberlain's Tariff Reform Platform—Swearing-In the Members—Royal Commission Approves Speaker.

London, Feb. 15.—(C. A. P.)—"My opinions are well known; recent events have made no change." That, briefly, is the position taken by Mr. Balfour in his election address read at noon yesterday to a general meeting of the City of London Conservatives. He declared that he had no misgivings for the future. He believed the party still had in its keeping the highest hopes of the Empire. "Opposition is the pathway to power," he affirmed. "Our duty is to prepare the way for fiscal and social reforms, which, however deferred, will ultimately be required by the country at our hands." Upon this statement his candidature was endorsed without dissent, the speakers approving of his tariff attitude. Mr. Balfour then appealed for cheerful unanimity. "Don't ask," he said, "any man to give up his opinion; ask him to see that it is held in just perspective to great questions."

Balfour's Surrender.

Former Premier Balfour finally has crossed the bridge which Joseph Chamberlain held out for him and in correspondence published late last night, he takes his position practically on Mr. Chamberlain's tariff reform program. The fact is heralded in the Liberal newspapers this morning as "Balfour's surrender." "Chamberlain's Victory," etc., while The Daily Graphic, speaking on behalf of the Unionist free traders, deplores Mr. Balfour's "Journey to Canossa," as the price of the retention of the leadership of his party. The Unionist press is now satisfied.

The Liberal press calls it a great surrender of Balfour to Chamberlain, and adds that Balfour is at last a whole-hogger.

Campbell-Bannerman Speaks.

Explaining that the King's speech would tell all the public could possibly desire to know, Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman made no announcement of his policy last night at the complimentary banquet given in the National Liberal Club. "There will," he said, incidentally, "be no surprises in it for you, no mystery about our policy."

No Patronage Wanted.

The Irish Parliamentary party, at a meeting yesterday declared against the members of the party using their position to secure Government appointments for their constituents or others. Such use of their influence, says the resolutions adopted, would be both inconsistent and improper.

More Americans Coming.

Winnipeg, Feb. 15.—Theodor Schappen, secretary of the Western Canadian Immigration Association says that sixty thousand Americans will find their way into Western Canada this year, an increase of 30 per cent. over last year. Prejudices against immigration to a country under a monarchical form of government have almost disappeared. This is a result of the experiences of American settlers already here, who find that the Government rests absolutely with the people.

Mitchell's Denial.

Pittsburg, Feb. 15.—In a statement read yesterday at the miners' convention President Mitchell said, referring to President Dolan:

"His allegation that I said to him during the Pittsburg convention of the American Federation of Labor, that I would be well satisfied with a renewal of the present agreement, is a deliberate, malicious and premeditated falsehood."

G. T. P. Will Tender.

Ottawa, Feb. 15.—Among those tendering for the construction of the four hundred miles of the eastern division of the new transcontinental railway will probably be the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway itself. Several construction companies have been formed for the purpose of obtaining contracts.

A RIGHT WAY and A WRONG WAY

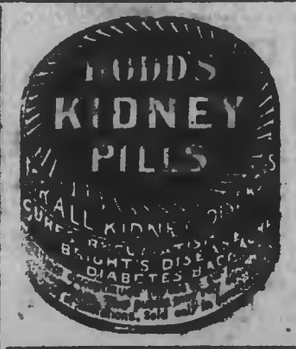
Many people have many ways to bring about the same result. Most of them are mistaken ways, but this is not known until the test of time points plainly to the error. Practically there are but two ways to accomplish anything; a right way and a wrong way. Take, for instance, a man with a bad back, there are lots of them, and of various kinds, some with stiches and twitches, others with cricks and twinges; then there's the dull, heavy continuous kind that lasts all day and doesn't sleep at night. They're all bad enough, they're all hard enough to get rid of. Some people rub the back with liniment, others cover it with plasters, either or both means often bring relief, but the pain comes back—it's the wrong way to cure the trouble.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

have a way to cure backache, a way that's all their own—the right way. They're made for the kidneys only. When the kidneys fail in their work of filtering the blood the backaches because they are situated in the small of the back; backache is the kidney's warning of trouble, and every day you let the warning go it brings you nearer to urinary disorders, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, etc.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney ills and that's why they bring such quick relief from backache. Mr. Fred Gray, Good Corner, N.K., writes: "I was greatly troubled with pain across my back. I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and received so much benefit from them that I consider them the best remedy for kidney trouble there is. I would not be without them in my house."

Price 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.



Ontario House Big Programme For The Session

Work Outlined For the Legislature By the Ministry.

HEAVY PROGRAM FOR SESSION

Finances of the University—Taxation of Railways—To Amend the Mining Law — Consolidation of Railway Act—An Education Measure—Liquor License Act—Report of Hydro-Power Commission.

Toronto, Feb. 15.—The opening of the Legislature this afternoon by his Honor the Lieutenant-Governor promises to be a well-attended ceremony. In addition to the military display usual to such occasions, and the speech from the throne, which, it is expected, will outline a heavy program of legislation, there will be the introduction of Hon. Mr. Cochrane, the Minister of Lands and Mines, and Mr. E. J. B. Pense of Kingston, who have been elected in bye-elections since the last session, the former by acclamation.

Among the measures which it may be expected will be foreshadowed in the speech from the throne are the new county councils act, which was introduced last session in order that its terms might become familiar to the province, and held over until this session.

A measure relative to the management, and other questions of importance, including finances, no doubt, of the University of Toronto. This will be largely based, it may be taken for granted, on the report of the University Commission, now in process of completion.

A bill respecting the taxation of railways, which the Premier told the recent Dominion Grange deputation was contemplated.

Respecting the changes in the Department of Lands and Mines, which have been recently forecasted.

Amending the mining law and the volunteer land grants act, in regard to both of which difficult and vexing problems have of late arisen.

The revision and consolidation of the railway act, the street railway act, and the electric railway act. The one measure which will take the place of the three named has received careful consideration of the Cabinet. It is expected it will be found to be sufficiently comprehensive to meet the cases of all kinds of railways, and render unnecessary the passing, except under extraordinary circumstances, of acts giving special powers and privileges not contained in the act.

There is sure to be an education measure along the lines particularly of improving the public schools. In this connection there will no doubt be legislation for the appointment of the proposed Superintendent of Education and for other matters relative to the Department of Education.

Amendments to the agriculture and arts act, especially in respect to the improvement of fairs and exhibitions, and the consolidation and amendment of the several acts relating to companies are predicted. The latter, it is said, will be in part along the line of a stricter supervision of loan companies and of the standing of projected industrial concerns applying for incorporation under Ontario laws.

The liquor license act is also slated for amendment and consolidation. The changes are not expected to be radical, but it is confidently asserted that they will be acceptable to those who deplore the evils of the drink traffic.

The forthcoming report of the Hydro-power Commission, which will, it is thought, be laid on the table before the session closes, will undoubtedly be mentioned in the speech.

The recent intimations that the revenues of the province for the past year were considerably in excess of the estimates and more than sufficient to meet the expenditures, and that the public accounts and the estimates will be laid on the table early will almost certainly find mention in the speech.

Other matters which may be expected to receive notice in the speech are the success of the first section of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway and the progress of the extension from New Liskeard northward, the understanding with the Federal Government for the negotiation of a treaty with the Indians in non-treaty sections of the province, the increased immigration to Ontario, the splendid harvest of the past year, the prosperity of the farming community and the continued success of the Ontario Agricultural College. It is said a vote will be asked for still further strengthening the excellent teaching staff of this institution. There will also, no doubt, be a eulogistic reference to His Excellency and to Countess Grey.

War Costs Paid in 1930.

Tokio, Feb. 15.—According to the Japanese war program the war debts, which will aggregate $911,000,000 in 1907, will be completely paid off in 1930, during which interval there will be six operations of conversion. The program shows that the domestic debts, now amounting to $287,500,000, will be entirely discharged in 1942.

Judgment For Plaintiff.

Hamilton, Feb. 15.—Judge Snider has given judgment against the Bank of Hamilton and T. Hillhouse Brown, in favor of W. J. Thompson, in a suit over three horses belonging to Mr. Brown. The judgment against Brown is for $222 and against the bank for $91.

THE FISHERIES INQUIRY

Charges and Counter-Charges Investigated by Commissioner Judd—Personal Nature of the Conflict Shown by Webster's Evidence—Counsel Begin Their Addresses — May Be a Little More Evidence.

Toronto, Feb. 15.—Some of the personal encounters which resulted from friction in the Fishery Branch of the Public Works Department at the Parliament Buildings were made public property at yesterday's session of the investigation before Mayor J. C. Judd, of London, of the charges and counter-charges laid by J. S. Webster, chief clerk of the office and S. T. Bastedo, the deputy commissioner, who was in charge of it. After a number of letters asked for by Mr. Webster's counsel, J. E. Jones, were produced, the latter announced that he had one incident in connection with the election in West Huron in 1898, which he wished investigated. In this contest he said Mr. Bastedo was said to have taken part.

Shook Fist In His Face.

Mr. Hellmuth who represents Mr. Bastedo, then commenced the examination of Mr. Webster with regard to charges made against him by the Deputy Commissioner. Several instances in which he was said to have acted contrary to the orders of his superior were remembered by Mr. Webster. He had refused to visit the north shore of Lake Superior when instructed, because, he said, he was acting under orders from the Minister.

The personal nature of the conflict was shown when Mr. Webster admitted that he might have made uncomplimentary references to his chief. He also acknowledged that he had shaken his fist in Mr. Bastedo's face on one occasion. His reason for doing so, he said, was that the latter gentleman had come into his office for the purpose of insulting him.

Counsel Begin Addresses.

Mr. DuVernet dwelt at length on the conference between members and defeated candidates, which seemed to be a feature of the conduct of the fisheries department for political purposes, the predominating thought being as to how best to carry on the department for political interests of the party in power. He also criticized the department having supplied services to Cabinet Ministers and others to help their campaign.

He read one letter written by Mr. Bastedo which said in part: "I do not propose to be entrapped if I can help it." That, he maintained, was the key to Mr. Bastedo's whole correspondence and course of conduct. It was not likely that the late Government had had a more faithful servant looking after their interests politically. The public recognized it. It had been done openly and brazenly. Mr. Bastedo was accused of having written falsehoods to Mr. Hanna, whom he was keeping waiting for replies while he was consulting Mr. Pardee about it and this when Mr. Hanna was the sitting member.

He condemned the system of applying to local members for approval of applicants for licenses. He submitted that charges made had been amply proven. There was no question about Mr. Bastedo's participation in political matter and of his working the department in the interests of the party to which he belongs.

A Self-Confessed Spy.

Mr. Hellmuth opened his argument with a denunciation of Mr. Webster—a self-confessed spy, lacking courage and manhood, and he went so far as to say a dishonest spy, as proven by the evidence which had been taken on this enquiry. Every bit of available evidence had been brought to light and there was nothing in Mr. Webster's letters that would not have been written by an honest official. This investigation, which had been going on for a couple of weeks and had been published broadcast throughout the province, had not had the effect of bringing along one Conservative (excepting Mansfield) to testify or even complain that he had been unfairly dealt with in the matter of the granting of fishery licenses.

The tenor of Mr. Hellmuth's remarks was that Mr. Bastedo had been under the instruction of Hon. Mr. Latchford as regards patronage. He agreed that patronage was not perhaps the highest form of morality, but it was nevertheless pretty generally in existence. He put the issuing of fishery licenses in the same basis as making appointments.

The argument will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning.

O. A. C.'S PROGRESS.

Report Shows That Attendance at Agricultural School is Growing.

Toronto, Feb. 15.—The past year was for the Ontario Agricultural College a period of expansion, according to the evidence supplied in the thirty-first report of its progress, which has just been presented to the Government by President Creelman.

The attendance during 1905 totalled 1,000 students, compared with 833 in 1904.

The financial statement shows that the total expenditure of the institution was $114,942. From the college and the Macdonald Institute the revenues were, respectively, $21,189 and $15,925.

Unemployed Pillage Farms.

Madrid, Feb. 15.—The famine in the Meridional Provinces again is grave. The intense cold of recent days has killed the sugar crop in the provinces of Seville, Cadiz, Malaga and Granada. Numerous bands of men, unable to obtain work, are scouring the country pillaging farms, bakeries and provision stores, and threaten to attack the land owners.

Government Engineer to Report.

Ottawa, Feb. 15.—The engineer of the Railway Commission will report upon the proposed subway to be built by the Canada Southern Railway under the Detroit River at Windsor. The railway asks for permission to divert streets and expropriate property for new terminals. Four to five million dollars will be spent.

SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY.

Legislative Enquiry into Kaien Island Transfer to G. T. P. for Terminus on the Pacific Coast.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 15.—E. V. Bodwell, K.C., who represented both the G.T.P. and the American millionaire speculator, P. Larsen, in the deal by which kaien island was obtained from the Government of British Columbia as a site for the Pacific terminus of the new railway, contributed some new and interesting information as to this transaction upon voluntarily returning to the stand before the legislative inquiry committee yesterday.

He deposed that James A. Anderson visited Montreal for the purpose of extracting compensation from President Hays for his alleged efforts in promoting the deal, and while he got nothing out of Hays, Larsen subsequently settled with him in full.

The cross-examination of Leads Minister R. F. Green by J. A. MacDonald, the Liberal leader, was of the tropical order, Macdonald's first question being whether the Minister did not consider Mrs. "Jimmie" Anderson a remarkably good business woman. Hon. Mr. Green objected to the question as impertinent and irrelevant, but MacDonald pressed it, adding:

He Told.

"Did you discuss public business with Mrs. Anderson at any time," the reference being to the Government's plans as to the G.T.P. terminus deal.

After much quibbling and hesitation, the Minister replied affirmatively. The conversations took place, he said, either on the street or at Mrs. Anderson's home.

To the further interrogation: "Is it not the fact that Mrs. Anderson took a far more active part in this affair than did her husband." The Minister answered: "Not to my knowledge."

The cross-examination brought the admission from the Lands' Minister that while the developing plans of the Government for a grant for G.T.P. terminal purposes were kept secret from the Legislature and the public, they were disclosed to one Matthews, Larsen, Bodwell and Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, who thereby were enabled to take up adjacent tracts with promise of immense profits.

CLOSE 52 JARVIS STREET.

Wills Did Not Suicide, and the Jury Hint at Murder.

Toronto, Feb. 15.—"That Andrew Wills came to his death at 52 Jarvis street, on Feb. 29. The death was due directly to gas asphyxiation, the same not being suicidal. Whether accidental or due to interference on the part of some person with murderous intent with the object of robbing the deceased, the evidence does now show.

"We recommend the premises 52 Jarvis street be closed forthwith by the authorities on sanitary and moral grounds."

Foregoing is the finding of the jury at the inquiry held by Coroner Young last night. It only took the jury five minutes to arrive at a verdict.

MRS. JOHN WILSON KILLED.

Woman Is Struck by the G. T. R. Express at Stratford.

Stratford, Feb. 15.—G. T. R. express No. 1, due to leave here for London at 10.05 a. m. yesterday, struck and killed Mrs. John Wilson at the Nelson street crossing. So far as known there were no eye-witnesses of the accident, and Mrs. Wilson's body was found in the ditch about fifty feet from the crossing by a passer-by some time after the unfortunate occurrence. It is understood that the train crew had no knowledge of the accident. Mrs. Wilson was about 55 years of age and the mother of a large family. Her husband is a G. T. R. employe. An inquest will be held.

THE PHYSIC HABIT

THE RESULT OF USING SALTS, CASTOR OIL, ETC., INSTEAD OF THOROUGHLY CURING CONSTIPATION BY

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

"Oh, a dose of salts will fix me up all right," you say, when the bowels become constipated and the liver and kidney sluggish and congested.

And the temporary relief you obtain in this way deceives you for a time, but you are soon in distress again, and must increase the dose and resort more frequently to the use of this weakening and debilitating treatment.

Constipation and intestinal indigestion cannot possibly be cured until the liver is made active in its work of filtering bile from the blood and pouring it into the intestines, where it acts as a natural cathartic, hastening the process of digestion, and the removal of waste matter from the body.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have a direct and specific action on the liver. They not only afford prompt relief, but positively strengthen and invigorate the kidneys, liver and bowels. Instead of encouraging the physic habit, they thoroughly cure constipation, liver complaint, biliousness and kidney disease.

If you would like to regain your old-time vigour, and feel strong and well again, use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The backaches and body pains will disappear, your appetite and digestion will be good, you will escape sickness and disease because the filtering and excretory organs will keep the body cleansed from poisonous waste matter.

Mrs. Thomas Covent, Highland Grove, Peterborough Co., Ont., writes: "I was a sufferer for years with stomach trouble and terrible headaches and spent a good many dollars in medicine without receiving any benefit. Hearing of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills highly recommended I determined to give them a trial and did so with satisfactory results, as I was very greatly benefitted and do not hesitate to recommend this treatment as the best obtainable for such ailments."

Brockville Overwhelmed
IN ONE-SIDED GAME BY A Vastly Superior Team

The Score at Full Time Was 16-4, and at the End of the First Half 5-4—Game Was Free From Roughness—The Local Seven Was so Vastly Superior That the Match Was Lacking in Spectacular Features.

In the loosest exhibition of hockey seen here for some time the locals defeated the Invincibles of Brockville by the one sided score of 16-4. At half-time it was 5-4 in favour of the home seven and the easterners had it 3-2 and 4-3 in their favour in the initial period. It was not owing to the fact that they were at all dangerous that this was due, but simply because the wearers of the blue and white didn't feel inclined to exert themselves. When they did let themselves out it was very easy money. Brockville didn't have a look in in the second half and the locals potted up twelve goals with great ease. At times Brockville showed up fairly well, but were never dangerous in the least. They displayed considerable speed and fair combination, but were too light and inexperienced to cope successfully with the strong home septette but they should not be discouraged at all with the result of the game. They are still young and with more experience should prove a hard proposition for the fastest of them. For the locals every man played around his check although Whiteroft was easily the most conspicuous. He dashed away on several occasions with a speed that made anyone of the opposing seven who thought it worth while to pursue him look like a toy terrier chasing a bird. Wasson was not called upon to do much except in the first half when he handled some hot ones. In the second half he only had two shots to look after. Glover at point played a good steady game. Moore made a good impression at cover although in most cases he was too slow in getting after the opposing forward who had the puck. Cavanah played a horse of a game in the second half, although he made a rather poor showing in the first. His cannon-ball shooting was a feature of the game. Graham played well on his wing and Morgan at centre displayed fine form. He was speedy all through. Although individually the homesters played well their combination work was poor and they did not hold their positions very well. It was not because they were unable to do so, however, but simply because the opposing team was so weak that they could afford to play the game in pretty nearly any way that suited themselves. Burns, the Island City goalkeeper covered himself with glory and stopped shot after shot. His work marked him as being a man of first-class calibre and considering the way the Peterborough forwards bored in he did remarkably well. Symons the visitors cover point, and Higgins on the right wing also showed up to good advantage.

Referee Burke, of Belleville, gave general satisfaction. The game was not rough although considerable unnecessary club swinging was indulged in by the locals, presumably to scare rather than hurt the Brockville puck chasers.

The result of the game last night gives Peterborough the round by the big score of 30-8, a margin of 24 goals and the championship of districts 1 and 2. This round was probably won by a larger number of goals than any in which the locals were competitors. The crowd was not very large, owing no doubt to the fact that after the Brockville team had been such easy victims on their own ice the majority of hockey enthusiasts foresaw a walk-over for the home men. The two met here. Brockville was represented by the same line-up as in their last game with the exception of Higgins, who played on the wing line in place of Muldoon, the latter being unable to accompany the team.

THE GAME.

Morgan rushed but Murray got the puck. After considerable play during which neither side seemed to have a marked advantage, Cavanah raked the rubber from behind the Brockville goal in a mixup and poked through the first one for Peterborough. Peterborough 1, Brockville 0. Time 5 minutes.

Higgins carried the puck down the ice on a pretty rush shot and netted the first for the visitors. Peterborough 1, Brockville 1. Time, 3 minutes.

Whitcroft obtained the next for Peterborough in one-half a minute. Peterborough 2, Brockville 1.

The locals got a good three-man combination going and Morgan shot but Burns stopped cleverly. Kerr scored the next for Brockville in nine minutes. Peterborough 2, Brockville 2.

Frego sent the easterners stock up another point 5 minutes later. Peterborough 2, Brockville 3.

Some of the spectators began to feel a little nervous and thought that it was perhaps, another Port Hope touch and some even appeared to think the visitors would win. But both had another think coming as the final score showed. Moore shot and missed. Graham whizzed one through in 2 minutes. Score 3 all.

Wasson was forced to exert himself and stopped a corker with "sure thing" written all over it. Frego shot and the puck struck Glover and carried in. Time, 1 minute. Peterborough 3, Rockville 4. This last goal saw Brockville's finish for the rest of the night. They were practically out of the game, but they pluckily stayed with the pace till the last. Whitcroft was the first man to be timbered. He was given two minutes for slashing. When he came on the ice he broke away for a fine dash and shot, but Burns was again there. Morgan turned the trick in five minutes. 4-4. Whitcroft was again boarded for slashing, this time for one minute. Shortly after he came on he secured the last goal in the first half and the one that broke the tie. Half time score 5-4.

Second and Better Half.

Graham scored the first one for the locals when play was resumed in this half on a pass from Cavanah, 6-4. Whitcroft shot on goal but the goalkeeper stopped it. Cavanah got the puck on the rebound and notched another in 2 minutes. 7-4. He scored again a minute later. 8-4. Morgan brought the puck from behind the goal and in it went. 9-4. Time, 4 minutes. Cavanah rushed and shot from the centre of the ice, about 40 feet from the visitors' goal. It passed the point and goal tender and nobody knew where it was till the goal umpire held up his hand. It was one of the kind that brought back remembrances of the junior championship team when Cavanah played point and wrested the rubber with bullet-like velocity from one end of the rink to the other. Time, two minutes. 10-4.

Whitcroft rushed and passed to Morgan who scored in one-half minute. 11-4.

Cavanah got the next in three minutes from a pretty side shot. 12-4.

Whitcroft snaked down the ice for the next one all by his lonesome. Time one minute. 13-4.

By this time the railbirds were beginning to shout 1-2-3-4, etc. He secured the next in three minutes on an individual run. 14-4.

Morgan was penalized two minutes for slashing Symons. Cavanah loafed for a minute among the spectators for loafing off side. Whitcroft scored again on a rush in 8 minutes. 15-4.

Morgan got the last one in three minutes. 16-4.

Nationals Add Another Win

Defeated T. C. S. at Port Hope Yesterday by 5-4.

Yesterday the undefeated Nationals added another victory to their string by defeating T. C. S. boys at Port Hope by the score of 5-4. It was the best game the Nationals have had this season. It was witnessed by a large crowd, among which were nearly all the students from the college, to cheer their team. At half time the score stood one all, and at full time the score was 5-4 in the Nationals' favour. The game was clean, and one of the best exhibitions of hockey ever seen on the Port Hope rink. Five minutes before time was up the College boys were leading—4-2, and it looked as if they were going to win, but the Nationals braced up and Pentland, their star, made some brilliant rushes, scoring two more for this team, making it a tie—4 all. Laplante scored another off as pretty combination just before time was up. For the winners Pentland was the star, while for the losers "Pete" Campbell son of Mr. Peter Campbell, Manager of Bank of Toronto, here, was the pick. The T. C. S. have a strong team and though beaten they were not disgraced. The teams played six men aside. The line-up for the Nationals was:—

Goal, Giroux; point, C. Conroy; cover, K. Pentland; rover, J. Gorman, right wing, J. Gorman; left wing, F. Laplante.

The Grocery Drivers Won

The Express Drivers and the Grocery Drivers clashed last night in battle royal in what was one of the most scientific games of the season, between 10 and 11. The grocery drivers were successful in trimming their opponents by a score of 7-3 at half time each team having scored a goal. Shot after shot was deluged in on Polsom, but he had his "blinkers" on them all and handled them to perfection. Isaac Watson, the press agent, and hustling centre was also a star. He had the game in "hand" all the time and played "rings" around his "check". He was forced to retire to the goal in the first half, his "skate" becoming loose. Near the conclusion of time when the expressmen saw the score being piled up, they got "balky" and showed an inclination to discontinue the game. The grocers certainly "delivered the goods" and had the "whip" hand all through. The winners line-up was:—

Goal—"Stonwall" Poulsom.
Point—"Eagle Eye" Hagerman.
Cover—"Absolom" Harrison.
Rover—"Jiddy" Buller.
Centre—"Ike" Watson.
Left wing—"Bert" Lefave.
Right wing.—"Tommy" Tucker.
Referee—Jack Seymour.

The Grocery Drivers are now thinking of arranging a game with the Invincibles" of Brockville.

HOCKEY

The Toronto Star's sizing up of the Intermediate O. H. A. situation is as follows:—

The Intermediate O. H. A. series is pretty well narrowed down. Peterborough, Milton, Berlin II., Goderich, Brockville, Stratford, Parry Sound, Sturgeon Falls, and the winner of the Collingwood district are the teams left, but Stratford and Brockville will be put out to-night in all probability. Goderich will play the winner of the Berlin II.-Milton series, and Peterborough will go up against the champions of the north. The winners will meet in the finals for the championship.

The dope-mixer on the Review devotes considerable space in last night's issue in abusing the members of the Examiner team. Nothing different could be expected. All great men have to endure calumny from their inferiors and so it is with the seven that represent this journal. While not desiring to be thought boastful the Examiner team feels confident of being able to tie about seventeen varieties of knots in the Review aggregation. If you don't believe us ask the Fays. "Uncle Pike", McCrae, the man from Glengarry has been induced to turn out with the Review seven and what he doesn't know about hockey would fill a Carnegie library. He will fill the chief comedy role in the production.

The Lindsay Wanderers, of the Town League, defeated the Charlotte Street Methodist team of the Peterborough City League last night by a score of 3 to 2, so that now it has been demonstrated that Lindsay's hockey league, as well as Lindsay's baseball league, are superior to those in the Porridge town. Interest in the contest was lacking, and only a small crowd turned out to see the match. The game was rough and full of slashing and tripping, and Referee Stoddart's good nature over-ruled duty in several cases, as there were times when players should have been penalized but were allowed to go unpunished. If a player lost the puck he would reach back for it and hammer his opponent over the toes. Both teams played slow in the first half, but in the second period, especially in the last fifteen minutes, play waxed fast and furious and the players worked to win. The soft ice helped the Lindsay boys out a wee bit, as they had lots of weight, but in this regard both teams were pretty well balanced. It was a juicy game. The wings played a vigorous game, and used the body to advantage. Touchburn at cover proved a source of trouble to the visitors. Newton, in goal, played his usual effective game, stopping some hot ones.

For Peterborough, Nicholas and Grose were shiners, displaying great ability, with an inclination in the "com" line. They made a good pair, and were helped out by Dusty and Miller. On the defence weight blocked Lindsay's road and Moore and Roddy stopped many a well-intended rush. Lang in goal, did good work, and saved the score from going up.

The result of the game gives Peterborough the championship of districts 1, 2, and 3.

Brockville lost but are not at all sore. No Federal Leaguers played after all. The crowd yelled lustily when Brockville rang the bell for their first score. Burke refereed the game pretty well, but was a little loose on off sides. Taking him all through he did particularly well. It's the hardest thing in the world for the man with the bell to handle a game like the one last night.

There will probably be a larger crowd at to-night's games than there was present last night, and they deserve it, too, the first game anyway will be more intersting anyway than last night's match.

The Invincibles should be called the Convincibles because they are now convinced that they are no longer invincible. It's a pretty flat joke, but there's been worse sprung at comic operas so that lets out the writer.

Brockville's sports are plucky, if not lucky. They play the game to a finish whether it is football or hockey. With a score of 12 against them, as in the Brockville hockey game, many other clubs would have defaulted, instead of coming 200 miles to Peterborough to get a similar dose. The Brockville hockeyists are petite but plucky. If their skill and strength were equal to their hearts, they would make good in scoring as thoroughly as they make good in being true sports.

Picks Peterboro' For The Finals

Toronto News Thinks it Will be Peterboro' and Goderich.

The Toronto News' sporting writer is making predictions. He says:—

In the intermediate series, Peterborough won from Port Hope and Cobourg, and played off with the Lovincibles of Brockville, beating them out badly. In No. 3 District, Uxbridge was the winner, and, in No. 4, Milton. The latter play off with Welland, the winners in No. 5, some time this week. Last evening Berlin made good its claim to No. 8 District by defeating Orangeville decisively in the second of home and home games. Stratford, the winner of No. 7, played off the first of home and home games with Goderich, winners of No. 8, and were defeated by 8 to 0. Collingwood, Newmarket and Barrrie have not yet settled their series in No. 9 District, while in No 10 Parry Sound won the round from Bracebridge. Sturgeon Falls were winners in No. 11, Gore Bay in No. 12, and Orangeville in No. 13. On the whole, Peterborough and Goderich appear to be the strongest teams in the intermediate series, and are likely to be pitted against each other in the finals.

The Express Drivers claim that Polsom who played goal for the grocery drivers in their game with the former last night, had a horseshoe around his neck.

A Natural Laxative

Inward cleansing is as necessary as outward bathing. To keep the bowels free and regular is of even greater importance than to keep the skin-pores from becoming clogged. The neglect of either invites disease. Everyone needs a natural laxative occasionally, to free the bowels of accumulated impurities For this purpose take the greatest boon ever offered to those who suffer from the ills that follow constipation. For over fifty years Beecham's Pills have been famous as a Stomach corrective, a Liver regulator and Bowel laxative. They never gripe nor cause pain. Powerful purgatives are dangerous. Avoid them. Use Beecham's Pills. They give relief without doing violence to any organ. Their action is in harmony with physical laws. Take them regularly and the necessity for their use becomes less frequent. VARICOCELE NERVOUS DEBILITY CURED.

If you have transgressed against the laws of nature, you must suffer. Self abuse, later excesses and private diseases have wrecked thousands of promising lives. Treat with scientific physicians and be cured. Avoid quacks. E. A. Sidney, of Toledo, says: "At the age of 14, I learned a bad habit and at 19 contracted a serious disease. I treated with a dozen doctors, who all promised to cure me. They got my money and I still had the disease. I had given up hope when a friend advised me to consult Drs. K. & K., who had cured him. Without any confidence I called on them, and Dr. Kennedy agreed to cure me or no pay. After taking the New Method Treatment for six weeks I felt like a new man. The drains ceased, wormy veins disappeared, nerves grew stronger, hair stopped falling out, urine became clear and my sexual organs vitalized. I was entirely cured by Dr. Kennedy and recommend him from the bottom of my heart."

The Valentine Social Was A Great Success

Fine Programme Was Rendered at the Entertainment Under the Auspices of All Saint's Girls' Guild—The Scheme of Matching Valentines Added Much to Sociability of the Occasion.

THE AUDIENCE WAS LARGE ONE

The Senior Girls' Guild of All Saints, held an unique entertainment last night in the basement of the church. The affair took the form of a valentine social, and the evening was in every way a most pleasant one. The young ladies of the church are noted for their socials, and that of last evening was in no way inferior to its many successful predecessors. Despite counter-attractions, and the inclement weather, the attendance was large, a fact which indicates the reputation gained by the Guild along these lines.

A feature which added considerably to the sociability of the evening, was the plan of matching valentines. A gentleman was given one section of a valentine, and a lady the other, the object being to match them. This scheme was the means of making the event much more enjoyable. The valentine day effect was brought out in the decorations, the walls of the room being adorned with hearts.

Rev. Mr. Major made a most capable chairman. In his opening remarks he referred in eulogistic terms to the work of the Guild which, he said, was proving of great assistance to him.

The programme opened with a well rendered piano solo by Miss Ida Mulholland, who had to respond to an enthusiastic encore. Miss Bertha Parnell favoured the audience with a vocal solo, in fine voice and expression. She, too, was forced to respond to an encore. Master Herb Mowat, whose singing is always popular, made a most favourable impression in his song "Hearts Win." As a recall number he sang "A Little Boy Called Tup." Miss Mabel Rickey delighted the audience with the solo, "Just Plain Folks." Her encore number was "By Killarney's Lakes and Fells." Mr. Thomas Dawson rendered a solo in which his fine voice was displayed to great advantage. The approval of his hearers was made manifest in the hearty applause with which the number was greeted. Master Fred Hooper added variety to the programme with a cleverly rendered recitation. A solo by Miss Marion Elliott, entitled "Sweet Killarney," was a much appreciated feature. Her encore number was "Good Night, but not Good-bye."

The programme closed with a solo by Mr. George Allen, his selection being one of the most enjoyable of the evening.

At the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served by the ladies.

The officers of the Guild and Miss Mabel Rickey, convenor of the Programme Committee, are to be congratulated upon the great success of the evening.

Jackson Park Always Popular

—The cold weather and the counter attractions did not seem to have any effect on the attendance at Jackson Park last night as both the rink and slide were well patronized. Both were in good shape, and the crowd seemed to be having as much fun as a valentine party.

Kingston Post-Election Roorback Is Exposed

Premier Whitney Contradicts McIntyre's Normal School Ghost Story—Kingston Not Yet Decided on as Location for Normal School—Mr. Whitney Says Policy Must First be Adopted—Then Question of Location Will be Considered.

Last night's Toronto Star contained the following despatch:—

"Kingston, Ont., Feb. 14th. — D. M. McIntyre, the defeated Conservative candidate for the Ontario Legislature, at a public meeting last night said that he had learned the mind of the Government on the subject of a Normal School for Kingston. He was authorized to give the information to the electors, that one would be located in Kingston. He did not so declare the Government's intention while the election was on, as it would have looked too much like a bribe. It might have been well for him if he had done so.

"The meeting named a strong deputation to urge the Government to carry out its promises. In 1872 Kingston was promised a Normal School, and a site was secured, but Ottawa got it after John Sandfield Macdonald went out of power."

In view of the fact that it had been practically understood that only one new Normal School was to be erected east of Toronto, the intention of the Government as outlined above, if it were correctly stated, would mean that Peterborough's chances were killed.

In view of the importance to the city of the matter, and bearing in mind the assurance which Hon. Mr. Pyne gave the deputation yesterday, the Examiner communicated with the Premier, asking for an explanation of the apparently contradictory statements, and whether it had been definitely decided to establish a school in Kingston, and what bearing the despatch had on the visit of the deputation yesterday. To-day the following telegram was received from Mr. Whitney:

Toronto, Feb. 15, 1906.

To Daily Examiner:

The policy of creating additional Normal Schools must first be adopted by the Legislature, on motion of the Government. Should that occur the question of the location will then be considered.

J. P. WHITNEY.

Legislature Opens With Customary Brilliancy

Second Session of the Twelfth Legislature Opened This Afternoon—New Members Were Introduced—Speech From the Throne Delivered.

Special to The Examiner

Toronto, Feb. 15, 1906. — With the usual brilliancy and ceremony the second session of the twelfth Legislature was opened this afternoon by His Hon. Lieut.-Governor Clark. The galleries were crowded while the floor of the house was well filled. Interest was added to the ceremony by the introduction as new members of Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands and Mines, and Mr. E. J. B. Pense. Premier Whitney was one of Mr. Cochrane's sponsors, and both members received ovations as they were introduced.

A Peterborough Rink WINS THE FINAL GAME In The Primary Series

Dickson Davidson's Rink Outclasses Everything—Intense Interest Manifested in Yesterday's Games—Scores Were Close—Consolation Series Ends This Evening.

Although the famous Bonspiel is nearing an end for the year 1906, yet the interest in the games has never lagged behind since the first stone was curled. In fact the enthusiasm visibly shown in the games last night seemed to have reached a climax and many of the lovers of the game were present to watch the Colsolation games, which were drawing to a close, but most of all the attention of the crowd was focused on the final primary game between two Peterborough rinks skipped by D. Davidson and Jas. Connal. So great was the interest manifested in their game that the onlookers travelled up and down the ice to watch the result of every stone at each end.

The game was one of the best ever witnessed on Peterborough ice, was keenly contested by both rinks as every man was doing his utmost to gain the laurels of this year's Bonspiel. Both skips were curling superbly, managing their rinks almost to perfection and easily demonstrated their efficiency to be in the finals and showed themselves to be masters of the scientific points of the old Scotch game.

Final Primary by Ends.

Connal won the first end and one point was tallied in his favour, but he lost the next three and Davidson counted two, one, three, respectively giving him at the conclusion of the fourth end five up. This early lead was not turned down by Connal in the succeeding stages although at one time he was only three down. The fifth end went to Connal, giving him one point. Score 6-7. Davidson got two on the sixth. Score 8-8. However on the seventh Connal counted three and appeared to be curling better. He lost on the eighth giving his opponent one. Score, 9-8. Davidson lost the ninth and Connal tallied two. Score, 9-7. The next four went to Davidson giving him one point on each end and making the score at the finish of the thirteenth end 13-7 in his favour. The last was gained by Connal by two points the final score being 13-9, giving Davidson the game and the championship of the Peterborough Bonspiel.

Consolation Series.

Thee Consolation games are now on the eve of conclusion. Two games are being played this afternoon and the winners play off to-night for the consolation championship. These games have aroused much enthusiasm and were all very closely contested. The honours of this series will be divided among Brown, Reid of Bobcaygeon, Morrison of Beaverton and Rutherford, and much speculation is offered concerning the possible winners of the Consolation prizes.

The Best Game Of The Season In City League

Suburbs to Run a Special for Their Game With High Lifes.

By all means the most interesting city league game that has yet been played in Peterborough will be seen to-night at the Brock street rink, when the Suburbs of Lakefield, who have yet to lose a game this year, and the strong High Lifes will meet in the most important city league match of the season. If the Suburbs win they will have practically clinched the championship of the league, but if the High Lifes win it will make a three-cornered tie between Charlotte Street, the Suburbs and High Lifes.

The majority of people have picked the Suburbs to win the trophy, but the High Lifes have their backers and the prospects are that the game will be particularly fast and interesting. It's beyond dispute that it will be a desperate struggle for the much sought after cup, and no matter which team wins that a good game will result is as certain as "eggs is eggs." The Lakefield puck chasers will be accompanied by a contingent of over 100 and will run a special train down for the match.

Feb. 15, 1906.—Thermometer at 7.00 a. m. four degrees below zero.

It is also rumoured that they will bring considerable long green with them.

Charlotte street and Suicides are two evenly matched teams and they should provide a splendid exhibition of hockey. Both teams are fast and play clean hockey all the time.

There's no necessity to make any plea to the hockey enthusiasts of Peterborough to contribute their loose change towards the support of rising young local hockeyists — not this time—they know a good thing when they see it, and the wise ones will be there in throngs.

The High Lifes-Suburb game will be played between 8 and 9 and the Suicides and Charlotte Street will clash between 9 and 10.

The following will be the line up of the teams in the Suburb-High Life game:—

Suburbs.		High Lifes.

WEDDING BELLS

SMITH—CLARK.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. Wm. Clarke, 159 Aylmer street, yesterday afternoon, at three o'clock, when his daughter, Miss Amy May Clarke, was united in marriage to Mr. Delbert Haultain Smith, of North Monaghan.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. G. Potter of St. Andrew's in the presence of a few of the most intimate friends of the contracting parties, who were unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left on the 5.15 C.P.R. train on a wedding trip to Pickering.

FALSE THEORIES

Lead to Worthless or Harmful Remedies.

Stimulating the scalp may allay the itching of the dandruff, but that does not cure the scalp. The disease won't yield to quinine or carbolicum nor alcohol, because it is caused by a germ or parasite. To cure dandruff the germ must be destroyed. Until recently there was no hair preparation or dandruff cure, or hair restorer on the market that would kill that insidious germ that dries up the scalp in little scales called dandruff, and absorbs the vitality of the hair, causing falling hair, and finally baldness. Newbro's Herpicide is the only really scientific preparation to cure dandruff, prevent falling hair and baldness. Sold by leading druggists. CORRESPONDENCE ON CURRENT TOPICS

THE BRADEN FARM.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

My attention has been called to an article which appeared in The Times of Saturday, 10th inst., in which the writer evidently has a grudge against the "Braden Farm" for a site for the House of Refuge. Is the writer interested in another site? Is that the reason why he has so much to say against it? I may state I was born and brought up on that farm; I have made my money from that farm, and a number of years ago sold it and took up my residence only a few rods away, and if the location is so unhealthy, as stated, how is it that we have so many hale and hearty people living just across the road from it?

The farm in question is high rolling land, and, except less than a quarter of an acre, is deep soil. I am convinced that no better crops have been grown on any farms in Smith or Douro. The farm has always been well worked, is free from all weeds, almost equal to a garden. I have no interest in this farm, having sold my title a number of years ago.

I think the matter of choosing the site should be left entirely to the members of the County Council.

Thanking you for your space,

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE FATAL WEDDING.

A play straight from the heart of a story of love and laughter, hate and tears, is the way one critic describes "The Fatal Wedding," the play that will hold the boards at the Grand Opera House, Monday, Feb. 19th. The scenes are all laid in New York, and are particularly well-mounted, particularly the Palisades scene, where a sensational feature is introduced, that of swinging over a ravine on a rope which is stretched across the stage, and on which the villain is hurled to death by reason of the rope being cut. The caste is an especially good one, including such favourites as Mary K. Taylor and Gussie Shires, the clever child actress.

THE BLACKSMITH'S DAUGHTER.

"The Blacksmith's Daughter," which will be presented by the St. John's Dramatic Club on Friday, February 16, had a very successful rehearsal last night in the St. John's church school room. Prof. Milner furnished music, and Mr. Wm. Dundas gave his musical act, which made a decided hit with those who were fortunate enough to witness the rehearsal. The production will be given under the management of Mr. S. H. Bradburn, who deserves great praise for the work he has done in connection with this forthcoming entertainment. The rehearsal opened with song by the whole club and closed with God Save the King. This will be one of the best events of the season as the play will be well staged, special scenery being made for the show, and it well deserves the hearty patronage of the citizens. "The Blacksmith's Daughter" is performed in three very interesting acts.

THE FAYS.

Those who recall the mystifying Fays, whose performance in mind-reading, telepathy, and what they term Thaumaturgy, have become world-renowned, look forward with much interest to their engagement here. The Fays created quite a furore in Ottawa at the Russell Theatre, drawing the largest audiences of the season, and are booked to return there again at the close of their stay here.

Death Caused By Violence

Was Verdict Brought in by Jurors at Last Night's Inquest.

The inquest into the cause of the death of the female infant that was found against the racks at the Auburn dam some time ago and which was postponed from Feb. 1, was continued last night in the Council Chambers. Although in the meantime aggressive steps had been taken to solve the mystery yet no further evidence was received by Coroner Grey. The jurors therefore had to bring in their verdict in accordance with the evidence of Drs. Greer and Morgan given at the previous inquest. The verdict was as follows:—

"That the said unknown female infant came to its death by violence at the hands of some person or persons unknown to the jury."

The following jurymen, who were the same as empanelled on the evening of the discovery were present:—Jas. Finnie, foreman; F. W. Miller, C. A. Stenton, W. Stabler, W. Shea, W. J. Johnston, M. Johnston, R. Sheehy, G. L. Hayes, D. Wallis, Jno. Logan, W. P. Adamson and W. White.

The Warden On Big Deputation

Which Will Wait on Minister of Agriculture Soon.

Warden Johnston will go to Toronto next week, where there will be a conference between Hon. Nelson Monteith and representatives of the thirty-eighth county councils in Ontario on Friday to discuss the new County Councils' Act, which was introduced last session and laid over until this one in order to give time for public consideration. The main object of the bill is asserted to be to secure on county councils the presence of more men who have had experience in township work, by providing that they shall consist of reeves and deputy reeves. Larger municipalities will also be given more reasonable representation than they now have.

The Medical Men Held A Meeting

Local Members of Medical Profession Listen to Papers.

A meeting of the Medical Association was held last night in the Ontario Bank Chambers, when a number of papers of interest to the profession were read and some chemical cases discussed. There was a good attendance of the members, the chair being occupied by the president, Dr. Caldwell.

A committee was appointed to interview Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., to enlist his support for the motion which will be introduced in the Legislature this session to grant $5,000 to help entertain the members of the British Medical Association, which meets in Toronto in August of this year. This gathering will be a very important one, and a very large number of British medical men will be in Canada attending the convention.

Conservatives Entertain Their Lady Friends

An "At-Home" Was Held in the Club Rooms Last Night—A Good Sized Gathering at Which Programme Was Rendered—Local Artists Took Part—Rooms Prettily Decorated for the Occasion—Some Features.

AN INTERESTING GATHERING HELD

A pleasant social function was that given in the rooms of the Young Conservative Club last night when the members' At Home was held, and it proved to be a most enjoyable one. The rooms were especially fitted up for the occasion and scores of flags and yards of bunting were artistically draped over the archings and across the rooms. The floral decorations were most beautiful. There were cut flowers, flowering plants and yards of green and they were so placed as to give the most pleasing effect. They were all supplied by Messrs. Jordan Bros., the well known florists, while the Club is also indebted to Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons for the loan of other decorations. The reception room was converted into an attractive and comfortable drawing room. It was a night specially for the entertainment of the ladies and every effort was made by the officers and members to make this the most pleasant yet held by the Club.

Various forms of amusement were provided. The first part of the evening was devoted to showing the ladies around the Club rooms and in social chat. Many took part in the games in the pool room and greatly enjoyed it, while others passed away a half hour or so at euchre.

Early in the evening the guests of the evening began to arrive and the Reception Committee were kept busy. Among those who were guests of the Club last night were:—

Mrs Edyth Elliott, Miss Nellie Hall, Miss Bertha Best, Miss McCanff, Mrs W S Robinson, Mrs J Watt, Miss M McWilliams, Mrs Alf George, Port Hope, Mrs Thomas Blois, Mrs Jas Kendry, Miss Kendry, Miss Taylor, Toronto, Miss McAndrews, Mrs W Buntin, Mrs. Flannery, Miss Flannery Mrs O Carver, Miss Carver, Mrs J Kemp, Mrs S Kemp, Mrs T Armstrong, Miss Cora McMullen, Miss Howell, Miss Ida Kirk, Miss Lockington, Miss L. Woods, Mrs C Watt, Mrs J Williams, Mrs W Miles, Mrs Hinchcliff, Mrs William Hinchcliff, Mrs. P Gardiner, Miss Mowry Mrs H Mowry, Mrs M Mowry, Miss Gurham, Mrs Benton, Mrs Alexander, Miss Williamson, Miss Kendry, Mrs W O'Neil, Miss Watt, Miss Zella O'Neil, Miss Maye Clancy, Mrs. Robert Layfield, Miss Bertha Bird, Mrs Elliott, Miss Layfield, Miss C Clemens, Miss Ida Westley, Miss E Nelson, Mrs Buller, Mrs Sam Jordan, Mrs Geo J Curtis, Mrs Walter Pilling, Mrs Chas Hill, Mrs Dodds, Mrs Devons, Miss Katie Graham, Miss Maria Elliott, Mrs. J D Craig, Mrs S Sharpe.

An excellent programme was provided the chair being occupied by the President, Mr. J. H. Burnham. Those taking part were:—

Piano solo—Mr. Geo. Schneider.
Piano solo—Miss Katie Graham.
Cornet solo—Mr. Walter Hughes.
Vocal solo—Mr. Jos. Legge.
Vocal solo—Mr. W. H. Cluxton.
Vocal solo—Miss Kendry.
Vocal solo—Miss Mae E. Clancy.
Vocal solo—Mr. Robt. Scott.
Reading—Mr. H. Dunslow.
Vocal solo—Miss Matkin Elliott.

At the conclusion of the programme light refreshments were served after which a couple of hours were pleasantly spent in dancing.

Local Artists Go To Clinton

Miss Helen Davies and Mr. R. N. Jolliffe at Concert.

Last night a concert was given in Clinton, and among the artists who contributed to the programme were Miss Helen Davies, soprano, and Mr. R. Norman Jollife, baritone, both of course, well known here, their home.

Mr. J. D. A. Tripp, the noted pianist, of Toronto, also accompanied Miss Davies and Mr. Jolliffe and gave a number of piano solos.

Road Grants For Belmont

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., and Mr. Wm. Bennett, Provincial Road Inspector, of Peterborough, were in town on Tuesday conferring with prominent Conservatives in regard to Provincial road grants for Belmont and Methuen. We understand that a substantial sum will be brought down in the estimates at the present session, for this purpose.—Havelock Standard.

C. P. R. Surveyors Are Making Good Progress

New Peterborough-Georgian Bay Line Will Probably Cross Pigeon Creek Near Cowan's Bridge—Line Will, it is Said, Pass Through Lindsay.

The C.P.R. surveyors marking out the new Midland line have finished their work in Emily Township, and, having reached the eastern limit of the town, made a fresh start west of the river and have proceeded in a northwesterly direction. They go west of Cambray and east of Goose Lake, up the first concession of Fenelon, and then go northwesterly towards Eldon Station and Balsover—and on to Orillia. The unusually favourable weather has enabled them to make capital progress, and they will probably have their work done much sooner than expected.

The surveyors are very reticent as to the railway plans, but from farmers and others who have seen their work we learn that the line in Emily will pass about a mile or a mile and a half south of Downeyville. Several surveys and tests have been made for the Pigeon Creek crossing, the only serious difficulty between Peterborough and Orillia, and we are told the line may cross just north of Cowan's bridge. The line will enter the eastern town limits, we are told, probably south of Logie's Hill to avoid a cutting, and then turn northwesterly to cross the river. The selection of a river crossing and the line in town has been left in abeyance for the present. From the northern limits of the town, towards Orillia, a very easy grade will be obtained without any difficulty. The work is to be pushed on as speedily as possible.—Lindsay Post.

A PECULIAR DOG FIGHT occurred in the Examiner office to-day. "Jerry" the journalistic bulldog, went after another man's canine and the sanctum rat terrier jumped down from a high shelf where he had been placed to be out of harm's way. Between swinging doors, fighting dogs and people running around in confused circles, it looked something like a rehearsal of the "Devil's Auction."

WOMEN WHO CHARM

HEALTH IS THE FIRST ESSENTIAL

It Helps Women to Win and Hold Men's Admiration, Respect and Love.

Woman's greatest gift is the power to inspire admiration, respect, and love. There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature.

Mrs. T.E. Gillis

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study. At the first indication of ill-health, painful or irregular periods, headache or backache, secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

Mrs. T. E. Gillis, Windsor, N. S., describes her illness, and cures, in the following letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"When I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was suffering with weakness and womb trouble, headaches, backaches, and that worn-out, tired feeling. I have only taken the Vegetable Compound a few short weeks, and it has made me well, strong and robust. I believe that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is without equal for female troubles."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating, (or flatulence), inflammation or ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, or nervous prostration may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

He Was Nearly Dogged To Death

A good story is told concerning a prominent railway man in Toronto, who recently remarked to a number of friends that he would like to possess a real good dog. So his friends, who were travelling, and it is well known that travelling men will stop at nothing—except, of course, a first-class hotel—got their heads together and planned a little surprise for the railroad man. Shortly after he expressed his desire to have a good dog he received one, and about the only thing that was good about it was its temper. This was simply the introductory barker, and for a while pretty nearly every train that came to the city brought him a dog, and such dogs! Even a Chinaman wouldn't condescend to eat any of them. To cap the climax, a dog black cat arrived one day. The cat had been boxed up for some time on the train, and when the cover was taken off the feline leaped out and tore round the railway man's office like mad. A half column might be written on the antics of the very frisky and much excited feline, but to make a long story short and to get to the point at once, don't ever say "sausage" to the railway man referred to if you value your life. The excitement and trouble occasioned by the many canines he received has made him look even now as if he'd "gone to the dogs."

UNHAPPINESS DISPELLED

Men and Women Unanimous About It

Many women weep and wait and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable or both sexes to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic, that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced.

The Automatic Telephones Are The Favourites

Edmonton, Alberta, Deputation Visits the City to Investigate Merits of the System—That City Will Instal New Municipal System — Ald. Manson Gives The Examiner Some Interesting Information in Reference to Alberta's Capital.

THAT PROVINCE IS MAKING PROGRESS

Ald. Manson and ex-ald. Clark, of Edmonton, Alta., are in the city today on a trip of inspection. The object of their visit here is to investigate the merits of the Canadian Machine Telephone, and, judging by the report which Mr. Manson gave the Examiner to-day, their investigations have been satisfactory. The city of Edmonton owns its telephone system, which at present is a manual board system, and the requirements of the city have outgrown the size of the board. There are 475 'phones in use in a city of 11,000 people. The citizens are, however, progressive, and they want the conveniences which a telephone gives. The result is that there are more applications for connections than the system will accommodate, consequently the council has decided to install a new system, and four men, including the Mayor, two aldermen and an ex-alderman were sent east to investigate the respective merits of the different systems. They visited Chicago and Grand Rapids, where they saw the automatic phones in use, and were there converted to the automatic scheme.

The Mayor and one of the aldermen then left for home, and Mr. Manson and Mr. Clarke came into Canada again to prosecute their inquiries further.

They arrived in Peterborough yesterday for the purpose of looking over the automatic system in use here.

Ald. Manson was seen this morning by an Examiner reporter, and he stated that he was greatly pleased with what he had seen here. He was delighted with the Canadian Machine 'Phone. It had some distinct advantages over the other automatic systems he had seen, one of which was the fact that it was a much more substantial machine. The working of the 'phone also pleased him, and he was more firmly convinced than ever after visiting Peterborough that the automatic 'phone was the 'phone of the future.

There was very little doubt he thought, that the council would decide in a very short time to install a new system, and the automatic would, in all probability, be the one adopted.

Edmonton, in many respects, is forging ahead rapidly. It already has its electric light and waterworks systems, in addition to the telephone, and they are all operated at a profit to the municipality. The prices for telephones are $20 and $25 a year.

Mr. Manson is an easterner, coming from Renfrew, but he has lived in Edmonton for some years, and is of course, enthusiastic over the prospects of the West, and particularly of Edmonton. Two former Peterborough men, Messrs. E. A. Kempt, and James Harper, are working for the Ross Hardware Company, in that city, and are doing well, as are all the men who come from the east.

The completion of the Canadian Northern to Edmonton has opened a rich agricultural country to the east of the city, which is filling up rapidly with settlers, and, as a result, Edmonton is reaping the benefit of increased trade.

Ald. Manson will remain in the east for a couple of weeks yet, and on his return the council will take up the telephone question in earnest.

Arrange The Final Games

A meeting of the executive of the City League will be held to-morrow night at 10 o'clock at F. A. Clark's store, to decide when the final games will be played. There is a three-cornered tie in the league now, and it is probable that Lakefield will be given the bye, the High Lifes and Charlotte street teams playing off first in a sudden death game. It is likely that the first game will be played next Thursday night, and the second on Monday, February 26.

Reading Better Than Travelling

Was the Result of Debate at Stewart's Hall.

A combined gathering of literarians from the Centreville Debating Society and Stewart's Improvement Society, assembled in the latter's Hall, Otonabee, last night, where a delightful time was spent, both intellectually and physically. A large number was present at the concert, and made the event one of the most successful literary meetings ever held in Stewart's Hall.

The chief feature of the programme was a debate, "Resolved, — That humanity is more benefitted by travelling than by reading."

The affirmative was handled by Stewart's Improvement Society, which was represented by Messrs. F. Sisson and Mervin Deyell, and was taken in a masterly manner. Messrs. J. Might and Ernest Anderson were Centreville's orators, and they did not disappoint their followers. They succeeded in persuading the judges that reading was the more beneficial, and won the honours for the visitors.

A number were present from Cold Springs, Otonabee, and gave a dague which greatly pleased the audience.

Mr. Clayton Hanbidge occupied the chair and opened the concert with some brief appropriate remarks:

The programme was as follows:—

Vocal duet, Messrs. Elsie and Ethel Deyell.

Recitation, "To late for the train," Miss Luella Deyell.

Solo, Miss Ella Hanbidge.

Vocal duet, Miss Annie and Mr. Bert Deyell.

Recitation, Miss Margaret Berry.

Debate.

Quartette, "Come where the Lilies Bloom." Misses Mary and Ella Hanbidge; and Messrs. Wm. and Clayton Hanbidge.

Duet, Messrs. Berry and Donaldson.

Dialogue, "Scared to Death."

Solo, Mr. Bert Deyell.

The programme ended by God Save the King, after which refreshments were served by the ladies.

Mrs. Jas. Kendry Gave Address

At Special Missionary Meeting in Lindsay Wednesday.

On Wednesday night in Lindsay a meeting was held at which the 25th anniversary of the W. M. S. was celebrated. Mrs. Jas. Kendry, of this city, was the principal speaker. The Lindsay Post reporting her address says:—

"Mrs. Kendry stated in her opening remarks that it was just 25 years ago that the call came to the women of the Methodist Church in Canada to rally to the work they now had in hand, and 500 responded to the message. The missionaries in Japan met conditions which could only be overcome by the held of active christian women. The first woman missionary to go to Japan was Miss Cartmell, and the choice proved to be a happy one, as her gentleness and kindness of spirit soon won her many helpers. Last year the Society reported 900 Auxiliaries, 497 Mission Bands and Circles, 40,000 members, and a large increase in the finances.

In conclusion Mrs. Kendry referred to the work of a Peterborough lady in the following terms:—

The Indian schools were all progressing, as is the work among the Galicians. Miss Munroe, of Peterborough, was the pioneer teacher among the latter, and her home had become a light to many Ontario boys crossing the prairies. The work among the Chinese in British Columbia was meeting with difficulties, but was only beginning. The Society was doing a grand work. There were 160,000 women in connection with the Methodist church in Canada, but only a very small majority belonged to the Woman's Missionary Society."

Returned From Trip To North

Wr. W. F. Turner, of J. J. Turner and Sons, Visited Cobalt.

Mr. W. F. Turner, of J. J. Turner & Sons, has just returned from a three-weeks' business trip to Sudbury, the Soo, North Bay, Haileybury and Cobalt, in which he was successful in obtaining many orders.

Mr. Turner tells an interesting story of his trip to the north, which, although varied enough, could hardly be described as enjoyable, as the severe climate and the lack of proper hotels in most of the places visited were features that were not appreciated to say the least. Mr. Turner spent a day in Cobalt, and says that that was long enough for him. There was not a substantial house in the place, the buildings being mostly one-storey wooden shacks. Every second house is a restaurant. There are no licensed hotels there. As an illustration of the way in which buildings are going up, Mr. Turner says that one man applied to the owner of some property there for a place to be used as a barber shop. The property-holder had no place vacant, but asked for a month's rent in advance, and the next day the barber was doing business in a newly-erected shack.

Old Resident Returns To City

Mr. Thos. McNarma, of Madoc, is in Peterborough Visiting Friends.

Mr. Thomas McNamara, of Madoc, a former resident of Peterborough, is in the city renewing old acquaintances. Mr. McNamara is well known in Peterborough, and was formerly a clerk in Mr. Thomas Dolan's clothing store when Mr. Dolan's place of business was where Madill's drug store now is. Mr. McNamara left Peterborough in 1884, and has since lived in St. Catharines and Madoc. In the latter place he has conducted a clothing business for some years and has recently retired from active business for a time, at least.

Mr. McNamara has not been in Peterborough for 12 years up to the time of his present visit, and notices that almost a complete transformation has taken place in this progressive city. He says that Madoc is a lively little town of 1,500 people, and predicts a bright future for it. The new line of the C. P. R. will probably be run through Madoc, and the railway surveyors have been there for the past four weeks. This line will place Madoc in better communication with outside points, and will undoubtedly add to the population of that thriving place.

Invite Pastor Another Year

Rev. D. R. Clare Asked to Remain in North Smith.

Special to The Examiner.

North Smith, Feb. 14th. — Mrs. James Davis of North Monaghan is visiting her mother, Mrs. Stephen Nichols.

Mrs. R. Harrison, who is keeping house for her son, R. H. Harrison, of Otonabee, is visiting friends in the neighbourhood this week.

Mr. Robert Northey has been confined to the house through illness for the past week, and his many friends will be glad to see him out again.

Mrs. Thos. Armstrong is dangerously ill at present; her recovery is hoped for.

The Quarterly official Board of the Methodist church here met on Saturday last, and it is learned on good authority that the members present extended an invitation to the popular pastor, Rev. D. R. Clare, B.A., to remain for another year.

Rev. D. R. Clare, B.A., preached a very able and instructive sermon to the wives and mothers of Wesley appointment on Sunday last. The reverend gentleman was listened to with rapt attention, and many complimentary remarks were made in regard to the same.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy, in my opinion, that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup, absolutely, in one night. We gave him a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave him instant relief and cure."—Mr. Wm. McGee, 49 Wright avenue, Toronto, Ont.

Cheese Board's Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board will be held on Saturday, February 24, at 1.30, in the City Council Chambers, when the reports for the past year will be presented, and the officers for 1906 elected. This meeting is being held in connection with the annual meeting of the Cheese Makers' Association, and it is expected that a prominent speaker on dairy subjects will be present and address the meeting.

Does Your FOOD Digest Well?

When the food is imperfectly digested the full benefit is not derived from it by the body and the purpose of eating is defeated; no matter how good the food or how carefully adapted to the wants of the body it may be. Thus the dyspeptic often becomes thin, weak and debilitated, energy is lacking, brightness, snap and vim are lost, and in their place come dullness, lost appetite, depression and languor. It takes no great knowledge to know when one has indigestion, some of the following symptoms generally exist, viz.: constipation sour stomach, variable appetite, headache, heartburn, gas in the stomach, etc.

The great point is to cure it, to get back bounding health and vigor.

is constantly effecting cures of dyspepsia because it acts in a natural yet effective way upon all the organs involved in the process of digestion, removing all clogging impurities and making easy the work of digestion and assimilation.

Mr. R. G. Harvey, Auchinstang, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with dyspepsia for several years and after using three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters I was completely cured. I cannot praise B.B.B. enough for what it has done for me. I have not had a sign of dyspepsia since."

Do not accept a substitute for B.B.B. There is nothing "just as good."

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of the late Edward Towns, who died in Peterborough, December 30th, 1905.

O Saturday morn, a happy day,
Our hearts are cheerful and bright
The world to us it is so gay,
Brother Ed. comes home to-night.

Midnight comes on, he is not home,
We'll keep the fire so bright,
Why is it that he is not come!
We miss him here to-night!

Christmas Eve comes, so bright and clear,
And brother Ed. comes home once more,
With presents for each of his sisters dear,
As he opened the kitchen door.

"I suppose you expected me home last night,
But I missed my chance, you know,
I suppose you thought that I was not alright
Or I would not have treated you so.

How is my father, my brothers, and friends?
How are all the neighbours around?
How are my aunts, my uncles and friends?
I hope they in happiness abound.

How are my nephews and nieces
How are all the dear little folk?
When I'm home, how my pleasure increases!"
This is how our dear brother Ed. spoke.

Christmas Day comes, we are chatting together,
Talking of past and of future ahead,
Little we thought of the dark gloomy weather,
Or dreamed of the fate of our dear brother Ed.

Happy we are and his voice seems so pleasant,
But Tuesday comes in, and calls him away,
"Father and sisters, good-bye for the present,
I'll see you again on New Years Day."

Saturday comes bringing anguish and sorrow
Where last week our future was happy and bright;
How can we live o'er the heart-breaking morrow,
For our dear brother Ed. comes home dead to-night.

Midnight comes on, and our anguish never ceases,
One o'clock comes and fills our hearts with dread,
The hearse drives up slowly, our agony increases
For it brings the remains of our dear, dear brother Ed.

New Year comes in, and our brother still sleeping,
Sleeping repose from which he'll never awake.
Friends and companions draw near, and leave weeping,
When they think of the changes of only one week.

Slowly and sadly the procession has started
To the cemetery, for burial of our brother so dear,
Weeping and wailing won't bring back the departed,
On earth, but in sweet dreams, will he ever appear.

In the dear old church yard our brother is lying,
Sleeping so soundly in his cold silent bed,
How can we pass by his grave without sighing,
For it's all that remains of our dear brother Ed.!

Waiter Retires Worth $100,000

A New York Hotel Waiter Accumulated This Sum.

The subject of tipping waiters has been brought prominently before the public by the announcement that Henry Miller is about to retire as waiter from the Astor House restaurant, in the rotunda of which he has served for 30 years at a salary of $30 per month, and yet is worth $100,000, as the accumulation of tips received and their wise investment. Another waiter in this same restaurant has put away $60,000, and still another old-timer has a large fortune, the one at the oyster and the other at the roast beef counter. That is a famous place, that rotunda in the dark stone hostelry, which the early Astor built on lower Broadway. Daniel Webster ate there; indeed, almost all the distinguished men of the days of yore ate there, and their gifts laid the foundation of the fortunes of those waiters. But wealthy as is Miller, there is a waiter at Delmonico's who has served the patrons of that establishment 34 years, and he is reported to have a fortune of $300,000. A goodly portion of this, however, is the result of lucky speculation in Harlem realty, but he speculated on tips as well as with tips.

Was His Own Grandfather

The following statement of his mixed connubial affairs, was given by a gentleman, who became so entangled in the remembrance of relations to his family that he always carries a card describing the different relations to himself of each of his family connections:

The following is his funny story:

I married a widow who had a grown up daughter. My father visited us often, fell in love with my stepdaughter and married her. Thus he became my son-in-law, and my stepdaughter became my mother, because she was my father's wife. Soon after this my wife gave birth to a son, which was, of course, my father's son-in-law and my uncle, for he was the brother of my stepmother. My father's wife also became the mother of a son. He was of course my brother and also my grandchild, for he was the son of my daughter. Accordingly my wife was my grandmother, because she was my mother's mother. I was my wife's husband and grandchild at once, and as the husband of a person's grandmother is his grandfather, I became my own grandfather.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A. of Baltimore it was decided to erect the finest central building in the country, at the cost of $500,000, which sum is to be raised by popular subscription.

COUNTY COUNCILS ACT.

The big deputation—from thirty-eight counties to wait upon Hon. Nelson Monteith in reference to proposed legislation to abolish the present system of constituting County Councils and to bring about a return to the old cumbrous system, might well save itself the trouble. That is, if the Government has not changed its mind. It will be remembered that it was rather autocratically announced that it was the intention of the Government to abolish the present system. No reference was made in this announcement to the part the Legislature was to play. If the Government has decided as stated, the Legislature has only to obey the orders issued by the Government, which with a large and doubtless pliant Conservative majority it may readily do. Therefore deputations either for or against the change seem to be superfluous. But the form of consulting the interests may be regarded as good policy and Mr. Monteith will doubtless receive the deputations courteously. What position the deputation may take is not certain, but in the interests of effective municipal government as represented by the County Council, there is no doubt that the present system is the better. At any rate the experience of the County Council of Peterborough of the benefits of the present system leads them to be opposed to any change that would involve a return to the old cumbrous system. This subject may well be one of the many instances in which the Conservative element in the Legislature has opposed measures simply because they emanated from a Liberal source, only to adopt them when they come into power. It is to be hoped that the County Councils matter may be one of these and that the result will be that a good system will not be destroyed and a return made, by a retrograde movement, to a cumbrous system, obsolete in fact as it is in respect of serving the best interests of municipal administration.

MR. WHITNEY'S MOODS.

Mr. Whitney, Premier of Ontario, has many commendable qualities, and not the least of these is that he has the courage of his convictions, that is, his honest heart convictions, not the apparent convictions exploited for purposes of party policy. It needs no little courage on the part of a public man, to oppose one thing in Opposition — rather palpably for the sake of opposition — and then, when the responsibility of action comes, to adopt in practice what he condemned from policy. Without multiplying instances it may be pointed out that in the past, when in Opposition, Mr. Whitney, his political allies, and organs, had little but denunciation of the Ontario Government on the head of the money spent in maintaining the Agricultural College. It was declared that the money was wasted and that the College should be made to pay its way, or be closed. Now, Mr. Whitney is a convert to the usefulness of the College, and willing not only to contribute to its efficiency, but to claim some credit for the good work it is doing, which he formerly ignored. The present friendly attitude of Mr. Whitney to the College is more sharply defined by recollection of the past attitude of himself and party, when in opposition. Speaking of these old time criticisms, and in praise of the excellent work of the College, the Monetary Times says, in mild criticism of former Opposition policy:

"Should anyone want an unanswerable argument against the criticisms which have been made, (though not frequently of late, we are glad to note), of the O. A. C., on the ground that it 'did not pay its way,' we would advise him to visit the College. The absurdity of such a criticism is shown up on every side. The fact that its professors employ a large part of their time in testing and finding out what the farmers should not plant, is sufficient answer in itself to any critic who had believed that their labours should be followed by a direct profit to the College, while as to the profits accruing to the whole community from its work, there is no doubt about these. Take the experiments with Manchurian barley, for instance. An increased crop value to the farmers of $2,5000,000 as the result of one series of tests and improvements, is no small matter, surely."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Hon. Mr. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, chuckles gleefully over a surplus of $100,000 on this year's financial budget -- due to excess in income from Succession Duties, which Mr. Matheson, when in opposition, denounced in well set terms, as a robbery, (using this language):—"Whereas the highwayman steals from the living, who have a chance to defend themselves, the Government that levies an inheritance tax robs the dead, and is worse than a highwayman."

The people of Winnipeg, and the press of that city, are especially sensitive on the reputation of the West, and of that city, and naturally resent the stories published in the East to the effect that the bottom is dropping out of that country, and city. The Winnipeg Free Press, in reference to the prospects for the West, says:

Some of our Eastern friends appear to alternate between two opinions about the West—one that we are so rich and prosperous that we can afford to be taxed a little more for our goods; the other that this is a boom community out of which the bottom will drop some day. The latter calamity, would give every banking, financial and commercial institution in the East a black eye and would ruin a large proportion of them; but apparently some of the Easterners would welcome the disaster in order to have the satisfaction of saying "I told you so." The West, of course, is all right, and is going to stay all right. It is going ahead faster than any other new country in the world; but it would make still more rapid progress if it were not persistently knocked by jealous Eastern interests and newspapers. The West has had to put up with this sort of thing for twenty years, but fortunately it has now reached a point of development where studied disparagement annoys more than it hurts.

DOES NOT LIKE THE NAME.

The Montreal Witness shares the general opinion that the name Prince Rupert, which has been selected as that of the Pacific terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific, should be shortened to Rupert. But it is not very enthusiastic over the latter. It says:

Rupert is not geographically appropriate. Rupert never was in America except as a pirate, and the Hudson Bay Company's enterprise did not, in his days, even dream about the Pacific coast. Rupert, moreover, is very far from being an English hero. He was not an Englishman at all. As a buccaneer in the Spanish seas he preyed on British shipping. As a cavalry officer under King Charles, he fought against the English people when fighting for civil and religious liberty. He did not even do that gloriously, having, for his hasty retreat from Marston Moor, his disobedience to orders, when led to the defeat at Naseby, and for his ready surrender of Bristol, been deprived of his commission by King Charles and banished from the kingdom, though that did not hinder him from becoming a successful courtier and boodler at the court of King Charles the Second. Rupert was the son of the Elector-palatine or Frederick V. his mother being daughter of King James I. Recalled after the Restoration, he recovered from his tarnished reputation in the war with the Dutch. His devotion to science and art in his declining years, amid the licentious dissipation of the reign of Charles II, sheds a sunset halo on his otherwise stormy career. There is nothing in all this that makes his name worthy of further identification with the Dominion. Mackenzie would have been a better name for the terminal city, after Sir Alexander Mackenzie, who was the first explorer to cross the continent from Hudson Bay to the Pacific. It would be singularly appropriate, too, for the site selected for the city is not far from that of Rascals' Village, the point where Sir Alexander first stood on the shore of the Pacific coast.

It would seem that there is a good deal more in a name than most people are wont to suppose, and certainly a good deal more in the name of Rupert than the man who selected it for the G.T.P. terminus can have taken into account.

BANNERMAN ON "PROTECTION."

Here is the British Premier's energetic description of protection in his address to the electors:—"I hold that protection is not only bad economy, but that it is an agency at once immoral and oppressive, based as it is and must be on the exploitation of the community in the interest of favoured trades and financial groups. I hold it to be a corrupting system, because honesty and purity of administration must be driven to the wall if once the principle of taxes for revenue be departed from in favour of the other principle, which I conceive to be of the essence of protection—that, namely, of taxes for private beneficiaries. I hold that a method, which, even if it be not deliberately contrived to secure the public endowment of such beneficiaries, including trusts and monopolies, must inevitably operate in that direction, is a most grave menace to freedom and progress, and an outrage on the democratic principle. Last, but not least in order of importance, I hold that any attempt to rivet together the component parts of the empire with bonds so forged or to involve it with us in a fiscal war against the world is not, and cannot come to, good. An empire united on a basis of food taxes would be an empire with a disruptive force at its centre, and that is a prospect with the realization of which, both in the interests of the colonies and the mother country, I can have nothing to do."

A Splendid Insurance Record

The Sun Life Compiles Some Significant Figures.

There is one sun that never seems to suffer an eclipse, and that luminary is the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada. This prosperous and flourishing company had last year an unparalleled record. The number of assurances issued during the year, and paid for in cash, amounted to the magnificent total of over eighteen million dollars — $18,612,056.51. There was an increase over the preceding year, for premiums, interest, rents, etc., of the great sum of $5,717,492.82, and there was an increase in surplus over 1904, during the past year, of $177,793.50, and, in addition, in 1905, profits were paid to policy holders of $166,578.30. With the immense amount of life assurance in force of over 95 millions, there was paid last year in death claims, etc, only a million and a half. The confidence inspired in the company, by its stability and honourable business methods, is emphasized by the fact that the insurance in force increased by nearly ten millions last year — $9,963,894.71. The Sun is a prosperous and progressive company.

T.A.S. At-Home Great Success

Delightful Function Under the Auspices of Athletic Section.

Despite many counter attractions the "At Home" under the auspices of the Athletic Section of St. Peter's T.A.S. last night must be classed as one of the most successful events of the season. There was a large attendance and every arrangement had been made for the comfort and entertainment of the guests.

Progressive euchre was the attraction during the early part of the evening. Twenty-six tables were in the card room and the game was a most interesting one. Mr. Angus McPherson was successful in capturing the gentleman's prize, a box of cigars, while the lady's prize, a handsome box of bon-bons, was won by Miss Mary O'Brien.

Delightful refreshments were served by the gentlemen at 11 o'clock, after which the hall was cleared and an enjoyable dance was held. Mr. P. Kane provided excellent music and the affair was a great success.

The Athletic Section intend to hold a series of At Homes and if the remainder come up to the standard established last night, the functions are deserving of patronage.

Sudden Death Of Mr. Macdougall

Former Resident of Peterboro' Died in Port Arthur.

The many friends in Peterborough of Mr. A. H. Macdougall, a former resident of this city, will regret exceedingly to learn of his sudden death in Port Arthur. The story of his death is told in the following despatch:

Port Arthur, Feb. 13th. — A terribly sudden death occurred this morning, when A. H. Macdougall, town engineer, while engaged on the water and sewerage works construction on Algoma street, dropped to the ground, and when picked up was found to be dead. Mr. Macdougall had occupied the position of municipal engineer for less than a month. At one time he was engineer for Emerson, Man., and came to Port Arthur upwards of 25 years ago. He leaves a widow and grown son.

Snaps in Carpets, Linoleums, Oilcloths, Curtains, Iron Beds, Mattresses etc. will be found at the Turnbull Co's Great February Housefurnishing Sale, which begins Saturday, 17th.

Rev. Armitage's Work Appreciated

St. Andrew's Cross, the official organ of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, pays a tribute to a former Peterborough rector, Rev. W. L. Armitage, in a report of the work of the Picton Brotherhood. Referring to St. Mary Magdelene Chapter No. 148, which is one of the oldest in Eastern Ontario, it says: "During the last few years its work has been considerably widened and improved through the influence of the new vicar, Rev. W. L. Armitage. During the winter months the chapter has arranged regular monthly services for men under the direction of the vicar. They have been very successful, and the attendance at, and interest shown in, these meetings has been very encouraging."

Cold on the Lungs.

"We have seven children and I have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for every one of them, and with good results. We get four bottles at a time and we find it a good remedy to break up cold on the lungs." — Mrs. R. T. Turner, Broadview, N. W. T.

Rev. W. McD. McKay Will NOT ACCEPT SECOND Term As Assistant Pastor

Popular Presbyterian Clergyman Has Decided to Leave the City--Committee Has Been Appointed to Secure His Successor--Resolution of Appreciation for Hi Services Was Passed at Joint Meeting of Session and Board of Managers.

A joint meeting of the Board of Managers and the Session of St. Paul's church was held last night

REV. W. McD. McKAY,
Assistant Pastor of St. Paul's, Who Has Decided to Leave at End of His Term.

to take some steps in reference to the decision of Rev. W. McD. McKay, the assistant pastor, not to accept the invitation for a second year in that position. Rev. Mr. McKay has for the last year been the assistant at St. Paul's and Knox churches, and during that time has made himself deservedly popular. He has proved most faithful and earnest in his duties to the church, and his services will be greatly missed by both congregations, among the members of which he has made many warm friends who will learn with regret of his departure from the city.

Rev. Dr. Torrance occupied the chair at last night's meeting. General regret was expressed by those present that Rev. Mr. McKay would not accept the position for another year, and eulogistic references were made to his satisfactory work during the time that he has been in the city. A resolution of appreciation, moved by Sheriff Hall and seconded by Mr. G. M. Roger, was unanimously passed, and a copy will be forwarded to Rev. Mr. McKay.

A committee was appointed to make arrangements for securing a successor to Rev. Mr. McKay, whose year's term expires in April.

For An Increase In Teachers' Salaries

A Movement on Foot to Induce the School Board to Pay Higher Salaries—Male Teachers Said to Have Held Meetings at Which Question Was Considered.

It is understood that there is a movement on foot among the teachers in the public schools of the city for an increase in salary. It is stated that the male teachers of the staff have already held a meeting and that in all probability others have been held for the purpose of discussing the matter.

What action, if any, the ladies will take has not been decided as yet, but there is little doubt that they are in sympathy with the proposal to pay the teachers more salary, and it is also said that the request of the teachers is one with which a number of the citizens are in sympathy. The minimum salary for female teachers is $350, and the maximum $400 for second-class, and $450 for those holding first-class certificates, while for male teachers the salaries run from $600, the minimum, to $700 for second-class, and $750 for first-class and for principals of ward schools, while for principals of central schools the salaries run from $750 to $1,000.

It is probable that in the near future the teachers will send a memorial to the Board, making the request for an increase in salary. It is pointed out that while living expenses have increased very considerably during the last few years, the teachers' salaries have, for the most part, remained stationary, and in view of the fact that salaries in other lines have increased with the increase of prices it is felt that a similar advance in teachers' salaries would by no means be an injustice.

OBITUARY.

ROBERT LATIMER.

At St. Joseph's Hospital to-day at 12 o'clock, the death occurred of Mr. R. S. Latimer, aged 41 years, formerly of South Monaghan, and son of the late Jas. Latimer, of that township.

The deceased contracted a cold while superintending the erection of the Winnipeg Power Plant some four years ago which settled on his lungs, although everything was done that was possible to remove the difficulty, it seemed to have taken such a permanent hold that the result was this death.

Mr. Latimer spent two years in California returning with his wife and two children to his former home in South Monaghan, during the past year. He was removed to the hospital in January of this year, where he might have the benefit of attention that would be impossible under other circumstances.

When a boy Mr. Latimer came to Peterborough and studied in the Public and High Schools and afterwards became associated with Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald and became qualified as a Provincial Land Surveyor, subsequently taking the degree of Civil Engineer.

Until Mr. Latimer was stricken with the disease, he was a strong, vigourous young man with considerable activity, and his death during the prime of life will be greatly regretted by his numerous and sympathizing friends.

He was twice married and leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss as well as two brothers, James, residing on the homestead, and John Henry, of Toronto, and two sisters, one at home, and Mrs. Russell, of Cavan.

Mr Latimer, when he dwelt in Peterborough had many warm friends among the young men who learn of his demise with much regret.

The funeral will take place on Sunday at 2 o'clock from the residence of his brother, South Monaghan, lot 6 concession 6, to to the Fraserville Cemetery.

Ontario House Opens Session Commences Work

Lt.-Governor Formally Opens Provincial Parliament.

THE LEGISLATION OUTLINED

Speech From the Throne Deals With Many Important Changes—Surplus in the Treasury—More Money For Farmers' College—Gay Display Attends the Opening of the Legislative Assembly.

Toronto, Feb. 16.—If the ladies of Ontario felt any resentment at the lack of franchise privileges they did not display it yesterday when they filled the Legislative chamber at the opening of the second session of the eleventh Parliament of the province. The Government was inconspicuous among the palms round the steps of the throne, private members were undiscernible, even the representative of the Crown was but slightly distinguished in the brilliant picture presented by the crowded scene. Almost all the seats were occupied by ladies, and their costly and rich-tinted raiment rose in great banks of color from the narrow scarlet carpet strip on the floor of the House over the steep galleries almost to the roof. There was a faint prevailing tinge of green in many shades of the fashionable line, and when the military uniforms were assembled about the table these formed a bright knot of color among the ladies' costumes. This brightness was reflected in dots of crimson here and there, with dark purple and gold and lavender, while a number of black gowns lent depth to the general tone. While perhaps not quite so gorgeous as last year, the whole effect was one of great beauty.

Assembly Rose In Greeting.

The first event to attract attention was the entrance of Mrs. Mortimer Clark, escorted by the Premier, and followed by Miss Clark and Miss Elsie Clark. The assembly rose in greeting, and almost immediately the first gun of the salute of fifteen for the Lieut.-Governor sounded dully from outside. At the moment Hon. Geo. W. Ross, leader of His Majesty's loyal Opposition, came in and took his seat, his desk, like that of the Premier, being decorated with a vase of roses and narcissi. A few moments more and the military procession entered.

His Honor was escorted to the building by a detachment of Royal Canadian Dragoons, under Lieut. McMillan, and was accompanied by Major J. F. Macdonell, his secretary, Lieut. Young, R. C. D., his personal aide-de-camp, and Brigadier-General Otter, A. D. C. to His Excellency the Governor-General. The guard of honor consisted of 100 men of the 48th Highlanders, under command of Capt. Cosby, and the band of that regiment was also present. The salute was fired by the Toronto Field Battery, under command of Capt. Richardson.

Walked With the Premier.

His Honor the Lieut.-Governor walked beside Hon. J. P. Whitney and proceeded slowly towards the throne. Seating himself and wearing his plumed hat, he read the speech, which bid fair to rival a Presidential message in length. The reading was received with waving fans on the part of the ladies, and as soon as it was concluded all rose once more while His Honor retired. The throng in the corridors cause an almost unseemly crush at the door during the reading of the speech.

The Speech From the Throne.

His Honor then read the speech from the throne, as follows:—

"Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

"I take great pleasure in meeting you again as representatives of the province in Parliament assembled.

"Our very earnest thanks are once more due to Almighty God for the bountiful harvest of the year that has passed, which even excels the one that called for our gratitude last year. With this harvest, the market conditions have been such as to maintain the prosperity which our farmers have enjoyed in recent years. This has been noticeable in the dairying industry, the output of which has been very large. The evidences of steadily increasing enterprise and activity on the part of our people which have been apparent for several years past are to be seen on all sides at the present time, and afford good reason for congratulation and thankfulness.

Ontario Agricultural College.

"The past year has been the most successful in the history of the Agricultural College from the standpoint of the number of students, the number of farm visitors and the amount of work done. For the first time in its career, the total number of students of all classes exceeded one thousand. The Macdonald Institute has apparently taken firm hold on the appreciation of the public, and farmers' daughters have come to its halls in numbers that promise a very bright future for the institution. You will be asked to provide funds for increasing the teaching facilities of the college in various departments.

The Increase in Immigration.

"The past year has shown a large increase over previous years in the number of immigrants settling in Ontario. Preparations are being made to receive and settle a larger number during the present year, who will be directed to the farms of the province. With increased facilities and an improved system, it is confidently expected that the immigration and colonization work of this Government will reach the highest mark yet attained. The funds appropriated are being used solely to assist in providing farm and domestic help.

Earl and Countess Grey.

"Since the last meeting of the Legislature, His Excellency Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, accompanied by Countess Grey and their estimable family, have visited several sections of the province, and the seat of Government has been honored by their presence on two occasions. The people of the province have noted with satisfaction the great interest taken by His Excellency in all matters affecting their welfare and happiness. The extensive experience gained by His Excellency in the various public positions which he has occupied renders his opinions on such questions of the greatest possible value; while the interest manifested by the Countess Grey in all movements of a philanthropic and social nature has been a source of great satisfaction.

The T. & N. O. Railway.

"You will be pleased to learn that the operation of the first section of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway for the past year has been very satisfactory,—the income being largely in excess of the expense of operation,—and that the construction of the extension of this road has been proceeded with in the most energetic manner.

"The growing importance and value of the mineral interests of the province call for the most careful consideration and management and necessary amendments to the mining law will be submitted to you for your consideration.

"Since the last session an agreement has been arrived at with the Dominion Government for the negotiation, on equitable terms, of a treaty with the Indians who occupy large portions of the province not now under treaty.

Many Important Bills.

"Among the measures to be submitted to you for your consideration, in addition to the amendments of the mining law above mentioned, will be: Bills, respecting county councils; respecting the Department of Lands and Mines; amending and consolidating the liquor license act; amending the volunteer land grants act; revising and amending the railway act, the street railway act, and the electric railway act; amending the agricultural and arts act; amending and consolidating the several acts relating to companies; revising and amending the acts relating to public schools, and the act respecting the Department of Education; respecting the University of Toronto; and amending the supplementary revenue act, 1899, providing for the taxation of railways.

Electric Power.

"The extraordinary possibilities which the future may have in store with reference to electric power are still attracting increased attention on the part of scientific and practical men. It is expected that the report of the commissioners appointed to enquire into and report upon hydraulic and electric power in the province will be laid before you before the close of the session. A mass of information has been collected, which will, no doubt, be of great value in the future consideration of this very important question.

The University Commission.

"In the month of October last a commission was appointed to report upon a scheme for the management and government of the University of Toronto in the room and stead of the one under which the said university is now governed and for other purposes. The report of the commission is expected shortly.

Ontario's Finances.

"You will be glad to learn that the revenues of the province are largely in excess of the estimates and more than sufficient to meet the provincial expenditure during the year.

"The public accounts will be laid before you for your consideration at the earliest moment, and the estimates for the coming year will also be submitted for your approval at an early date."

New Members Introduced.

After the reading of the speech from the throne His Honor left the chamber and the Speaker opened the House with prayer as for the business of an ordinary daily session. The returns of the bye-elections were then read.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane and Mr. E. J. B. Pense, who have been elected since the last session for East Nipissing and Kingston, respectively, were then introduced.

Mr. Whitney introduced bills proforma. The House agreed to consider the speech from the throne to-day and provision was made for the appointment of the standing committees.

The Wornout Nerves, The Weak Heart, The Tired Brain, The Wasted Strength.

What a multitude of women there are who feel that these words exactly suit their case. From early morn until late at night they have been on the go, year in and year out, attending to the daily household duties, looking after the wants of her children and spending the rest of her time attending to social and church work. Is it any wonder then that sooner or later there comes a general collapse? The action of the heart becomes weak and palpitating, the nerves become unstrung, the brain feels in a whirl half the time and the usual force of vitality is lacking.

It is at this time a woman should look after herself. If she does not, serious female disorders may set in and often cause weary months and years of helplessness and miserable suffering. What she wants is something to build up her system. For this purpose there is nothing to equal

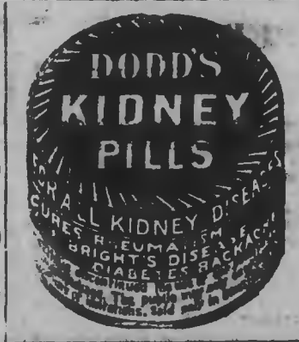
They are the women's friend in every sense of the word.

They will strengthen the weak heart, tone up the shaky, starved nerves, make the brain clear, and restore the lost vitality.

Mrs. George Lohnes, Stanley Section, N.S., writes: "I was greatly troubled with weak and dizzy spells and was so run down I could not attend to my household duties. I bought two boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after taking them I found that my trouble had all passed away. I am now strong and healthy again."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box or 3 for $1.25. If your dealer does not handle them, send direct to The Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.



Devonshire's Duke Has Some Deep Regrets

That Balfour and Chamberlain Agree On Fiscal Policy.

BUT BALFOUR MAY GO AHEAD

Unionist Party Pass Resolution of Confidence In Him—Chamberlain Objects to Being Called a Protectionist—Reorganization Is In the Air—Committee to Be Appointed—Lord Cecil Spoke.

London, Feb. 16.—(C. A. P.)—About 400 were present at the meeting of the Unionist party at Lansdowne House yesterday. Mr. Balfour in the chair appealed to the party to be united against the common enemy, for in unity alone could their power for good lie. The Duke of Norfolk proposed and Col. Sanderson seconded the vote of confidence in the leadership of Mr. Balfour. The Duke of Devonshire, in supporting, expressed regret that the correspondence of Balfour and Chamberlain seemed to indicate that they were in substantial agreement on the fiscal question. For his part he was willing to fall into line with the party on every question except that of tariff reform.

Mr. Chamberlain also addressed the meeting and said the duke had rather unfairly called him a protectionist. He dissented from that name. If his grace's view prevailed it would mean that the majority of the party would have to submit to the minority, which could not be to their advanage either in Parliament or in the country.

Viscount Staldwyn also spoke and supported the resolution of confidence in Mr. Balfour, which was carried unanimously. Considerable discussion took place on the question of party organization, and the opinion was freely expressed that a committee ought to be appointed forthwith in order to deal with the situation which had arisen. Lord Hugh Cecil also addressed the meeting.

BRITAIN AND CANADA.

Three Matters of Interest to Coms Before Parliament.

London, Feb. 16.—(C. A. P.)—Proposing the toast "Canada" at the Canadian Society dinner last night, Hamar Greenwood, who presided, announced that three matters of Canadian interest would receive the early attention of the new Government. They would be cattle embargo, deceased wife's sister's bill, and the reduction of postage on British publications to Canada.

Ladies were present for the first time. Speakers to the usual toasts were W. T. R. Preston, Wm. Black of Halifax, Dr. O'Reilly, Toronto; J. H. Thorald, Roy Somerville, Dr. Baynes and Maurice Egan.

National Pension System.

London, Feb. 16.—While declining to make rash promises, Premier Campbell-Bannerman and Chancellor of Exchequer Asquith yesterday declared themselves in entire sympathy with a deputation which called on them to advocate the establishment of a national system of old age pensions. The deputation urged that the scheme should be comprehensive and include all citizens, men or women, who at the age of 60 should receive at least $1.25 weekly pension, the money being found by means of imperial taxation.

Signed in Gaelic.

London, Feb. 16.—For the first time in the history of the House of Commons a member Wednesday, after taking the oath, signed his name in Gaelic. This patriotic member thus introducing the Irish language into the Commons is John Murphy, the member for East Kerry, and he may have to fight for the privilege.

FRANCE'S GOOD INTENTIONS.

Paris "Temps" Declares Private Efforts to Settle Are Useless.

Paris, Feb. 16.—The semi-official Temps yesterday afternoon says the time has now come "for a public discussion before the Algeciras conference with Europe and America as witnesses of France's good intentions."

The paper further asserts that private efforts among the delegates to induce France to retreat from her position are henceforth useless, adding: "It is now for the assembled conference to decide whether, as Germany contends, France's claims are irreconcilable with the integrity of Morocco, the sovereignty of the Sultan, and commercial liberty."

The foregoing is the first indication that France does not desire to pursue any further the efforts which the representatives of the neutral powers are making for a private accord before the controversy reaches the conference.

U. S. Not to Interfere.

London, Feb. 16.—A despatch to The Daily Telegraph from Algeciras says: "Mr. White (United States Ambassador to Italy, and one of the American delegates to the Algeciras convention), informs me that the rumors that the United States will arbitrate the differences between France and Germany are absolutely imaginary."

Charge Spotters With Conspiracy.

Ottawa, Feb. 16.—A charge of conspiracy has been laid by Gordon Henderson, counsel for B. Bower and J. Leduc of the Majestic Hotel against David Corcoran and Jeremiah Dandinio, the provincial spotters, acting in Ottawa under the License Act. The law provides that men so engaged shall not be prosecuted for drinking in a bar after hours, but it is claimed this provincial act does not exempt them from action under the criminal code for conspiracy, and it is alleged that the action of the detectives to secure drinks was conspiracy, using inducements to cause a man to do an unlawful act.

A Government Inquiry.

Ottawa, Feb. 16.—The Government have had before them, incidentally, the subject of life insurance, and it is said that during the coming session steps will be taken to procure from those in Canada who have given attention to the subject their views as to desirable amendments to the Insurance Act. Presumably this would be done by way of a Parliamentary committee, which would be appointed to take evidence and receive suggestions.

Earthquakes Were Felt On January 31

Cause Tidal Wave of Terrible Power In South America.

COAST TOWNS WIPED OUT

Ninety Bodies Picked Up Along the Beaches at Tumaco—Earth Opened and Engulfed Small Buildings—Colombian Village of Guacada Inundated and 200 Persons Drowned—Eruption the Cause.

New York, Feb. 15.—The Herald has a special cable from Guayaquil, Ecuador, which says:

Capt. Holroyd of the steamship Quito, which arrived to-day from Panama via Tumaco, Colombia, reports that it is believed that all the coast towns between Tumaco and Buenaventura have been entirely destroyed by a tidal wave, occasioned by the earthquakes of Jan. 31. In several cases the earth opened, engulfing small buildings. Already 70 bodies have been picked up on the beaches near Tumaco.

Passengers from the Province of Esmeraldas, in the extreme northwestern part of Ecuador, who arrived here today, report that earthquake shocks were felt there Jan. 31, and that several towns in the Provinces of Esmeraldas and Manabi, were seriously damaged. At Esmeraldas City several houses collapsed, including the government house.

The Village of Pinguagi, near the Colombian frontier, was inundated by a tidal wave, and many inhabitants were drowned. Ninety bodies were washed ashore at Tumaco.

At Rio Verde several houses collapsed. During eight days 25 shocks were felt in Esmeraldas. The Colombian Village of Guacada also was inundated by a tidal wave and 200 persons were drowned. The eruption of the Colombian volcano Cumbal caused the earthquake.

Washout on the Chanchan River detained at Huigra the train bringing former President Lizardo Garcia to Guayaquil. Senor Garcia intended embarking on Tuesday night on board the British steamer Colombia for Lima, where he intends to reside. President Alfaro gave Senor Garcia all facilities for traveling unmolested.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT ST. JOHN.

Fire Brigade Work Under Dangerous Conditions.

St. John, N.B., Feb. 16.—A disastrous fire broke out here at 2 o'clock yesterday morning right in the centre of the retail business section of the city, doing damage to the extent of about $100,000.

The fire originated in a large four-storey brick block, recently purchased by the Royal Bank of Canada from the McLaughlin estate. This building, meant to be remodelled, for the bank's own use, is a total wreck. The bank has $25,000 insurance, the value of the building being about $38,000.

The night was bitterly cold, with heavy northeast wind blowing, and the streets were a glare of ice, making work of the fire department exceedingly difficult and dangerous.

WOMAN'S NEED

AT THE CRITICAL PERIODS OF HER LIFE AND HOW IT IS BEST SUPPLIED BY

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

We are sometimes asked why Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is so successful in curing the ailments peculiar to women, and this is the explanation:

The feminine organism is a regular network of nerves, and consequently requires an enormous quantity of rich, nourishing blood.

At the critical times such as the dawn of womanhood, the child-bearing and nursing age and the change of life, nerve force is consumed at a tremendous rate.

The blood is drawn away from other parts of the body, and the result is neuralgic pains and aches, failure of the digestive system, and a run-down condition of the body generally.

Dr Chase's Nerve Food supplies exactly what is most needed at these times—the very elements from which rich blood and vital nerve force are made.

Women who suffer from weakness and irregularities from painful periods and distressing headaches, from tired, worn-out feelings, and the disorders of the digestion, will be surprised at the benefits obtained from the use of the great food cure of Dr. Chase.

Mrs. Chas. Keeling, Sr., Owen Sound, Ont., writes:—"It is a pleasure to tell what great benefits I have derived from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I am fifty five years of age, and for about five years my life was one of great suffering from nervousness, weakness and extreme physical exhaustion. I could not sleep, and hot flashes would pass through my body from feet to head. I consulted our family physician and two other doctors, but they told me about my time of life I was likely to be troubled that way. I continually grew worse, and despaired of ever being cured. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food came to my notice, and as we have Dr. Chase's Receipt Book, I had confidence in the doctor. I was so surprised at the help I received from the first box that I brought three more. They built me right up, and made me feel healthy and strong again. They have proven a great blessing to me, and I hope this testimonial will be of help to some weak, nervous woman suffering as I did."

It is well worth your while to put up, while the blood and nerves are being revitalized and the form rounded out, note your increase in weight, so that you may have positive proof of the blood-forming value of this great medicine. 50 cts. a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, on every box.

Peterborough Bonspiel

CONCLUDED LAST NIGHT

With The Presentations

C. N. Brown's Rink Won the Final Consolation Game—Beaverton and Bobcaygeon Receives Prizes—President Gave an Address—Praise for Secretary of Committee—Yesterday's Close Games.

The Peterborough Bonspiel of 1906 was brought to a conclusion last night by the final consolation game won by C. N. Brown's rink over that of T. Rutherford. The game throughout was keenly contested, but the superior curling of the winners gained for them third place laurels in the great bonspiel.

In the afternoon two very close games were played, in which the only two outside rinks which remained to the semi-finals, Bobcaygeon and Beaverton, were defeated by one point in each case. These rinks curled excellently during the whole competition, and the skips, Reid, of Bobcaygeon, and Morrison, of Beaverton, were heartily praised for their splendid curling abilities, and all were voted "jolly good fellows."

Those two rinks left for home on the evening train, the proud possessors of the third and fourth consolation prizes. A large number of their curling friends in the city were present and gave them a hearty send-off.

After the games were concluded last night the presentation of prizes to the local winners took place in the rink parlour, and was a fitting conclusion to the most interesting and successful of Peterborough bonspiels.

Mr. T. Brightman, the president, was in the chair, and gave a brief review of the past bonspiels. On behalf of the club he expressed his appreciation for the great work done by Mr. J. S. Knapman, secretary of the Bonspiel Committee. The gratifying success of the event was chiefly due to his untiring interest throughout.

The speaker was sorry that more outside rinks had not participated in the competition, as it was an excellent opportunity to promote social feelings among the curlers of the different towns. He was pleased to see the attention given to the games by the locals, without which the contest would not have been successful. All, he said, were satisfied with this year's bonspiel and expressed themselves as having "a jolly good time."

The first primary prizes, solid leather dressing cases, were presented to Dickson Davidson and his rink, by the president, in a brief speech, which was appropriately replied to by the skip of the victorious four. Mr. Brightman also presented "Jimmy" Counal and his rink with the second primary, the gold lockets.

Mr. Giroux made the presentation of the solid leather grips to the winners of the first consolation, and Mr. Brown presented T. Rutherford's quartette with the cut-glass bowls, winners of the second consolation.

A short programme followed, in which two songs were sung by Mr. A. P. McDonald. Mr. Jno. Cameron was called upon for a speech, and responded appropriately. He traced the curling game from the time the first stone was curled by David which killed Goliath. Then on down through the different stages of its progress until it reached Peterborough. The first curling in this district, he said, was commenced at Keene by Mr. Russell, now residing in Toronto.

Luncheon was then partaken of by the company, and the most successful of Peterborough bonspiels was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

Wants Goderich To Trim Locals

That's What the London Free Press Would Like.

The London Free Press sporting writer doesn't want to see the Peterborough team lund the Intermediate championship, as witness the following:

While the Western Ontario enthusiasts would be pleased to see the "husky" chaps from the lake shore (Goderich) return with the silverware it is doubtful if they will get further than the second round. In all probability their next opponents will be Berlin, and right there they have their hands full, meeting, as they do, a team perfect in team work, a quality the Goderich team are totally lacking. Still it may be that their individual work and weight, which has so often stood them in good stead, will carry them on into the finals, where they are certain to meet Peterborough. The Toronto Star sizes up the two as follows: "Goderich is reported to have an extremely fast intermediate seven. They will have to have something more than 'extremely fast' to put the kibosh over Peterborough." Let us hope they can.

The crowd at the City League games last night illustrated the fact that Peterborough people have not lost their love of hockey and when a good game is assured they will turn out the same as in the older days.

Best Game Of Season

WAS THE CITY LEAGUE

Game Of Last Night

High Lifes and Suburbs Great Contest--Score Was 1-0—Only Goal Scored Was in First Half--Teams Were Evenly Matched---Second Game Was One-Sided—Charlotte Street Won by 5-0.

As was generally expected, the City League game between the Suburbs of Lakefield and the High Lifes drew an enormous crowd, that is, for a City League game, and as was, perhaps, not generally expected, the High Lifes carried off the honours, defeating the fast Lakefield seven by a score of 1-0. Although the local seven won, it is only fair to the northern villagers to state that the play was remarkably even throughout, and it was just a toss-up to decide which was the better team. One thing is certain, and that is that Referee Wasson was strictly impartial, and Lakefield has no kick coming in this respect. Wasson was never in better form and refereed in regular Stanley Cup style. A crowd of about 175 accompanied the Suburbs, and they cheered loudly for their favourites every time they made a good play. A number of Peterborough people also shouted for the visitors. The ice was in perfect shape, and the physical condition of the players on both teams seemed to be good. They never let up from start to finish. It was nip and tuck all through. A High Life man would dash up the ice one minute, amid the deafening cheers of the supporters of that team, and the next minute the admirers of the Suburbs were yelling like mad as one of their pets dashed up the ice in a dangerous looking rush. The enthusiasm displayed throughout the match was very marked, and from the first time the referee rang his bell to the conclusion of the game the interest and excitement never waned. Both teams played very aggressive hockey and it was hockey all through the game, being free from unnecessary roughness. The result of the game makes a three-cornered tie between Charlotte Street, High Lifes and the Suburbs. One team will, of course, be given a bye. The next game will be played on the coming Thursday, and it has not been yet definitely decided which two teams will meet. The surprising feature of the game was Fitzpatrick's marvellously good work in goal. He never took his eye off the puck during the whole game, and everything that came his way was very suddenly stopped. He never was in better form in his life, and the supporters of the High Lifes were delighted with his superb work. Meagher, at point, "was there like a duck," and was in the game all the while. Ford, at cover, played in splendid form. It would be hard to particularize concerning the forwards, as they all put up a clear-cut article of hockey. Hall was very effective as rover, and McGrath, Long and Rose worked well together. Rose was the man who scored the goal which gave the High Lifes the game. He did it on a side shot after 16 minutes of playing in the first half. McGrath passed the puck to him from a face-off in the corner, and he sent one to the nets that beat out Moore. The cheers that greeted the tally were deafening. It didn't appear to be such a very hard shot, either, but it got there just the same. Lakefield played desperately to score, and looked as though they might do so in the first half, during which they had the better of the play, but in the second half the High Lifes had the puck most of the time, and had the advantage throughout this period.

For the losers, Blomfield was undoubtedly the star. On two occasions he lifted the puck from near his own goal and it dropped right at Fitz's feet. The latter was in gilt-edged form, however, and defended his citadel with great skill. Moore, in goal, played a fine game, and made many phenomenal stops. Hurl, at point, was also in fine form and played with a deliberation and coolness that has marked his work all through the season. No point player in the league has done any better work this season than Hurl. Quigley, on right wing, played his usual fast, consistent and clean game and was after the puck all the time. Simpson, at centre, seemed to be a little off colour and did not display the same speed and skill in stick-handling that has marked his other appearances here. Quinn, who has probably more speed than any man on the Suburbs forward line, didn't get working fast night as fast as he usually does, although at times he worked in some very fast rushes. He was closely checked.

THE GAME.

Play had just commenced when Blomfield lifted one right on the High Life's goal. It was a treacherous looking one, but Fitz. got in front of it and banged it into the corner. Rose shot at a distance of about six feet from the goal, and Moore made a sensational stop. Quigley threw one at the High Lifes' nets that the tall boy handled it with skill. Blomfield lifted another of his high drops on goal that caused the audience to keep perfectly still till they saw the High Lifes' goal tender bat the rubber out of danger's way. He shot again from either quarters, but the rubber went wide of the posts. Rose shot from his wing on one that was passed out to them from a face off in the corner, and it found the nets. Time, 16 minutes. Score, 1—0.

There were no startling features before half time was called with the tally 1—0 in favour of the High Lifes.

Second Half.

Rose sent one in on Moore that barely glanced by the posts. The puck was being kept pretty much in Lakefield's territory. Long, the first man to be benched, was given a minute for tripping. Long worked in a pretty run down along the boards, but Moore stopped cleverly. Long again bored in a dangerous looking one from the side. The play was all High Life now. Hall sent in a wide hot one. Lakefield started a nice combination going, but Ford broke it up, and shot the rubber down the ice. Simpson uncorked a nice rush. Long was boarded two minutes for tripping. Quigley started off on a likely looking rush, but but he was offside. Blomfield started another good combination going, but the puck was lost near the High Life's goal. Fitz. was called upon to get in the way of a nasty looking grounder.

The bell rang for time, both teams playing desperately.

Suicides-Charlotte Streets.

This game was by no means a fast exhibition, and was anything between a burlesque and a wrestling match. The players seemed to fall all over the ice, and every now and again a player would suddenly drop as though hit by some unseen enemy. The Methodists had their opponents, who were without the services of McMillan and Campbell, outclassed all the time, and easily defeated them by a score of 5—0. At half time it was 4—0. The game was probably the poorest exhibition yet seen on the League this winter, and the Suicides displayed very ragged form.

The Game.

Miller broke away on a pretty rush and two minutes after the game commenced, scored the first one for the Guild. Score, 1—0.

Nicholls, whose misdemeanours are pretty nearly always spotted by the referee, found himself doing a minute on the fence for slashing before he had hardly become warmed up. Dusty notched the second game for the Guild in 3 1-2 minutes. Score 2—0.

Weatherstone and Nicholls got tangled up and both went down together. Mann was penalized for 2 minutes for slashing. Curtis went to the fence and tried to convince the time keepers that he was the offender, but the timekeeper knew better and Mann was forced to serve his sentence. Miller fell and Weeks toppled over him. Wilson made a good stop. Gilman was given two minutes for slashing. Curtis and Nicholls collided, and after doing a little can can dance both dropped to the frozen water. Lang in clearing his goal hit Nicholls with the puck injuring him rather severly and delaying the game for a short time. Dusty again scored for Charlotte street on a neat side shot. Time 10 1-2 minutes. Score, 3—0.

Nicholls did the necessary 3 minutes later. Score, 4—0.

Nicholls made a couple of nice tops just before the gong rang for half time. Score, 4—0.

The play in the second half had been going on for eight minutes when Roddy was hurt, delaying the game for a minute or two. Weatherstone received a pass, and shot, but as he was about fifteen feet straight offside Referee Parnell rang him back. Weeks tore off a pretty fair rush. Gilman bowled Nicholls over. Nicholls was rested two minutes for bodying. A little later he was given the same length of time for slashing. Curtis was given two minutes rest for mistaking Dusty's stick for a tree. Miller bored in a hot one, blocked well, but Nicholls, who followed up hit the rubber home on the rebound. This ended the scoring. Final score, 5—0.

What's in a name? The Lindsay Midgets are about the heaviest bunch in the O.H.A. Junior series and the Brockville Invincibles were easy money for the Peterboroughs.

* * * *

The The Invincibles of Brockville play in Peterborough to-night, and, as Peterborough beat them 14-2 on their own ice the Brockvilles do not appear to have much chance in Peterborough. If they wanted a gate at home the Petes were foolish to pile up such a score. It is hinted that Peterborough intends to try for a record score against Brockville to-night, hoping to eclipse the 26-0 score of the Brockville rentors against the Montagnards of Montreal. "Billy" Burke of this city will referee.—Belleville Intelligence.

Committees.

Rifle—Major Stevenson, chairman; the Captains of Companies and one man from each Company.

Band—Captain Walker, chairman; Captain Clegg and Captain McWilliams.

Nominating — Lieut.-Col. Miller, chairman; Chaplain Rev. J. C. Davidson, Captain Bennett, Captain Clegg and Captain McWilliams.

Auditors—Captain McLean and Lieut. Kelly.

Trip—Captain Mills, Captain McLean and Lieut. Clarke.

Several matters in connection with the regiment were discussed at some length. Much enthusiasm was manifest concerning the outlook for the regiment and the aim of the officers will be to make 1906 the banner year in the history of the regiment.

Stratton Cup A Handsome One

Beautiful Trophy Presented to City Hockey League.

The handsome silver cup presented by Hon. J. R. Stratton to the City League for competition was on exhibition in Sanderson's jewellery establishment yesterday, and attracted considerable attention and admiration. The trophy is a very beautiful one of a graceful design and stands about 16 inches high. The following inscription is engraved on the trophy: "Presented to Peterborough City Hockey League by Hon. J. R. Stratton, 1906." A silver plate is attached for the name of the winner.

Will Belleville Never Forgive?

Still Blame Peterboro' for Putting Them Out of Business.

It seems as if Belleville will never forgive Peterborough for "helping to kick them out of business" as they expressed it. The Intelligence says:—

"The Peterborough papers are bewailing the fact that the great Peterborough hockey team is not getting decent support from the people of that city. What could they expect? People don't pay their good money to see a fast team play rag with a lot of dubs. They want to see two fairly evenly matched teams fight it out; then there is a chance for a little excitement. By the way, there used to be very few vacant seats in the Peterborough rink when Belleville played there, and Peterborough must have realized by this time that it is one thing to help kick a good team out of business and quite another to fill their places. It will be some time before Peterborough gets the big crowds it used to at hockey matches—perhaps not till it stacks up against Belleville again, and that time does not appear to be in sight.

Cressmans' Were Better Hoppers

After the city league games last night Cressman's and Turnbull's Counter Hoppens met in an exciting game of hockey which was won by the former by the decisive score of 6-0, all tallied in the latter half. For the winners Darling, Bell and Cressman figured prominently although the latter two spent a few minutes on the fence for rough play. Wilson and the two Gillespies played good hockey for the Turnbull aggregation, but they had to obey "The Sterner Stress" of the other hoppers.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Referee—E. Taylor.

HOCKEY

Queens have a pretty fair seven but their chances for the Stanley Silverware seem to be mighty poor. It will be remembered that Queen's defeated the locals here at the first of the season. If a game would be arranged now the blue should win. A match between the locals and the Kingston Collegians should pack the rink up to the rafters.

• • • •

Lindsay Midgets defeated Midland last night by a score of 11-6, thus winning the round by 6 goals.

• • • •

Berlin tied Milton at Milton last night the score being 8 all. Both teams are playing fast intermediate hockey and the locals may encounter some difficulty yet in the race for the cup.

• • • •

Goderich trimmed Stratford in the semi-final game by 12-8. It looks as if Peterborough had a hard proposition ahead of them but the boys are playing great hockey now and will take a lot of beating.

• • • •

Peterborough plays the winners of Pthe north and west; the north comes first then the finals with the winners of the western groups, viz, Goderich, Berlin, Milton.

W. H. HILL

District Manager Peterborough

• • • •

Chris. Graham and Harry Morgan are playing faster this year than ever. Both are skating, passing and shooting in fine form and checking back better than they did when Peterborough landed the championship in 1902, and that's saying a whole lot.

• • • •

Melville Moore is developing into a first-class cover point and with a little more coaching by the "big leaguer" will be fast enough for any old company.

• • • •

Harry Morgan was ruled off for the first time this season on Wednesday night. Something wrong, it was a shame to do it.

• • • •

The seniors practice to-night from 7 to 8.

• • • •

The seniors had a good work-out last night. Glover, Morgan, Whitcroft, Parnell, Graham, and Stroud were out and put in half an hour of fast skating and combination which entertained the Lakefield contingent which were on hand early to see their pets perform.

• • • •

Thee Peterborough Shoval and Tool Company's team will play the Peterborough Lock Works team a week from to-night at the Brock street rink.

• • • •

LeBrun's accuse Tully, Merrell and Meredith's of flunking a game after challenging them and after the challenge had been accepted. This is as bad as a soubrette after a whole lot of capering, refusing to pick up a bundle of roses that had been tossed on the stage.

• • • •

The Review and Examiner game has at last been arranged. On Thursday next the press sepiottes will chase the puck after the city league game. Both teams are in pretty fair shape and "Uncle Pike" McCrea of the Review seven who has been doing considerable training lately took a bath last night in preparation for the big game. He includes sprinting in his training list and can now atop a hundred in 36, flat, of course.

• • • •

Brockville Federal League team defeated the Victorias of Montreal, in Brockville last night by a score of 11-7. Not a player was ruled off.

• • • •

When any of the Review team refers to the "long green" one is naturally inclined to think of Big Chief Metheral.

• • • •

At the Knox Church rink last night the Knox septette defeated Park street by the score of 2-1. The score correctly indicates the relative playing of the teams so that the game was keenly contested. For the losers, S. Gillespie and Barclay did some scientific work while all the winners played a steady game. The teams lined up as follows:—

Knox Church.		Park Street.
Killenbeck	Goal.	Garside
Dendon	Point.	P. Gillespie
Chrisan	Cover Point.	Barrie
Frost	Centre.	Johnston
Turner	Rover.	Barclay
Hamilton	Right Wing.	Loomis

Referee—R. Hilliard.

• • • •

It is said that considerable money will change hands on the Review-Examiner game. That is, of course, if any member of the Review seven gets into the Examiner dressing room by any chance.

• • • •

The High Lifes don't seem to live up to their name. Judging by the splendid condition they were in last night they have been living an extremely simple life for some time past.

• • • •

The Suicides haven't scored a single goal in a league match yet. If they had succeeded in doing so Big Chief Metheral, their manager, intended treating his team to a fat-ster supper.

• • • •

The Victoria and Separate School teams will meet to-night at the Y.M.C.A. rink.

BASKET-BALL.

The Royals defeated the School Boys at the Y. M. C. A. last night, the score being Royals 35, School Boys 32. The teams were as follows:—

Royals.		School Boys.
	Backs.
E. Hanwell, Capt.		H. Wallace.
G. Pickles		W. Fonty
	Centre.
W. Yelland		H. Heap, Capt.
	Forwards.
A. Hall		H. Munro
E. Thornton		W. English

WRESTLING.

CURLING

Flavelle, of Lindsay, landed the Hodge International trophy at Winnipeg last night.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE FATAL WEDDING.

So exacting and fatiguing is the role of "Jessie," (the Little Mother) in "The Fatal Wedding," which will be the attraction at the Grand opera house, on Monday next, Feb. 19th, that Sullivan, Harris and Woods have engaged the services of two child artists, the Misses Fox and Gussie Shires, to interpret the part. Each of these very young ladies will alternate with the other at the various performances, thus giving each from four to five performances a week, instead of the usual nine. This character of "The Little Mother," is one that appeals instantly to every feminine heart and to that fact may be ascribed much of the success of this remarkable melodrama. Prices 50, 35, 25c; gallery 15c.

AN EVENING OF MYSTERY.

Of the Fays to be at the Grand, next week, the Ottawa Free Press says: "An evening of mysteries might well be called the entertainment presented by The Fays in the Russell Theatre last evening for the second time. There was a large attendance and the thought uppermost in the minds of the spectators was what manner of woman is this that can read our inmost thoughts simply because we have written them on a piece of paper kept in our own possession or concentrated our minds upon them, and who bound hand and foot can perform things which ordinarily require the use of these members.

The Blacksmith's Daughter, which will be presented at St. John's school room to-night, has been thoroughly rehearsed by the cast, and the prospects are that it will be largely attended.

Four Persons Done To Death: Horrible Crime Is Reported

One of The Foulest Murders Ever Known in Nova Scotia.—Was The Motive Revenge?—Anton Stetka, His Wife and Two Children Brained With an Axe—Home Then Fired in The Endeavor to Cover Up The Crime—Mother Was a Witness in a Serious Case.

Sydney, N. S., Feb. 17.—A terrible tragedy occurred at Dominion No. 1 early yesterday morning. Four charred and blackened corpses—those of Anton Stetka, his wife and two children—were found among the ruins of his burned dwelling. Great mystery surrounds the occurrence, but the circumstances point to a crime of the most desperate character. The fire was discovered by Conductor Cathcart, who came through Dominion in charge of a train of empty cars. The engineer gave the alarm and the trainmen rushed up to the burning building and rapped on the door. The house was burning fiercely inside and the flames were just beginning to break through.

Place Was Fired.

According to some neighbors, who hurried to the scene, the fire had apparently started downstairs. The people had been in the habit of keeping fires in the kitchen only. The parents and children all slept in the same room. The fire made great headway and it was supposed the inmates had made their escape. At three o'clock the walls of the house fell in and after a search among the ruins, the bodies were discovered. The children were locked in each other's arms and the skulls of the wife and children were found to be broken and that the husband entirely removed. An axe was found between the two beds. Stetka and his wife were Austrians and had been residing in the Dominion for about three years. The children were a boy and a girl, aged four and two respectively.

Whole Family Murdered.

About six months ago they purchased a house from Henry Mitchell and had practically paid for it, but during the past few days expressed a desire to return to Austria. This is said to be due to something that occurred about three months ago. On a pay night, during the absence of her husband, Mrs. Stetka is alleged to have been the victim of an attempted criminal assault made by a Newfoundlander named Snelgrove, who was subsequently arrested and committed to the Supreme Court. He now lies in jail awaiting trial.

His mother lives quite near the home of the Stetkas. The theory receiving most credence is that the whole family was murdered by enemies.

Coroner Philen has empanelled a jury and an inquest will be held.

Barber's Tragic End.

Montreal, Feb. 17.—Sidney Norbert, a barber, formerly of Ottawa, is dead and coroner's court officers think he was beaten and robbed, a gold ring, watch and his money having disappeared. He was found in his shop battered into insensibility and nearly frozen. He died later at the Hotel Dieu.

Hugh Clark and P. H. Bowyer Mover and Seconder—Hon. Geo. W. Ross Adjourns Debate—Investigation of Insurance and Loan Companies—Education Requires Heroic Treatment.

Toronto, Feb. 17.—The Legislature occupied itself yesterday afternoon with listening to the speeches of Messrs. Hugh Clark (Centre Bruce) and P. H. Bowyer (West Kent), in opening the debate on the speech from the throne. With some reference to the events of a year ago and some comment on the measures foreshadowed by the Government there was little ground for oratory. Both speeches were necessarily discursive, but were pointed and fluent, and met with much applause from the Government benches. The debate was adjourned till Tuesday on the motion of Hon. Geo. W. Ross.

A large number of petitions having been presented, Mr. Hugh Clark rose to move the address in reply to the speech from the throne. He congratulated the House on the abundant harvest of last year, and upon the peace and tranquility reigning in the Province for twelve months past, which was so peculiarly grateful and comforting. The splendid record of the new Government had vindicated Canadian character, inasmuch as no one now believed that all the talents were sewn up in one party. Mr. Clark wondered if the leader of the Opposition had been observant of recent events, and had noted the resignation of a political leader while still possessed of a majority of 70. He commented on the masterly way the masterly inactivity of the former Attorney-General had been explained away. The present Attorney-General, he said, did not raise obstacles in his own path. The investigation of the York County Loan Company's affairs was a commendable action, and Mr. Clark thought something might be necessary in the same direction for certain life insurance companies. The report by a United States expert, issued by one company, he styled an act of hysteria by frightened men. He did not suggest that policyholders' money was not as safe as in the Bank of England, but the point of interest was the disposition of profits.

Not Opposed to Temiskaming.

Mr. Clark chaffed the hon. member for Brockville on having accused the Government of breaking promises within two months of the election, and inside of a year of writing poetry. Mr. Clark had always approved the succession duties, and he was not aware that Conservatives had ever opposed the Temiskaming Railway. He had been in the Press Gallery at the time, and remembered that they asked for a good deal of information they never received. It would have been profitable had more consideration been paid the matter.

The education question, thought Mr. Clark, required heroic treatment. It would not be necessary, however, to send to Scotland for bank clerks if the banks, like the military service and other systems, could get rid of the idea that a salary was not intended to be lived upon, but should be supplemented by a private income. Male teachers could not be had without an increase in salaries. The want of uniformity of text-books and readers in schools should be remedied.

With regard to the County Councils act Mr. Clark thought the Councils on the whole were good, but they had a bad effect on the standard of minor municipal Councils. With an interesting reference to the resources of the Province Mr. Clark concluded a half-hours' speech by moving the reply.

License Fee Returns.

Mr. P. H. Bowyer in seconding the address touched on a number of topics connected with the Government's policy in the fishery, agricultural, forests and other departments. In respect of the license act he quoted the opinions of Crown Attorneys of his acquaintance as to the difficulty of its interpretation. He advocated an increase in the cost of licenses, at least half the amount to go to the municipalities concerned. In Detroit the average amount contributed by the retail license-holders was $1.95 per head of the population. In Buffalo it was $3.19. In Toronto, which was representative of Ontario municipalities, the amount per head of the population contributed by licenses was only thirty cents.

An amendment, thought Mr Bowyer, was required to the companies' act to protect the common people from the sharks and promoters who went about inveigling money out of the people's pockets by bogus prospectuses. Mr. Bowyer also supported the idea of a uniform series of text-books, of which the copyright should belong to the Government, which might rent the plates to publishers, the books to be printed in standard style and at maximum prices to be fixed.

Railway Taxation.

In the matter of railway taxation Mr. Bowyer considered it unfair that a farmer had to pay as much on $1,000 of property as the railways paid on $4,000. In Ontario the railways only paid one-third as much as in Michigan. The progressive Conservative party was the new name Mr. Bowyer suggested for his political allies, who enjoyed, he declared, the confidence of many old-time Liberals. The Government had nothing to fear from the corporations. The people were behind the Government, which might deal fearlessly with the big interests. Those who charged the Premier with weakness in connection with the spoils system "knew not Joseph."

Hon. Geo. W. Ross moved the adjournment of the debate until Tuesday afternoon.

The Premier, having remarked that the debate would be closed at 6 o'clock on Tuesday, moved the adjournment of the House.

The House stood adjourned till Monday at 3.

FUNERAL OF KING CHRISTIAN

Enormous Black Garbed Crowds Testified to Their Sorrow—The Royal Mourners—Silence and Sobs.

Copenhagen, Feb. 17.—The body of King Christian was removed from the Christianborg Church here yesterday to the cathedral at Roskilde, 30 miles from Copenhagen, where it will be buried Sunday morning among the tombs of the Danish kings, who for a thousand years have found their last resting place in the ancient capital of the kingdom.

The whole of Copenhagen was given up to mourning. Business and work were at a standstill, while emblems of sorrow were displayed everywhere. The enormous black garbed crowds of town people, swelled by thousands of arrivals from the country districts, thronged the square in front of the Christianborg Church.

Shortly before noon the Kings of Denmark, Greece and Norway, Queen Alexandra of England, the Dowager Empress of Russia, and other royal relatives of the deceased, and the representatives of the foreign sovereigns reached the Christianborg Church, where a brief service was held at the conclusion of which the coffin, covered with the Danish standard, was borne high by naval and military officers to the waiting hearse.

Then headed by infantry and cavalry a simple cortege was formed and slowly proceeded through the three and a half miles of streets between the church and the railroad station. Immediately behind the hearse was led [illegible] favorite riding horse, Jussuf, which will be shot to-night, according to the ancient Danish custom.

The bells of all the churches were tolled, and minute guns were fired from the arsenal throughout the progress of the cortege and until the coffin was placed on the funeral train.

Many affecting scenes were witnessed in the streets. The profound silence was broken only by the sobs of the women and the momentary excitement caused by fainting and minor accidents due to the pressure of the huge crowds.

At the station the coffin was placed in the funeral car, in which some of the members of the royal family also traveled. On reaching Roskilde the fourth regiment of Dragoons formed the escort of the coffin which was borne to the cathedral and placed on a catafalque before the high altar to await the last rites on Sunday.

The Adventurers

By H. B. MARRIOTT WATSON

COPYRIGHT, 1898, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"You misunderstand me, sir," I said cheerfully. "I have no intention of selling the castle."

He leaped to his feet. "What!" he yelled, and his sallow face spread with color. "You said £20,000!"

"Excuse me; no," I said. "Your client, Mr. Barnett, did me the honor to suppose I should be willing to sell, and I was polite enough to suppose so with him."

There was never a man in so atrocious a temper as my little attorney. His color went, and he grew a livid yellow with passion, and, being now no longer at the necessity of civility, he broke into covert invective, presenting to me a surly demeanor. I ignored his unmannerliness, but kept my placid smile all the time that he was arranging his departure. On the threshold of the door he paused and, turning, demanded:

"Is your decision final?"

I assured him that it was absolute. He gave me an extremely vicious look as he disappeared.

"You will regret this, Mr. Greatorex," he observed.

I understood that the phrase was not uncommonly used in similar circumstances, but in truth I need hardly say that I should not have turned a sarcasm at the expense of Mr. Barnett's inoffensive client, despite Mr. Barnett's offensive manner, if I had not been absolutely certain that Mr. Barnett's client did not exist. At least I would have gone bail that he was no relation to the departed Vyvians, and I would even have ventured to doubt if he knew much more of them than did Mr. Barnett himself, for it was plain enough to me by this time that some person or some persons had particular reasons for desiring to obtain possession of my inheritance. So much being clear it only remained to determine those particular reasons, reasons which I could now perceive were involved in the secret of my dead friend and probably also in the culminating tragedy of his death.

When I was rid of my visitor I set forth upon a stroll in the woods. It was 4 in the afternoon, and the sun shone very fiercely upon the white roads, throwing black shadows from the trees. I dropped from the roadway into a rude moss grown track that ran into the heart of the valley, and presently, leaving the more open parts of the forest, struck into the deeper brakes and tangles below. The little stream ran here in the bottom very pleasantly, sometimes brawling over shallows and at other parts more silently in eddies and drifts over darker and deeper pools. As I followed its course I came shortly upon a spot where the channel made an elbow almost at right angles with its former direction, and here I descried the form of Captain Sercombe. A sound of voices reached me, and, cheered by the prospect of a companion with whom to exchange sentences, I uttered a short "Hello!" and dived through the undergrowth toward him. When I emerged upon the open space upon which the captain stood my attention was caught by a rustling among the branches, and I had a glimpse of some one just disappearing into the wood. I stopped with my eyes fastened upon the point, for something familiar in the incident struck me all of a sudden. That lean, slim figure, that swift, precipitate rush—these were as impressions recovered from some past experience. Captain Sercombe was lazily whipping a deep pool, a pipe between his teeth, and, turning his head, he hailed me:

"You have frightened my fish, sir," said he.

I begged his pardon somewhat abstractedly, and, raising himself, he looked at me, following the direction of my glance.

"Oh, that's my worthy and very obsequious host," said he, with a smile, taking his pipe from his mouth. "I wish he would let me alone, but he's so awfully officious. Thought he knew the likeliest spots, and would insist on showing me. As if I hadn't fished before he was born!"

I joined him on the bank.

"Any luck?" I asked.

He opened his basket. "A couple of smallish ones," he returned. "But there's a big fellow here, if your noise hasn't frightened him."

He threw a cast very neatly and, bending over his line, was wholly absorbed by his occupation. But nothing would tempt the trout to rise, and the captain soon gave me his attention again.

"There's nothing equal to an obstinate fish," he remarked thoughtfully. "I envy you, Mr. Greatorex. If I lived in this spot I could ask no better than to spend my life on the banks of this brook."

"Ah, you have the proper spirit!" said I.

"All the same," he declared, "it's a mighty hot tramp through those brakes, and I've earned my dinner."

We left the stream in company and mounted to the highroad.

"Come in," said the captain as we reached the Woodman, and the invitation was so natural, issued as so much a matter of course, that I entered behind him almost unconsciously.

"You will excuse me if I have a little refreshment, Mr. Greatorex," he said. "I have been out since 10 o'clock and am only held together by a few sandwiches. Besides, I have always an appetite. Hood! Hood!" he called.

The inkeeper entered and received his orders.

"Now, sir, take a seat. I think you'll find that apology for a sofa at least comfortable," continued my host, and he flung himself, breathing hard, into an armchair and fanned his face with his handkerchief.

"How is the new inheritance?" he asked presently.

There was no shadow of offense in his voice, and I should have been surly indeed to have taken for a liberty what was clearly a friendly interest in my affairs. I said I hoped that he would pay me a visit and see for himself.

"Thank you very much," said he, with a delicate bow of acknowledgment. "I shall be delighted. I had a sight of the old place yesterday as I passed the gates."

Hood entered with a tray of refreshments, and Sercombe drew himself up to the table and began upon his untimely meal.

"I don't know what digestion is, Mr. Greatorex," he explained. "I believe it is a term in use among doctors to terrify nervous patients. I eat when I like, not when society wants me." And, filling his mouth, he asked me if I had resolved to live in the castle.

"You have frightened my fish, sir," said he.

"At present, yes," I answered, "though certainly it would appear to be in despite of fortune, for it is not the fault of some people that I am not sent packing off to London."

He stared at me in the act of drinking, and I felt Hood's eyes also upon me. The next second the innkeeper resumed his work, placing a fork softly by the captain's plate.

"How do you mean?" asked Sercombe.

As I had started the tale, I went on with it, rehearsing briefly the visit of Barnett.

Captain Sercombe smiled and went on with his food.

"Oh, I thought some one had been disputing your title," he said, "that is all. I hope you fooled him?"

I related my victory with some satisfaction, and Sercombe chuckled.

"Well, you're going to keep your castle?" he resumed. "Patriotic man! Though I should judge £20,000 to be a good market price for the property."

"It is not worth half as much," said I.

"Then why not, in the name of goodness, take your profit?" demanded the captain, opening his eyes in astonishment.

"I'm in no hurry," said I, smiling.

"Humph!" ejaculated the captain, picking his teeth thoughtfully. "Well, you may be right, though I don't see your reasons. A landed estate is merely a nuisance, so far as my experience goes. It's all payment and no returns. It takes a wealthy man to keep an estate. If I had your place, Mr. Greatorex, I should be disposed to let it, at any rate, and enjoy the proceeds while I might. You'd find no difficulty in doing that, I should think."

"I dare say not," was my reply.

"Why," continued the captain, as if smiling at his own thought, "I would take it off your hands for a month or so for the fishing alone—that is, if you were reasonable."

For some reason or other this semi-jocose offer irritated me, possibly because of previous experiences.

"Between you, you are bound to have me out," I said, rather dryly. "But I assure you I will not budge."

I was not looking at him as I spoke, but out of the tail of my eye it seemed to me that I caught a quick exchange of glances between the captain and the innkeeper, and to my imagination—for such it may have been—the face of the man Hood wore an unmistakable frown. But as I turned sharply he was merely refilling the captain's glass and using a deft napkin upon the soda water bottle.

Sercombe burst out laughing in his comfortable fashion.

"My dear sir," said he, "it is long since I was in a position to pose as a country gentleman, and for my own part I sincerely hope you will occupy the castle as long as I occupy the inn. After that I fear I shall have no further interest in the matter."

I felt distinctly snubbed by the rejoinder, for all that it was delivered in so hearty a manner. But I got out of the inn creditably enough and with a neat stroke in return, all very good humored. All the same, upon my homeward journey I was troubled by that mutual signal which I had seemed to discover between these two incongruous people. As for Sercombe's offer, it was plainly intended for a jest, and I thought no more of it. Yet I was still exercised in my mind, vaguely uneasy and distrustful. And in this mood I settled down to consider my situation that evening and to review the events which I have here narrated. The puzzle was to determine a cause for all the remarkable transactions. Some one wanted to acquire the castle, and went about it very persistently. Why? And some one had made raids upon the house to secure something of which I was in possession. What?

Suddenly, and as if revealed by a flash of illumination, the reason was lit up and stood bare and bright before me. It was hidden treasure!

CHAPTER VI.

NOW that I had put my tongue to the word I was confident of my discovery. All the facts pointed one way, and I was dumfounded at my previous obtuseness. For what but a hidden store of treasure would explain these incessant attempts upon the house itself or the insistent efforts to take it out of my hands? And what again but treasure could supply so natural a key to old Kesteven's death and his mysterious secret? It seemed to me, too, that up on this hypothesis several facts hitherto inexplicable might be referred to reason. The eccentricity of my host in choosing me for his heir became not so much an eccentricity as a studious piece of policy. He was, in the general verdict, devoid of living relatives, and had so long fallen out of the world as to be practically friendless. He had made up his mind to my honesty, possibly to my capability, and was resolved to trust me. If this were so, as I saw it now, the making of the will had been an inevitable act in the game he intended to play.

I could not imagine that he had foreseen his sudden death, yet with his knowledge that he had an organic disease it was wise to take punctual precautions. It was probable also that the news he had evidently received upon the morning of that fatal day had conduced to his visit to the lawyer. I was to be admitted to his confidence. Twice he had been interrupted in the very nick of his narrative—the second time by the interposition of Death himself. In these considerations my thoughts were naturally drawn to the events of that evening. Why had Kesteven retired to his room? Obviously there was a connection between his errand and the sheet of parchment which I had detached from his clutch.

I opened my dispatch box and spread out the paper on the table once more, poring over it with my pulse throbbing to my finger tips. The meaning was now plain, though the main secret was yet to find. The parchment was clearly the second sheet only of the document which Mr. Kesteven had designed to bring down for my perusal. I sat up at a new and more alarming discovery. Where was the first sheet?

That open window now offered up its secret. That desperate cry was no longer now the scream of mortal agony, but an appeal for help. From the dead fingers I had taken the second sheet of the mysterious document, so pregnant with interest, but from the hands of the living I could not doubt that the first had been violently torn in the course of a struggle in that silent chamber. Terror had surprised the rascal at his work—the terror of that sudden and fearful dissolution, of that humped and pitiful body fallen on the floor. And here now with two ends of the secret, whatever it might be, rent asunder and secluded in separate hands, the hoard of treasure still lay buried in its ancient hiding place as intact and private as it had lain maybe through hundreds of years of silence.

My riddle was read. That certainly was a great step, and in the heat of my discovery, as I sat palpitating with strange emotions of adventure, avarice, even of ferocity, I had no intention to leave the matter where it stood. I was resolved to confront fate and to enter the lists against those undetermined enemies. So far they had kept very silent, working only in the dark, but I swore then and there to meet them, drag them forth into the broad daylight and contest my rights in the hidden treasure, if it existed, against a dozen sorry knaves. I am a patient man and not overquick to take a resolution, but I do not easily lay down a task which I have once undertaken. I swore upon the spot to undertake this.

How do you know you are in its thrall? Note the symptoms—headache, watery eyes, pains over the eyes, deafness, buzzing in the head, dropping in the throat, offensive breath, dryness in the nostrils—any or all of these symptoms are forerunners of catarrh, and catarrh in the headache stage can be relieved in 10 minutes by Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder and the sufferer may be saved the suffering that comes with the chronic stage and the distress and maybe fatal results when catarrh takes hold on the lung tissues.

Take catarrh in time with this wonderful cure, which, as thousands have said and thousands more could say, "works like magic," and you will have struck the chord that is the keynote to health and happiness.

THIS PRETTY CANADIENNE

Saved From Terrible Kidney Disease By "Fruit-a-tives."

MASSON, P.Q., Nov. 10th, 1905.

"I have much pleasure in reporting to you the great benefit I have received from taking "Fruit-a-tives"—and I feel that I cannot say too much in favor of a medicine which has done me so much good. I was a martyr to that distressing complaint, chronic constipation accompanied with severe headaches backache, sick stomach and all the symptoms of dyspepsia. I had also a dreadful complexion, sallow in the extreme and black under the eyes. I had every symptom of kidney irritation and I had been told by physicians that my kidneys were affected. I consulted a number of physicians and took various remedies but received very little benefit. Last May I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives" and when I began to take them I had little faith of getting anything to give me permanent relief, but after I had taken half a box of "Fruit-a-tives" I began to feel better and before I had finished one box the constipation was relieved, the headaches left me, the pain in my back was better and I could sleep as soundly as when I was child. Also, my complexion began to clear up again, all the sallowness disappeared and the black circles under my eyes went away. The pain in the back gradually left me and all signs of kidney disease disappeared by the first of August after I had taken three boxes. Since then I have continued to improve and now I have none of my old symptoms and my appetite is good, digestion splendid and my complexion as clear as when I was a young girl. Also the constipation from which I had suffered so long has been entirely cured and it is not necessary for me to take the "Fruit-a-tives" now as I am quite well in every way. I took no medicine but "Fruit-a-tives" but I followed faithfully the directions as to diet etc., given in the pamphlet which accompanies each box of "Fruit-a-tives."

(Sgd.) FLORANCE JAMESON.

Every part of the body is constantly decaying and being renewed. The dead cells, or tissue waste, should be removed by the skin, kidneys and bowels. When these organs do not act regularly, this poisonous matter stays in the system—is taken up by the blood—carried to heart, liver, stomach, brain and nerves all over the body—and poisons everything it touches.

"Fruit-a-tives" keep each organ clean and healthy. "Fruit-a-tives" act on the skin, stimulating the millions of minute glands and opening the pores so the waste can escape. They act on the liver sending more bile into the bowels and making the bowels move regularly and naturally every day. They act on the kidneys, strengthening and invigorating these organs and curing all kidney disorders.

At all druggists or sent postpaid on receipt of price—50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50.

Continuous Honeymoon; How It May Be Secured

It is all very well to understand to a nicety how many eggs to put into a pudding, and how much vinegar to put into a salad; but it is far more useful to know how much sugar and what sort of honey to use in the dish of matrimony.

In fact, after the first few months, some married people seem to think that no sugar at all is necessary.

There is a recipe for making a continuous honeymoon which few people seem to know.

If the knowledge of this was more universal there would be fewer divorce courts.

In the ten years of the average married life, fewer compliments pass between man and wife than are passed in the ten months preceding the wedding.

Yet nobody is so susceptible to small compliments as a woman who is busy around her house, says the Philadelphia Press.

No one likes to hear pretty nothings in home life more than the masculine creature. Much as he likes to say pretty things, he likes better to hear them.

Husbands and wives do think nice things about each other, but they would not love each other. Why not voice those things daily?

Why should not the wife say,

"How nice and fit you look this morning, John."

Or, "You can't imagine how well that waistcoat looks on you."

Or, "How becoming that necktie is that you are wearing."

Or, "There aren't many men with prettier hair than yours."

Or, if he is fat, "How I hate angular, bony men."

Or, if he is thin "I am so glad you are not podgy like Mr. Brown."

Or, "I like you best in black."

Or, "You know how to say such nice things."

Why should not the husband say, "How sweet and fresh and lovable you look this morning."

"How pretty that little house dress is that you have on."

"Few husbands have as sweet and thoughtful a girl to look after them as you are."

Or, "The way you have your hair arranged is very becoming."

Or, "What a nice, toothsome breakfast."

Or, "You are always looking after my comforts. I do not know what I would do without you."

Or, "You are quite spoiling me with your unselfishness."

Or, "I only hope our daughter will grow up to be like you in every way."

Or, in fact, any of the dozen and one delightful things that one another thinks. Affection grows on what it is fed on. Don't be afraid of saying nice things to anybody—least of all to those who love most in this cold old world.—Boston Herald.

HOW TO MAKE BABY SLEEP

The baby that cries half the night does not cry for nothing. It cries because it is not well, and the chances are the trouble is due to some derangement of the stomach or bowels, which would be speedily removed if a dose of Baby's Own Tablets were given the little one. These Tablets make children sleep soundly and naturally because they remove the cause of crossness and wakefulness. They are a blessing to the little ones and bring relief to the tired, worried mother. Mrs. A. C. Abbott, Hudson's Heights, Que., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets a splendid medicine for stomach and bowel troubles, from which my little one was troubled. Since I have used the Tablets have given my baby now sleeps soundly and naturally, and is in the best of health." And the Tablets are absolutely safe — they always do good — they cannot possibly do harm. They will cure the ailments of a new-born baby or a well-grown child. Sold by druggists or sent by mail at 25 cents a box, by writing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

How Brer Smiff Puts it

HOIGHTY — TOIGHTY, jimminy crickey, here's a pretty go. A gentleman in the Japanese parliament, a sort of Jap Labouchere, asked the Jap minister of war if he didn't think it would be well to suggest to Britain that it renovate its old bemuddled army, and lick it into some kind of modern serviceable shape, as otherwise the alliance between Japan and Britain would be rather one-sided. John Bull had a fit of apoplexy when he heard this. Some of John Bull's papers went into hysterics. They are all getting over it now nicely, and are acknowledging that the little Jap is perfectly correct in his position, and quite within his rights. Sakes, but it was a terrific shock, at first.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

A Dog Sled Trip Of Many Miles

Was Taken By Dillon Wallace Along The Labrador Coast.

It will be remembered that on the fateful trip into the Labrador wilds in which Mr. Leondias Hubbard lost his life, Mr. Dillon Wallace was his companion. It will also be remembered with peculiar sadness by many Peterborough people, to whom Mr. Hubbard was, and his wife is, well known, that after her husband died Mrs. Hubbard took up the work in which he lost his life.

Mr. Wallace also started out to complete the exploration of Labrador. In view of the interest taken in the expedition, the following despatch from St. John's, Nfld., will be read with interest here:

St. John's, N. F., Feb. 7. — Letters received here from Dillon Wallace, the explorer who is travelling in the interior of Labrador, in a northwesterly direction, and arrived at Fort Chimo, the Hudson Bay Company's station on Ungava Bay, announce that he intends to return to civilization by making a three thousand mile journey on dog sleigh, traversing the coast of Hudson strait to Cape Chudleigh, then southerly along the Atlantic face of Labrador and westward along Belle Isle Strait and the narrower areas of the Gulf of St. Lawrence up the river to Quebec. It is a longer journey than has ever yet been attempted by a single man in these northeastern wilds, for though the mail carriers take letters to and fro between Quebec and Hamilton Inlet, which is midway up Labrador, and was Wallace's starting point last summer, they make the trip in relays and pass the mails from man to man.

Has Had Experience.

Wallace however, will brave a journey twice as long as their combined routes. He has in a measure qualified for it, as two years ago he made a five hundred mile journey along the Labrador foreshore, from Hamilton Inlet to Belle Isle Strait, conveying with him the body of his comrade, Leonidas Hubbard, who had perished of starvation on their exploring trip, and whose remains he had brought out from their temporary sepulchre among the snows on the bleak inland plateau, where he had died. In his present trip Wallace will of course be accompanied by Clifford Easton, the New York student, who crossed the interior with him, and they will probably have an Indian or an Eskimo guide.

Long and Lonely Trip.

On the northern slope there are no habitations save those of the aborigines,—snow houses in winter and skin tents in the summer. South of Cape Chudleigh the Eskimos are grouped around six Moravian mission stations and at each of these travellers are hospitably entertained. From the last of these save for the Hudson Bay post at Davis Inlet, the coast is virtually unpeopled as far as Eskimo Bay, and this is a difficult section to negotiate, owing to the terrible blizzards which sweep its barren foreshore. In Hamilt Inlet are two Hudson Bay Company's posts—Rigolet and Northwest River—and there is another at Cartwright a hundred miles south. Fishermen and trappers are met in these districts, and from there to Battle Harbour, Belle Isle Strait, where there is a Grenfell hospital, it is possible to obtain shelter in some settler's hut every night.

In Quebec Territory.

Going west by the "strait" and into the Laurentian coast, similar conditions prevail, though many bleak and storm swept sections have to be met once Quebec territory is entered. The trip is one to test the staying powers of even the strongest men and will occupy about four months. As this is being read the doughty travellers are probably hard at work toiling south through the snowdrifts and wastes of the Labrador prairies, with the thermometer twenty to thirty degrees below zero, and in a region where an accident to one would almost certainly mean destruction to all, as it often puts the ablest guides and hunters to the test to find their way through the wilderness of snow and last winter a hardy native guide perished there while on a hunting trip, his body being enveloped by the drifts and not found till several weeks later.

Carrying Zutoo Around The World.

The family of A. O. Norton, of Boston, the largest jack manufacturer in the world, have just started on a trip around the globe. Before leaving they wrote to Messrs. B. N. Robinson & Co., of Coaticook, for a dozen boxes of Zutoo tablets, the Japanese headache cure. They have taken this vegetable cure ever since it was put on the market, and would carry no other with them. The firm told them, when sending the tablets, that if necessary they could replenish their supply in Japan while en route.

TAKE OATH OF ALLEGIANCE.

Speaker Lowther's Election Confirmed by the Royal Commission.

London, Feb. 15.—Shortly after the reassembling of the House of Commons at noon yesterday the Speaker-elect, James W. Lowther, accompanied by a majority of the members, proceeded to the House of Lords, where the Speaker's election was confirmed by the Royal Commission.

The Speaker-elect occupied the chair in the lower House and awaited the arrival of Black Rod from the Royal Commissioners. When the officer had delivered his message the Speaker-elect went to the upper House and acquainted the commissioners that "His Majesty's faithful Commons, in obedience to his command, had elected a Speaker, and, as the object of their choice, he submitted himself with all humility to the King's gracious approbation."

His Majesty Approves Speaker.

In reply the Lord Chancellor declared that "His Majesty most fully approved and confirmed him as Speaker." On behalf of the Commons the Speaker then laid claim "by humble petition to all their ancient rights and privileges," and these being confirmed, the Speaker and Commons retired from the Bar.

On his return from the House of Lords the Speaker reminded the House of Commons that the first thing to be done was to subscribe to the oath required by law, and, standing upon the upper step of the chair, he himself took the oath of allegiance to the King.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Premier, and the other Cabinet Ministers took the same oath, and the swearing-in of the rank and file commenced, and will be the only business transacted by the House for the rest of the week. Members who prefer to do so, on the ground of religious belief, can make affirmation instead of taking the oath.

Woman Badly Burned.

Toronto, Feb. 15.—Mrs. John R. Haggins, 449 Sackville street, was seriously burned yesterday afternoon. Her two little children were playing with matches and set the curtains on fire. While extinguishing the flames Mrs. Haggins' clothing caught fire. She rolled on the floor until the flames went out. A physician is attending her at her home.

HOME LIFE.

The happiness of home life depends largely on the health of the wife and mother. When her strength is unequal to the daily cares and duties of home, the evening hour finds her utterly worn out, too tired to talk, too weary to read. At first even she is glad to have her husband go out for the evening. She wants rest and quiet at any price. And so the foundation for marital misery is often laid in ill-health.

But when the housewife is healthy and strong she finds in her day's duties only a sufficient outlet for her energy. She looks forward all day to the evening hour spent with her husband over a book, or passed in quiet conversation. And every evening so spent draws the wife nearer to the husband and knits together the twain who are "one flesh" in the higher unity of one mind.

Every woman should know that the general health depends on the local womanly health. Irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness are disorders which sap the woman's strength and destroy her happiness with her health.

In ninety-eight cases in every hundred the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will effect a complete cure of womanly diseases. It is a reliable regulator. It dries the drains which enfeeble women. It heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Sick and ailing women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential and womanly confidences are guarded by strict professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

In a little over thirty years, assisted by his medical staff of nearly a score of physicians, Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., has treated and cured more than half a million women.

There is no similar offer of free consultation by letter which has behind it a physician of Dr. Pierce's eminence and success, or an institution of world-wide fame such as the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

Write to Dr. Pierce and obtain a specialist's opinion absolutely without charge or fee.

WAS NEARLY CRAZY.

"I was pleased that Dr. Pierce answered my letter," writes Mrs. C. W. Young, of South Regent Street (Lee Park), Wilkesbarre, Penna. "I am perfectly willing for you to use my name and address, as I think it my duty to let the people know what a wonderful medicine you have. When I had those mishaps I began to think I would never have children, and my husband always said that if I would take your medicine I would soon be all right. My back used to almost break and I would get sick at my stomach and have such headaches I did not know what to do; they used to set me nearly crazy, and I used to dread to get up, I felt so bad; then I began taking your medicine. When baby was expected I took it all the time I was that way. I felt fine all the time and I never get those dizzy spells now. I hardly ever have a nervous headache any more. I have a perfect romp of a boy; he is the light of our home. I am now twenty years old and my baby is almost eight months old. I now feel well and weigh 180 pounds, and the baby 23½ pounds. We feel very grateful for the good your medicine did for us. We are both healthy, thanks to Dr. Pierce's medicine."

ALMOST A SKELETON.

"Your 'Favorite Prescription' has done so much for me," says Mrs. Susan Wenst, of Lawndale, Cleveland Co., N. C., "that I feel it my duty to write to you and tell you I think it saved my life. I had been under the treatment of two doctors—had two miscarriages. I was almost a skeleton, weighed only seventy pounds. A friend of mine recommended Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and when I commenced to take it my health began to improve greatly. In ten months I was a happy mother. I had only taken six bottles and have never taken any medicine since, of any kind, and now weigh 130 pounds. I am now awaiting the coming of another child in the best of health. I cannot say too much in praise of your 'Favorite Prescription.'"

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are at once the most agreeable and most effective laxative for women's use.

PLAIN SPEECH BY EARL GREY.

Makes a Hearty Criticism As to Some Patent Medicines.

Montreal, Feb. 15—Earl Grey, who was the guest of honor at the annual banquet at McGill's faculty, made in the course of his address some remarks which are receiving a great deal of attention. Earl Grey did not confine himself either to compliments or platitudious matters of no moment. In the first place he advised the McGill boys to step on Tammany, that is, Montreal's Tammany, upon all occasions, and His Excellency then started in on an anti-patent medicine campaign.

He remarked that he read in the daily newspapers wonderful advertisements: "How to fool a lazy liver," "How to avoid catarrh," in short, how to dispense with many ills. From this he judged that it would be possible to get along without ever calling in a doctor. This led him, he said, to speak in a serious tone. "I am reminded of one patent medicine, of which I recently bought a bottle and sent it to be analyzed. It was returned to me showing that it contained 40.50 proof spirit.

"I am of the opinion that laws should be made that would be required to show what patent medicines contained. It should be set down that all drugs containing alcohol and narcotics and other potent drugs should have the percentages of these drugs printed on the labels of bottles. If not, the shadow of the undertaker will mingle with that of the medical profession."

G. T. R. AND ONTARIO CO.

Come to An Agreement About Crossing Former's Tracks With Wires.

Ottawa, Feb. 15.—Yesterday morning, at the Railway Commission, the Grand Trunk and the Ontario Power Co. came to an agreement respecting the crossing of tracks of the former by the power wires. Rigid steel structures are to be employed in all cases. Where the line is single track the span is to be 56 feet; where it is double track the span must be 76 feet.

This is the width when the wire crosses the track at right angles, and when it is made on the slant the distance from the tracks must be as great as when the crossing is at right angles. The cost is to be borne by the power company and the specifications are to be approved by the commission.

The power company is to be allowed 90 days (during which it may turn on the power) within which to erect the structures, taking meanwhile special precautions to avert accidents. The telegraph and telephone wires of the company are to be specially protected. All risks of accident are to be assumed by the power company.

Spore carries a bullet in the head, said to be self-inflicted. The reports from the hospital say the girl will die.

The estate is not to be divided until ten years after his death, and there is a clause, that if either son die without issue, his brother is to take the whole estate.

The Difference Between Expert and Unskilful Tea Blending

THE qualities of different teas prove that there is a distinct difference between expert Red Rose blending methods and the usual methods.

Several kinds of teas may be blended, but if unskilfully selected they will not combine to make a perfect blend; they will retain their original individual characteristics with their roughness and harshness emphasized.

Such tea is bitter, poorly flavored in the cup (and there is much of it in bulk and package form on the market). It emphasizes the result of inexperience, lack of knowledge of combining qualities of different teas, imperfect blending, poor selection, and the hundred and one other causes of poor tea.

But my expert Red Rose blenders select the right grades of strong, rich Indian teas and delicate fragrant Ceylon teas, and produce Red Rose Tea with entirely new characteristics—a tea with that "rich fruity flavor"—a tea so exquisitely different and better than any brand of Ceylon alone, that no one who once tries it ever goes back to Ceylon again.

Some More $16 A Week Letters

THIS WIFE IS A FINANCIER.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Some of our friends seem to be having a hard time making up their minds to get married on $16 per. It's a cinch if you get the right kind of a girl. I was married at 21; have been married now for 15 years. After furnishing a four-room cottage had about a 10-spot left; had sickness first year, that set me back about $200. Seven years after getting married, started in business for myself, and now have a good paying business. How? By getting one of the best girls that ever stepped in shoe leather. When we were married she could not boil water without burning it; to-day she is better than mother used to be when it comes to putting up a meal. She had the stuff in her that makes an ideal wife. Saving, not afraid of a little work, and always out to learn something new. Our partnership has been most successful, and until this last year always under $16 per. I earn the money and wifey does the rest. As for knowing how much it costs to keep house, I don't know; but if I want a hundred or two wifey has always got it, and no less than the famous $16 per. I should say, from my own experience, that a good wife is man's greatest blessing, and from some things I have seen, a poor one his greatest curse.

B. E. T.

FED FOUR ON $3.50 A WEEK.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

I have been very much interested in the letters published in your paper, and I wish to say I was married at the age of 16; my husband was 23, and we married for love.

After paying the minister for his trouble we had just one penny left, but we were not discouraged. We rented a small house, bought some second-hand furniture cheap, had a little time in which to pay for it, and started at housekeeping. My husband was a carpenter by trade, but as work was scarce in the winter he did any kind of work he could get until the work opened up in the spring. His average wages was $13 per week. We got along nicely, were very happy, and are just as happy to-day as we were then. We have been married 24 years, raised a family of five children and are fixed very comfortably. We never have seen a day that either one of us was sorry for getting married.

I say, young people, marry for love and get married if you want to; $16 per week is enough to keep any couple and keep them good—and some to spare. I brought up my family of five. My groceries averaged $3.50 per week; milk bill 30 cents, meat from $1 to $1.50 per week. We always set a good table, and had all we wanted to eat including cakes and pastry.

INDIFFERENCE OF HUSBANDS

To the Editor of the Examiner:

The man who said "treat your wife as you did when courting her" had the whole situation in a nutshell. So many men and women think that as soon as they are married there is no needed of treating each other with any consideration. They are like the man who said "What's the use of jumping after a cherry after you have it."

If men and women would after marriage treat each other with the same winsomeness that they used during courtship, there would be less use for thee divorce courts. Take my own case for example. Before we were married he took me out a good deal, especially driving, but since marriage its a different story. We are never seen on the street together. We have lived in one of the suburbs going on three years and there are scarcely a dozen persons know we are man and wife. We have been seen on the street car together about a half-dozen times. He will never take me to the theatre—and I love to go—but either have to go alone or with my women friends. No wonder women go wrong, for if their husbands won't pay them attentions there are others who seem glad to do so. Of course it's very wrong to receive attentions from others, but a husband has usually himself to blame if such is the case.

A young couple can live and live well on $16 per week. We live on $10.50 and save money, too. Of course, I help in this way. I sew for others and in that way buy my own clothes and all my toilet necessities, every little bit helps. But I'd give half my life if my husband would pay me the attention I see so many men give their wives.

LONGING.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Editor Examiner,—When it comes to a man like our poor friend "Baptiste" I cannot refrain from saying that the only person for whom I have any sympathy in this matrimonial mix-up is poor Mrs. Baptiste.

The idea of a man with "laziness" written in his every sentence to presume to advance any such views as he does!

No doubt the only excuse he could offer in divorce court would be that he had to support his family. For if he has learned the art of housekeeping from A to Z since he has been married it goes without saying that there must have been a great many Saturday nights when he did not get that pleasant smile in exchange for his "15 bucks."

He is, indeed, very fortunate to have an ambitious and abiding wife. I really think laziness (or lack of ambition) the worst vice a man can ever have. These poor men who find life such a hard row to hoe should have been born women. Not one in five thousand of them ever knows, or can ever imagine, the thousand and one different ways in which the life of a woman is decidedly harder to live than the life of a man.

The average man thinks all he has to do when he decides to marry is to ask a girl, and she will jump at the chance.

My experience has been that men are much more anxious to marry than girls. If the cares of married life are enormous to a man, they are ten times more so to a woman—too much so, at least, for a girl to marry a man she does not love.

But I say to both, get married! There is none of it so terrible as "a lonely old age."

Annual Tea A Great Success

An Interesting Event at Round Lake Recently.

A Round Lake correspondent writes to the Examiner as follows:

We are pleased to report that another of our annual teas has passed off successfully. The night was ideal and the crowd the largest in our history.

The choir was at its best and sang some lovely music, and were heartily encored. Mr. D. Whating and Mr. Bert McCue also sang some selections that were encored again and and again. The boys and girls also gave us some excellent music as well as recitations.

Rev. T. W. Leggott was perfectly at home and responded twice, giving great satisfaction. The pastor was in the chair. Owing to the crowd the christening was left over until the following day when a concert and social were held. Again the music sounded in our ears. Our happiness was complete until late in the evening, when some roughs thought they should be heard—and they will be. The proceeds for the two evenings amounted to over $70.

Missionary Society Silver Anniversary

Splendid Record of One of the Most Useful Organizations in Connection With the Methodist Church—On April 29, 1881, First Meeting Was Held.

Within the past two weeks two local Methodist Women's Missionary Society Auxiliaries have held special meetings in commemoration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Society of Canada. In view of this fact the following article in the Christian Guardian on the subject will be read with interest:—

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church this year celebrates the completion of twenty-five years of its history. The record has been one of success and noble achievement beyond, we believe, the fondest hopes of those who, in faith and true courage, laid the foundations of the organization twenty-five years ago. Success has not been won without much sacrifice and devotion and patient effort, and that these, with God's blessing, have worked out such splendid results is reason sufficient why the present celebration should be, as we believe it is, a time of deep and heartfelt rejoicing. On April 29, 1881, in the parlour of Wesley Church, Hamilton, the meeting which drafted the provisional constitution and appointed the provisional officers of the new Society was held. On November 8 of the same year final organization was completed, the Society pledging to aid the French Mission in Montreal, the Girls' Home at Port Simpson, and the McDougall Orphanage, and to support a lady missionary in Japan. At the end of the first year twenty auxiliaries had been formed, and the income reported was $2,916.78. In the twenty-four years these twenty auxiliaries have grown to 898, with a membership of 24,322, while there are also 479 Mission Bands and Circles, with a membership of 14,776. The income for the past year, the largest on record, reached the splendid sum of $85,421.08. The Society now maintains fifty-eight missionaries and associates, ten boarding-schools and homes, three orphanages, three kindergartens, a hospital, and three dispensaries, and is working among the French in Quebec and the Italians in Toronto, in "All Peoples' Mission," Winnipeg, among the Galicians in Alberta, and the Indians and Chinese of British Columbia, and has thirty-five missionaries in Japan and West China. There is abundant testimony, not only that the forces and agencies at work are measuring well up to their opportunities, and rendering heroic and fruitful service to the cause of missions, but also that the reflex influence on those who plan and provide has been marked for good. The Woman's Missionary Society is to be numbered among the most spiritual and truly consecrated agencies of the church, and we are sure that as an organization it enters upon the work of a second quarter-century not only with a laudable ambition to succeed, but with the highest and holiest purposes and ideals.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Robt. Bond of Bright's Disease.

His Doctor Who said There was no Hope for Him, now Pronounces Him Well—He Tells his own Story

Mt. Bridges, Ont., Feb. 16.—Special.—Among the many people in this neighbourhood who tell of the great work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing, none is more emphatic than that old and respected citizen, Mr. Robert Bond.

"I believe I owe my life to Dodd's Kidney Pills," Mr. Bond says. "My attending physician said I was in the last stages of Bright's Disease and that there was no hope for me. Then I commenced to take Dodd's Kidney Pills and used in all twenty boxes. Now I eat well, sleep well, and my doctor says I am well. Dodd's Kidney Pills and nothing else cured me. Do you wonder I am always ready to say a good word for Dodd's Kidney Pills?"

What will cure Bright's Disease will easily cure any other form of Kidney Disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills will always cure Bright's Disease. They are the only remedy that will cure Bright's Disease. Be sure you get Dodd's.

Just Started Out On Life's Broad Path

Pathetic Story of Young Married Couple in Brockville.

Sickness Spread its Dread Shadow O'er Their Happy Home

And the Verdict, Lung Trouble, Struck Terror to Their Hearts.

But Psychine Quickly Brought Back Health and Happiness.

Cured Mrs. Walter's Lungs and Made Her Really Well Again.

A story that appeals to all young couples just starting out in life and that will awake tender memories even in older married people comes from Brockville, Ont. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Walter, a newly married couple, had set up their little home on Pearl street and had entered on that most distressing of all stages of life—the making of the home. How those good days come back to all of us. Those days when every new article added to the household was but another tie binding us to home—when every object beneath the little roof was hallowed. The evening lamp shone o'er humble surroundings that will live in memory when greater scenes and grander things are long forgotten.

All Life A Dream.

It was at this happy stage that Mr. and Mrs. Walter had arrived. Life lay before them like a long pleasant road down which they could saunter plucking the flowers that grew by the way side and drinking of the brooks that babbled merrily by. They could see neither sorrow nor trouble ahead.

But silently, almost unnoticed, the trouble stole into their household. The young wife grew thin and pale and gradually wasted away. The husband watched with anxious fear. He came home from his day's work hoping to see his wife better, yet dreading he hardly knew what. She had complained of a pain in her lungs, and he was haunted with a dull fear that his dear wife was in the grasp of that most dreadful of all destroyers, consumption.

Doctor's Sad Words.

Gradually the young wife sank lower, till for nine long anxious weeks a stranger prepared the meals and gloom had settled over the once happy household. Then the doctor, after a long examination, sadly shook his head and pronounced the verdict so long expected, yet so terribly dreaded. "There is no cure for her," he said. "Both lungs are affected."

Let us draw the veil over the days that followed, days on which abandoned hope seemed to have blotted out the sun of happiness forever. Let us draw the veil on this sad scene and raise it again on the brighter, happier days that followed.

Happy Home Once More.

For to-day Mrs. Walter is a healthy woman, and where sadness and despair held sway, peace, and happiness once more reign supreme. Psychine did it.

But Mr. Walter is always pleased to tell the story of his wife's wonderful recovery, so here it is in his own words:

"At the time my wife began to use Psychine she was very low," says Mr. Walter. "We had a housekeeper for nine weeks because she was not able to do any work.

"Our physician stated there was no cure for her as both her lungs were affected.

"It was a sad disappointment to us both. We had only been married a short time; just starting out in life.

Psychine Works Wonders.

"We started to use Psychine with little faith, for we had just about given up hope. But the results were wonderful. Before Mrs. Walter had taken one bottle the pain which had been in her lungs for about a year quickly went away, and after taking six bottles Mrs. Walter is a new creature and really well again.

"She was also very much troubled with her stomach, but Psychine helped her wonderfully in that respect, too. So I can only say that where there was once sickness, sadness, and despair there is now health, joy, comfort, and life.

Can't Say Too Much.

"I cannot speak too highly of Psychine, as it has we believe brought Mrs. Walter back from almost death to life.

"I would gladly recommend Psychine to anyone who is suffering from lung trouble, as I believe it to be a certain relief and positive cure.

"Psychine cannot have too high a recommendation."

There you have a good example of the great work Psychine is doing. It cures consumption after doctors have said there is no hope. And you will notice that Psychine leaves the patient in good all-round health. It does not build up one organ at the expense of another. It helps the stomach, while it kills the consumption germ.

What Psychine Does.

But while Psychine cures consumption it is doing a still greater work by curing those lesser ills that lead to consumption. Psychine cures coughs, la grippe, pneumonia, and catarrh. Psychine not only cures these diseases but it safeguards against all after-effects. Psychine makes the body strong enough to repel future attacks of those diseases. Psychine is what science has vainly sought for years, a sure preventive of consumption. It is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—I notice that in many places Fish and Game Associations have been formed and think that a similar organization might be established here with good results. The Peterborough district is a fine one for the sportsman, but it is a fact that is known to everyone that the game laws are being evaded. The Wardens are to blame for this, as their territory is extensive and it is very easy to break the laws without being detected. If a strong association were formed here it might prove of a decided advantage in stopping practices which, if allowed to continue, will spoil our fish and game supply.

Yours, etc.

REPRESENTATIVE John Sharp Williams told a story of a darky who recently became a convert to Christian Science. It appears, says Harper's Weekly, that meeting a friend on the street, the convert made inquiry touching the health of the former's aunt. "She's got de pleurisy pretty bad," was the answer.

"You and she are both wrong," was the solemn assertion of the convert. "As a mattah of fact, she only thinks she got the pleurisy. Dere ain't no sich thing."

Nothing further was said on the matter, but a few days after, the two again meeting, the convert repeated his inquiries touching the aunt's condition. "Does she still persist dat she's got de pleurisy?"

"No, indeed," came the reply; "de pore woman now thinks dat she's dead. We berried her yisterday."

Child Fatally Burned.

Cornwall, Feb. 17.—A sad fatality is reported from Monkland village, a few miles north of here. Mrs. Donald McGillivray had occasion to leave her two young children alone in the house for a few minutes, and although she took the precaution to carefully close the stoves, the oldest child, Annie, aged 2 years and 9 months, opened a slide and lighted a piece of paper. In a moment her pinafore was on fire and she ran out screaming. The mother met her and extinguished the blaze, but the little one was so badly burned that after lingering a few days, during which pneumonia developed, she passed away.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

Thousands of women suffer untold miseries every day with aching backs that really have no business to ache. A woman's back wasn't made to ache. Under ordinary conditions it ought to be strong and ready to help her bear the burdens of life.

It is hard to do housework with an aching back. Hours of misery at leisure or at work. If women only knew the cause. Backache comes from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause in the world.

But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand is's not to be wondered that they get out of order. Backache is simply their cry for help.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

will help you. They're helping sick, overworked kidneys—all over the world—making them strong, healthy and vigorous. Mrs. P. Ryan, Douglas, Ont., writes: "For over five months I was troubled with lame back and was unable to move without help. I tried all kinds of plasters and liniments but they were no use. At last I heard tell of Doan's Kidney Pills and after I had used three-quarters of the box my back was as strong and well as ever."

The Armstrong Report Has Been Brought Down

Life Insurance Changes Suggested By the Committee

RECOMMENDATIONS DRASTIC

Striking Features Contained in the Report—Salary Limit For Presidents—One Style of Policy—Agents to Be Paid Straight Salary—Dividends of Policyholders—Fullest Publicity Mandatory.

New York, Feb. 17.—Complete in all its essential features, the report of the joint legislative committee on life insurance was yesterday considered by the members of the committee for final adoption.

It was the first time a majority of the committee had seen the document, and it was found that its length—nearly eight hundred foolscap pages of typewritten matter—precluded reading the entire report at one sitting.

There is every reason to believe that the report will be adopted by the full committee as it now stands, although it is possible that one or more of the more important recommendations may be modified slightly. These are the striking new features contained in the report:

Revolution in Insurance.

New policies may not be written by a life insurance company beyond $150,000,000 in a single year.

Limit of salary for presidents of life insurance companies is placed at $50,000 per annum and must depend upon the earnings of the company.

No attempt is made to reorganize the Insurance Department or to create new officials, but Superintendent Hendricks and Chief Examiner Vanderpoel are severely handled in the report.

Standard forms of life insurance policies are provided, and a company can issue but one style of policy, straight line or conditional.

Offering of rebates and bonuses is made a misdemeanor. "Twisting" is also made a misdemeanor.

Agents Paid Straight Salary.

Agents are placed under strict supervision and must be paid straight salary or commission, mixed compensation being forbidden.

Administration tickets to be voted for at the annual election must be filed with the Superintendent of Insurance twenty days before election, and one hundred policyholders may by petition put up an independent ticket. Proxies cannot be used at more than one petition.

Life insurance companies may not control subsidiary companies nor hold more than twenty per cent. of the stock in such companies, and officers of insurance companies may not hold stock in such subsidiary companies.

Section No. 56 of the Insurance Laws is repealed, and suit may be brought against an insurance company precisely the same as against any other company. Formerly suit could not be brought save by permission of the Attorney-General.

Policyholders' Dividends.

Deferred dividends of the unapportioned variety are prohibited. Surplus above ten per cent. must be divided annually among the policyholders, and the policyholders shall have discretion whether to allow the same to remain under interest or draw the same.

Fraternal societies may not hereafter be chartered in this state.

Borrowing from his company by an official is prohibited, and participation in syndicates for the purchase and sale of securities is also forbidden. Infringement of this provision is made a misdemeanor.

Universal mutualization is advised and encouraged and a means provided for mutualization of stock companies.

Fullest Publicity Mandatory.

Fullest publicity of accounts and profits and losses is made mandatory, and lists of policyholders, together with the amounts for which they are insured, must be filed with the Superintendent of Insurance each year and published.

Industrial Features Left Over.

It was found impossible to deal adequately with the industrial feature of life insurance as practiced by the Metropolitan, the Prudential of Newark, N. J., and the John Hancock Life. The subject was found to be too large and the interests involved so diversified that more light will be required before attempting to legislate.

Strike Closes Whole Mill.

Cornwall, Feb. 17.—The Stormont mill, one of the Canadian colored cotton goods companies' factories, is practically closed for a few days by a strike of some twelve or fourteen "beamers." The men complain that they have had bad work for some time past, and that this has materially reduced their earnings. The company claim that they had arranged to recompense the men for this, but that the "beamers" are asking increased wages. As the yarn has to pass through the hands of the "beamers," their strike has caused the whole mill to be closed.

FEAR ANIMATES.

Russia Revising Her Plans For the Removal of Troops From Manchuria—London Is Unconcerned.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 17.—In view of recent events in China, the Council for National Defence which has been preparing to reduce the force in the Far East to a minimum takes a more serious view of the situation, and is revising its plans for the evacuation of the armies in Manchuria in order to retain there a force "sufficient to maintain Russia's special interests on a plane with other powers."

According to The Slovo, the Government is in possession of information to the effect that China is making war preparations in which she is supported almost openly by Japan, and that an attack on Russia's Ussuri possessions is feared. Fears, The Slovo says, also are entertained over the Chinese designs to overthrow the Russian influence in Chinese Turkestan, that has grown up in consequence of the special trade and military arrangements instituted before the breaking out of the Russo-Japanese war.

London Unconcerned.

London, Feb. 17.—The London newspapers do not pay much attention to the Chinese question.

The Morning Post thinks the advice and influence of Japan upon China will suffice to prevent any serious outbreak, and that, in any case, Japan's army in Manchuria could soon be sent to restore order should real trouble arise.

CANT PLAY IN HIS YARD.

Kier Hardie, M. P., Scores Chamberlain In Stating Labor Policy.

London, Feb. 17.—(C. A. P.)—In outlining the policy of the new labor party at a big jubilation meeting last night Kier Hardie, M. P., its leader, held out no hope to the tariff reformers.

"There have been suggestions," he said, "of comings and goings between the tariff reformers and labor. If they are basing their anticipations on that foundation their hopes are built on sand and their outlook darker even than their worst enemies predict. The labor party, having refused to be the tail of the Liberals, will not play into the hands of another party headed by a man whose whole past life has been one great living lie and on whose spoken words no reliance can be placed. The labor party will be separate and distinct from every other party."

Mr. Hardie declared the straight labor party combined the socialist and trade union elements, and was becoming more and more socialist was his sentiment, which was vigorously cheered. He predicted that in the very near future it would be the dominant factor in politics. Old age pensions would be its leading demand.

Balfour Must Fight.

London, Feb. 17.—The City Liberal Association at a meeting yesterday decided to nominate a candidate to contest the City of London against former Premier Balfour at the forthcoming bye-election. The name of the proposed candidate has not yet been announced, but Thos. Gibson Bowles, who represented King's Lynn in the last Parliament, is supported by many Liberals as the man most likely to effect a combination of the Unionist and the Liberal free traders.

TANKARD GOES TO GALT.

Plattsville Wins In the Final For Governor-General's Prize.

Toronto, Feb. 17.—The Tankard goes again to Galt. It was only two years ago that the brithers from the banks of the Grand beat the Caledonians in the final, and yesterday they waltzed away from the Toronto Granites on Prospect Park ice, after running in the rear most of the journey. President T. O. Robson, of the Ontario Curlers' Association, made the formal presentation of the Tankard to the champions of Ontario, and complimented them on their clever curling.

Germany Awaits French Reply.

Algeciras, Feb. 17.—The German delegates to the Moroccan conference say they are now awaiting the reply of France to their proposals, which contemplate having small powers assume the direction of Moroccan police. It is significant that Count Von Tattenbach of the German delegation is now insistent on the certainty of a settlement, but the other delegates concur in saying that some doubt remains.

SPRING FASHIONS FROM NEW YORK

Special to The Examiner.

New York, Feb. 17.—Life has become such a restless fitful kind of living that even the outer garb, which is the materialized form of the mental attitude of the fashionable set, is in constant change. No one knows better than the "fashion writer" the drain that is put upon the men and women who supply new ideas for the constant desire for change, who, if they should fail in their resourcefulness—well, there are tragedies among the "flips and follies" of fashion. Just now the designers are busy with the dresses and hats that are to be worn by those who are taking a flight to the southern resorts, and Palm Beach in particular. These styles for the South are the harbingers of what the spring and summer really have in store for us. One is struck at first by the diversity of shapes of the hats and the colours; and it would seem as though no face or complexion could but be suited amid such a variety.

Among the "tailor made hats" which is intended for wear with the regular tailored suit of woolen, or the linen and those cotton fabrics which are built on similar lines, are the various sailors and the new English walking hats. The very newest of the former has a very high crown and narrow brim, and is extremely trying to some styles of faces, but there is the "Magnolia" sailor with a square crown, whose narrow brim in front widens out at the sides and back, at which point it has a decided roll; while the "Radford" has a moderate crown and a rolling crown all the way around. In the English walking hat we find both the Derby crown and the square; of the two the first is rather the newest. Many of those and the square of the model have their crowns made of satin, while the brim is made of straw and another novel idea, quite appropriate for the between seasons, is the mixture of straw and felt.

The trimming of these tailored hats is for the most part of velvet, chous of satin or silk, great pompons, quills, handsome coque plumes, and immense aigrettes that are wide and long enough to half cover the hat. Flowers are not so much used on the tailored hats, but they certainly have their innings on the dress hats.

A stylish sailor was shown, made of course blue chip with a new high crown and narrow brim, around which a scarf of blue chiffon was drawn and tied into a large bow on the side. Beneath on the high bandeau was massed a profusion of brown malinetto, a timely substitute for the perishable maline, and which is said will stand any amount of dampness.

Jockey walking shape is the name of a smart little hat in blue with a satin crown in a darker shade, in front rested a great bunch of violets from which long sprays of maiden hair fern fell over the back and bandeau, covered with chous of brown satin. Hat pins headed with beautiful enamelled butterflies were used for fastening the hat to the hair. Turbans have by no means lost their popularity, and a very handsome hat of this order was built of yellow mackinaw straw trimmed with bands of black chiffon velvet and black quills dusted with gold.

A "Magnolia" sailor in violine had a double chou of silk in a darker shade, from which a long fan-shaped aigrette shading from dark to light in colour, spread out over the crown and back, underneath the rolled back and high bandeau was filled in with a quadruple box-plaiting of violine malinette.

Smartness itself was exemplified in an English walking hat of Jap straw, its brim edged with black satin and a band of the same about the Derby crown, while from a buckle on the left side fell a black coque plume.

In black straw a fancy shaped turban had no trimming, but two brown wings fastened with an amber and jet buckle, while a white walking shape was trimmed in folds, a big bow on left side and a brown quill.

Sometimes these shapes come in wire, tulle covered and self trimmed, and will probably be very popular during the warm weather on account of their lightness. One was of the high crown sailor model, its wire frame covered with heavy pink point d'esprit. Tilted slightly in the back on a pink point d'esprit covered bandeau, its only trimming is one large rose that rests in front on the left side of the crown. It is predicted and there is every indication of its truthfulness, that brown is to be one of the leading colours in millinery, emphasis is given to this by the prominence of brown bondeaux and bandeau coverings, this colour having quite superseded black for that purpose.

Among dress hats tulle seems to be the special feature of the covered chapeau. It is said that it will oust the lace covered frame that has so long held first place. The "tilted" effect and bandeau that must be fitted with exactness to suit the face, is as much in evidence as ever. A beautiful hat from this model was simply trimmed with a wreath of rosebuds and clusters of the same among fine tulle that hid the bandeau under a fluted brim.

Plumes are still used as a trimming under the left side over the hair and at the back. Gold and silver still hold popular favour, though a preference is given to the former, but it must be of a good quality as it tarnishes so very quickly. Long ends of chiffon and tulle will be used this coming season, and one end should be longer than the other so it may be wound around the neck on cool evenings.

To see the new parasols makes one wish the sunshiny days were now here, for they are especially beautiful this season, and the dominant note is harmony with the dress they are to be worn with, which means several parasols to the season. For instance a mercerized cotton foulard in grey having a satin cross barred effect and black figures, was used for the building of a princess dress to be worn at a garden party in the south; the hat was of black chip decorated with black satin folds and grey aigrettes, and the whole effect finished with the addition of a parasol of the same material as the dress, having an underlining of grey silk and a grey handle.

A costume of pink Efleurs covered with grey-green fern fronds made up over a pink lining had a parasol of the same material with a lining of grey-green silk, and the hat was a Gainsborough in a delicate shade of pink tulle trimmed with long ferns at the side. Long white gloves completed the costume. Another combination was a black and white half inch check strewn with tiny spots of pink; the parasol had a fancy black handle and was covered with the dress goods, bordered with black laces and a pink tassel hung from the handle; a black and white hat trimmed with pink roses carried out the colour scheme.

Cream striped voile embroidered in blue spots was made from an Eton model, with which was worn a blue hat, cream silk elbow length gloves, and a parasol of striped voile over a blue lining, the handle of which was covered with blue kid, stamped with brown figures to match the great mass of brown tulle that covered the bandeau of the hat.

Some old parasols were made of alternating rows of ribbon and insertion; some are handpainted with most brilliant flower designs, others are of cream silk, edged with a ruffle of cream chiffon above which on each section is a design in point lace, something that could be carried out by any clever needle woman; others again are covered with insets of fine lace below which the outer lace is cut away to show the interlining. One of this order had a flight of butterflies worked upon it in different sizes, each butterfly had been embroidered in some delicate pastel shade and gold. Many parasols are made of tulle or chiffon gathered or flounced cera colour or white lining and often caught with imitation jewels.

The handles are no less works of art, stamped kid, ivory, carved woods, inlays of mother-of-pearl, designs in enamel, burnt woods, and in fact about every substance and device known to art but it is among many a fad to have the handle perfectly plain, and of a colour to match the ground colour in the dress.

Many black silk parasols have black handles, but the covering is either embroidered in silks or in the new ribbon embroidery now so fashionable, or maybe they are handpainted. One to be worn with a blue and black conception of gown, had a blue fleur-de-lis painted upon its cover in the natural size. Another in white had a border of red roses; it was to be worn with a red rajal, trimmed with cream lace and vest of cream silk. The hat to accompany this costume was of red tulle with cream tulle underfacing.

In the matter of dressing the hair there is little change as yet from the styles that have been in vogue during the winter. The high bandeau and peculiar "tilt" of the hats demanding those styles that give a large amount of fluffiness to fill in the yawning space between the hat and the space. But every woman must consider her own style first and the prevailing style second.

The high stiff style is now passed, but especial care must be taken to the sides and back; and on account of the tilt of these hats and bandeau the hair must be coiled high enough for it to rest upon. For the back, sides and low front the medium marcel waves are still used, but be careful in using it too often as the hot iron hurts the hair with too constant use.

For young girls the hair is placed around the face and plaited in a long braid pinned to the head, a bow is placed at the top and half way down the braid which should be just above the nape of the neck.

How $16 A Week Letters Resulted In Engagement

A "Young Bachelor," Tells How He Was Encouraged to "Pop" the Question—He Was Accepted, Too—Now He Wants to Know What It Costs to Keep House.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

I have been deeply interested in the discussion which has taken place in the columns of the Examiner on the marriage question during the past few weeks and I cannot help believing that the many letters written to and read by The Examiner readers have proved wholesome.

They have proved something else. They have proved to me that people and times and love and home life are just as good as they were in the olden days. They have proved that husbands have adjusted themselves to the march of modern institutions, but with the progress they have not lost interest in the family fireside. Hasn't that been told time and again by the wife as well as the husband, who has written of the start on a meagre salary, of fixing up the home a little at a time, of the small amount that was saved and the final happiness and comfort of home in advanced years.

The exception to the rule as shown by the cynics, only prove the rule to be true. And to me, it has all shown this lesson: Happiness or misery in the marriage state all depends on the individuals, on whether they are fitted for each other, on whether they are in love. Not only does the testimony of the happy, contented wives and husbands prove this, but I tell it to in one instance where a woman was extremely miserable with her first husband, and very happy with the second; either the woman had undergone a change, or the fault was with the first man; but in either event it depended on the individuals—on both of them.

Do you know, I never in my life have had such an itching to save some of my wages as I have since reading all the letters The Examiner has printed. I really believe that the good your department has done by way of leading people to be frugal and lay up a nest-egg for a rainy day will never fully be known, nor can it be appreciated to you—but that isn't what I started to write about. The most interesting creature to me to-day is the one you have referred to so often as "the girl".

"If you love her, pop the question, and marry her," a large majority of the writers have said, and I take it they are interested enough to want to know what effect the letters have had.

Well, I was over to "the house", recently. In some way the conversation got started on the letters in The Examiner. Her father, her mother, she and myself got into the discussion. Yes, I remember. Her father had waited rather impatiently while her mother read the letter in that night's Examiner, then he took the paper and read it himself. He told us then of the start he and her mother had made in life. He said there were never any happier days than those first days. And his eyes fairly glowed as he told how pleased "mother" was with every new addition to the house furnishings. Why, the old man seemed as happy as a new bridegroom, talking of those early days. Just then some neighbours called, and her father and mother went to the front parlour, leaving her and me in the back parlour.

Naturally we kept on discussion in the same line.

"I tell you it is all nonsense for girls of to-day to think they have got to start just as well off as their fathers and mothers are," she said, and I fairly had to put my hand to my mouth to keep my heart from jumping out of my throat. I began to wonder if I could muster up the proper courage to say what I had wanted to ever since I wrote you about my affairs.

There she went on talking about how she believed she could manage a house, as honest and innocent like as you please. Pretty soon the thumping in my chest quit so I could talk and I was telling how I believed I could save some on my salary, and not thinking let it drop that I had already started a bank account. I noticed that rather pleased her. Then our talk drifted to how much "agony" some young people try to put on, and how the public always found out eventually that they had lived beyond their means. When we got back to talking about our own ideas, somehow, I don't just recall how, we were using the expression how "we" would manage if we had a place of our own. All of a sudden we came to our senses, looked up, and the question had popped itself.

Now that The Examiner readers have that much of our confidence, what I would like is some advice on the actual cost of living. Just what you can get, say for $5 a week. I noticed only one of the writers to The Examiner gave any details or figured on the cost, and that was for a family of six. As she is not a widow with children, and as I have no one else dependent on me the figures are scarcely applicable.

A New Magazine for You

I am bringing out another new magazine that you will come pretty close to liking. I wouldn't be surprised if it hit you harder than anything in the shape of a magazine you have ever seen. There isn't much style to it, but it has the stuff in it that you and everybody else will want to read. It is called

THE SCRAP BOOK

Something New in Magazine Making

THE SCRAP BOOK is the most elastic thing that ever happened in the way of a magazine—elastic enough to carry anything from a tin whistle to a battleship. Everything that appeals to the human brain and human heart comes within its compass—fiction, which is the backbone of periodical circulation; biography, review, philosophy, science, art, poetry, wit, humor, pathos, satire, the weird, the mystical—everything that can be classified and everything that cannot be classified. A paragraph, a little bit, a saying, an editorial, a joke, a maxim, an epigram.

Nothing Like It in the World

There isn't anything in the world just like THE SCRAP BOOK. It is an idea on which we have been working for several years, and for which we have been gathering materials. We have bought hundreds and hundreds of scrap books from all over the country, some of them a century old, and are still buying them. From these books we are gathering and classifying an enormous number of gems, and facts and figures, and historical and personal bits that are of rare value. Furthermore, we have a corps of people ransacking libraries, reading all the current publications, the leading daily papers, and digging out curious and quaint facts and useful facts and figures from reference book, cyclopedia, etc., etc.

Don't fail to get a copy of this first issue of THE SCRAP BOOK. It sells at the price at which all our other magazines sell—Ten Cents a Copy and One Dollar by the Year.

WATERWORKS' GOOD SURPLUS

This Branch of Municipal Operations Closed Year $4,464.25 to the Good.

ANNUAL REPORTS WERE PRESENTED

Report of Supt. Henderson Gives Details of Work Done During 1905 — Over Two Miles of New Mains Laid—Secretary-Treasurer's Report Shows State of Finances—A Well Managed Department.

In many respects, and especially to the public, the most important meeting of the Peterborough Water Commissioners for some time, was that held yesterday afternoon, when the report of the superintendent and of the secretary-treasurer, the former giving the details of the work done during the year in extending the system, and the latter giving the statement of receipts and expenditures, were presented and adopted. These reports, particularly that of the secretary-treasurer, were of a most satisfactory nature, the statement showing that the surplus of receipts over expenditures, after providing for the sinking fund and interest, was $4,464.25, and this in spite of the fact that the water rates to the consumer have been reduced 30 per cent.

WATER COMMISSIONERS

MR. T. F. MATTHEWS,
Chairman of the Board of Water Commissioers.

The statement of finances and the superintendent's report show that the system has been well managed; the Commissioners having spent much time and given their best thought to the problem of providing the city with a satisfactory water supply, and how well they have succeeded is evidenced by the facts brought out in the reports.

Out side the presentation of the reports the business transacted at the meeting yesterday was of a routine character.

Secretary's Report.

The report of the secretary-treasurer is as follows:—

The amount expended in laying mains and setting hydrants, including $10,024.79 expended on the duplicate force main was $19,727.96, after deducting a loss of $392.88, taking up 944 feet of three inch mains. The cost of laying service pipes was $3,539.49, making a total of $23,267.45 expended in construction work.

Since the last report the portion of the waterworks system in the former village of Ashburnham has been credited with $15,000 the amount of the debentures issued by the village for waterworks purposes, and the capital accounts charged with the

A PROMINENT CITIZEN

The above picture represents a well known citizen as he appeared 45 years ago. The original is one of the best known and most highly repected residents of the city, where he has spent over half a century. He has been engaged in a manufacturing business and with such success that he is able to live at ease upon the fruits of honestly conducted industry. He has been honoured with emphatic evidences of the people's confidence as represented by considerable service in the council. The public may do some guessing as to his identity with the above picture, but there is no need of guessing as to his sterling qualities of character and outspoken expression of honest opinion.

THE ANKLE BRACELET HAS STRUCK THE CITY

Local jewelers have received a circular from the trade announcing that an old country fad which has captured New York ladies is that of wearing a bracelet around the ankle. Jewelers are being advised to lay in supplies at once, as the craze is bound to reach this city before many moons. Slightly shorter skirts are being worn this year, the circular states, so that the bracelet may be seen.

Grand Trunk Flyer Killed Oakwood Man

Alfred Hughson Struck by Engine at Mariposa Station.

A fatal accident, resulting in the death of "Alf." Hughson, a resident of the village of Oakwood, occurred yesterday morning at Mariposa Station.

The particulars to hand are that Mr. Hughson, who is an employee of Messrs. Hogg & Lytle, was driving a load of bags from the large elevator across the track to the warehouse at 8.15 yesterday morning, when the Peterborough-Toronto Grand Trunk flyer, No. 19, came along and struck the wagon square, hurling Hughson with great force onto the ground seventy feet away. The victim was severely injured and never regained consciousness. The waggon was demolished into kindling wood.

Browning And Schumann Studied

At Last Night's Meeting of the Art Culture Club.

The Art Culture Club met last night in the Conservatory of Music. A large number were present, and were treated to a special and excellent programme, which was under the supervision of Miss Clara Belleghem.

Mrs. Macfarlane Wilson, the president, was in the chair and congratulated those assisting on their interesting papers. Miss Clarry opened with a piano solo, "Dreaming," by Schumann, the composer, on whose life and works Miss Helen Howson read a very interesting and helpful paper.

During the evening Miss Gertrude Kendry sang two solos of the composer's, "I Will Not Grieve," and "The Green Hat," which formed a most pleasing feature of the programme.

Mrs. (Rev.) Jolliffe read a concise and helpful paper on Browning, upon which was some discussion. Miss Clarry read "Prospice," one of the poet's best poems.

Miss Taylor, of Toronto, a guest of Miss Kendry, was the accompanist during the evening.

The programme was brought to a fitting conclusion by the reading of the latter portion of "The Epistle" by Miss Madeline Macfarlane.

Miss Belleghem received much praise for providing one of the most pleasant evenings of the season at the Art Culture Club.

At the next meeting, Liszt, Mrs. Browning and Durer, composer, poet and artist, will be the subjects of study.

WATER COMMISSIONERS

MR. W. H. MOORE,
Member of the Board of Water Commissioners.

Rev. J. G. Lewis Asked To Remain

As the Pastor of Mark Street Church for Another Year.

At the Mark street Quarterly Board meeting last night an invitation was unanimously extended to Rev. J. G. Lewis, B.A, to remain another year as pastor of the Mark street Methodist church. This was heard with much gratification by Mr. Lewis, and demonstrated his popularity among his parishioners.

Rev. Mr. Lewis replied, thanking the Board for their kind and unsolicited invitation, but was not in a position, he said, to accept or decline the position yet.

Mr. Lewis in June will have completed his third year at Mark street church, and the fact that he has been asked to continue as pastor shows his splendid success.

OFFICIAL TRANSFER OF DAMS

An Important Order-in-Council Was Passed by the Cabinet at Ottawa Yesterday.

SUPERINTENDENT NOW CONTROLS

All Dams, Locks and Bridges on Trent Canal and Tributaries Now Officially Transferred From Ontario to Dominion Government—Much More Work for the Superintendent's Office Here.

Special Wire to The Examiner.

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—An Order-in-Council was passed at a meeting of the Cabinet yesterday, and the Minister of Railways and Canals to-day gave out for publicatiuon the official declaration ratifying the transfer of the dams on the Trent Canal system, which were formerly under the control and the property of the Ontario Government to the Dominion Government, and the persons affected will be notified at once of the transfer. This transfer includes all the bridges and dams on the northern waters to Balsam Lake, over the canal system, as well as those waters tributary to it, including those over the Scugog River and Lake.

This will mean considerable additional work for the superintendent of the canal at Peterborough, since Mr. McClellan will now have charge of the dams and bridges which have hitherto been looked after by Ontario officials.

A peculiar fact is that the Young's Point lock with, of course, the dam there, has been under the control of the Ontario Government and the lockmaster was paid by that Government until this transfer was effected.

Undoubtedly the change will be one which will be beneficial to the interests of the canal, since the superintendent will now have direct control of all the dams, and will thus be in a position to regulate the flow of the water, and ensure a greater uniformity, and conservation by system, which was almost impossible before under the dual control, which formerly prevailed.

The works so transferred include fifty-three dams, three locks and four swing bridges, and are as follows:

Locks, swing bridge and all Ontario Government works at Young's Point.

Lock between Balsam Lake and Cameron Lake.

Lindsay lock, in the Town of Lindsay.

WATER COMMISSIONERS

MR. W. H. HILL,
Member of the Board of Water Commissioners.

Three swing bridges in Lindsay and all the works on Scugog Lake from Lindsay to Port Perry.

Five dams on Mississauga Creek.

Squaw River, six dams.

Nogie's Creek, five dams.

Burnt River, twenty dams.

Gull River, sixteen dams.

Bear Creek, one dam, two slides and one glance pier.

Stony Creek, six dams.

Ontario Government Works at Coboconk, head of Balsam Lake.

The superintendent will be instructed to report at once as to the necessary repairs to be made to these works to put them in good shape, and to proceed with the work at once.

This transfer will increase the number of men under Mr. McClellan's charge by about thirty, and while the repairs are in progress, to probably 150.

It is understood that the Government has decided, on the recommendation of the superintendent, to proceed with repairs and improvements to the swing bridges and locks, at Young's Point, which will necessitate expenditures of considerable money.

The Twenty-fifth Anniversary of Wedding Day

Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie—A Very Enjoyable Event.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day was celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Thos. G. Gillespie at their residence, No. 68 Locke street, last night.

About 65 relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie were present and participated in the enjoyable evening, most of these being residents of the city and vicinity. Rev. O. C. Elliott, of Stratford, a former pastor of the Park street Baptist church, in which the host and hostess have been lifelong prominent members, was one of the very welcome guests at the celebrating of the silver wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Robson, and Miss Ekma, of Yellow Grass, Sask., were also among the guests from a distance.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie received telegrams of congratulations from Rev. W. J. Pady, Arnprior, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Grover, Portage la Prairie, Man., and Miss E. Hill, Danbury, Conn., who expressed their sorrow at not being able to be present and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie lifelong happiness.

The house was artistically adorned with flags, bunting and evergreens. Two large tables in the dining hall were daintily spread and beautifully covered with pink and white carnations, and a luncheon was served to the assembled guests during the early evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie were the recipients of many useful and beautiful presents as well as numerous congratulations from their friends showing the high esteem in which they are held by the many guests. The host briefly responded to their many kindnesses, thanking them for their assistance in making the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day such a delightful event. Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie received the good wishes of their many guests for a bright and happy future before the dispersal of the company.

North Harvey Resident Gets Wolf Bounty

Mr. George Murdock's Experience With a Wolf.

A North Harvey despatch says:

The wolves seem to be getting more plentiful in Galway. They can be heard nearly every night at Parker Brothers' lumber camp in Galway, and come close to the camp. So the other day Mr. Geo. Murdock took his rifle and went out to see if he couldn't get a shot at one. George didn't have far to go before he came on their tracks. He followed them a short distance till they turned into a swamp, so he thought he could cut them off, and went into the swamp where he thought he might get a shot. He came on their tracks again and followed them a little way into a thick place, and being thoroughly acquainted with their habits, he stopped, and his keen eye caught sight of two of them, just a few yards away. They tried to get away, but not before George's true aim made the largest one bite his side, just as he jumped into a little opening, and gave one terrible howl that would drive fear into the bravest, and dropped dead. It was not two hours from the time George left the camp until he was back again with his great prize, to the delight of all the boys, among whom George is a great favourite. The pelt is worth $5 and the bounty is $15.

Mr. John Hogan's Narrow Escape

Scaffold Gave Way Under Him at Gas Works.

About 2.15 this afternoon Mr. John Hogan while doing some brick work on a scaffold escaped serious injury in an almost miraculous manner. The scaffold upon which Mr. Hogan was working, was about 25 feet from the ground, and two men below were sending up bricks which he piled on the scaffold. The scaffold was not very strongly constructed and when the weight it had to bear became too heavy gave way, Mr. Hogan falling to the ground. Other than a cut on the wrist and a shaking up, Mr. Hogan was not at all injured. His escape may certainly be regarded as marvellous. It is a wonder that some of his limbs were not broken and that he was not severely cut on the bricks.

President Roosevelt's Daughter Married This Afternoon

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE EXAMINER.

Washington, D.C., Feb. 17.—No social event in the history of this country has ever attracted as much interest in all sections of the country and among all classes of the population as the wedding of Alice Roosevelt, eldest daughter of President Roosevelt, to Congressman Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio. The popularity of Miss Roosevelt's father, coupled with the undeniable fact that all the world loves a lover, particularly if that lover is the daughter of the chief executive of the country and has endeared herself by her naturalness and Democratic ways, has made the wedding of Miss Alice Roosevelt a national event in the full sense of the word. The wedding came quite near being considered an international event, and, to some extent, has assumed that character, although President Roosevelt, with true Democratic spirit, tried his best to prevent it.

The Arrival of the Guests.

The beginning of the ceremony had been set for high noon, but the first carriages with guests began to arrive shortly after 11 o'clock, and when the noon hour approached there was an uninterrupted line of carriages depositing their occupants at the White House.

It had been intended to limit the number of guests who were to be present at the wedding in the east room to 850, but it is safe to say that this number was exceeded by several hundred.

The Wedding Ceremony.

A few minutes before noon Bishop Satterlee, of Washington, and the Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, who were to perform, respectively assist in the ceremony, arrived in the East room and took their places within the enclosure of white ribbons, forming a barrier around the floral altar. A few minutes later the bridegroom, accompanied by his best man, Mr. Thomas Nelson Perkins, entered the room and took their positions at the side of the altar, where they awaited the arrival of the bridal party.

The bridal party proper descended from the upper floor by way of the private stairway, between the State dining room and the breakfast room and moved through the wide corridor which runs 170 feet from west to east in the mansion, to the East room.

The eight ushers, selected by the bridegroom awaited the bridal party at the foot of the stairs, and preceded them to the East room, where they arranged themselves, four on each side, forming an aisle.

The Critical Moment.

The wedding ceremony was conducted in accordance with the ritual

WILL ADVERTISE GREAT ADVANTAGES POSSESSED BY THE ELECTRIC CITY

To advertise Peterborough to the world as a great manufacturing centre is the object of the Manufacturers' Committee in the action taken last night when the chairman was instructed to have a pamphlet prepared, setting forth in concrete form, the advantages which Peterborough offers to manufacturers looking for location.

The chairman introduced the question and said that every day inquiries were received from one source or another by the City Clerk, as to the advantages possessed by Peterborough and he suggested that as an easy method of giving the information desired, literature be prepared and printed, which could be sent to those making these inquiries, or handed to visitors to the city, who might be interested in learning of the superior claims which Peterborough possesses.

This literature, which the chairman will set about procuring at once, will set forth among other things the power developed, and available for use by manufacturers and the prices at which it may be purchased. In this connection the last pamphlet issued by the city was criticised by some of the aldermen because of the alleged inaccuracy of the statement as to the power available at the different dams. It was pointed out, however, that the figures mentioned in that document were furnished by the owners of the power.

The question of transportation will also be referred to, in all probability, and a map, showing the different railways running into the city will be prepared, as well as the accessibility to the raw material and to the markets for the finished product. This is the beginning of a campaign which this committee will conduct this year for the purpose of inducing manufacturers to locate in Peterborough, where the conditions are conducive to successful operations.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerr Are To Leave N. Monaghan

Gave Farewell Reception and Dance to Friends Before Coming to This City.

A farewell reception and dance tendered to their numerous friends was given last Thursday night by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kerr, at their home, North Monaghan, prior to their departure for this city. A delightful supper was served and the evening spent in the playing of games, social intercourse and dancing, splendid music being provided by the Arnott Orchestra and Mr. Albert Reynolds. Everyone present had a most enjoyable time and expressions of good wishes for the future happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Kerr were heard on all sides. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr have only resided in North Monaghan for about a year, but despite their short residence have made many warm and true friends who sincerely regret the departure from their midst of so worthy a couple. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr will leave for the city in about a week.

MRS. HUNTER'S STORY

Says She and Her Husband Agree Perfectly—Both Quite Well Again.

MRS. I. HUNTER

Mrs. I. Hunter, of 111 Raglan Road, Kingston, Ont., has written for publication a statement of her case as follows:

"I have suffered with kidney and liver trouble and chronic constipation for some time. I was subject to dizziness, bilious headache, nervousness drowsiness, pains in the back and side, and a tired, weary feeling nearly the time.

"I tried almost every remedy, was treated by doctors and druggists with little or no benefit.

"Finally, a friend advised me to try Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill, and the results have been truly wonderful.

"My husband has used Anti-Pill for rheumatism and was benefitted greatly. We agree that Anti-Pill is a most wonderful medicine and heartily recommend it."

This is a very strong recommendation. Anti-Pill is undoubtedly the greatest of family remedies. All druggists, or the Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls Ont. 504

Little Interest Being Shown

In reference to the proposed Poultry Association, Mr. Wm. Collins advises the Examiner that as yet he has received only a very limited number of replies to his proposition contained in this paper on the 12th, to the effect that the poultrymen should send in their names to him so that they could be notified of the time and place of holding an organization meeting. He states that if he does not receive a considerable number of names on or before the 20th inst., no further action will be taken by him.

Faith

You cannot be expected to have faith in Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, as a cure for Colds, Coughs and all diseases of the air passages, if you have not tried it. We have faith in it, and we guarantee it. If it doesn't cure you it costs you nothing. If it does it costs you 25c. That's fair. Try it to-day.

Shiloh has cured many thousands of the most obstinate cases, and we do not hesitate to say that it will cure any Cold, Cough, Throat or Lung trouble. If we did not believe this we would not guarantee it. Shiloh has had an unbroken record of success for thirty years. It has stood every possible test without failure. Further is found in the many testimonials of those who have tried Shiloh and been cured. Mrs. Archie Taylor, Asaph, Pa., writes:—

"I bought a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption Cure and found it very beneficial. I have two children, and they had a terrible cough. I gave them everything I could think of, but they got no better, until one evening my husband bought a bottle of Shiloh. We gave it to the children when they went to bed, and they slept all night. It cured them completely. I shall always keep it in the house. 6o3

Sacred Concert By St. Andrew's Choir A Success

High Class Programme Was Ably Presented Last Night—Audience Was Not as Large as Merit of the Function Warranted—Choir Showed the Improvement Made Under Regime of New Teacher.

CHOIR RENDERED FINE CANTATA

The sacred concert held under the auspices of St. Andrew's church last night, must be classed among the most successful events of its kind presented this season. The attendance unfortunately was not nearly as large as the merits of the programme deserved, but the body of the church was fairly well filled.

The choir was assisted by Miss L. Maud Smith, reader of Toronto, who varied the musical portion of the programme with several readings, delivered in a splendid manner. In addition to the numbers by the choir, the programme included solos by Miss Mary Rush, and organ selections by Mr. Cecil Carl Forsyth.

The programme presented was a lengthy one, but was so varied and high-class in character that the audience did not find it at all long, and many were the expressions of appreciation heard. It was the first concert given by the choir since Mr. Forsyth has taken charge, and during the short time that he has been here a marked improvement has been made in the organization, a fact that was clearly emphasized by their splendid work last night. The choir is well balanced and sing with energy and precision. Their numbers last night were confined to Schnecker's cantata, "The Hope of the World." This fine work was most capably handled by the choir, and proved their ability to cope with music of a difficult character. The voices blended beautifully, and the effect was marked.

The introductory chorus, "Ring Forth ye Bells," was rendered in a spirited manner, that made it most enjoyable, as well as the subsequent choruses. These were Shepherds Abiding in the Field," by the lady voices, and "Lo, the Angel of the Lord," by the male voices, and were most effectively presented. In the second part of the cantata the ensemble work was equally successful.

To Miss Mary L. Rush, much of the credit for the pleasure of the evening was due. Her beautiful mezzo-soprano voice was heard to great advantage in several solos, which were among the most appreciated numbers on the programme. Her voice is powerful and at the same time possesses sweetness and purity of tone. Her solos were "The King of Love My Shepherd is," by Gounod, and "Forevermore." Miss Rush also took the solo "From out the Jewelled Dome of Heaven," in the second part of that cantata.

Miss Smith demonstrated the fact that she is a reader of considerable ability, and her numbers were greatly enjoyed. She is the possessor of a fine voice and great facility as a mimic, combined with a splendid stage presence, that makes her work most effective. Her most appreciated number last night was probably the scene from Ralph Connor's "The Prospector," although all her selections were most ably given. Her other numbers were "Grandfather," "The Slow Man," and "The Silent Place."

Mr. Forsyth gave evidence of his great ability as an organist by his selections on that instrument. He displayed brilliancy of tone and a mastery of technique that made a most favourable impression on the audience. His numbers were variations on hymn "Jerusalem, the Golden," by Dr. Spark, "Offertory in A Flat," Read, and "Festive March," Clarence Eddy.

The concert reflects great credit on the choir of St. Andrew's, and on their most effective leader, Mr. Forsythe.

Superintendent's Report.

Mr. W. Henderson, superintendent presented his annual report, which dealt with the work done on the mains, largely. Briefly summarized, it showed that during the year 13,078 feet, or 2 47-100 miles of new pipe had been laid, including the 4,500 feet of 12-inch pipe, for which $20,000 was voted by the people, and which duplicated the former 12-inch main from the old pump-house at Auburn, to Smith street. The report also showed that up to the present time 25 3-100 miles of water pipe have been laid in the city. An interesting feature of the report is the chronicling of the fact that no less than 218 new services were placed in last year, which shows that the citizens are rapidly coming to a general use of the waterworks.

A bill has been introduced in the New York Legislature to compel owners of cats to provide for their pets collars which will bear their name and address.

of the Episcopal Church, Bishop Satterlee officiating, and the Rev. Dr. Roland Cotter Smith assisting in the ceremony. During the progress of the ceremony the boys' choir of St. John's church sang a number of sacred selections, including Mr Longworth's favourite, "Be Thou Faithful Unto Death," from "Elijah," and a selection from the Song of Solomon, "My Beloved Cometh."

When the critical moment arrived and Bishop Satterlee asked the all-important question, the bride answered with a firm and clearly audible "I will." The answer of the bridegroom, although undoubtedly also in the affirmative, was by no means as audible as the answer of his fair life partner.

The Bridal Dress.

Miss Alice Roosevelt looked lovely in her magnificent bridal costume. The gown was cut in Princess style, which is particularly becoming to the slender and graceful figure of the bride. It was of pearl white satin, showing a design of roses outlined in silver thread on the plain background. The material was specially woven in one of the Paterson, N. J., silk mills, and the design then destroyed to prevent duplication. The skirt was plain and tight fitting around the hips and waist with no trimming whatever. The bodice was tight fitting as far as the bust, where it draped softly in crosswise folds, the fronts fastening in alternate tabs, showing a vest of soft tulle, which began at the end of the yoke. The transparent yoke was of real rose point lace, an heirloom of the Lee family. The sleeves were of elbow length, being finished with soft ruffles of the same lace. The train, fully three yards long, began at the shoulders, was of heavy white brocade, lined with plain white satin and finished on the sides and at the bottom with ruches of chiffon.

The bridal veil, another family heirloom, was of soft tulle, falling almost to the bottom of the train. It was held by a spray of orange blossoms, falling loosely over the coiffure. The bride carried no flowers, but only a small, ivory bound prayer book, the same which her mother carried at her wedding.

The Wedding Luncheon.

After the wedding party had left the East room the invited guests formed in groups and gradually made their way to the famous blue room where the wedding luncheon was to be served. It was fully 1 o'clock when Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth made their appearance.

When Mrs. Longworth returned to the guests, she wore a charming reception gown of the richest white silk, cut low in the neck, trimmed with a bertha of rare lace, sleeves dropping off the shoulder into a puff, finished with a band of lace just about the elbow. The body of the skirt and the bodice was ornamented with beautiful embroidered butterflies of various sizes. The smaller ones in the upper part of the dress were flat, while the larger ones toward the bottom of the dress had raised wings. The young bride looked charming in the rich gown, and radiantly happy.

The Wedding Gifts.

It is extremely doubtful whether any bride who was not a princess of royal blood was ever so overwhelmed with wedding presents as Mrs. Longworth.

For weeks wedding gifts of every description have been flowing into the White House, until the library was actually filled with the gifts. They came from every part of the United States, from every corner of the world, and varied in value from a few dollars to a king's ransom.

On Their Wedding Trip.

The wedding luncheon and reception lasted until 3 o'clock, when Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth retired to prepare themselves for their departure on their wedding trip. Later the newly married couple was driven to the Pennsylvania station, where the special Pullman car "Republic," specially fitted up for the bridal trip, stood ready to receive them. Mrs. Longworth looked charming in her travelling gown of tan cloth, cut in princess style and with a short bolero jacket. The skirt was trimmed with folds of chiffon velvet of the same shade as the cloth. The upper part of the waist and the sleeves were tan chiffon and lace. The little coat was trimmed with bands of velvet. With this costume she wore a tri-cornered hat of tan velvet, with a bird of paradise at the side, fastened with a tortoise-shell and silver buckle.

The final destination of the trip was carefully kept secret, but it is understood that the couple will go South, probably to Georgia, and will pay a visit to the home of her mother. Later they intend to spend a week or more at Palm Beach, Fla.

The car in which they will travel on their Southern trip is a fairy palace on wheels. It is ten feet wide and eighty feet long, and is equipped in the most artistic and luxurious manner.

Purely A Love Match.

The little romance between Alice Roosevelt and Nicholas Longworth began and developed, it might be said, on the open stage, right before the eyes of the world. Men and women in high positions do not enjoy the same opportunities of secrecy as their brothers and sisters living in practical obscurity. Not only figuratively speaking, but in the full sense of the word, the eyes of the people are constantly upon them and every act of theirs is scrutinized, reported, criticised and worried about. The fact that most of the courting was done while the two lovers were taking a long Oriental trip with a large party, personally conducted by Secretary Taft, made it even more difficult for them to keep their secret guarded from the world. Although the members of the party had tact enough not to anticipate the natural development of the love affair, their hints were plain enough to leave no doubt as to the final outcome of the affair.

It seemed that the eternal fitness of the match appealed to men and women alike, and when the engagement was finally announced it created everywhere nothing but the most intense satisfaction and met with the heartiest approval among all classes of the population.

Everybody realized that it was a love match pure and simple, and that neither considerations of money nor state reasons had anything to do with the relations between Miss Roosevelt and her western admirer. It was this fact more than anything else that made this engagement and to-day's wedding events of such national interest.

The Cobourg World, referring to a gentleman well known here, says: Our esteemed citizen, Thomas Gilliard, Esq., whose munificent gifts to the town are widely known, passed the 80th anniversary of his birthday Friday last. That he may live to see many more birthdays is the wish of The World and of his many friends. Mr. Gilliard is enjoying comparatively good health, for which we are very glad.

More Terrible Than War!

More terrible than war, famine or pestilence is that awful destroyer, that hydra-headed monster, Consumption, that annually sweeps away more of earth's inhabitants than any other single disease known to the human race.

"It is only a cold, a trifling cough," say the careless, as the irritation of the delicate mucous membrane causes them to hack away with an irritable tickling of the throat. When the irritation settles on the mucous surface of the throat, a cough is the result. To prevent Bronchitis or Consumption of the Lungs, do not neglect a cough however slight as the irritation spreading throughout the delicate lining of the sensitive air passages soon leads to fatal results. If on the first appearance of a cough or cold you would take a few doses of you would save yourself a great deal of unnecessary suffering. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup contains all the life-giving properties of the pine trees of Norway, and for Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough and all Throat and Lung affections it is a specific. Be sure when you ask for Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup to get it. Don't be humbugged into taking something else. Price 25 cts.

Miss Lena Johnston, Toledo, Ont. writes: "I have used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for throat troubles after taking numerous other remedies, and I must say that nothing can take the place of it. I would not be without a bottle of it in the house."

Some Peculiarities Of Peterborough County

Physical Features and Curiosities Not Widely Known—Statistics on Educational Progress—Relative Values of Townships—Our Summer Resorts—Prospects for Prosperity of Our County—Distribution of Population—Where Minerals Are Found.

"Know thyself," were the words of a philosopher who lived many years ago, and in order to know oneself one must have a fair knowledge of his surroundings.

Therefore, in this issue the Examiner publishes facts and figures concerning the history and geography of our own county of Peterborough, and some items concerning the county as it is to-day, which may probably prove of interest to some of our readers.

The statistics which follow have all been collected from reliable sources, and may be considered authentic and trustworthy.

Extent of County.

Peterborough county is one of the largest in the province in area, and is one of the few which does not border on any of the Great Lakes or rivers. The southern part of the county is particularly well suited for agricultural purposes, while the northern, although it has the appearance, at first sight, of a barren, rocky country, yet it is astonishing the number of acres available for the tilling of the soil.

From Haliburton, the northern boundary, to Rice Lake, the mean distance is about 45 miles. The width of the county is about 35 miles, the area being about 1,400 square miles, or over 900,000 acres.

Its Picturesqueness.

This extensive tract of territory presents us with a view of every stage and condition of Canadian progress, from the wild lands in the sparsely settled townships in the north, where a few Indian hunters still camp in the primeval forest, to the plateglass city, the richly settled country, and the comely villages of the south.

The numerous waterways, once traversed only by the birch-bark canoes of the red-man, are now astir with steamship and barge.

The county of Peterborough is probably the best watered of any of the counties of Ontario. In all of the fifteen townships, with one or two exceptions, are found some of the most picturesque lakes in Canada, and tourists say that the winding Otonabee is one of the prettiest rivers they have visited. The grandeur of the Kawartha Lakes is so widely recognized that it is needless to mention it here. The peculiar charm of Stony Lake, with its constant idyllic beauty, has elicited the remark, "Another lake of the Thousand Islands in miniature!"

As to Population.

In the county of Peterborough there are about 38,000 inhabitants, and if the land were divided equally each person in the county would possess about 24 acres of land. Harvey is the largest of the townships in area, not only in Peterborough county, but also in Canada; Otonabee the most thickly populated in the county. The smallest of the townships is Ennismore, with North Monaghan a close second. Cavendish and Methuen are the least inhabited of the townships according to population; the former on account of the Dickson Company's operations, and the latter because it is unfit for cultivation.

Educational Conveniences

In the county there is one Model School, one Collegiate Institute, one High School, two Business Colleges, and 116 Public Schools, in which the juvenile minds are developed. The township of Cavendish contains but one Public School, Anstruther two, and Burleigh and Methuen, three each, so that in these places there are a large number who cannot have even a glimpse of learning. Otonabee contains the most public schools, 19 in number.

The Minerals.

Peterborough county, especially in the eastern and northern parts, is rich in minerals, in fact there are few counties in Ontario which have as large an assortment of products of the mine as this of ours.

Gold is extensively mined in Belmont, at the famous Cordova mines. Lead is found in Galway; mica in Methuen, at the well known Blue Mountains. Granite is very plentiful in Burleigh, Harvey, and the other northern townships; limestone in Belmont and Dummer, and iron in Belmont.

It is a curious fact and one not widely known, that as a general rule that portion of the Kawartha Lakes contained in this county, divides the Granite in the north from the crystalline limestone of the south.

The Wild Animals

In addition to the common wild animals which may be seen at any time in the neighbourhood of the city, this county can boast of several species of important fur bearing animals, residing in the north. The most valuable of these are the silver gray and the black fox, of which only a very few representatives remain. There are mink, beaver bear, wolves, lynx and deer are others, and four years ago a resident of this city who makes frequent trips to the north, saw a moose on the shore of Long Lake, Chandos township. Evidently this antlered monarch had strayed away from its northern companions, as no other of its kind was discovered.

The Forest.

As a lumbering county Peterborough is one of the foremost in the province. Timber operations have been going on for many years and now no important forests stand in the southern part to connect the present with past traditions. The north is yet rich in lumber, the Rathbun, Dickson and the Macdonald Companies being the most aggressive in lumbering operations. Pine is the most important of the evergreens, and the most widely used in building operations. Then come hemlock, cedar, spruce, tamarack and balsam in the order of quantity. Of the deciduous trees, the maple, of which we have many species, ranks first in importance. Then come oak, beech, birch, hickory, basswood, ironwood and Balm of Gilead.

This county has also its share of curiosities, some of which are probably not very well known to many, yet well remembered by those who have had the pleasure, or displeasure, of visiting them. Perhaps the most widely known is beautiful Fairy Lake, on the Island "Headlands," in Stony Lake. This pretty sheet of water among the rocks is many feet higher than the level of the lake below, and few tourists who have visited Kawarthadom have failed to spend a peaceful hour on its shore. It is supposed to be fed by springs in the bed of the lake.

On the Indian River about about three miles north of the village of Warsaw, and close by the Natural Falls, is the famous "Potash Kettle," a circular hole, eight feet deep with with a diameter of three feet at the top and two feet at the bottom, worn smooth by the action of the water. This must have occurred many years ago, as this large basin is twenty feet or more above the water level of the river.

Not far distant from the "Potash Kettle" is situated a large cave, which descends hundreds of feet into the entrails of the earth. The walls walls of this cavern are composed of rock, and on the floor are many small solidified, cone-shaped bodies composed of the droppings from the water-percolated limestone above.

In the south-west corner of the township of Asphodel on the shore of Rice Lake are the well known mounds of the mound builders. Other mounds of the same kind are supposed to have been built on the shore of the Otonabee, one near, Nassau, and the other between Lakefield and Young's Point, in the township of Smith. These latter, however, have not been verified and some doubts are entertained as to their existence.

Indian Reserves.

There are two Indian reserves in the county of Peterborough, one on a projection of the township of Smith which may be clearly seen in the upper part of Chemong Lake; the other on the peninsula formed by the Otonabee River and Rice Lake, called Hiawatha. The occupations of the Indians consist chiefly of farming, making fancy work, hunting, fishing and acting as guides. The red race is dwindling before the apparently predestined inheritors of the land, yet these original lords of the forest will always leave behind the strange music of their Indian names, for the rivers, lakes and townships which are ours. Otonabee, Chemong, Katchewanooka and Hiawatha are some examples of the musical Indian tongue.

Miscellaneous.

At the present time in this county there are 64 post offices, about 87 miles of railway, 47 of which is owned by the Grand Trunk, and the rest by the Canadian Pacific.

Of the fifteen townships, Otonabee is the richest, being assessed last year for $1,970,079; Smith is second, and is assessed for $1,477,210; Cavendish is the least in value, statistics showing its total assessment to be only $7,100.

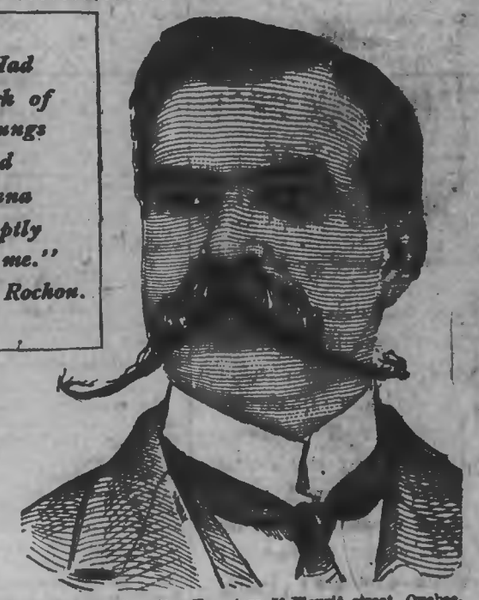
The townships of Galway and Cavendish have but one council; Burleigh and Anstruther have one, and Belmont and Methuen one.

The county of Peterborough is now recognized as one of the leading counties of Ontario and, judging from its marks prosperity, and present efficiency, it is quite safe to predict a bright and prosperous future in all branches of industry.

SEVERE CANADIAN WINTERS DEPRIVED OF THEIR DANGER.

Colds and Their After-Effects Conquered By the Use of Pe-ru-na.

"I Had Catarrh of the Lungs and Peruna Promptly Cured me."
--Alfred Rochon.



Hon. Alfred Rochon, President Canadian Foresters, 76 Fleurie street, Quebec, Canada, writes:

"I am pleased to add my testimonial to the many I see to the efficacy of Peruna. I suffered for some time with chronic catarrh of the lungs and really thought that I was not to get any relief, as I had used so many remedies and my condition remained about the same.

"Finally I decided on Peruna and that was a lucky day for me, for it proved to be the remedy which cured me. My lungs are perfectly sound now and I have not had the slightest trouble with them since, and at the slightest indication of a cold now I take a few doses and it will always ward off any bad effects."
--Alfred Rochon.

Catarrh of the lungs is, ordinarily, known as consumption. In these cases the catarrh has usually found its way into the lungs by the gradual extension of the disease from the throat through the bronchial tubes. Consumption is the natural termination of all cases of neglected chronic catarrh. Every one who is afflicted with chronic catarrh is liable to be attacked with consumption at any time. In the first stages of the disease Peruna is a sure cure.

NEGLECTED COLDS PROVE DISASTROUS.

A slight cough, which, without a vestige of doubt, would soon disappear with the use of Peruna, becomes chronic bronchitis, which requires a persistent use of Peruna for some time. There are a great many cases of consumption every year due directly to a cold.

A COUGH IS NATURE'S WARNING.

Peruna is for sale by all first class drug stores at $1 per bottle.

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

There are many reasons why Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is the most suitable treatment obtainable for children.

It is pleasant to the taste, and children like to take it.

It is composed of simple ingredients of proven value in the cure of throat and lung troubles.

It is positively free from anything of an injurious nature, and can be used with perfect safety with the smallest child, so long as directions are followed.

It is wonderfully successful in the prevention and cure of croup.

It promptly relieves even the most severe chest colds and brings about a thorough cure.

You are not experimenting when you use Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, for it is the standby in thousands of homes, where time and again it has proven its exceptional worth.

When you make up your mind to safeguard your children by keeping Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house, do not allow your dealer to persuade you into taking something on which he has a larger profit.

Mrs. Wm. Ball, Bracebridge, Ont., writes:—"I can recommend Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine most heartily for all forms of colds, and I think if every family would use it for their little ones it would save lots of worry and expense and find it prompt and lasting in its effects.

"My three youngest boys had whooping cough this winter and we could get nothing to help them until we sent for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It arrested the coughs at once and they kept on improving until they were cured at the cost of one dollar. That was not a large bill for so dangerous and distressing an ailment."

In the hour of emergency, when croup or colds seize your child, the cheap substitutes will fail you, but Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine never disappoints. 25 cts. a bottle, at all dealers.

A GOOD SHOWING.

The annual report of the secretary of the Water Commissioners, and that of the Superintendent, combine to furnish an excellent showing. After the payment of all charges on interest and sinking fund, there remains the handsome net surplus of $4,461.25, equivalent to the interest at 4 per cent. on an investment of $100,000; and this, too, in the face of the fact that there has been a reduction in the rates paid by consumers of about thirty per cent.

In accomplishing this result, the Water Commissioners have done well and deserve the thanks of the people for their excellent management of a very important civic convenience. But their good work has not been done without the exercise of a good deal of thought, skill and labour. The question, therefore, arises as to whether thanks alone amount to an adequate recognition of the services the Commissioners have given, and whether, or not, they should receive a share of the handsome net profits, to whose compilation they have given time — an important matter to busy men — and labour. An important city like Peterborough should not accept the undignified position of receiving important and profitable services — especially services that mean the equivalent of good dividend — without remuneration. It is suggested that the payment of a small salary, or rather indemnity, to cover loss of time, etc., to the Water Commissioners, would not be an ungraceful thing to do. If the chairmen were paid, say, $300 a year, and the other Commissioners $150 each, the city would place itself in the position of practically recognizing the excellmance and value of the services heretofore rendered without fee or reward; and at the same time furnish the incentive to, if possible, more faithful and fruitful service, implied in grateful recognition of fidelity and business ability, skilfully and effectively applied.

A WORKING MONARCH.

King Edward doesn't need to make much exertion to show that he is a man of good sense. On Wednesday he received Rev. W. Carlile, head of the Church Army, which is in friendly rivalry with the Salvation Army, in the work of finding homes in Canada for the unemployed of the United Kingdom. The King said that he worked twelve hours a day, and could sympathise with the unemployed; and he especially commended the emigration work of the Army, which was employed in indirectly furnishing work and homes for so many of his subjects. The King said: "Encourage your good emigrants. Wish them from me every happine s that work can produce. They will still be in my dominions, and their emigration will not only benefit themselves, and their families, but the whole empire." Thus we see that Canada's population interests, which, under proper conditions as to the class of immigrants, is the basis of our future development, are receiving increasing attention, and since the King gives personally the "hall mark" of his approval to emigration to Canada, the people of the higher ranks, who take their cue from royalty, will also begin to take an interest in Canada, which, in the past has received the doubtful benefit of the most dense ignorance from the benighted of all classes in the Mother Land.

A great many persons, however, will not be inclined to attach much weight to the King's declaration that he "works twelve hours a day." Yet his statement is easily credited. A man occupying the position of tremendous responsibility he holds, must, with even the most perfunctory attention to his duties, keep in touch with the events that affect the policy and government of the greatest empire in the world. Thousands of documents require the royal signature, and he must necessarily have some knowledge of almost every instrument signed, especially if it has to do with international relations, for a mistake, sometimes, trifling error in policy, may lead to complications and misunderstandings, possible of ending in the terrible eventuality of war. To thus keep in touch with the march of imperial events, requires an attention which can easily be fancied occupying twelve hours a day, especially combined with the other duties of royalty — laying corner stones, opening institutes, presiding at gatherings of charities, launching battleships, and the thousand and one things that represent calls upon a ruler's acquiescence, which, on the part of a monarch, cannot be ignored, especially one so tactful and recognizant of his duties to the public as King Edward VII. A Minister of the Crown, from the Imperial Government, to the most modest provincial government, has harder work — especially during a session — from day to day, than the most "put-upon" employee of the most exacting "sweat shop" proprietor. These citations illustrate the truth that whatever be a man's, or woman's, calling, if the duties incidental to it are faithfully discharged, hard work is the result, and also the fatigue that waits on toil of any kind.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Edmonton, in Alberta, promises to be more a centre of railway competition than railway monopoly. The statement is reiterated that a branch of the Great Northern Railway will soon be built from Havre, in Montana, to Edmonton in Alberta, a distance of 420 miles. This would be a fourth competing line at the new capital. This is very nice in the abstract, but railway corporations easily assume a virtuous attitude upon the subject of the exceeding sinfulness of brethren practising the un-altruistic sin of ruinous competition.

George Valois, who broke into his father's house, 180 Edinburgh street, and stole therefrom a suit of clothes, a razor and a lot of other things, pleaded guilty at the police court this morning to the charge and was given six months in the Central Prison. The "other things" that George stole, consisting of boots, overshoes, a watch, ties, and other articles, too numerous to mention. His father, Mr. Jos. Valois, told the court a thing or two concerning his son's fast life, which is not, according to his father's statements, by any means spotless.

"Yes; Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cured my Dyspepsia. I was a sufferer for seven years. I could not eat without suffering intense agony. I doctored some but to no avail, and I was given up to die. Five boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cured me entirely. Now I am well and strong."

This story is of a terrible disease easily and completely cured, is told by Mrs. John F. Sellars, of Western Bay, Nfld. It teaches several lessons, the most important of which are that no case of Dyspepsia is too far gone to be beyond the reach of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and that if Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure the most extreme cases of Dyspepsia they will easily dispose of your Indigestion.

The fact remains that you can't find a Dyspeptic who has used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets but you can find thousands of healthy, happy people people in Canada who were once Dyspeptic, but who have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff, and also for its excellence as a general hair dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching that dandruff causes. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes the hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive.

Market News For The Housekeeper

Eggs Decrease in Price While Beef is Advancing.

The market this morning was the busiest place in the city. Though the sleighing in the country is not conducive to a large influx of marketers, yet to-day's market was exceedingly well patronized, and large quantities of produce were offered for sale and found ready buyers.

The chief features of this morning's market were the rise in the price of beef and the fall in the egg quotations. As the spring approaches, beef becomes scarce and eggs plentiful, which were the causes of the change in the above prices. Forequarters were offered for 6c and 6 1-4c per lb., hind for 6 1-2c to 7c, the latter price being the more prominent. Eggs generally sold for 20c this morning sold for 21c.

Pork still maintains the firm prices, 10c for fore, and 11c for hindquarters.

Veal was offered at 9c and 10c per lb., only one load being visible.

Good Spies were selling at $1.50 per bag, and Russets at 50c, or $2 by the barrel.

Timothy hay and wood were plentiful commodities. The former was bought at $9 per ton. Hard wood sldo for $6, and soft at from $3 to $4 per cord.

Poultry is gradually becoming scarcer. Chickens were most prominent and were offered at from 75c to $1 per pair. A few turkeys were sold at $1.40 and $1.50 each. There were few, if any, ducks at to-day's market.

The following were the general prices at the mart this morning:

Pleasant Time At the Y.W.C.A.

A pleasing function was held at the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium last night at which about 150 ladies were present, each member of the gymnasium class bringing a friend and luncheon for two. All were costumed as children and a delightful evening was spent in which childhood games and frolics, such as "Ring a Round a Rosy," "Gathering Nuts in May," were played. At the request of the gathering about 50 members of the gymnasium class gave a much appreciated exhibition of floor work under the competent instruction of Miss Adams.

Only one small incident occurred that in any way marred the harmony of the evening's pleasure, when the electric lights went out for about half an hour's time. During the time they were out, candles had to be resorted to, to supply the illumination.

Cold on the Lungs.

ELIZABETH JACKSON.

A death which was attended by distressing circumstances was that which occurred last night about 7.30 at the residence of Mr. Robt. Jackson, lot 17, concession 13, Otonabee, when his mother Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson, passed away after a very brief illness, at the age of 80 years. The deceased had until Thursday night been in good health and when she arose yesterday morning she complained of feeling unwell, and gradually became worse during the day until her death; the cause being given as heart failure. Although she had reached advanced years the late Mr. Jackson was a woman of remarkable vitality, and was in good health until Thursday as stated above.

The deceased had been a resident of this township for 56 years, coming to the township with her husband ten years after they removed from England to Canada, spending the first ten years in the township of Hope. The late Mrs. Jackson's maiden name was Elizabeth Williamson and she was born in Fleetwood England. Her husband predeceased her fourteen years ago. Four children survive her; one son, Robert, and three daughters, Mrs. Thos. Hazlett, Otonabee; M. L. B. Garner, Welland, and Mrs. J. G. McConnell, Indian Head, Sask. One daughter has passed away.

The late Mrs. Jackson was a consistant member of the Baptist church, and was a lady beloved by all with whom she was associated.

The funeral will take place from the home of her son, lot 17, concession 13, Otonabee, on Sunday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Assessment Of The Turner Tent Factory

Was Discussed Again at Meeting of Manufacturers' Committee Last Night—Members of the Firm Wait on Council in Deputation—A Proposal to Fix it at $6000 for 10 Years Was Made But Did Not Pass Through Committee.

EXTENT OF BUSINESS OF TURNER FACTORY

The oft-discussed question of the assessment of Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons' factory, was again up before the Manufacturers' Committee last night, when a deputation, consisting of Messrs. J. J. Turner, sr., J. J. Turner, jr., Reg. Turner and Webber Turner, waited on the committee, to ask that some action be taken towards fixing the assessment of their factory. All the members of the firm addressed the committee, giving reasons why, in their opinion, they should be treated as the other manufacturers, who asked for fixed a assessment, had been treated.

Mr. J. J. Turner, sr., produced letters and orders to show the extent of their business, mentioning that they employed five travellers the year round, and paid out $150 a week in expenses for them. Their wage bill amounted to $275 per week, and at the present time 34 hands were employed; while during the busy season last summer 57 were given employment to, the average for the year round being 42. Their present staff was 11 married men, 8 single men, and 15 girls.

Their business last year amounted to $100,000.

It was explained to the Messrs. Turner than in any event nothing could be done which would affect this year's assessment, the taxes on which the firm would have to pay, since the Court of Revision had approved of the list. The chairman of the committee explained that the council might pass a bylaw, subject to ratification by the Legislature, at the next session, since it was thought to be too late to attempt to pass it through with the city's bill this year, fixing the assessment for 1907.

After the deputation had retired the committee discussed the matter, and finally Ald. Tovey moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan, that the committee recommend to the council that a bylaw be passed fixing the assessment of Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons' factory at $6000 for a period of ten years, subject to the usual conditions, one of which suggested was that they employ 30 hands for ten months of the year. It was decided however not to pass the motion at that meeting, and it was allowed to stand until the firm should submit a statement showing the number of hands they employ, and the number they would agree to employ during the period covered by the fixed assessment, as well as other information the committee would want to be in possession of before the agreement was drafted.

NINTH ANNUAL MEETING

The ninth annual meeting of the shareholders of The Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited, was held at the company's office, 14 King street west, Toronto, on Jan. 31st, 1906. The report of the Directors was submitted, showing that after the payment of the two half-yearly dividends at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, amounting to $49,975.40, a balance was carried forward to profit and loss of $18,029.21, making a total of $118,342.80 at the credit of profit and loss account on December 31, 1905. This amount is over 10 per cent. of the company's paid-up capital. The paid-up capital of the company at end of the year amounted to $1,037,893.71. The president, Hon. Mr. Stratton pointed out that the gross earnings amounted to about $20,000 over the preceding year, and that the growth of the company was exceedingly satisfactory. The report was unanimously adopted, many of the shareholders expressing their confidence in the management and continued success of the company. The shareholders express d regret at the death of the late manager, Mr T. P. Coffee, and approved of the action of the Directors in the appointment of Mr. James J. Warren as director and manager in succession to Mr. Coffee. At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors Hon. Mr. Stratton was re-elected president, and Mr. D. W. Karn of Woodstock, and Mr. C. Kloepfer of Guelph, vice-presidents.

The Friends Of Court Chemong Were Entertained

A Delightful "At-Home" Given Last Night by I.O.F. Court—A Number of Addresses Given by High Court Officers—Pleasing Programme of Music and Recitations Was Rendered—Great Progress of the Order Referred To.

SOCIAL EVENING MUCH ENJOYED

The "at-home" given last night by Court Chemong, I.O.F., was a most enjoyable event, and was attended by a large number of persons, the hall being well filled, and in the truest sense of the word it was an "at-home" because everyone present apparently felt perfectly at home and spent a most delightful evening. The chairman was Mr. F. H. Dobbin, who made a few appropriate opening remarks.

The programme was full and ample and the committee having this detail in charge had received excellent talent, that gave a pleasing variety in the several selections. Brief addresses on the local work of the court were given by Bro. G. W. Powell, financial-secretary, and Bro. J. W. Burgess, recording-secretary.

The musical programme, which interspersed the addresses, was as follows:

Vocal duet, "When the Sunset Turns the Ocean's Blue to Gold," Misses Jennie and Maggie Buyers, and the encore, "When the Harvest Moon is Shining on the River."

Instrumental duet, piano and violine, "The Maple Leaf," Miss Winnie Anderson and Mr. D. Webster.

Recitation, "Nebuchadnezzar," Miss Bessie Powell, and as an encore she gave "Larry McGee."

Vocal solo, "My Starlight," Miss Winnie Anderson, who was encored.

Comic solo, "How Do You Do?" Mr. Robert Burns.

Vocal solo, "Just Plain Folks," Miss Mabel Rickey.

Recitation, "Lost in the Bush," Mr. James R. Runnett, and an encore.

Vocal solo, Miss M. Guerin, who received an encore.

Violin solo, Mr. D. Webster.

Vocal solo, "Will Mother Know Me in the Sky?" Miss Pearl Morgan.

Wand Swinging, Mr. F. Andrews.

Vocal Solo, "When the Swallows Homeward Fly," Mr. No. A. Howard-Moore.

Mr. Geo. Lightheart gave several fine selections on the gramophone.

Bro. Dr. Wade, H.V.C.R., spoke briefly on the objects of the order and of its growth and progress, and told of the steady advance and prosperity that had marked its operations.

Bro. James Glendenning, D.S.C.R., made an address, compressing into a few minutes' talk salient facts of interest, and driving home the conviction that the order was one of the most, if not the most, prosperous and well conducted of all the benefit societies.

Bro. G. N. Brown, D.H.C.K., endorsed what his co-workers had said and in a short address dealt with some statements contrasting the work, business, income and security offered as against other orders and other lines of insurance. He dwelt particularly on the economy with which affairs were managed, and pointed out that the utmost return was given to the membership under the wise system adopted by the institution.

At the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served in the dining room, and enjoyed by all present. The hour then being late the National Anthem was sung and the gathering dispersed.

The committee desire to acknowledge the kind services of piano accompanists for the various singers, Miss J. A. Stuart, Miss Ida Mulholland, Miss Jennie Buyers, Miss May Bullen, Mr. A. E. Walker.

Nationals Are Willing To Play

They State, However, That They Will Not Challenge West Enders.

Sporting Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In regard to the challenge in your paper a few days ago to the West End hockey club, by the National hockey team for a game to decide the junior championship of the county, I wish to state that myself nor any other member of our team issued such a challenge. The West Enders sent the challenge and then accepted it themselves. We played the above-mentioned team a few weeks ago and defeated them 4-2. We are open to play any team in the county at our age. We have won 19 straight victories without a defeat and never refused a challenge since we organized. We will play the West Enders one game or a series of games after we finish the games we have on hand now.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this space in your valuable paper.

Yours truly,
K. PENTLAND.
Cap't. National hockey club.

HOCKEY

Notes of the Fray.

There is no truth in the rumour that the editor of the Review will don war paint for the game. He doesn't want to play and he couldn't play anyway.

The "long green" offered by the Review has had no takers—but all the girls are not dead yet.

It is reported that Big Chief Metheral will go to Lindsay on Monday in search of players for the Review.

Both sevens are now in training. The Review seven is dieting on Life Scraps—the kind that mother used to make—and the Examiner's chief food is Malta Vita.

To satisfy the curiosity of several people a pedometer was attached to Uncle Pike McCrae at the rink the other night. At the end of two hours strenuous grind it was found that he had travelled exactly three-quarters of a mile.

Manager Buster Brown, of the Review, team is confident that his team will win. However, the Examiner are not backing up any on that account.

Mr. C. H. Sawle it is said, has been induced to turn out with the Review. R. Sawle off now.

Speaking of the interest centred on the coming great press game, it is sufficient to assert that Horridge, of the Review, who has never been known to have attended a hockey match, will be among the fans.

The city editor of the Review seven has discovered a special training diet and has been dining in recluse lately lest he divulge the secret of the charm. Watch him brothers, he will have the staying power.

• • • •

Because they defeated the Houghton team the other night, the supporters of the American Soo team are stuck up some. The News of that city says:—

Sizing up the teams from any impartial standpoint it can be said that either seven has cause to feel proud of its work. It is doubtful if Canada could produce a team anywhere that could put either Houghton or the Soo to sleep. Were either team to go east and play with any of the so-called Canadian champions the people across the border would be given something to talk about for months. While the Soo puckies have good grounds for claiming their team is the best in the business, Houghton is there with the goods. Any game between the teams is bound to be exciting.

The seniors had a good practice last night. The boys are hoping to keep in good shape for the final games which will be played next week. The following players were out:—Graham, Morgan, Glover, Watson, Parnell, Cavanah, Moore. "Capt. Whitcroft missed his first practice last night" "Something ddding."

The Daughter Of The Blacksmith Was Presented

By St. John's Dramatic Club—Sherlock Holmes Was Interested in the Plot Cleverly Laid and Carried Out—Mr. Dundas Gave Interesting Musical and Juggling Acts—Mr. Wm. Williams' Solos Were Appreciated.

YOUTHFUL ACTORS WORTHY OF THE STAGE

"The Blacksmith's Daughter," which was presented by the St. John's Dramatic Club in the Sunday school room last night was greeted by a large audience, who, by their interest and applause, showed their appreciation of the successful effort of the youthful dramatists. This production, in fact, merited a much larger reception than it received, each of the three acts being excellently staged by the company. The scenery was made especially for the event, which added greatly to the effect of the play, and it is quite safe to assert that should the Dramatic Club reproduce "The Blacksmith's Daughter" here the school room of St. John's church would not be spacious enough to contain the audience.

The drama was written by Mr. S. R. Bradburn, and undoubtedly great credit is due him for the excellent style and facility which was displayed throughout.

The play consists of a plot formed by a criminal, who attempts to steal away the blacksmith's daughter, and by marriage or forgery to obtain the fortune to which she is heir. Sherlock Holmes, however, appears on the scene and the criminal is hunted to earth. The blacksmith's daughter is then restored to her rightful lover and the play is happily concluded.

Sherlock Holmes, the leading character, was taken by Mr. S. R. Bradburn, and he demonstrated his ability to be in dramatic company. His voice and appearance in his different roles were very natural and admirably agreed with the character of the scenes. Miss Lancaster, as Lucy, the daughter of the blacksmith, acted her part in a professional way. The part of Willy Simpleton, the blacksmith's assistant, was acted by Mr. M. Drysdale, and by his humourous speeches and peculiar antics, elicited much applause from the audience. Mr. Beverly Doucette, as Mr. Jack, Lucy's lover, also contributed to the successful outcome of the event. Miss Ethel Roberts took the part of Aunt Jane, the blacksmith's housekeeper, in an efficient manner. Mr. Jack Hogan, as Bill Pipestone, the criminal, was by no means the least important character, and assisted greatly in the success of the drama. Mr. E. White played the blacksmith role and had a perfect idea of what was expected of him.

On the whole, the Dramatic Club gave an excellent production last night considering the short time they have spent in preparation.

Mr. Wm. Dundas was present and gave some splendid exhibitions in musical juggling on glasses, piccolo and banjo. His baton juggling was one of the most pleasing features of the evening and was always heartily applauded. His jokes in connection with Mr. Wm. Williams were original and were well received.

Mr. Wm. Williams captured a great deal of applause from the audience in his two songs, "Sweet Adeline" and "I'm Trying so Hard to Forget."

The accompaniments during the evening were played by Prof. Milner.

Upon invitation, the company will play in Baliboro next Monday night, and those who go to hear Mr. Bradburn's first effort, "The Blacksmith's Daughter," will not be disappointed.

The Manufacturers' Committee Meeting

Considerable Important Business Was Transacted Last Night—Deputation Will Go to Toronto in Interests of Private Bill—Other Matters Discussed.

The Manufacturers Committee met last night when some matters of business were transacted, and a number of others discussed both while the committee was in session and after the form of adjourning was gone through, and the "members of the committee" were called to transact further business after the reporters had left. At this adjourned meeting the committee discussed matters in connection with the proposed establishment here of the new carpet factory in the city.

Those present at the meeting were, Mayor Best, Ald. McWilliams, Tovey, Hicks, McIntyre, Duncan and Adams.

It was decided to send a deputation to Toronto with a view of interviewing the Government in reference to the city's private bill, and the deputation will be composed of His Worship Mayor Best, Ald. McWilliams, the City Solicitor and the City Clerk.

The new C.P.R. line's entrance to the city was discussed, and Ald. Hicks suggested that to save trouble later on it would be a good idea to obtain from the C.P.R. information as to their intentions in reference to entering the city limits and if the city is to be entered, what streets they propose to cross. It was pointed out that in case the company did not come into the city limits with their new tracks, no harm would be done if they did intend to, the earlier an understanding was arrived at the better.

Ald. Hicks moved that the chairman be authorized to inquire from the chief engineer of the C.P.R. as to the company's intention in entering the city, and the streets in the city which they propose to cross. Ald. Duncan seconded the motion, which was carried.

The Mayor stated that his information was that the company did not intend to enter the city limits at all, and believed that the Company should make the first overtures to the city if they proposed to come into the city.

A letter from the City Solicitor in reference to the application of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company for extension of time for the completion of its line. The letter stated that the application of the Company was not prejudicial to the interests of the city.

The Peterborough Shovel and Tool Company through its Secretary filed a declaration with the council to the effect that the conditions under which the company was to be given a deed of the land upon which the factory was erected had been complied with, and asked for the deed referred to, subject to the further condition that if the factory was not maintained in operation for the specified period in the event of the failure of which the land would be forfeited to the city. The matter was referred to the chairman of the committee, and it was suggested that the council might pay a visit to the factory in a body, and to this extent show their interest in the industry, and see for themselves whether the terms of the agreement have been carried out.

Some discussion took place on the request of the Ontario Municipal Association for support for the application which will be made to the Legislature for an amendment to the Municipal Act, by which the liability of the municipality for damages will be lessened. It was decided to take no action on the matter, but the clerk, who is a member of the executive of the Association was authorized to use his best judgment in voting on the question, when it comes up for discussion at the next meeting of the Association.

Will Be One Of The Speakers at St. Louis Service

Rev. Canon Davidson Will Take Part in the Noonday Lenten Services in the Garrick Theatre—Some of the Most Prominent Anglican Churchmen in the Country Will be Present.

GREAT HONOUR TO LOCAL CLERGYMAN

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat of a late date says: "The speakers for the noon-day Lenten services to be held in the Garrick Theatre daily during Lent, were announced yesterday. This list is headed by the distinguished bishop of Quincy, Ill."

This quotation refers to a matter which has some local interest. Last autumn a committee of St. Louis churchmen, desiring the services of a representative Canadian clergyman, opened negotiations with Rev. Canon Davidson to take part in a well-known series of services which have been held there for many years under the auspices of the different chapters of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in that city. The place of meeting is a down-town theatre. The meetings are very well known and have been addressed by many leaders of the church in the United States.

Rev. Canon Davidson will leave for St. Louis about March 1 and will be away about two weeks. He has been invited to preach in Christ Church Cathedral, St. Louis, on Sunday, March 4, and from Monday to Saturday will deliver addresses daily.

NORMAL SCHOOL
PROPOSITION IS STILL IN THE AIR

This is the Information Premier Whitney Gives a Morrisburg Deputation—Nothing Definite Decided Yet—The Proposed Agricultural Schools—No Legislation Affecting Collegiate Institutes and High Schools.

In view of the proposal to establish one of the new Normal Schools in this city, the interview which the Premier had on Saturday, in which he referred to the Government's policy on this question, will be read with interest. The Globe says:

Replying to a strong deputation from Morrisburg, where he lived and practised law for many years prior to taking up his residence in Toronto Premier Whitney, on Saturday afternoon, emphasized the point that the question of increasing the number of normal schools, was still more or less in the air. The Government was however convinced, as he had said on former occasions, that in order to obtain the most beneficial results in the way of education, it was absolutely necessary to increase the capacity of the teachers and their salaries. The Premier deprecated the tendency on the part of inspectors, pupils, parents and teachers to regard the success of the pupils in examination as of paramount importance. Education, he defined, as aiding the mind to unfold itself, and absorb and take in whatever surrounded it. Cramming, with the sole end in view of attaining the highest possible number of marks, at examinations, was not education. Proceeding, he said that the Government believed that the best thing to do to attain the objects in view, was to reorganize the present normal school system. The model schools had done good work but some people thought that they could not do enough to fill the requirements of the teacher of the future. The Government's plan it was felt, would secure first of all a better class of teachers, receiving higher salaries, than was now the case. It would also secure greater permanency in the profession, particularly on the part of the men teachers, the majority of whom now regarded it as a makeshift and a stepping stone to other walks of life.

Alluding to a reference made by one of the speakers to agricultural schools, the speaker recalled his continued advocacy while in Opposition of such a policy. He had time and again held that the province of Ontario could support half a dozen small institutions, not colleges, where instruction could be given in agriculture. "That," he said "is an idea that is left for the future to develop. If we should continue in power, and continue to hold the confidence of the people, that will be considered carefully, definitely and specifically, and carried out in the way that seems best for the advantage of all concerned."

The Premier referred in commendatory terms to the high schools and collegiate institutes of the province, in regard to which, it is understood, there will be no legislation this session. The duty of the Government, he continued, must be primarily to the ninety-six per cent. attending the public schools. Towards that end their efforts were at present directed. He did not think the question was one in which politics would be interjected. The Opposition in the Legislature, he had reason to believe, would be found cooperating with the Government in the endeavour to take the most desirable steps in reference to this question, which could not be settled at one session. For the request of the deputation that one of the proposed new normal schools be established at Morrisburg, he promised consideration. So did also Hon. Mr. Pyne, who with Hon. Messrs. Matheson, Foy and Cochrane was present throughout the interview.

Mr. J. Green's Mysterious DISAPPEARANCE FROM HOME
Is At Last Accounted For

Affair That Has Created Considerable Anxiety Cleared Up—Mr. Green Has Been in the Nicholls Hospital Since Last Tuesday—His Absence Cause of Great Worry to His Family.

The mystery concerning the disappearance of Mr. George Green, of 46 Albert street, has at last been cleared up. After all particulars in connection with the matter are brought to light there is nothing mysterious about the matter whatever. It is simply a case of Mr. Green not notifying his family when he went to see Dr. Bradd, whom he consulted on Tuesday with a view to obtaining admittance to the Nicholls Hospital. The doctor considered his illness was serious, and as a result he was admitted to the hospital, where he has been ever since undergoing treatment. His family, as was before stated, did not know that he had seen his physician and had been admitted to the hospital, and naturally were unable to account for his absence. He left his residence without saying where he was going, and when he failed to put in an appearance again, the family were very much concerned about him. The matter was reported to the police and a general search begun for the missing man. To make a long story short, Dr. Bradd, who had heard of the great anxiety of Mr. Green's family over his disappearance, telephoned to the police station this morning explaining matters. The family of the missing man are, naturally, very much relieved to learn that he is in the hospital.

Highway Man
At Belleville

Two Ladies of That City Were Held Up on Saturday Night.

Belleville, Feb. 18.—The most daring hold-up and highway robbery that ever took place in this city occurred shortly before 10 o'clock last night on East Bridge street, one of the principal thoroughfares, the victims being two of Belleville's prominent ladies, Miss Ella Yates and Mrs. F. Osborne, widow. Both ladies had been down town shopping, and when nearly home, at a dark spot, between William and Ann streets, they were suddenly accosted by an unknown man, who, pointing a revolver, demanded their money. Miss Yates immediately handed over the purse, while Mrs. Osborne started to run. The highwayman chased her and again demanded the purse, which she handed over. Both purses contained a sum of money. Neither woman could give a very clear description of the man, other than that he wore a long, black overcoat, and had a moustache. The highwayman has not yet been captured. Both ladies were badly frightened, but did not scream, fearing violence.

Bowmanville Has Another Sensation

A Case of Removing Goods Under Seizure From Balmoral Hotel, in Which Mayor Tait is Involved—Question Now Worrying Authorities is, Who is to be Arrested? Some of the Difficulties of the Case.

Special to The Examiner

Bowmanville, Feb. 19th. — This town has experienced some unique municipal sensations since the opening of the year, beginning with the difficulty of electing a council, and followed by the trouble in the High School, when the whole staff resigned, or threatened to resign, and the pupils sent an ultimatum to the Board to the effect that they would go on strike unless a male teacher was made principal; but the latest sensation caps them all, including, as it does, Mayor Tait, in a police court, if not central prison or penitentiary, case.

The facts in the case are briefly these: Mrs. Jackson, who, since her divorce from her husband has been conducting the Balmoral Hotel, has by reason of sickness, and a consequent inability to personally attend to the business of the hotel, become financially involved, owing, it is said, about $1000 in town. Late last week a seizure of the property was made, and the same day a wagon belonging to Mr. Archie Tait, mayor of the town, who keeps a grocery store, and who was a creditor of Mrs Jackson, was sent to the hotel, and a quantity of silver ware and other valuables, were removed to Mayor Tait's store.

The other creditors meanwhile were watching the hotel closely and saw the mayor's wagon, coming out with the aforementioned valuables, and the matter was at once reported to the police. The chief was in a quandary. He did not know whom to arrest. Clearly some one had done wrong, and should be arrested for removing goods under seizure but he could hardly arrest the mayor of the town under whom he was given his appointment, and he therefore placed Mrs. Jackson in the cells. She was afterwards released on $1000 bail, Mayor Tait going his bond for her re-appearance when called for.

Now, the question is, what is going to be done about it. The goods were returned as soon as the parties interested in their removal found that they had been detected, but Mrs. Jackson is still under arrest, and the legal authorities are puzzled as to the outcome. It would never do to send the Mayor to jail, and if Mrs. Jackson goes the hotel will be closed up and the creditors will lose practically everything. The only thing that seems reasonable to be done now is to punish the hostler of the hotel, who, acting under Mrs. Jackson's instructions, took the goods referred to out of the house, and loaded them on to the wagon. But he was not to be benefitted in any way by the removal of the valuables, and some ask, why punish him?

The question is one which has aroused much interest here and the outcome will be eagerly watched for.

Rev. Dr. Wilson Preached Very Effective Sermon

LARGE CONGREGATIONS WERE PRESENT

The Christian and Missionary Alliance convention that is being held in connection with Bethany Tabernacle, commenced yesterday, when earnest were addresses were given by the visiting clergymen. There were large congregations present at all the services during the day, and the meetings were of such a nature that they could not fail to be profitable and productive of great good to all present.

The preacher at the morning service was Rev. Dr. Henry Wilson, of New York City. Rev. Dr. Wilson was born in Peterborough, and his visit has an added interest on that account. He is an eloquent speaker, with an earnest and persuasive delivery, that make his remarks particularly impressive, and his hearers yesterday gave the closest attention, as he told the simple but wonderful truths that are the foundation of Christianity.

In beginning his discourse, the preacher said that what people should desire most was to see God. If he were to ask them, what they would like most, that would be their answer. Rev. Dr. Wilson spoke of the many memories that keep crowding around him as he thought that he was standing once more in the place of his birth. The best memory of all was not that he had been born in Peterborough, but that he had been re-born of the Holy Ghost years after. The second birth was better than the first, but he was thankful for the first, for without that he could not have had the second.

There were four things that the Holy Spirit did in making Jesus Christ real to us. The first part of Jesus that the Holy Spirit made real to us was His face. This was described as the loveliest in the world. "Don't rest until you get that vision," said the preacher; "do not let God alone until He has made plain to you the glorious beauty of the face of His son." It was one of the paradoxes of Christianity that if one wanted to see God he has first to become blind. "Dear people," said Dr. Wilson, "ask God to make you blind so that you can see His face. It will so fill your vision that you will be unable to see anybody else, and the things of this world will seem as shadows and Christ as the substance. Some people think that the things we see are the real real things. The only real world to me is the invisible one. The people around us, this church itself, are like the clouds, they pass away."

To those who were discouraged by what they saw inconsistent in others, Dr. Wilson said, "You will never be what you ought to be until you look away above the best Christian, and the worst Christian, and see the Christian." The face of God was referred to by the speaker, who said that it makes people more patient. When they remembered that the things that disgusted and shocked them had disgusted and shocked Christ long before, they would learn to be more paient with others. Christ did not wipe us out because we were inconsistent and weak and foolish; He bore with us. Said the speaker, in reference to the effect of viewing His face: "You won't be looking for spotless people, and you won't find them if you do."

The second part of Christ that was made manifest by the Holy Spirit was His voice. Referring to its wonderful beauty Rev. Dr. Wilson said that he had stood in places where there was the most glorious music, in Westminster Abbey and other places; he had heard the great oratorias and the Hallelujah Chorus, but one word from the lips of Jesus was more precious to his soul than all the music of the ages rolled into one grand sweet chorus. The sweetest words he had ever heard were: "My child, thy sins are forgiven thee. People could not hear the voice of Jesus until they were dead."

The great power of the Holy Ghost would make His people dead to the sounds of the world.

The touch of Christ was just as real as the view of His face, and more. At His touch His whole being passed into our bodies. People, however could not touch Christ until they had ceased to touch other things. Rev. Dr. Wilson spoke of the effects of His touch. If a millionaire were truly converted his millions would fall into the coffers of the church, and he would only keep enough for his daily bread and butter. If there was a drunkard present let him get hold of Jesus, and he would forget his craving for drink.

The last point touched upon by Rev. Dr. Wilson was the spirit of life which, he said, was the secret of spiritual life. "Have you felt the breath of God breathing God into you?" he asked. It is easy to receive the Holy Ghost. "It is a no more difficult matter than to open yonder door, and take a breath of pure air." All that was necessary was to open the heart to God.

At the conclusion of the sermon a communion service was held.

The service in the evening was very largely attended, and partook of a missionary character. An address on mission work in China was given by Mrs. Shantz, who with her husband, is home on furlough for some time, and proved quite interesting. Rev. Dr. Wilson also spoke at some length, and was listened to with attention and profit by the large number present.

The convention will continue until to-morrow evening, three services being held each day. Other speakers from a distance are expected to be present this evening.

Girl Toilers

Gain Strength for Work

In office and factory, shop, store or kitchen girls are at work all over this land, and, alas! far beyond their strength.

Young women who work are especially liable to female ills. Too often the girl is the bread winner of the family and she must toil unremittingly, no matter if her back does ache, her limbs and abdomen throb with dull pain and dragging sensations, and dizzy spells make her utterly unfit for work. These are the sure signs of female irregularities which kill beauty and youth.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

builds health and strength for all women who work and are weary. It creates the vitality that makes work easy. From the thousands of grateful letters written by working girls to Mrs. Pinkham we quote the following:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Overwork and long hours at the office, together with a neglected cold, brought on a female trouble until finally I was unable to go to work. I tried change of scene and climate, but found that I did not regain my health. I then thought of a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when her health was in the same condition that mine was, and straightway sent out for a bottle. I finished that and took two more before I really began to improve, but after that my recovery was very rapid, and when I had finished the sixth bottle I was well and able to go back to work again. I certainly think your medicine worthy of praise, and am indeed glad to indorse it.

MLLE. ALMA ROBITAILLE, 78 rue St. Francois, Quebec, Que.

Oh, if Canadian girls who work would only realize that they have but one life to live, and make the most of their precious health and strength!

Mrs. Pinkham extends to every working girl who is in ill health a cordial invitation to write her for advice. Such letters are always kept strictly confidential, and from her vast experience Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help you—and may save your life.

THE EASY OIL.

Scott's Emulsion is "the easy oil"—easy to take, easy in action. Its use insures deliverance from the griping and nauseating sensation peculiar to the raw oil. Nobody who has any regard for their stomach thinks of taking cod liver oil in the old way when Scott's Emulsion is to be had. It is equally certain that no one having a regard for their health will accept a cheap emulsion or alcoholic substitute for Scott's Emulsion. It fulfills every mission of cod liver oil and more.

The Labours In Christianizing The Chinese

Was Subject of Address by Miss Quinn at St. Paul's—Chinese a Hospitable Race — More Missionaries are Needed—Idols are Worshipped--Opium the Greatest Curse in China—Some Pathetic Stories.

A LARGE NUMBER WAS PRESENT

It was a large congregation which assembled at St. Paul's church last night to hear the address of Miss Quinn, a missionary who has recently returned from Central China on a visit to her home. Miss Quinn, who, before her departure to that foreign land nearly 10 years ago, had been a prominent and active worker in St. Paul's church, and this no doubt was the cause of so many taking advantage of the opportunity of listening to her interesting and profitable address last night. Her appearance in the pulpit impresses one with the idea that she has something important to say and knows how to say it. Her vocabulary is simple and most emphatic; her voice clear and persuasive. Her vocal pictures of Chinese life were so well defined and interesting that she commanded the individual attention of the audience from the beginning to the end of her missionary talk.

In opening her address, Miss Quinn expressed much pleasure at once again being at St. Paul's from which she had been absent so long. During that interval of time she had been in many difficult and dangerous positions, but God had never failed to meet His promises. She had trusted implicitly in His great goodness, and at no risk, as He had proved a faithful adviser throughout her many and unexpected predicaments. She had apparently often been in imminent peril, but God had always aided in her safety, to Whom was due all her success in the boundless missionary field of China. "Lo I am with you alway, even unto the ends of the earth," had been proven by her extensive travels in that heathen land. God she said, would keep those from fear who would put their trust in Him.

She loved the Chinese people with all her heart. In many ways they are a most interesting and wonderful race. In goodnesity and hospitality they rank among the foremost of the world. The first and greatest difficulty of a missionary there is the learning of the complicated Chinese language. This, however, is soon overcome by industrious labour, and the primary and apparently impossible difficulty in the spreading of the gospel subsides.

Miss Quinn cited some amusing instances of the peculiar opinions which the Chinese race entertained regarding the foreigner. She described minutely the methods generally adopted of getting acquainted with the natives and teaching them the gospel and the love of God "It is a joy," she said, "to name the name of Jesus in a foreign land."

The unchristianized Chinese, by their false zeal and labourious progress, bow down and worship stones and other idols, when the children are ill or some other trouble occurs. Missionaries, therefore, were needed to tell the heathen race God's great message. "Come unto Me all ye that labour and are heavy laden and I will give thee rest."

The speaker referred to many cases where God had evidently helped the gospel teachers there to Christianize the natives, and one of the greatest sorrows of her life was when she was leaving town to see so many almost persuaded, but no labourers to carry on the good work.

Miss Quinn told many pathetic stories of Chinese scenes. The ignorance and superstition of some of the people was almost heart-rending, and she hoped that more would join in the missionary work from Canada, and exhorted the people to assist in every possible way in Christianizing this heathen race.

The greatest detriment in China today is the opium curse. It is almost unbearable, the speaker said, to watch the intense agony a Chinaman is subject to in forfeiting the great curse of opium smoking. Nothing, she said, can assist in this except the grace of God. She hoped the people would sympathize with this degraded race and pray for their speedy exodous from the bondage of sin.

The parting with these people gave her much sorrow, and one of the most pathetic scenes of her life occurred on the banks of the river when she was about to embark. She received many messages from the natives to bring to the Christians of Canada, but the greatest of all was that given by an old man with tears in his eyes. "Tell them that the harvest is great and the labourers are few."

In closing, Miss Quinn thanked the congregation for the privilege of being present to address it, and for the gratifying hearing that she had been greeted with.

During the service Miss Davies sang very beautifully the solo, "Hear Me, O Father, When I Call Upon Thee," and excellent music was rendered by the choir throughout the evening.

Distribution Of The Bible

Mr. Geo. Baskin, Agent of Colportage Mission, Visits Peterborough.

Mr. Geo. Baskin, agent of the International Evangelical and Colportage Mission of Algoma and the Northwest, is making his annual visit to Peterborough on behalf of the 23rd year's work of disseminating Biblical literature among the people especially in the Northwestern districts. Forty-two thousand copies have been supplied by the mission's agency, in 20 languages, besides a multitude of booklets and tracts and 75 various editions of books and tracts have been published by the mission for its work, in five languages. Many of the editions are practically exhausted and need republishing. $290 was received last year for those supplied sold, and $60 worth was given to camps and other places. The depot at 202 King street east, Toronto, is daily open for the supply of Biblical literature and a stock in 25 languages is on hand. The work is in behalf of Godliness, without denominational limit, and its influences are for much good in the land and beyond it. The donation of Peterborough last year in its behalf was $33.10, which is gratefully acknowledged. The indebtedness of about $3,000 the missionary is very desirous of discharging.

A new piece of legislation that came into effect in Natal with the New Year, was the early closing of shops law, shutters having to be up and assistants dismissed at 5.30. Instructions have been given to the police to enforce the law, which, it is held will have a serious effect on the smaller shops, some of which are expected to go to the wall.

While out shooting along the river side, near Bulwell, England, Mr. Widdowson shot and wounded a fine specimen of the English bittern, now rarely seen in that country. When his keeper went to pick it up the bird attacked him furiously for some time, and subsequently turning on to the keeper's dog bit the animal severely. Eventually the keeper killed the bird.

Was Presented With A Prize

Mr. Wilfrid Drysdale Given Pen for New Members.

A pleasing event took place yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the T. A. S., when Mr. Wilfred Drysdale was presented with a pin by Rev. Dr. O'Brien, spiritual advisor of the society, as a prize for bringing in the largest number of new members during the last six months. This period has been a more than ordinarily prosperous one for the society, a very large number of new members have been added, and yesterday eleven more were admitted.

The society is in a very prosperous condition, and the prospects are very bright.

An Olden Time Local Concert

Those Who Were to the Fore as Local Musicians in the Easy Sixties.

The Examiner has been handed a copy of a programme of a local concert given in the "town hall," at that time situated upon about the present site of the market weigh scales, on the tenth of March, 1863. VanEvery, and Miss Sweeting is Mrs. Wm. Best. Note the fractional extra vale placed upon "front seats":—

Bank Merger Is Announced

Canadian Bank of Commerce Absorbs Merchants' Bank.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Feb. 17.—The merger has taken place of the Merchants' Bank of Prince Edward Island and the Canadian Bank of Commerce. So far the full terms have not been announced. It is understood that the purchase price was over $175, the market value of the stock. The Merchant's Bank was established in 1870 and has four branches in the island. It had a paid up capital last year of $350,000 and profits of $57,000, and a dividend of eight per cent was declared. There will be no change in the policy of administration of officials of the smaller bank. An advisory board will be created from among the members of the present directorate, including President W. A. Weeks, Vice-President P. R. Heatz, Premier Peters, A. P. Prowse and J. S. Hinton.

With a white blackbird in his possession a farmer entered a Longford newspaper office and demanded $50 for the bird, the Irish Times says. He afterwards sold it for a more moderate sum.

Increase Should Be Applied To Northwest Work

Motion to This Effect by Rev. W. Major was Carried at Rural Deanery Meeting.

The current issue of the Canadian Churchman, just published, contains a comprehensive report of the quarterly meeting of the Ruridiaconal Chapter of Northumberland, held in Campbellford some weeks ago.

At that meeting considerable discussion was aroused over the increased allotment of the Mission society of the Canadian church, which resulted in the following motion by Rev. Wm. Major, seconded by the Venerable Archdeacon Warren, of Lakefield: "The Ruridiaconal Chapter of Northumberland, while thoroughly appreciating the great work done by our missionaries in foreign lands and rejoicing in the results which have already attended their labours, yet is decidedly of the opinion that for some years to come the increase in the contributions in the Dominion to the Missionary Society of the Canadian church should be applied to the funds of our Northwestern dioceses, in order to enable the church to establish itself more thoroughly in our own Dominion, thus fulfilling the obligation which we feel to be, for the present, our nearest duty, and making it possible for us to extend the work in foreign parts in the not distant future, more widely and more efficiently."

"I'm Well
Because of Liquozone," is a Tale Told Everywhere.

In almost every hamlet—every neighborhood—there are living examples of what Liquozone can do. Wherever you are, you need not go far to find some one who has been helped by it.

Talk to some of those cured ones; perhaps your own friends are among them. Ask if they advise you to try Liquozone. Or let us buy you a bottle, and learn its power for yourself. If you need help, please don't wait longer; don't stay sick. Let us show to you—as we have to millions—what Liquozone can do.

What Liquozone Is.

The virtues of Liquozone are derived solely from gases. The formula is sent to each user. The process of making requires large apparatus, and from 8 to 14 days' time. It is directed by chemists of the highest class. The object is to so fix and combine the gases as to carry into the system a powerful tonic-germicide.

Contact with Liquozone kills any form of disease germ, because germs are of vegetable origin. Yet to the body Liquozone is not only harmless, but helpful in the extreme. That is its main distinction. Common germicides are poison when taken internally. That is why medicine has been so helpless in a germ disease. Liquozone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying; yet no disease germ can exist in it.

We purchased the American rights to Liquozone after thousands of tests had been made with it. Its power had been proved, again and again, in the most difficult germ diseases. Then we offered to supply the first bottle free in every disease that required it. And over one million dollars have been spent to announce and fulfill this offer.

The result is that 11,000,000 bottles have been used, mostly in the past two years. Today there are countless cured ones, scattered everywhere, to tell what Liquozone has done.

But so many others need it that this offer is published still. In late years, science has traced scores of diseases to germ attacks. Old remedies do not apply to them. We wish to show those sick ones—at our cost—what Liquozone can do.

Where It Applies.

These are the diseases in which Liquozone has been most employed. In these it has earned its widest reputation. In all of these troubles we supply the first bottle free. And in all—no matter how difficult—we offer each user a two months' further test without the risk of a penny.

COUNTY COUNCILS.

Mr. Clarke, Centre Bruce, in moving the address in the Legislature on Friday, in speaking of the County Councils Act, stated that as it stood it had a bad effect upon the standard of minor municipal councils. Mr. Clarke's objection is itself open to objection. Instead, the present system seems to be of reciprocal benefit. The minor councils by which, Mr. Clarke no doubt, means township councils stand in the relation of training schools—to qualify citizens for eligibility as county councillors, which as at present constituted are as effective and far more economical than the cumbrous councils resulting from the old system. It would be interesting to have figures which would show the saving of legislative expense saved throughout the province with the smaller council's under the present system while it would be difficult to show at there had been any less effective work done, or that any county or other interest had suffered. The experience of Peterborough county, indicates that there has been a generally fair distribution of representation in the County Council, and the objections that met the innovation represented by the application of the new system have been silenced by a working so effective that at the recent session of our County Council there was no disposition to comply with a demand from some quarters for a change.

AN INSTANCE.

Mr. J. A. McDonald, editor of the Globe, speaking to Young Liberals of Hamilton on Friday night, is reported to have said:

"He thought members of the Legislature or of Parliament should give addresses to their constituents after each session in order to tell them what had been done."

Mr. McDonald's suggestion is deserving of consideration and could be adopted with good results to all concerned, as Peterborough can testify.

The only instance that can be recalled is that of the late Provincial Secretary in the Ross Government, Mr. Stratton, who made it a practice after every session of the Legislature to deliver a series of addresses to his constituents in different parts of the riding of West Peterborough, giving a record and explanation of the work done, both as regards administration and legislation during the preceding session. That the people appreciated this attention, that they appreciated the efforts of their representative to recognize in a practical way the rights of his constituents to the best service of which he was capable, was shown by the continuous growth of popular confidence and appreciation, which was, in turn, shown by continuously increasing popular majorities growing greater upon every successive appeal to the electorate. There is no place for perfunctory service in connection with the duty of a representative. If he desires to perform his duties faithfully and justify the confidence reposed in him, he must employ every available means to demonstrate that he is the real representative of all his constituents—irrespective of party—and that their interests are his interests so far as his representative activities, industriously exercised, can contribute to their promotion.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The enterprise and push of our Yankee cousins is proverbial. The "hustling" qualities are demonstrated by the president of a bank in Chicago, established last December with a capital of 250,000, applying his "hustle" with such good effect that in less than two months he successfully stole about $150,000, and the bank is in the hands of a receiver.

Canada's last seven months' trade is greater than the whole of the trade of 1896 by over 92 million dollars. It is greater, the Hamilton Times points out, than the whole of the trade of 1899, by over 10 1-2 millions. It is over 44 millions better than the trade of the same period of last year. Our exports of domestic produce are over 25 1-2 millions better than for the same period last year. Our exports increased in the seven months about 10 millions more than our imports, and manufactured exports gained $1,707,339 over the same period last year. Canada is all right.

We have only to go to the Speech from the Throne, put into the mouth of the Lieutenant-Governor, to get an idea of the excellent work and prosperous condition of the Ontario Agricultural College, which now has over a thousand students, preparing to spread abroad a knowledge of more successful modes of profitable and advanced farming.

The fight in the North Toronto bye-election will turn in the question of municipal rights. If that constituency needs a man, well trained by study and actual experience in the municipal requirements of Toronto, then no doubt Mr. Urquhart will be the choice of the electors. But if a straight out and out party man with no considerable qualifications beyond being a good Conservative is wanted then Mr. McNaught will be elected. The contest will be a battle royal, for while Mr. McNaught is a Conservative in a constituency strongly inclined that way, Mr. Urquhart is personally very popular in North Toronto, so that the fight promises to be between personality and party in which event civic loyalty and common sense will be the deciding factors.

It is stated that there has been no re-adjustment of salaries in connection with the teaching staff of the Collegiate Institute, in fourteen years, although in the interval the cost of living has increased from thirty to forty per cent. It is a significant fact and one deserving of more than passing notice that in Toronto the minimum of salary of assistants to specialists on Collegiate Institute staffs, is as great as the maximum of specialists themselves on the teaching staff of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute. Yet the assistants in the Toronto schools are not as highly qualified as the specialists on the local staff, have less responsibility and do less important work. And as a rule the cost of living is no greater in Toronto than Peterborough. Why then should so sharp a distinction in the matter of salaries obtain?

The recent decision of the City Council of Toronto, to tender an address to Sir Wilfrid Laurer, on his coming visit to that ultra-Conservative city, has a double significance. It is creditable to Sir Wilfrid Laurier that he has borne himself so well in his exalted position, that his political enemies recognize the sturdy patriotism that makes the premier so worthy a son of Canada, and is is creditable to the City Council of a most hopelessly Conservative city, that it should ink political antipathy in the practice of a graceful hospitality. We run the party thermometer to a pretty high registration some times, but at heart the great mass of our people are Canadians first and partizans afterwards—all striving, in spite of the differing circumstances of party brands, to work, if not unitedly, each in his own way, and according to his own light, for the betterment of the conditions, and the improvement of the material, and other interests of Canada.

A PETERBOROUGH POSER.

Brockville Recorder.

"A deputation of the Dominion Alliance waited upon the Whitney Government on Wednesday," says the Peterborough Examiner, "asking for the 'banishment of the bar.' Mr. Whitney said it couldn't be done, because his 'Government had no mandate from the people' to that effect. These same Alliance gentlemen told the Ross Government that the provincial vote on prohibition was a mandate to banish the bar, and because the Ross Government didn't act upon it, those gentlemen and their friends joined hands at the polls with the liquor interests, and the Ross Government was slaughtered. What will they do to Mr. Whitney? Doesn't the claim that the plebiscite vote meant abolition of the bar still hold good or do the principle and effect of that vote change with the change of political complexion of the Government?"

Since the change of Governments, the Recorder adds, the Alliance is as meek as a sucking dove, and the robust, hard-stepping men of a year ago now tip-toe with noiseless tread, lest they might irritate the nerves of the Government Mark Tapley like, they seem bound to be pleased, no matter what the premier says to them. But how are they going to get over this question of the Examiner?

MR. R. NORMAN JOLLIFFE,

Who Will Give a Recital To-morrow Nigot in the Y.W.C.A. Hall. He Will be Assisted by Miss Ethel G. King, Miss Adele Blachford and Mr. W. M. Van der Water.

Rev. A. H. Brace At The Y.W.C.A.

At the Sunday gospel meeting of the Y.W.C.A. Rev. A. H. Brace spoke from the text John xiv., 1,—"Love and faith are twin sisters; when we love we believe; when we believe we love." There is more faith in the world, and more honest men, than many believe. Commercial life is built on faith. Domestic life would be a burden without it. Religious life would be unknown without it. If the same common sense were used in religious life as in domestic and commercial life, there would be no difficulty in having faith. The object only is different. In the one we are seeking for the bread that perisheth, and in the other that which is everlasting. Love makes all things easy. It is easy to come to Jesus if we love Him. Miss M. Rush sang. Next Sunday Miss B. Mowry will speak on "Music in Our Lives."

The Men's Guild Will Entertain

The Men's Guild of St. Luke's church will be at home to their friends, both ladies and gentlemen, on Friday evening next, at their rooms, Hunter street east, and it is hoped that a large number of friends will accept the invitation of the Guild. At this function a testimonial and presentation will be made to Mr. Joseph Hall, who has recently retired from the sextonship of St. Luke's, after nineteen years' service.

Very Catchy Window Display

At almost any hour as one goes along Hunter street, south side, numbers of spectators will be found gathered around the window of Mr. John Kylie, shoe dealer. The attraction is the handsome exhibit of fine shoes displayed with sets of new and effective design of patent window fixtures. These permit of arranging the shoes on brass finished brackets in a manner that shows every pair very conspicuously. Mr. Kylie is a progressive merchant and knows the value of effective window displays.

A Citizen Of Prominence

That Mr. William Yelland is a gentleman exceedingly well known in the city is clearly shown by the number of people who recognized his cut published in Saturday's issue of the Examiner. Although the photograph from which the cut was made was taken forty-five years ago it was an easy matter for many people to correctly guess his identity and the telephone was kept busy all evening in answering people who had recognized Mr. Yelland.

As usual Mr. F. R. J. Mitchell, the Hunter street grocer, was the first one to make the right guess. He called up the Examiner almost before the press had stopped running, to say that the cut was Mr. Yelland's. Mr. F. Sandys was the second to name the photograph correctly, and Miss Lillian Grady was third. Others who were right in their guess as to the identity of the picture were W. J. Walton, Mrs. Thomas Kelly, Geo. Kingdon, Alf. Johnston, T. E. Bradburn, M. P. P., Dr. Burnham, Miss May Courtney, C. Stewart, V. Comstock, H. Phelan, Jos. Picard, D. H. Moore, Arthur Blade, N. Lugh, Miss Carrie White, Miss Irene Booth, Mr. Dodds, C. P. R. agent, Harold Meldrum, R. E. Wood, L. Secy. Ald. A. A. McIntyre and J. J. Hartley.

ST. VALENTINE DAY NUPTIAL.

BUCK—BORLAND.

A very pleasant event took place at Balsam Grove, the home of Mr. John R. Borland, Otonabee, on the evening of St. Valentine's day, when his niece Miss Alice Borland, of Dummer, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Daniel Buck, of Norwood.

The bride entered the room, leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of the Lohengrin bridal chorus, played by Miss Rubie Borland, cousin of the bride.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk, trimmed with hand embroidery, with bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. They were unattended.

Miss Effie Reid made a very pretty ring-bearer, carrying a basket of roses and carnations and a lily holding the ring.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Keene, under an arch of evergreens and roses.

After the ceremony the happy couple with the guests adjourned to the dining room where they partook of a very dainty supper.

The many beautiful presents showed the high esteem in which the bride was held by her many friends.

The fourth number of Harmsworth's Self-Educator Magazine has just been issued, and, like the first three copies, is a bundle of knowledge. This guide for the person who wishes to be a student at home shows as time goes on that it intends to keep to the policy of having only the best authorities on all subjects to treat them for its pages. The names of the various contributors give confidence to the readers, and they feel sure of the correctness of what the magazine tells them. The more important departments, such as mathematics, history, languages, etc., continue to appear regularly under the care of men like Justin McCarthy and Herbert J. Allport. Among the new departments opened in this issue is one called "Housekeeping and Food Supply." It will deal with cookery, care of the household, and catering, and the first part contains a section on food values.—The Mail and Empire, Toronto.

GOOD GROWING WEATHER

When the New Scalp Antiseptic is Used.

A good head of hair is as much a "crown of glory" for man as it is for woman, notwithstanding all the poetry on the subject applied to the female sex exclusively. In the season when flies bite, the bald-headed man can sympathize with the Egyptians who were so sorely plagued on account of the children of Israel. Why not try Newbro's Herpicide? Others have been benefited and are loud in its praise. It cleanses the scalp, kills the germ at the root of the hair, and by keeping the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome, the hair is bound to grow as nature intended, regardless of the temperature. Try it and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

Railways are seriously considering the advisability of entering into an agreement by which the travelling public will either have to pay for their berths in sleepers by 5 o'clock in the afternoon of the day they purpose taking a sleeper, or forfeit reservations. It is contended that many people make reservations over the wire or at ticket offices for a certain night, and under the present arrangements such berths are held until the trains start out, but those people do not inform the companies of their change of plans, but keep the berths reserved until the train leaves. Then the berths are empty and the companies are minus the money they should bring.

It is further claimed that sleepers are run at great cost, and that even though berths are sold to persons who happen to be on a train looking for a berth after it has started, yet the inconvenience to the roads and to the travelling public is so great that a reform ought to be introduced. If people notified agents of railways when they decide not to use berths reserved for them, then they could be sold to others who are anxious to get them, but now persons allow berths to be held up to the last moment just as though they were paid for. This is said to cause trouble and loss which must soon be remedied. It is considered that most persons know by 5 o'clock in the evening whether or not they are going to use reserved berths on the same night, and if they are not absolutely engaged by that hour companies should have the alternative of selling them to those who would use them. Vacant berths return no revenue, and it was stated by a passenger official yesterday that people in Montreal have been known to verbally engage berths on both C.P.R. and G.T.R. trains to Toronto during the day, an dthen use only one berth or perhaps neither at night, leaving the companies in uncertainty. An expression of public opinion on this matter would not be ignored by railways. 3d42

Will Honour The Premier In The Queen City

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier to Have Busy Week In Toronto.

GREAT EVENT OF THE VISIT

Banquet by Ontario Liberals In Massey Hall—Many Other Enjoyable Functions Arranged For the Entertainment of the Distinguished Visitors—The Premier's Party Arrives In Toronto.

Toronto, Feb. 19.—Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier arrived in Toronto yesterday morning from Ottawa, and today the long program of festivities in honor of the Premier will begin. The party from the capital came in on the regular Ottawa train early yesterday morning. The private car contained, in addition to the Premier and Lady Laurier, Mr. Rodolphe Boudreau, the private secretary, and Mr. William Mackenzie, the Ottawa journalist, who is the guest of the Premier. Senator L. Melvin Jones, whose St. George street residence Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will make their home while here, was at the station, and he greeted the visitors and carried them away in his carriage almost before the station officials learned that the Premier has arrived.

The first day was spent quietly, the Premier feeling the need of a rest. At noon to-day the leader of the Government will meet a few friends at the Toronto Club, as the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Senator Jones. In the evening he will speak to the students of Toronto University at the annual arts dinner in the Temple building.

On Tuesday Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will be guests at the Aylesworth-Burton wedding at St. James' Cathedral. In the evening there will be a house dinner given by Senator Jones at his residence, at which Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will of course be present.

On Wednesday there will be a luncheon at the King Edward Hotel, and in the evening the great event of the visit, the Liberal dinner in Massey Hall, will take place, when Sir Wilfrid will address the Ontario Liberals.

Thursday will be almost entirely given over to a series of addresses which the Premier will receive at the King Edward Hotel. Two of the deputations will be the Council of the Royal Astronomical Society, and a committee from the International Association of Machinists. On Thursday evening there will be a reception at the residence of Sir William Mulock.

Lady Laurier will be the honored guest at many social functions during the week. To-day she will attend a luncheon at McConkey's, at which Mrs. A. B. Aylesworth, the wife of the Postmaster-General, will be the hostess. For the evening a theatre party has been organized, and Lady Laurier will witness the first local presentation of "The Catch of the Season" at the Princess Theatre. On Wednesday Mrs. J. K. Kerr will give a luncheon at "Rathnelly," to which a number of ladies will be invited to meet the wife of the Premier, and on Thursday there will be a party in the afternoon at Senator Jones' home, and in the the evening Lady Laurier will be with her husband as the guest of Sir William and Lady Mulock.

On Friday Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will leave for Ottawa.

There will be no presentation of an address from the Mayor and Council of Toronto to Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the occasion of his visit here. Mayor Coatsworth said on Saturday that the abandoning of the proposed address was due to the "other side." It was stated that Sir Wilfrid's time would be so occupied during his visit here that no definite time could be fixed for the reception of the address.

A STRONG HEART AND STEADY NERVES

Very important it is in this age of competition to have a clear cool head, a strong heart and steady nerves.

Too much rush and bustle, work and worry, fall to the lot of the average business man—his heart and nerve system will not stand it—he gives them too much work to do.

Women also are doing the same thing attending to their household duties and looking after their social obligations. The constant strain under which they have to continue day in and day out, the irregularities of habits and loss of rest will soon shatter the strongest system. Before long you become nervous, starting at the least sudden sound, the heart flutters and palpitates, specks float before the eyes, the pulse becomes weak and irregular, you have faint and dizzy spells, lack of self-confidence, rush of blood to the head, irritability of temper, shortness of breath, starting in sleep, sensation of pins and needles, sleeplessness, restlessness and finally physical breakdown or nervous prostration.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

are the remedy you require to restore your strength and health. Their extraordinary curative power manifests itself immediately they are taken. Through the medium of the nervous system they impart a strengthening and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body. Many have been cured, among them being Mr. Ray V. Coomier, Wellington, P.E.I., Mrs. E. Kilmer, Humberstone, Ont., Mrs. C. McDonald, Portage la Prairie, Man., Mr. Walter Cleveland, Bayswater, N.S., Mrs. Owen Martin, Alma, N.B. and thousands of others.

The price of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills is 50 cts. per box or 3 boxes for $1.25. Can be procured at all drug and general stores, or will be sent on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

White House The Scene Of An Unusual Event

Alice Roosevelt Made Bride of Congressman Longworth.

AMID POMP AND CEREMONY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—With all the pomp and ceremony of an official government function, and surrounded by the most representative members of society in the United States, Alice Lee Roosevelt, eldest daughter of the President, shortly after noon Saturday became the bride of Nicholas Longworth, Congressional Representative from Ohio, in the famous East room in the White House.

Promptly on the stroke of noon, Miss Roosevelt, escorted by the President, descended by the elevator to the west end of the main corridor. There awaiting them were the ushers selected by Mr. Longworth. All of them are longtime personal friends and several were the bridegroom's class mates at Harvard.

Preceded by the ushers, the President and the bride proceeded to the East room.

The gown in which Miss Roosevelt was attired had a long court train of superb silver brocade. The bodice was made high without a collar, was trimmed with rare old point lace, and the elbow sleeves were finished with the same filmy material. The sleeves just met the long white gloves. A voluminous tulle veil, almost completely enveloping the bride, was held in place by dainty clusters of orange blossoms. The tiny slippers were fashioned from silver brocade, and instead of buckles, tulle bows were worn with tiny clusters of orange flowers.

The only jewels worn by the bride was the superb diamond necklace which was the gift of the bridegroom.

Over her left arm Miss Roosevelt carried a superb shower bouquet of the rarest and daintiest white orchids procurable. The delicate blossoms were arranged in cascade form, the stems being tied with white chiffon satin ribbon with long bows.

The ushers, who were in couples, separated as they reached the platform and the President passed through the two lines and presented his daughter to the waiting bridegroom, who stepped forward to receive her. Together they ascended the platform, where Bishop Satterlee in the imposing robes of his office already was standing.

In low, yet resonant tones, Bishop Satterlee began the beautiful Episcopal marriage service. At the conclusion of the responses from the bride and bridegroom, the venerable bishop inquired in a tone that filled the great room:

"Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?"

The President ascended the platform and taking his daughter's right hand, placed it in that of the bridegroom. Thus he gave the bride away to the man of her choice, and by the ring which an instant later he placed on the fourth finger of her left hand, she became Mrs. Nicholas Longworth.

At the conclusion of the wedding ceremony the assembled guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Longworth on the platform and beneath the floral bower where their hands and hearts were joined forever. They were showered with congratulations.

After partaking of a formal wedding breakfast in company with sixty intimate friends and relatives the bride and bridegroom departed on their honeymoon, amid the cheers of waiting throngs.

The couple left the White House by the south entrance at ten minutes past four o'clock. They entered a large automobile and, it is understood, were driven to Friendship, the residence of John R. McLean, on the Tenleytown road, about six miles from Washington.

The couple were showered with rice by Ethel and the other children of the family as well as by many of the guests.

The President, Mrs. Roosevelt, Capt. and Mrs. Cowles and other members of the family stood on the White House steps and waved the bridal couple out of sight. An old shoe was thrown at the departing pair and it landed on top of the automobile. It was there when the machine vanished from sight.

Just as the wedding ceremony was concluded the bride threw herself into Mrs. Roosevelt's arms and burst into tears. She quickly recovered herself, however, and turned to her father, who kissed her. Then she kissed and hugged her brothers and sisters, shedding a tear over each.

Not in many years has there been such a notable gathering in the Presidential home as on this occasion. Representatives of all important nations, in full court regalia, and the chief personages of the United States in governmental and social circles added to the brilliancy of the ceremony.

Outside the Executive Mansion a throng of more than fifty thousand seethed and surged in efforts to witness what they might of the scene. Secret service men and policemen had their resources taxed to the limit.

The day was ideal. The skies smiled on the bride and the air was as soft and balmy as in May.

Standing in the identical spot where thirty-two years ago "Nellie" Grant was wedded to Algernon C. F. Sartoris, Miss Roosevelt was given to Mr. Longworth by the President. Mrs. Sartoris was one of the guests who saw the ceremony.

Valuable gifts, aggregating in cost hundreds of thousands of dollars, were received by the bride. It is estimated that the total intrinsic value of the presents received by the President's daughter reached $500,000.

The capital city was crowded with guests to the ceremony, and with thousands of visitors and sightseers drawn to Washington by the event. Thronged streets in the vicinity of the White House made the scene similar to an Inauguration Day.

European Press Comment.

Paris, Feb. 19.—Most of the Paris paper commenting on the wedding of Miss Alice Roosevelt express the opinion that it shows how far Americans have deviated from the true democratic principles which must underlie every republic.

"L'European," an international paper among whose editors are such prominent men at Anatole France, Frederick de Pressense, George Brandes, and Bjornstjerne Bjornson, says: "Because her father happens to be President of the United States and because he happens to lack tact, the whole American press has sung her praises since her trip to Asia. If President Roosevelt had had the slightest sense of what was his duty he would have forbidden his daughter to accept any of the presents given her by Asiatic sovereigns, and which would never have been offered her if her trip had not had the appearance of being official rather than private.

"Now a splendid gobelin has been presented to her in the name of France, and it would be interesting to know who authorized this present and to what account it will be charged."

A TRUE FRENCH DUEL.

Affair of Honor Settled That Way In Philadelphia, Pa.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 19.—Two students at the University of Pennsylvania Saturday fought a duel on Franklin Field with foils to settle a dispute which occurred in the class room. The principals were Georges Emile T. Beltrami and Clataire Marie Boudy, both of Paris. The two men are members of the senior class of the University Dental School. The meeting was witnessed by thirty-five students. Pierre Jean Rousset, another French student, acted as referee.

The bout lasted for 15 minutes. Toward the end of the affair Boudy, who did most damage and who was the only one to bring blood, slashed Beltrami sword fashion, inflicting a gash about 4 inches long. The referee, however, awarded the bout to Beltrami, inasmuch as he had made the first three touches upon his opponent's body.

Pulls Madman 400 Miles.

Edmonton, Alberta, Feb. 19.—Sergeant Field of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police has just arrived from the Fort Chippewa district with a trapper named Brown, who had become a raving maniac on account of the solitude of his surroundings. The 400-mile trip was made under most trying difficulties, owing to the fact that Brown was in such a condition that the policeman was obliged to strap him down on the dog sled. The madman refused to eat, and Sergeant Field was obliged to force food into his mouth.

Duluth Elevator Burns.

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 19.—The wooden working house of the Duluth grain elevator plant of F. H. Peavy & Co. of Minneapolis Saturday night was burned to the ground, with its contents, consisting of about 1,000,000 bushels of grain, principally wheat. Loss $1,600,000; insured.

A Tribute Of The Children Was Feature

Marks Black and Gold Scene At King Christian's Funeral.

ROYAL MOURNERS MANY

Spectacle Was Brilliant In the Extreme—Officers In Full Dress Uniform Supported Coffin, Which Lay In Chancel Beneath Black and Gold Baldachin—New King Remembered by Flag Hoisting.

Roskilde, Denmark, Feb. 19.—The magnificent old Gothic church here presented a brilliant spectacle yesterday afternoon when King Christian IX., amid the thunder of guns, the sonorous tones of the organ and the blare of trumpets, was laid to rest with the long line of his predecessors on the Danish throne, whose remains repose in the side of the chapels in Roskilde's redstone fane.

The coffin lay in the chancel beneath a black and gold baldachin, supported by high officers in full-dress uniform. The only decoration on it was a golden branch, a tribute from the children in Denmark.

The members of the Riksdag and of the Folkething having deposited wreaths on the coffin, just before 2 o'clock Queen Alexandra, the Dowager-Empress of Russia, the Queen of Denmark, the Duchess of Cumberland and the other royal ladies seated themselves in the front row of chairs to the left of the coffin. The King entered soon afterwards, with Emperor William, in the uniform of a Danish admiral, at his left, the King of Greece at his right, both keeping a little behind him. King Haakon and the other royal personages and the representatives of foreign sovereigns followed.

At the catafalque, Dr. Roordam, primate of the Danish Church, with Dr. Paulli, court chaplain, and Dr. Bondo, dean of the cathedral, awaited the King. The royal party took seats with the royal ladies.

Dr. Roordam delivered a long panegyric, touching on the principal incidents of the King's reign. The service was beautiful, but as simple as all the former ceremonies held since the King's death.

Then, to the strains of the "Funeral March," composed by Hartmann, eight officers carried the coffin from the chancel across to the Chapel of Frederick V.

As the solemn notes pealed forth, a salute of 21 guns was fired, while, simultaneously, in the town, all flags were hoisted from half-mast to the masthead in honor of the new King.

A short wait ensued while the coffin was being deposited in the sarcophagus. Then King Frederick and the Queen Louisa, followed by Emperor William and Queen Alexandra and King Haakon and the Dowager-Empress of Russia, the four walking abreast, proceeded to the chapel, where Dr. Paulli read the burial service in strict privacy and in the presence only of the royal personages, the foreign representatives and the Ministers. Earth being thrice thrown on the coffin, the Lord's Prayer was repeated, and the service concluded with the benediction.

Purity of The Blood

THE BEST PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE — OBTAINED BY USING

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

If you enquire into the cause of sickness, pain and suffering, you will find that fully nine-tenths of it result from derangements of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

This was the truth arrived at by Dr. Chase when he began experiments which led to the discovery of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The liver and kidneys are intimately related as filterers of the blood, and the regularity of the bowels depends on the healthful action of the liver.

Hence it happens that when the liver and kidneys are made healthy and vigorous by the influence of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, such diseases as biliousness, liver complaint, kidney disease, indigestion and constipation soon entirely disappear.

With the liver and kidneys in healthful working order, the purity of the blood is ensured and you are protected against colds, fevers and contagious and infectious diseases.

As a family medicine to promptly cure the most common ills of life, there is no preparation that can be compared with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In every neighbourhood there are people who have proven merits of this great medicine. Ask them.

Mr. Jos. Lutton, Belleville, Ont., writes: "I was troubled very much with kidney disease for a long time and was unable to obtain relief. A friend advised me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they have proven of very great benefit to me. I have used a number of boxes of this excellent medicine and feel it a duty to recommend it to other sufferers. "My mother thinks that there is no better tonic than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and others of my friends have used this food cure with splendid results."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto. Pain cannot exist where Dr. Chase's Backache Plaster is applied.

The City League Met On Saturday

Charlotte Street and High Lifes Will Meet Next Thursday.

A meeting of the City League was held in Clarke's store Saturday night, when the teams to meet next Thursday were chosen. The High Lifes and Charlotte street will meet in the first game for the City League championship, the Suburbs being given the bye. The Suicides and Bankers will play off the tie existing between them, from 9 to 10. Mr. R. M. Glover has been chosen to act as referee.

Those present were President F. A. Clarke, Vice-President Jos. Meagher, Secretary Ira Moore and representatives of each team in the league except the High Lifes and Suburbs. By the arrangements made it will be seen that the Examiner-Review match will have to be postponed for another week.

West Ends Give Their Side of Case

Say That They Were Not Defeated by Nationals.

In reference to the letter from K. Pentland, captain of the Nationals in Saturday's Examiner, claiming that his team had defeated the West Ends this season by 4-2, the West End team state that they have not played a game this season and therefore could not have lost one to the Nationals. They say that the team the red and white bunch defeated by 4-2 was not the West Ends, but the Crescents, although several West End men figured on the lineup. The West Ends are willing to play the Nationals at any time the latter make arrangements for the rink. They are not in the best of shape, but are ready to meet the undefeated Nationals.

Furniture Men Have Hockey Team

Are Out After the Scalps of Best's Happy Thoughts.

Another hockey team has been added to the ever increasing list to be found in Peterborough. The employees of the various furniture stores in the city have formed a team and are out with a challenge to a few of the best of them. The new team should certainly be right there with the wood. The furniture men have an idea that they can stop the victorious career of Best's Happy Thoughts and wish to challenge that bunch.

Referees Tried To Play Hockey

Toronto's O. H. A. Officials Got Together on Saturday.

After the senior match on Saturday, says the Toronto Globe, a great collection of has-beens, ever-wasers and may-be players met in a burlesque game. The teams were made up of O.H.A. referees, "Hook" Dixon, "Pick" Lillie, E. J. Livingstone, W. P. Irving, C. Wright, C. Tyner, H. Ardagh, Bert Morrison, Ridpath, Dr. Wright, and Lou Burns participating in the struggle. Secretary W. A. Hewitt refereed for a while, and then surprised everybody by grabbing a stick and getting into the free-for-all. "Wag" was ruled off for falling down half a dozen times. He was the "dirtiest" player on the ice—at the finish. Both sides claim the victory.

No More Guff For This Week

The Examiner-Review match has been postponed until a week from Thursday. The great press teams receive no consideration whatever, and are buffeted about likee a ball of yarn in the paws of a playful kitty. As a result for the rest of the week after to-day, no guff concerning the relative merits of the two teams will be published. Anybody wishing to bee entertained by mushy literature for the rest of the week would do well to purchase a copy of Geo. Ade's Fables in slang. The sporting writers of this journal are so sore at being thrown down so often that they absolutely refuse to pull to pieces Big Chief Metheral's seven, for the remainder of this week anyway. A sigh of relief is already heard from a man in the sanctum as he sees the sporting men on the Examiner staff shaking hands on the new resolution. They are shocked and pained to note it, and are of the opinion that the great outside world doesn't realize the importance of the coming struggle. But the matter will be dropped without further discussion.

Electric Teams Play Hockey

The junior teams of the north and south ends of the Brass Department of the C. G. E. Company played a very exciting game of hockey on the Brock street rink Saturday evening, which resulted in favour of the south end by the score of 3-1. For the winners Hilliard and Thomas played a star game and for the north end Graham put up the best game. Moher was very conspicuous with the wood Rose of the High Lifes made them all play hockey.

The following is the line-up:—

South.		North.
Williams	Goal.	Watson
Elliott	Point.	Remmione
Thomas	Cover Point.	Young

Press Game Once More Postponed

Great Struggle Will Not Take Place Until Next Week.

It is with the greatest regret that it is announced that the great game between the Review and Examiner has again been postponed. The arrangement was made to have it played at the conclusion of the City League game on Thursday night, but the Suicides and Bankers wanted to settle the tie between them and have decided to play it off after the Charlotte Street-High Life game. As the City League have the rink engaged between 8 and 10, the press teams will not therefore, be able to play. It has been decided, therefore, to postpone the contest until the following Thursday when the final game in the City League will be played. Although this will be a great disappointment to hundreds of citizens, neither team is to blame for the delay and the struggle will be all the more interesting as the teams will have another week to get into shape.

HOCKEY FABLES IN SLANG.

(With apologies to George Ade.)

Once upon a time there was a young fellow who had an idea he knew more about hockey than the man who invented the game. He lived some time amidst the gay life of Ottawa, Ont., and thought it was about the liveliest city along the pike. He used to spend half his time at the hockey rink and fairy dreams of being the main stem and having his picture in the Sunday papers like Harvey Pulford or Tom Phillips. He got so cheesy that Ottawa got too small for him and he longed to get out among the top notchers. Finally he blew into the prosperous little city of Peterborough and tried to make the natives think he was The Main Squeeze and had them all backed into a siding. In addition to being a hockey player he occasionally did some work on a Tory newspaper, just as a side-line. There were pinholes on his clothes where he had been hanging medals on himself and he used to go and buy himself a bouquet now and then to see how it felt to be famous.

It happened that shortly after this sweet young thing allowed the people of the city the chance of their lives to gaze upon his classic form, that a hockey match was billed between the dope sheet that he was supposed to labour for and an aggregation from their Front Door Rivals, the Examiner. The original prize package promptly proceeded to convince the management of his journal that he was the greatest that ever tripped a man when the referee wasn't looking. Feeling they had made the catch of the season the management raised his salary and gave him a berth on their line-up.

When the night for the great game came off the clever young thing from Ottawa turned out worse than a Dawson City frost. His lady friends in the gallery threw several kinds of fits and then cut him dead when they saw him on the street next day. The bunch from the journal he played for were a lot of fourth raters but at that they made him look like a ham.

He has now concluded that the simple life with an occasional chunk of pike-pole exercise was strenuous enough for him.

Moral—They never live up to their press notices.

The Review will receive rooters up to six o'clock on Thursday night. They want somebody to cheer them on at their game. There are certain conditions and privileges attached among which is free admission. Anyone accosting "Long Green Metheral on the street will be supplied with full particulars.

The Review and Examiner route boys have caught their hockey fever and will do battle along these lines carried out by the printing staffs. The Examiner boys are confident of being able to dislocate the Review kids' championship ideas and the game promises to be for blood.

• • • •

From the very latest despatches we learn that Mr. C. H. Sawle will not play with the Review. He is to be commended for picking his company.

• • • •

The scientific character of the forthcoming Examiner-Review hockey game on Thursday, may be assumed from the fact that the several contestants are diligently occupying the intervals between skating lessons in the study of a publication called the "Scrap-Book".

It wouldn't be surprising after all to see the Argos win the senior championship. Taking them through and through they're pretty good sports and here's hoping they trim the Dutchmen.

The Barbers' apprentices challenge the married tonsorial artists to a game of hockey to be played as soon as the ice can be arranged for. The seven to represent the apprentices will be chosen from the following:—Howden, (Captain) Campbell, Throop, Patterson, Nicholls, McGraw, Coates, Spence.

The Lindsay and Port Hope juniors meet to-morrow night in a semi-final game and there promises to be the biggest bunch of excitement ever seen in this district. Both teams have a good record and both are confident. Looking at it from up this way, Port Hope looks like the good thing.

• • • •

"Will Belleville never forgive?" asks the Peterborough Examiner, in quoting The Intelligencer's reminder that they helped put our team out of business to their own detriment. Perhaps, when the present generation of hockey lovers has passed away.—Belleville Intelligencer.

CURLING

The representatives from the different places at the bonspiel last week expressed much praise of the excellent ice prepared by Mr. Angus McIntosh for the great occasion. Mr. McIntosh is an expert at the manufacture of curling ice and was considered one of the best in the province by the numerous visitors who curled in the competition at the Charlotte street rink. It is a very difficult proposition to produce a sheet of ice conducive to good curling without considerable scraping and levelling and none but the curler knows when a good result has been accomplished. Mr. McIntosh, therefore, is to be congratulated on his continued success in the ice production which had much to do with the smoothness of the keenest of curling contests last week.

WRESTLING.

How is it that a man will win a wrestling championship one week, lose it the next and win it from the same man again in a short time? There's a reason and it won't set the followers of the game insane thinking it out, either.

Capt. Duncan C. Ross is after Charlie Conkie, of Hamilton. The Hamilton Spectator says of big but modest captain:—

"Duncan C. Ross has received a dispatch ordering him back to Venezuela, from the United States military authorities, he being a captain in the United States army. The despatch that he received read:—"Report Carusus legation, U.S.A. Instructions await you at Port a Spain, Island of Trinidad."

Before leaving Hamilton Capt. Ross is anxious to get on a handicap match with Charlie Conkie, and is willing to undertake to throw him six times in an hour; Irish style, square holds. He writes to the Spectator saying that he will be at this office to-morrow morning at 10.30, prepared to arrange all details of the match. The only stipulation that he makes is that the match shall take place within eight days.

SICK HEADACHE

Many varieties of headache exist, those most prevalent being sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, etc.

Headache is an effect of disease, the cry of the suffering body for relief from some oppressing disorder.

Undoubtedly the cause must be removed in order to cure the headache permanently. Wrong action of the stomach, liver or bowels is responsible for nine out of ten cases of headache.

In sick headache (a very common form) there is sometimes nausea and vomiting and usually constipation.

In nearly all forms of headache

has proved itself a specific—a medicine that has cured where all others failed.

Keep the stomach, liver and bowels in perfect working order by the use of nature's regulator and tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters, which cures all forms of headache by removing the cause.

Miss L. Smith, Morrisburg, Ont., writes: "I desire to let you know how much good Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I was troubled with headaches all the time, and could get no relief, until a friend told me of your Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking two bottles of it, I can say that I am completely cured."

BISHOP SCOLLARD
OF SAULT STE. MARIE
DIOCESE IN THE CITY

His Lordship Spends a Few Days Here on His Way to North Bay--The New Diocese is Prospering--Many Settlers Coming In--The Churches Flourishing--Bishop Scollard Preached in St. Peter's Cathedral Yesterday.

Yesterday His Lordship Bishop Scollard, Bishop of Sault Ste. Marie Diocese, was in the city, and preached in St. Peter's Cathedral, at the 10.30 o'clock mass. Bishop Scollard had been in St. Hyacinthe, Que., attending the consecration of Bishop Barnard, and remained off in Peterborough for a few days to visit relations, and to call on Bishop O'Connor and the members of the clergy here.

HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP SCOLLARD, Who Preached in St. Peter's Yesterday.

Bishop Scollard left to-day for Enismore, to spend a few days with his parents before returning to North Bay, which is his temporary place of residence.

His Lordship is greatly pleased with the progress of the work in the new diocese, and to his friends here he gave a most encouraging report of the churches under his control.

A number of new churches have been erected recently, while to others additions have been made to accommodate the increasing Catholic population of New Ontario.

The general prosperity which this section of the province is experiencing is being felt by the church, and the parishes are all being increased in numbers rapidly.

Bishop Scollard is most enthusiastic over the future prospects for the newer sections of Ontario, and believes that the population and prosperity will rapidly increase.

The mining activity experienced in the new province is very marked, while in many sections agriculture is being prosecuted with good success.

The Soo, after which the new province is named, has recovered from its temporary set back, and the future contains nothing but brightness for that city and district. The church there is in a flourishing condition, as is also that of the Soo's suburb, Steelton, in which a new church was recently opened.

Port Arthur and Fort William, the twin cities of the North, are also in Bishop Scollard's diocese and they are growing rapidly, and will in the very near future take on a greater dignity.

Bishop Scollard looks well, his hard work in the new province evidently agreeing with him.

He will return to North Bay in a few days.

Important Reports Will Be Presented

A special meeting of the Board of Education will be held this evening. It is expected that some very important business will be transacted as reports will in all probability be received from the special committees appointed at the last meeting. One of these committees has been investigating the matter of public school accommodation and will present its report this evening.

Preparing Plans For New Bridge

City Engineer Made Some Inspections This Morning.

The Charlotte street bridge was this morning subject to a few repairs under the supervision of the city engineer, T. A. S. Hay. A number of planks were reconstructed and some holes were patched. Mr. Hay also took some measurement of the bridge and made other inspections upon which he will prepare his plans for the construction of the new bridge. The engineer said the structure would be completed during the coming season. A delay is caused by the fact that the bridge companies are all so busy that the city's order for steel cannot be filled for some time.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Commencing to-morrow night and lasting until the end of the week, the mysterious Fays will present their startling performances at the Grand. There is much talk in the city in regard to the wonderful tricks and mental telepathy of the Fays as their fame has evidently preceded them. Their performances are surprising and enjoyable and they produce a thoroughly interesting entertainment and the Fays have more extensions of engagements than any other attraction before the public.

"The Fatal Wedding" which will be presented at the Grand to-night is attracting much attention and the sale of tickets was this morning very brisk.

From the rise of the curt in until the final scene the audience is kept in state of eager expectancy in the anticipation of the succeeding events. The scenery is very elaborate and the action throughout is lively. This attractive comedy is not massed into one scene but is adequately distributed through the four acts.

5000 Increase In POPULATION INSIDE
Of Very Few Years

This is the Prophecy in Reference to Peterborough Made by Hon. Senator Cox--Foundation for This Statement--Much Activity in Real Estate--Large Industry is Proposed.

"Inside of a very few years Peterborough will have 5,000 more population than it has to-day." This prophecy, coming as it does from a gentleman who is in a position to know, should be of special interest to the citizens of Peterborough.

The statement quoted above was made by Hon. Senator Cox, to a gentlemen in this city a few days ago, and although no definite cause was given for this increase in population it is to some who are familiar with the circumstances, well known that in the course of a very short time an announcement will be made which will mean a great deal from an industrial standpoint to the city.

This belief is strengthened by the fact that Senator Cox's interests have been for some time buying considerable property in the west side of the city, and it is said to be assured that a large new industry will be located in the city in a short time. It is believed that this is the foundation for the statement credited to Senator Cox in reference to the rapid growth of Peterborough.

Was Relieved Of $183
At Grand Opera House

Mr. Louis Mellre Was Robbed of or Lost That Sum While at the Play Last Night--Money Was in His Inside Coat Pocket.

A very heavy loss was that sustained by Louis Mellre, a gentleman recently come to this city, at the Grand opera house last night. Mr. Mellre, in some manner, during the evening lost $183. He had the money, consisting of four $20 bills, ten $10 bills, one $2 bill and a one dollar bill in a bank book in his under coat pocket. He took out the money at the box office to secure a ticket for the Fatal Wedding, and remembers putting it back into his pocket. Coming out of the theatre he discovered that the book with its contents, was gone. It is supposed that some one saw the roll of bills, and in the crush in the stairway found an opportunity to relieve him of the money. The matter has been reported to the police, who are working on the case.

Eight Thousand Dollars Will Be Cost Of The Banquet

In Round Figures This is What the Laurier Banquet Bills Will Total--Will be Greatest Banquet Ever Given to Public Man In Canada.

Seven thousand nine hundred and sixty-six dollars is the estimate roughly placed by Mr. F. G. Inwood, secretary of the General Reform Association of Ontario, on the banquet to be tendered Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Massey Hall on Wednesday evening.

Of this amount, $2,466 will be returned in the sale of banquet tickets, 822 at $3 each, making the net outlay about $5,500.

The committee in charge aim to make it the greatest political banquet ever attempted in Canada.

There will be 822 diners, and tickets issued for 2,200 spectators.

It is the first function of the kind to take place in Massey Hall.

There will be 28 tables for the guests, and one table for the press.

Scores of carpenters, decorators and workmen are busily engaged in preparing the hall.

All the seats on the ground floor are being removed, and extra flooring put in practically level with the stage.

This work in itself will cost, with the rental of the hall, $1,000.

Over $1,200 is being spent in flowers and foliage for decorative purposes and draperies.

The best talent has been engaged for this work, and several artistic designs are outlined.

Complete cooking apparatus is being installed in the basement, where Mr. McConkey will be in charge.

The best music obtainable is being secured, and each guest will be presented with a handsome illuminated programme as a souvenir of the occasion.

A special lighting arrangement is being installed for the occasion, and every preparation made to make it one of the most elaborate and gorgeous functions of the kind ever attempted.—Toronto News.

Convention Will Close To-night

To-night Rev. C. I. Wickware, from the Congo, Africa, and Dr. Wilson, from New York city, will give the closing addresses of the convention now in progress in Bethany Tabernacle. Mr. Wickware is said to be intensely earnest and interesting in his addresses on the evangelization of the Dark Continent. Dr. Wilson's addresses are always of the most helpful and interesting character. Dr. Wilson and Mr. Stephens will leave for Ottawa in the morning.

The Girls' Guild of St. John's will hold its Annual Old-time Social in the School Room, on Monday, February 26th. The Ladies and Gentlemen will be dressed in old-time costumes.

The Park Street Young People

A deeply spiritual meeting was held by the B. Y. P. U. of the Park street church last night. Miss Audrey Hicks and Mr. Charles Barrie read two very interesting papers on methods of work, and the spirit of service.

An address was given by the pastor and a short poem read.

The young people on motion decided to order fifty copies of the Torrey-Alexander hymn book. A large number took part and a very interesting meeting was held.

New Public School
TO BE ERECTED IN THE South End Of The City

Board of Education Decide on This Step at Last Night's Meeting--Building is Absolutely Necessary in View of the Ever Increasing Demand for More Public School Accommodation--Lot Which, in all Probability Will be Selected, is Near the Corner of Park and Chamberlen Street.

A most important meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening to consider the question of public school accommodation. As a result of the conference the special committee appointed to investigate the matter were last night authorized to engage an architect and have plans prepared for the erection of an eight-roomed school in the southern portion of the city. The lot that will in all probability be selected is immediately west of Park street and south of Chamberlen street, belonging to Mr. J. J. Lundy. The property contains about three and a half acres and is admirably suited for the purpose intended. It is proposed to go on with the work at once if the money is forthcoming as the demand for greater accommodation must be answered in some manner. Those present at last night's meeting were Messrs. W. G. Fergusson, chairman; Wm. Pringle, Dr. Morrison, Robt. Fair, L. M. Hayes, D. W. Dumble, B. F. Ackerman and John Crane.

Accounts.

After the minutes of the last regular meeting were read and confirmed, the following accounts were referred to the Finance Committee:

A. H. Stratton, 75c.
Peterborough Canoe Co., $7.50.
Peterborough Review, $12.65.
Peterborough Light and Power Co., $13.25.
Peterborough Light and Power Co., $4.

Property Committee.

Mr. John Crane presented the report of the Property Committee as follows:

Gentlemen,—Your Property Committee beg leave to report:

That pursuant to instructions received from the Board, we endeavoured to arrange an exchange of lots with the military authorities, but that they were unable to arrive at an understanding in the matter.

With a view to ascertaining the cost of renovating the old Separate School, provided it should pass into the hands of the Board, your committee employed Messrs. Jas. Finnie and H. C. Stabler to estimate on the work. The letter is attached thereto.

Your committee regret to have to report the death of Mr. Dougs, who has for some years filled the position of janitor of the East Ward School in a very satisfactory manner.

We would recommend the appoint-

Obliging.

THIS STORY is told as being literally true. Two ministers living less than fifteen miles from Peterborough had attended the Torrey-Alexander gatings in Toronto. Fired with the spirit and filled with the Torrey-ed style of the evangelists, they held special services in the country the other evening. "Now," said one of the ministers, "all you that want to go to Heaven, come to the front." Three came. Whereupon the minister, evidently disgusted, said—"The rest of you may to hell."

Emigration Work of Army Is Explained

Adjt. Jennings Attended Anniversary Meeting in Massey Music Hall Last Night—Some Statistics in Reference to Prison and Rescue Work of Salvation Army—Ontario Premier Presided at the Gathering—Work the Army is Doing.

THE COLONIZATION SCHEME OF THE ARMY

Adjt. Jennings, who has charge of the immigration work of the Salvation Army in Eastern Ontario, was in Toronto last night attending the Prison and Rescue Work Anniversary services held in Massey Music Hall. It was in some respects one of the most important gatherings ever held in that structure, and was attended by a very large number of people, the hall being well filled.

Some interesting information was given by the speakers on the work of the army in its prison and rescue departments, as well as the colonization and immigration schemes. The following tabulated information in reference to the work in the prisons and rescue departments will no doubt prove interesting:

Prison Department.

Interviews with prisoners, 19,681.
Prisoners prayed with, 4,329,
Employment found for, 625.
Prisoners helped with food, lodging, clothing, etc., 855.
No. of meetings held in pris us, 376.
No. of professed conversions, 765.
Religious publications given to prisoners, 5 '96.
No. of ho s spent in prison work, 4,500.

Inquiry Department.

Last persons found, 118.

Free Labour Burea.

Poor men given employment, 691.

Men's Social.

95,334 beds Supplied.
74,238 meals provided.
2,280 poor men given employment.

Women's Rescue and Children's Work.

563 girls passed through our homes in Canada.
251 sent to situations.
114 sent to relations and friends.
514 children were cared for in the Shelters last year.

Premier Whitney presided, and the following gentlemen were on the platform: Hon. J. J. Foy, Hon. Nelson Monteith, Mayor Coatsworth, Warden Gilmour, Dr. Bruce Smith, Rev. Dr. Potts, Mr. T. C. Robinette and others.

Commissioner Coombs in his address gave some facts in reference to the work in the different branches of the army's activity, referring especially to that of the immigration department. He stated that all the berths in the first boat which leaves on March 1st were taken on February 1st, and every one of the one thousand persons who will reach Canada by that steamer were spoken for also a month before the boat is due to sail.

Reference was also made to the colonization work, and the speaker stated that that day he had closed an agreement with the Foresters by which the Army secure a large tract of land for colonization purposes, and nearly $1,000,000 was involved in the deal. The plant had not been fully matured yet, but an announcement would be made shortly.

Last night's gathering was a most enthusiastic one. Four brass bands supplied the instrumental music, while a chorus of one hundred voices led the singing.

Adjt. Jennings returned to the city last night.

Violet perfumes are in very great demand among the African tribes living south of the Zambesi, says the Board of Trade Journal, and are sold in cardboard boxes containing twelve assorted bottles.

The Foresters Carnival Was A Grand Success

OVER A THOUSAND WERE PRESENT

"Fairyland in miniature," would be an apt description of the Brock street rink last night, where over a hundred and fifty masqueraders assembled and lent life and beauty to the scene. It was the Foresters' carnival, and their former reputation was more than sustained last night, in the production of one of the best masquerades in the history of Peterborough.

The building itself was beautifully decorated with flags, pennons and bunting, and the mottoes "God Save the King," "Long Live the King," "Canada Forever," and "Progress to the British Empire," hung about the rink. The music provided by the 57th Regimental Band was bright and catchy and assisted in making the skating most enjoyable.

The impersonations were numerous and varied, and many eulogistic comments were passed on the originality of the pretty and comic costumes, which might be said to lend "to airy nothing a habitation and a name." So many of the costumers were artistically and beautifully devised that the judges found it difficult to decide those who merited the prizes.

Despite other attractions over one thousand persons were present who took an active part in the carnival, or enjoyed the beauteous spectacle of youth and beauty circling around the rink.

During the evening Mr. R. M. Roy took a flash light picture of the rink, which aroused a great deal of interest.

The judges for the occasion were Mrs. C. B. McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. McWilliams and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Coulthard, who very judiciously distributed the prizes to the deserving ones.

The following is a list of the masqueraders, and their representations:

ment of Mr. Fred. Morris to fill the vacancy at a salary of $20 per month to date from February 19. he to be paid the sum of $15 for services rendered up to that time.

We also recommend that the salary of the late Mr. Doupe be paid up to February 1.

Your committee advertised for tenders for a supply of dry hard wood for next winter, and beg to recommend that the tender of Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Co., at $5.50, be accepted.

JOHN CRANE,
Chairman.

The letter referred to from Messrs. Finnie and Stabler estimated the cost of renovating the Separate School at $1,300. The report was adopted.

Special Committee.

Mr. Wm. Pringle, chairman of the special committee appointed to investigate the matter of school accommodation, reported as follows:

Gentlemen.—Your committee appointed at the last regular meeting to deal with the Normal School question and public school accommodation beg leave to report that the Normal School matter was taken up by Mr. Bradburn, M.P.P., who made arrangements with the Minister of Education to have a deputation from the City Council, County Council, Board of Education, Separate School Board, Board of Trade and leading citizens wait upon him and present Peterborough's claims for one of the proposed Normal Schools. This was done, and we have good reasons to believe that the Minister was very favourably impressed with the claims advanced by the deputation.

That your committee visited the South Central School and the southern part of the town and is unanimous in the opinion that steps must be taken immediately to provide additional school accommodation in that part of the city. And although your committee considered the advisability of making additions to the South Central building, yet it is of the opinion that it would be more satisfactory to build another school south of the Canadian General Electric Works, and the site most centrally located is lots No. 1-9 by 1, 2, and 3, plan 82, west of Park street and south of Chamberlain street, containing about three and a half acres. Your committee would advise the purchase of this lot, as it is admirably suited for the purpose, being centrally located and the grounds sufficiently large. J. J. Lundy Esq., the owner of the property, was waited upon, and the committee believes that the lot can be bought for a reasonable price.

Your committee begs to recommend that it be authorized to take the necessary steps to secure a suitable property, to have plans prepared for a satisfactory, commodious school, the cost estimated, and to wait upon the City Council for the purpose of having funds granted sufficient to purchase the lot and to build and equip the school in order that, if at all possible, the building may be ready for occupation at the opening of the schools in September.

WM. PRINGLE.
Chairman.

Considerable discussion followed the reading of the report. The members of the Board, however, seemed to be of one mind in the matter that the property should be secured at once. Various members suggested that the Board should get an option on the lot, but Mr. Pringle stated that Mr. Lundy was averse to giving one. The report was adopted.

Building Committee.

Dr. M. A. Morrison, chairman of the Collegiate Institute Building Committee, presented the following report, which was adopted without discussion:

Gentlemen. — Your Collegiate Institute Building Committee beg leave to report as follows:

In view of the memorial having been presented to the Ontario Government asking for a location of a Normal School in Peterborough, and whereas, a clause in the memorial suggests the erection of a Normal School and a Collegiate Institute in one building, we therefore recommend that no action be taken by your committee to prepare plans and get estimates until we know the intention of the Government in the matter.

M. A. MORRISON,
Chairman.

Mr. D. W. Dumble arrived at this stage of the meeting and took exception to the "generous and broad report" passed by the Board in reference to the new school in the South Ward. He thought that the committee should be ordered to report to the Board, and said that the fact that the lot in question was on the C.P.R. track was a serious objection. The report had, however, been passed.

Mr. Crane, chairman of the Property Committee, said that that body had not been able to come to any arrangements as to the change of lots, and asked for instructions.

Mr. Dumble thought that no suitable joint meeting had yet been held and that an arrangement should be made for holding one, and that proper notice should be given all the interested parties. A motion to that effect carried.

The meeting then discussed the character of the new school. It was the opinion of the members that the school should be built for the future as well as for the present. Some of the members thought that a ten or twelve-roomed school would not be too large. Mr. Dumble said that if necessary the top storey might be left unfinished.

Dr. Morrison said that there was no use in asking for money for a twelve-roomed school if the people would vote it down. He thought that an eight-roomed school was sufficient. This was the opinion of the majority of the Board. At length it was moved by Mr. Dumble and seconded by Dr. Morrison that the special committee be appointed to employ an architect and prepare plans for a school in the southern part of the city, such plans and architect's written estimate to be submitted to the Board for approval. This was carried.

Mr. Hill introduced a notice of motion to change the time of meeting from the first to the second Monday. The Board then adjourned.

KIDNEY DISEASE AND ITS DANGERS CAN BE QUICKLY CURED BY DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Kidney disease comes on quietly, it may have been in the system for a long time before you suspected the real cause of your trouble. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as, brick dust deposit in urine, higly colored, scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent urination, stone in bladder, etc.

Perhaps you did not know that these were symptoms of kidney disease, so the trouble kept growing worse, until Neuralgia, Sciatica, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Dropsy, and worst of all, Bright's Disease have taken hold of your system.

Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken at the first sign of anything wrong. There is no other safe way, (plasters and liniments are useless), as the trouble must be eradicated from the system.

Doan's Kidney Pills go to the seat of the trouble, strengthen the kidneys, and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble. Mr. Thomas Mayhew, Smith's Falls, Ont., writes: "For over four months I was troubled with my kidneys, and my back got so lame I felt miserable all over. After taking five boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills I was as well as ever."

Price 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

Meetings Have Been Successful

The Alliance Convention Closes To-night.

The series of meetings in Bethany Tabernacle under the auspices of the Christian Alliance will close to-night. Last night a most successful meeting was held, Miss Quinn being the principal speaker. Mr. Stephens, of Toronto, who has charge of a flourishing mission in the west end of the city, also spoke, and Rev. Dr. Wilson closed the meeting.

At 11 o'clock this morning Rev. Dr. Wilson spoke for an hour on 'The Consequences of receiving the Holy Spirit," and at 4 o'clock this afternoon Dr. Wilson will also speak on "Divine Healing," a subject which this denomination places third in importance.

To-night Mr. Wickware, a missionionary from the Congo, will speak, and it is expected that the other visiting speakers will also take part in the meeting.

Rev. Dr. Wilson stated to-day to the Examiner, that he was greatly pleased with the result of the series of meetings. The main object sought is that of spiritual benefit and this has been accomplished in the series of meetings.

To-morrow Dr. Wilson will go to Ottawa, where a four days' series of similar meetings will be held, and from there he will return to New York.

Report Of The Recent Convention

Miss Stenton Gave Interesting Account of Bowmanville. Gathering.

An interesting meeting of the Epworth League of the Charlotte street church was held last night, with the president, Mr. A. S. Armstrong, in the chair. There was a good attendance of the members, and the evening was a most profitable one.

The feature of the evening was the report of Miss Alice Stenton, who was the Charlotte street delegate to the Biennial Convention of the Epworth League of the Bay of Quinte Conference at Bowmanville some three weeks ago. The report was a most comprehensive one, fully covering the series of meetings at the convention, which was the most successful in point of enthusiasm and attendance of any ever held in the Bay of Quinte district.

Bovril on the Dinner Table

Any meal is the better for the use of a little BOVRIL. It adds so much to the flavor and nutriment of so many dishes that it should be in every kitchen.

The mere odor of BOVRIL creates appetite, and it contains the nourishing element of prime beef that strengthens and builds up the system.

Here is a BOVRIL-helped dinner dish:

BOVRIL

BEEF STEAK A LA CLARE.—Cut a steak of an inch in thickness, and cook in a little butter, allowing about ten minutes of moreor less as you like it done. For a pound of meat, heat a gill of good port and Bovril stock mixed in the pan, after the butter has been poured off; pour round the meat and serve with horse-radish.

Eight pounds of prime beef is concentrated in four ounces of BOVRIL.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1906.

TRUANCY.

The report of Chief Slemin, presented to the police commissioners board Brantford, calles attention to the fact that under systematic management there was a decrease in truancy in Brantford in 1905 as compared with the previous year.

In 1904 there were 10 habitual and 30 casual truants, while in 1905 there were 7 habitualand but 12 casual delinquents. The absentees, however,who required police attention were 300 in 1904 and 282 in 1905.

Every child is entitled to a public school education, and the authorities should see that he gets it. There is altogether too great a tendency to inderrate the value of a common education in these days of materialism. Parents are indifferent in many cases as to the progress their children make at school. The children themselves do not fully appreciate their advantages, and too often neglect their studies, with inevitable regret later in life.

The police department is performing a commendable service in assisting the school authorities in enforcing a regular attendance of all pupils. Efforts along this line should be continued. Boys, in particular should be prevented from abandoning a school course to enter commercial or industrial pursuits before attaining the age of 11 years.

The above from the Brantford Expositor, in both fact and deduction, may well claim attention in Peterborough. Complaints, which it is feared, are only well founded, are made in regard to the prevalence of truancy in the city in connection with, especially, the Public and Separate schools. The public generally are pretty well taxed to pay for the education of all citizens, and have a right to have their contributions yield the greatest possible amount of good results. If truancy is permitted, the truant not only loses the benefit of education, but he, necessarily, forms associations and habits that facilitate the vicious stage of such a child's experience. The venial sin of truancy representing a disregard of the claims of the school upon his respect, will very easily and naturally develop into disregard of moral and statute law. Boys who attend school regularly may become vicious citizens in after life, but truants, unless the lawless impulses between their lapses, is checked, will certainly become vicious.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Mr. McNaught, the Conservative candidate in North Toronto, refuses to sign a purity agreement—that is a mutual agreement for each party to refrain from corrupt practices. Has the experience of Kingston bye-election shown Conservative workers that their elections are not won any more by straight methods than by prayer.

Mr. George P. Graham, M.P.P., Brockville, has given notice of a bill to amend the Assessment Act. At present householders in cities of 10,000 and over are exempt up to $1,000 on income, while in towns and other municipalities they are exempt only to $700. Those not householders are in all instances exempt to $400. Mr. Graham's bill is to make the exemptions uniformly $1,000 in all cases for householders and $700 for non-householders.

The programme of the new Liberal Government of Great Britain is rather radical, if not in some respects revolutionary. Its chief features as developed in the Speech from the Throne, are.—Self-government for the Transvaal and Orange River Colony, a species of local government for Ireland, Chinese labour in the Transvaal to be ended, Education Act and Irish Coercion Acts to be repealed, no Colonial conferences until next year, legislation to amend judicial decisions against trades unions, legislation to meet the unemployed problem, equalization of taxation in London.

A great many Conservative journalists were, remarks the Bramford Expositor, terribly indignant a couple of years ago, because the then Legislative Assembly of Ontario refused to demand a two-cent passenger rate on the railroads of New Ontario, where the traffic is light and the conditions of operating difficult, more especially as the Assembly has no power over the railroads in the older parts of the province, where the population is more dense and the traffic heaviest. Now that the Conservative party has a chance to carry out this policy, and inaugurate a two-cent fare on the Temiskaming and Northern road, the agitators are silent. Why?

Old Resident Of Otonabee Dead

Mr. William Walker Passed Away To-day.

Special to The Examiner.

Keene, Feb. 20.—This morning the death occurred in Villiers, of William Walker, one of the most highly respected residents of Otonabee. The deceased had been ill about six weeks, Suffering from pneumonia. He was born in Percy Township, Northumberland, and removed to Otonabee had a young man, and has since resided at Villiers, living on the same farm for many years. He was 61 years of age, unmarried, and was a prominent member of the Presbyterian church, at Westwood, having been an elder in the church. He leaves four brothers and two sisters, Peter, Indian River; Thomas, Oregon; John and James, Villiers, and Jane and AAlice at home. "Billy" Buchanan Is Very Modest

The Lethbridge Herald is now equipped with one of the best newspaper and job printing plants in Alberta, and Mr. Buchanan, who is in charge, is one of the ablest newspaper men in Alberta. On both propositions we know what we are talking about.—Cranbrook Herald. To which the Lethbridge Herald replies: What the "Old Man" says about the plant is so, but as for the latter, we are still blushing and cannot say anything other than the "Old Man's" reputation for veracity may be shattered, if he doesn't watch out.

League Meeting Well Attended

At the regular meeting of the League in connection with the George street Methodist church last night about eighty members were present and made the meeting a very profitable one. Mr. Dumble was the speaker of the evening and he gave a very interesting and helpful address on "Christ's Life, His Life Work and what we may learn about our work." These meetings are in preparation for the Revival Services which will begin in the second week of the next month.

Improvement In The Ice Harvest

It will be gratifying news to householders, as well as to others, that the last spell of severe cold weather has increased the ice crop beyond the expectations of the ice men. Mr. Rehill has had large gangs of men during the past week, cutting, hauling and packing his large ice houses, and is hurrying up the work to get every possible block stowed away while the sleighing lasts. At no time this winter has the roads been good for hauling. Yesterday Mr. Rehill was compelled to put on extra gangs of men, making roads to keep the work going. The supply of ice stored is not nearly as large as is required but thanks to the last cold snap there will not be the scarcity that was anticipated.

Mr. W. Anderson Improving Slowly

Mr. Wm. Anderson, M.P.P., for East Peterborough, was in the city to-day on his way to Toronto, to attend the session of the Ontario Legislature Mr. Anderson is improving in health somewhat, but his physical condition is still far from satisfactory, and he does not get strong as rapidly as could be wished for.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS

The Fatal Germ and its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Pill Pounders Hold Banquet

Toasts and Speeches Were the Order of the Evening.

Through the kindness of Mr. J. Lynch, the Pill-Pounders Hockey Club held an enjoyable banquet last night in Long's Palm Parlours.

Those who partook of Mr. Lynch's hospitality were Messrs. R. C. Harrison, A. Mann, R. Quinn, W. K. Huston, R. Davidson, G. Fitzgerald, H. Mann, V. Tully, W. Darke, M. Yelland, R. Walker, E. Wyatt and Norman Lawson.

After doing justice to the excellent menu spread by Mr. Long's efficient service a number of toasts were proposed and responded to by the representatives of the Pill men. Among the most important was the toast to the King proposed by Mr. Norman Lawson. The success to the Pill Pounders in their coming great game with the dry goods men was heartily drunk. All assisted by brief speeches in making the banquet a most delightful one, and the club wish to thank Mr. Lynch for his kindness and generosity in treating them to such a pleasant evening.

Are Not Guilty Of Conspiracy

Hamilton's Mayor and Council are Acquitted.

Hamilton, Feb. 19.—This morning Magistrate Jelfs gave his decision in the case of Mayor Biggar and the 21 aldermen of 1905 who were charged with conspiracy to restrain trade by awarding tenders to union shops only.

He said the evidence to support one of the charges was insufficient to send the defendants up the higher court for trial, and that the other charges were improperly made.

GOOD CHANCE FOR THE Big Carpet Works

Messrs. Bristin and Freen Return to City After Visiting Other Prospective Locations---Peterborough Offers Superior Advantages--Manufacturing Committee Will Meet Representatives To-day.

Messrs. A. S. Bristin and G. P. Freen, the representatives of the English carpet manufacturers, who are on a tour of Ontario, with a view of selecting a location for a Canadian factory, returned to the city last night, and are registered at the Oriental.

Since their last visit to Peterborough Messrs. Bristin and Freen have been travelling through the province looking at other cities, and, it is understood, that the advantages offered by this city are considered by them superior to those of any other place visited by them. The intention was that these gentlemen should have met the Manufacturing Committee last night, but the chairman was at the carnival looking at the pretty costumes, and assisting in the judging, and the other members of the committee were otherwise engaged. The visitors, however, were entertained by His Worship, and it may be taken for granted that the impressions of Peterborough will not suffer as a consequence.

To-day the Manufacturers' Committee will meet the representatives of the company. The proposal is for the Company to locate on the property at the south end of the town, on which the foundations of the sugar factory was erected. It seems to be a race between the Carpet Company and the Stove Company for the foundations which can be used in the construction of either factory.

It is expected that a decision will be reached in a short time in regard to the location of the factory.

The firm represented by Messrs. Bristin and Freen is said to be the largest carpet makers in the world, so that if this city is able to secure their Canadian factory it will prove to be a decidedly profitable thing for Peterborough.

Had Lived In Peterboro' For Over 70 Years

Mrs. William Foster Passed Away This Morning at Age of 80 Years.

In the death of Maria Baxter, wife of the late William Foster, which occurred this morning at an early hour, there passed away a lady who had been a resident of Peterborough since 1832, and was undoubtedly one of the oldest citizens. The late Mrs. Foster was 84 years of age, and had been ill for some time with general debility.

The deceased was born in County Fermanagh, Ireland, in 1822, and came to Canada 10 years afterwards with her parents, who settled in Peterborough. Since then, with the exception of three years' residence in Otonabee, Mrs. Foster lived in this community. During that time she had seen Peterborough grow from a scattered hamlet to its present pretentious proportions. She had been a witness of all the changes that took place in the town from its earliest days to its prosperous condition at the present time.

The late Mrs. Foster was married in 1857, her husband pre-deceasing her about 15 years. No children survive her, the only son, John James Foster, dying in Rochester a week ago, and the intelligence of his death had no doubt its effect in hastening her passing away. Mr. T. B. Manieee, Fifth Ward, is a nephew of the deceased.

The funeral will take place at 2.30 o'clock from the residence of her nephew, Mr. T. B. Manieee, 253 Mark street, to Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt will conduct the service.

Mr. McDonald Resting Easily

The many friends of Mr. Alfred McDonald, who is suffering from a severe attack of appendicitis, will be glad to learn that he was resting easily at teh time of going to press. An operation was performed at noon and an abcess opened and the physicians in attendance have now better hopes for his recovery.

OBITUARY.

THOMAS FAIR.

Thomas Fair, one of the best known residents of East City, passed away at one o'clock this morning, after a protracted illness of a complication of diseases. The deceased had been ill for some time but had only been confined to his bed about two weeks.

The late Thomas Fair was 57 years of age and had spent all his life in this community where he was well and favourably known to a large number of citizens. For sixteen or seventeen years he was in the employ of Mr. Adam Hall and afterwards worked for the Dickson Comson Company.

His wife and three daughters survive him; three sisters are also left to mourn his demise.

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from his late residence, 432 Rogers street, East City, to the Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. J. G. Potter of St. Andrew's, will conduct the service.

After the ceremony was performed the guests partook of dinner at the home of the bride's father. Mr. and Mrs. Welsh were the recipients of numerous congratulations as well as many useful and beautiful presents, which showed the high esteem in which they are held by their many friends. Death Occurred In Winnipeg

Mr. W. G. Macfarlane Passed Away There Yesterday.

On Monday night Mr. William G. Macfarlane, son of Mr. Andrew Macfarlane, Homewood avenue, died in Winnipeg after a lingering illness. The late Mr. Macfarlane who was 34 years of age, was the resident manager in Winnipeg of the Marshall-Wells Wholesale Hardware Company, left Peterborough eighteen years ago and has ever since been a resident of that city, where by his energy and industry he met with much success in his business career and became a prominent, influential and highly respected citizen. He was an indefatigable worker and to his devotion to his business duties is attributed the break-down of his health. He has been seriously ill for a year past, and at many times during that period his life was dispaired of. His mother was with him during the last few months of his illness and up to the last sad moment.

The late Mr. Macfarlane was married and leaves a widow and two children. The many schoolmates and boyhood friends of the deceased will learn with deep regret of his death at so early an age, and the numerous friends of the family will extend their heartfelt sympathy in their hour of bereavement.

Mr. A. Macfarlane left for Winnipeg this morning to be present at the funeral of his son. Interment will take place in Winnipeg.

A Brilliant Scene Was The Opening Day

King In Robes of Crimson Silk Opens Parliament.

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

His Majesty Referred to Some Important Reforms—Better Things In Near Future For Ireland and the Transvaal—A Colonial Conference Next Year—Premier Replies With Good Humor to Chamberlain.

London, Feb. 20.—King Edward opened the second Parliament of his reign yesterday afternoon with the customary ceremonial. The weather was cloudy, but rain held off, and all the points of vantage along the troop-lined route followed by the royal progress were occupied by cheering crowds. Within the "gilded chamber" a brilliant scene met the King's gaze as he entered, attended by all the high officers of state, bearing the various insignia of the monarchy. The hall was crowded to its capacity. The King, arrayed in robes of crimson silk and velvet edged with gold lace and surrounded by a heavy cape or ermine, having seated himself on the throne, commanded the presence of the Commons to hear his speech.

The Speech From the Throne.

The speech contained no surprises. The usual reference to the continuance of friendly relations with foreign powers was followed by a paragraph rejoicing over the fact that the Russo-Japanese war had been brought to an end.

Referring to the Moroccan conference, the King remarked: "It is earnestly to be hoped that the result of these negotiations may be conducive to the maintenance of peace among all nations."

Colorless mention was made of the Anglo-Japanese treaty, the dissolution of the union of Norway and Sweden and the condition of Macedonia, which has "continued to give cause for anxiety."

No More Chinese.

The speech announced that the idea of an intermediate stage for a representative government of the Transvaal had been abandoned, and that a new constitution would be drawn up as expeditiously as possible, adding that until the Transvaal assembly meets the importation of Chinese will be suspended.

After announcing the postponement of the proposed colonial conference until early in 1907, the King congratulated the Commons on the steady increase in imports and exports, indicating that the industries generally are in a sound and progressive condition, but immediately afterwards the King invited the earnest attention of the legislators to the "additions made in recent years to the national expenditure and capital liabilities of the state."

Concerning Ireland.

The speech closed with a mention of prospective legislation. An independent paragraph devoted to Ireland was as follows:

"My ministers have under consideration a plan for improving and effecting economies in the system of government for Ireland and for introducing therein into means for associating the people with the conduct of Irish affairs. It is my desire that the government of the country in reliance upon the ordinary law should be carried on so far as existing circumstances point in a spirit regardful of the wishes and sentiments of the Irish people, and I trust that this may conduce to the maintenance of tranquility and good feeling between the different classes of the community."

The other legislation forecasted in the speech included bills to amend the Education Act, dealing with trade disputes, the law regarding colonial marriage, and the prevention of plural voting at Parliamentary elections.

The King's Ailment.

Immediately after reading the speech the King returned to Buckingham Palace.

It was noticeable that the King is still suffering from the injury to his knee, sustained while out shooting Nov. 16 last. He walked haltingly, aided by a stick. His speech was clearly audible everywhere in the hall, despite occasional huskiness.

The Earl of Aberdeen, the new Irish viceroy, while a guest of the College of Surgeons Saturday, made a significant reference to Irish affairs. After remarking the great change in public feeling in England towards Ireland in the last thirty years, as full of hope for Ireland, he said:

"There is another auspicious feature in the outlook. I allude to well-grounded belief that His Majesty, the King is actuated by a warm solicitude for the welfare of Ireland and her people."

The Debate.

The House of Commons was crowded when the business of the session began yesterday afternoon. The King's speech having been read by Speaker Lowther, W. H. Dickinson, Liberal, moved the address in a brief speech, and E. D. Acland, Liberal, seconded it.

The debate on the address in reply to the King's speech became interesting when Joseph Chamberlain, in the absence of former Premier Balfour, took the place of the leader of the Opposition and attacked the Government on all points, and especially on its South African policy. He threw down the gauntlet regarding home rule for Ireland. Regarding tariff reform, Mr. Chamberlain promised to give the Government several bad quarter hours.

Mr. Chamberlain's speech undoubtedly was the feature of the first day in the House of Commons.

Premier Campbell-Bannerman's reply was lengthy and perfectly good-humored, the speaker assuming that his position was one of such strength that he could afford to be generous.

John Redmond, who followed Premier Campbell-Bannerman at the night session, boldly announced that the Nationalists would not be satisfied with anything short of complete self-government.

The Laborites profess themselves well pleased with the clauses in the King's speech affecting their special interests. They do not intend to introduce an amendment. Indeed, it is probable that there will be fewer amendments offered than usual, and that the regular business of the session will begin earlier than it did in the previous Parliament.

Lansdowne Favors Single Power.

In the House of Lord the Marquis of Northampton (Liberal), moved the address in reply to the King's speech, and Lord Hershell (Liberal) seconded the motion.

Lord Lansdowne (Unionist), the former Foreign Secretary, replied. After the usual courteous personal reference he said with regard to the Algeciras conference he look with suspicion on any attempt to correct bad administrati n international control. A single po er was much more likely to succeed.

Continuing Lord Lansdowne criticized the proposed legislation for South Africa, asked whether the Irish paragraph in the King's speech meant home rule by instalments, and predicted that a change in the present method of governing Ireland would cause serious alarm and uneasiness.

Lords Ripon, Salisbury and Crewe wound up the debate on the address, which was agreed to, and the House of Lords adjourned.

Balfour at Billingsgate.

London, Feb. 20.—The Liberals of the City of London have changed ground since Saturday and after several conferences with Thomas Gibson Bowles, late Free Trade Unionist candidate for King's Lynn, where he was defeated by a tariff reformer, the Liberal Association yesterday definitely selected him to oppose former Premier Balfour in the bye-election made necessary by the resignation of Alton Gibbs, who gave up his seat in order to enable Mr. Balfour to return to Parliament.

Mr. Balfour commenced an active campaign yesterday morning, perambulating the greasy alleys of Billingsgate fish market shaking hands with hundreds of fish sorters and receiving an occasional douche of slimy brine from the baskets on their heads.

SUES FOR $25,000.

Sequel to Attorney-General's Writ to Oust Mining Company.

Toronto, Feb. 20.—The White Silver Co., Edward C. Hargrave, Frank R. Rutherford and Charles Gunning Williams are attempting to get back at the Attorney-General and the Department of Crown Lands because of the suit issued by the authorities, alleging irregularities in connection with the registration of a claim in the Cobalt district. A suit for $25,000 was entered against the Attorney-General and the Department of Crown Lands.

The mining men set forth that the Department of Crown Lands certified to the regularity of the application at the time of a transfer of part of the claim to Hargrave. Up to this time no claim had been made by right of discovery adverse to those of Hargrave, Rutherford and Williams.

Among the allegations made in the statement for the company is one which reads: "The complaints were lodged at the instigation of R. J. Tough and J. C. McMillen, who were desirous of wrongfully depriving the defendants of the said land, and acquiring title thereto. Immediately after the caution was secured they trespassed on the lands and made an application for a title thereto."

The Order Of The King Has Been Defied

Hungarian Parliament Is Dissolved By the Police.

KOSSUTH'S HYMN WAS SUNG

Coalitionists Claim a Victory Though They Were Turned Out of the House—House Unanimous In Tabling the King-Emperor's Rescript—Captain of Hungarian Militia Then Reads It.

Buda-Pesth, Hungary, Feb. 20.—The Hungarian Parliament was dissolved yesterday morning by force.

The session opened at 10 o'clock sharp. The vice-president read letters from Gen. Nyiri, the royal commissioner, and Herr Justh, president of the lower House, and declared that the royal rescript dissolving Parliament, forwarded by Gen. Nyiri, was unconstitutional and illegal. The vice-president proposed that the House ignore the rescript and return it to the Emperor-King. The House unanimously accepted the proposal with prolonged cheers. Thereafter the minutes of the meeting were adopted, the deputies were notified to reassemble on Wednesday and then the House adjourned. The royal rescript dissolving Parliament was left lying unopened on the president's desk, and the members left the House singing the Kossuth Hymn.

Soldiers Drove Them Out.

The floor was almost cleared when, a captain of Hungarian militia, at the head of five soldiers with fixed bayonets and a large number of policemen, who had previously entered by a side door, entered the House. The captain and the soldiers mounted the president's tribune, and the policemen occupied the floor. The captain then opened and read the rescript amid constant interruptions from the galleries, and some of the deputies who returned to the floor and all present united in singing the Kossuth Hymn, with the result that not a word of the rescript could be heard.

The police escorted several of the noisy members from the floor and then slowly cleared the galleries and corridors. A large crowd of cheering deputies escorted Francis Kossuth, Count Albert Apponyi and other leaders from the House, which was surrounded by five squadrons of cavalry, one regiment of infantry, a battalion of militia and a thousand policemen.

Count Albert Apponyi, who, with Francis Kossuth, leads the coalition parties, yesterday said he considered that the coalition had gained a signal victory over the Crown as the result of the Crown's method of attempting to dissolve the Parliament, which he characterized as illegal.

Torpid Liver Cause Of Fevers

The Surest Way to Prevent Disease is to Keep the Liver Active with

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Too frequently an external cause for fever is looked for, when the real source of trouble is from within the body itself.

To begin with the liver becomes torpid, sluggish and inactive, and poisonous bile in left in the blood to corrupt the whole system. The result is the overworking of the kidneys and the clogging up of the organs of excretion.

Food which should be digested is left to ferment and decay in the intestines, and inflammations and fevers are set up.

In such a condition the body is a regular hotbed of disease and is most susceptible to any ailment of an infectious or contagious nature.

The best insurance against disease is the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to keep the liver active. This great medicine has a direct and specific action on the liver, and is wonderfully prompt and effective in awakening and invigorating this important filtering organ.

A healthy liver means pure blood, good digestion and the proper working of the bowels. A healthy liver ensures the onward passage of the food through the intestines and excretory organs, and so removes all chance of poisonous waste matter remaining in the body to produce pain, suffering and disease.

Mrs. R. C. Webster, Glenarm, Victoria, Co., Ont., writes: —"I gladly state my experience with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in order that others may profit by it. About a year ago I was almost entirely used up with severe pains in my back and side the result no doubt of deranged liver and kidneys. Having tried several remedies which did not seem to do much good and hearing Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills highly recommended I sent for several boxes and can freely state that they did me a world of good. As I feel no need of further treatment, the cure seems to be thorough."

Third Annual Meeting

OF THE PETERBOROUGH TURF CLUB

Was Held Yesterday

Important Business Was Transacted--Present Secretary and Treasurer Re-elected---Mr. Martin Connors Accused Secretary Rountree of Refusing to Accept His Entries.

The third annual meeting of the Peterborough Turf Club was held yesterday at the Ontario Bank Chambers, at which the following members were present: Messrs. J. M. Brooks, A. Rountree, R. H. Jackson, A. Elliott, H. Neill, A. Dunn, Geo. Lipsett, M. C. Tooley, J. A. Lawless, S. Holland, P. J. Clunan and M. Connors. In the absence of Mr. R. J. Munro, president, who is confined to his room through illness, Mr. Alex. Elliott occupied the chair. The financial statement was read by Mr. A. H. Jackson, treasurer, and showed a small credit balance in the bank. Mr. A. Rountree, secretary, in presenting his report, spoke of the splendid success of last summer's meet, and also of the regrettable fact that the mild weather of this year had rendered the ice races of the club impossible. A great programme had been arranged and a large number of horses were entered. Had the weather permitted, it is beyond doubt that the best ice races ever seen in Peterborough would have been pulled off.

The Turf Club was practically reorganized at yesterday's meeting, all small shareholders turning over their shares to the members who have larger holdings of the stock of the club. The motion to have this carried into effect was made by Mr. P. J. Clunan.

There has been considerable unnecessary friction in the club over trivial matters, and it is hoped that in the future the members will co-operate, and that the internal workings, which, in every organization, are so essential to success, will be carried on harmoniously and without any friction whatever. The races for the coming summer were referred to, and a committee, consisting of nine shareholders, was appointed to consider the matter. The prospects are that the races for next summer will be better than ever. The work of preparation for them will be begun at once and vigourously pursued by the committee in order to have all arrangements complete and everything in readiness to run the races off without a hitch on the dates that will be chosen. A purse for $500 has already been presented, the turf club having the privilege in choosing the lass in which it will be competed for, and it is stated that a purse from the Port Hope B. and M. Co., and the Calcutt B. and M. Co. will also be given. It was the prevailing sentiment of those present at the meeting that the Peterborough Radial Railway should also do something in the way of providing a purse, in view of the fact that the races bring a great deal of traffic to them.

A large amount of routine business was transacted and a number of matters that are of private interest attended to. That the services of the president, secretary and treasurer, who have done their best in the past year to promote the interests of the club were appreciated, is shown by the fact that all three of these energetic officers were again re-elected.

Mr. Martin Connors, owner of Blucher, claimed that Mr. A. Rountree, secretary of the Turf Club, refused to accept the entry of the horse mentioned above for last summer's races. In defence, Mr. Rountree stated that Mr. Connors' application for entry was received too late, the horse being entered on the 9th of July, as the entries closed on the 8th, the races being held on the 12th and 13th. Mr. Connors cited the case of Hal Patron, whose entry was not received until after the 8th. But it transpires that the letter containing Hal Patron's entry was mailed on the 8th, as the post-mark showed, and he was, therefore, eligible to be entered. The following telegrams should explain the stand taken by Mr. Rountree in the matter:

Hartford, Conn., July 8.

To A. Rountree,
Peterborough, Ont.

Please mail entries for meeting next week, to-night without fail.

W. H. GOCHER,
Secretary,

HOCKEY

The seniors put in an hour's fast and hard work last night, every man being in uniform. Crowley, Glover, Moore and Fitzpatrick formed a stone-wall defence and kept Canavan, Morgan, Graham and Whitcroft guessing all the time to get inside. The ice was in good shape.

• • • •

Sturgeon Falls and Perry Sound played a tie game in the former town, Friday evening, 1-1. The return game will be played in the Sound on Wednesday night, the winners will meet Allistion for the championship of the north. Berlin and Goderich fights it out in the west, then Peterborough meets the winners of both series which ought to be the most exciting games played here in the history of the local club.

The locals forward line is working better together this season than it has since 1902. They are a better scoring forward line than ever wore a blue and white uniform and that is saying a lot.

• • • •

Port Hope and Lindsay will have a battle royal to-night in Lindsay. Port Hope are playing grand hockey now. They have a fast forward line and ought to trim Lindsay on the round.

• • • •

The locals will practice to-night from seven to eight. All the seniors are requested to be in uniform, at 7 sharp.

• • • •

Peterboroughs are trying to arrange a game with Queen's team before they go after the Stanley Cup. They are the only team that has beaten the locals this year. A game like this would draw a big house in Peterborough.

• • • •

"We have a Stanley Cup right here in Peterborough that would be a hard proposition for Queen's to take away since the locals have struck their gait.

• • • •

Goderich are arranging a special train to take them to Berlin and Berlin are doing likewise. It would be too bad for the locals to take a fall out of these teams after going to such expense. But one can never tell. Special trains will never win a championship if you don't have the goods to deliver when it gets to its destination.

• • • •

Bill Crowley will be a tower of strength to the team in the remaining games. He is shooting better than ever now. His skating can hardly be improved upon. He is showing much improvement in blocking the past few weeks. He is said to be the best rover point playing in Intermediate O. H. A. to-day.

• • • •

They have money to burn in Port Hope. The Guide yesterday gave the following schedule:—

The Port Hope betting men are offering the following:—

$5.00 to $5.00 that Lindsay does not score 7 times in Lindsay.

$5.00 to $5.00 that Lindsay does not double the score in Lindsay.

$8.00 to $5.00 that Lindsay does not double score on round.

$5.00 to $5.00 that Port Hope plays off with Western team.

$5.00 to $15.00 that Port Hope wins championship.

$5.00 to $10.00 that Port Hope wins at Lindsay.

• • • •

Toronto Star,—The O. H. A. intermediates are coming along nicely, though the Northernes are delaying matters a little. Sturgeon Falls will play in Parry Sound on Wednesday night, and the winner will likely play off with Allistion in a sudden-death game at Gravenhurst on Friday. Peterborough will play the winner and the victors will go into the finals. The winner of the Berlin II. and Milton series, which will be finished to-morrow night at Berlin, will meet Goderich, and whosoever wins will go into the final with the Eastern-Northern winners.

• • • •

Speaking of the Kingston Port Hope game in Kingston in which the St. Georges, of Kingston, succumbed to the Port Hope seven by a score of 2-0, the Kingston News and Times is of the opinion that Mrs. Fay, who picked the St. Georges to win the junior championship has another think coming.

Brass Workers' To Give At-Home

On Friday evening, the 23rd inst., the Brass Workers will hold another of their enjoyable 'At Homes" in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe Street — the last before Lent—and it is safe to say that a delightful time is guaranteed all who are present. Those who have attended these "At Homes" in the past have nothing but words of praise for the management for the splendid programme given, but this one promises to eclipse all others both in sociability and enjoyment. The music will be supplied as usual by the Misses Dorris.

Wants To Know About His Wife

Peterborough Man Confined in Kingston Penitentiary is Anxious.

Acting-Chief Adams was to-day handed a letter by the postmaster, which was dated Feb. 13th, and which was written by Rev. Canon Cooke, chaplain of the Kingston penitentiary. The letter was written at the request of a Peterborough man who is at present doing time in the penitentiary for horse-stealing. He has written to his wife, he claims, a number of times, but has received no reply, and he wants to know of her whereabouts and also concerning his family. His wife, it is stated, is at present living with an Italian, who has received considerable notoriety in the police court.

The Lecture Was Enjoyed

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner's Talk on "Florence, The Beautiful."

The fourth Pop of the series at the Y.M.C.A. was held on Saturday night when Mr. H. R. H. Kenner of the Collegiate Institute gave his popular lecture, "Florence the Beautiful," before a large and appreciative audience.

Mr. Pringle of the Peterborough Business College, occupied the chair in an able manner. In his opening address he touched on the noble work which the association is doing for the young men of the town, and was pleased to see the interest that is being taken by the citizens in general in the work of the association, after which he introduced Mr. Kenner, the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Kenner began his lecture by describing the beautiful situation of Florence, and reviewing briefly its history. Then he mentioned some of the famous men in literature, art science and religion whom Florence had produced, and also gave outlines of their work.

The next division of the lecture was the description of the various masterpieces of architecture, painting and sculpture, with which Florence abounds, giving to some extent the history of each, and comparing them with similar works in Rome and other cities.

This part of the lecture was made much more interesting by the aid of stereopticon views shown by Mr. J. A. Fife of the Collegiate Institute.

A vote of thanks was moved by Mr. J. C. Brown, seconded by Mr. J. C. Smyth, and heartily adopted.

Mr. Kenner thanked the the audience and the meeting closed by the singing of the National Anthem.

Presentation To Mr. H. Beal

Fourteen Years Service Was Fittingly Acknowledged.

A pleasing event took place last night at the regular meeting of Lansdowne Lodge, S.O.E., when Mr. H. L. Beal, past president, was presented with a past president's ring. It is a very handsome piece of jewellery, with the letters, "S. O. E." raised in gold on the ring. Mr. A. Kingscote, recording-secretary, presented the ring, and in doing so referred to the 14 years' service which Mr. Bell had rendered the lodge. During that period he had used his best efforts to advance the interests of the lodge and order, and that his services were appreciated was the unanimous opinion of the members.

Mr. Beal acknowledged the gift in a few words, expressing his appreciation of the generosity of the lodge members. He had derived much pleasure from the associations with the lodge and felt that he had already been amply repaid for any services rendered.

Mr. Beal has filled offices for 14 years in Lansdowne Lodge, his record being as follows: One year, auditor; seven years, financial secretary; two years, D.D.S.G.P.; one year, committeeman; one year, president; and two years, past president.

Had Opportunity To Present Case

A Fair Trial Was Given and Chance of Defence.

A Globe despatch from Ottawa today says:—

Ottawa, Feb. 19.—An effort is being made to create sympathy for Mr. R. B. Rogers, engineer on the Trent Valley Canal, whose resignation has been asked for in connection with the leaks in the lift locks at Peterborough and Kirkfield. It is represented that Mr. Rogers was not given a fair trial and had not an opportunity of defending himself. The fact is that Mr. Rogers asked for an investigation and got it. The investigation was conducted by an engineer of eminence and was thoroughly impartial. His findings were based upon the statements of the parties affected who had every opportunity to present their case in the strongest light.

Moderate Priced Houses Are In Good Demand

And the Prospects are That Large Number Will be Erected This Year—A Gentlem Identified With Building Trades Gives Some Information on This Subject—Building Activity in the South End of the City.

MANY RESIDENCES WILL BE ERECTED

A gentleman who is in close touch with the building trades of the city and is in a position to know, whereof he speaks, informed the Examiner to-day that the prospects are that this coming season will see the largest amount of building in the history of Peterborough.

There is, he states, a demand for houses to rent, from $7 to $10 per month, and there are indications that there will be a large number of this class of houses erected during this year.

The building activity in this class of houses will be largely in the southern part of the city, where there is the greatest demand. This gentleman will erect five houses himself to rent for a moderate sum, while a number of others will do the same. For the figures named, a good respectable house can be built, but it is not, of course, fitted up with all the modern conveniences.

In the western portion of the city the class of residences will be of a higher standard. The demand there is for a higher priced residence with conveniences, and the indications are that a number of new houses will be erected there. Taken altogether, the prospect is an exceedingly bright one, and in addition to the residences which will be erected, the promise of a number of large buildings, public and industrial, indicates that an unprecedented era of prosperity, as far as the building trades is concerned, is to be experienced this year.

Crowds Answer Turnbull Co's Fair Question

Their Home Furnishing Sale the Business Event of the Week.

"Would you purchase home-furnishings in February which you did not require till April, if you could save about one-third? That was the fair and square question put by The Messrs. J. C. Turnbull Co., last week, when they were announcing their great February house-furnishing sale. The sale began on Saturday and during all that day, and on Monday and Tuesday, eager crowds have been giving a practical "yes" to the firm's question.

"Seems to be something doing in there," is the remark made by people who stop to look at the windows and read the price attractions. Three big busting sale days has been the record up to date, with every appearance of the shoppers growing more numerous as the news of the bargains are talked about. Every dollar spent during this sale means a positive saving on just the goods that will be needed in every home a month or two later. It's really a bonafide feast for the economical and provident housewife.

Just imagine—$2.99 for a $5.00 wire bed with brass trimmings; $4.99 for a $7.50 iron bed, and $9.99 for a $13 iron bed. Take another—$1.99 buys $3.00 and $3.50 bed springs; $2.99 buys a $4.50 mattress; 50c. linoleum goes at 35c. and 75c. window shades at 50c. In the desirable line of carpets, think of buying $1.25 velvet and Brussels carpets for only 79c per yard; 85c and 90c all wool carpets for only 59c per yard, and 45 and 50c tapestry carpets at 29c per yard. Do not lose sight of the fact that behind every dollar's worth of goods you buy at this sale, stands Turnbull's guarantee to get your money back if not satisfied with your purchase.

The sale continues up till Saturday night only. That means that you should come as early as you can. Don't make a mistake and come next week expecting to get one-third off, as the sale positively closes this week. Plenty of stock in the home-furnishing lines to serve the biggest crush to come and many of the most surprising specials are not advertised at all.

At the last reception held by the German Kaiser, the representatives of Bavaria, Wurtemberg, and Baden were officially classed as belonging to the "foreign guests," and much comment has been caused in consequence.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"The Fatal Wedding" was presented last night to a large audience and seemed to meet with general support. The acting of Gussie Shires, the child actress, who portrayed the role of Jessie, the Little Mother, was easily the cleverest seen in the production, and she filled the role with inimitable cleverness and naturalness. Master Jas. G. Fox and she gave a Bowery song in splendid style. Master Fox also gave several solos in good voice, and was heartily encored.

The play depicts disruption in a home through a sad misunderstanding and the despicable work of a man and woman, who are a pair of arch villains, leading the judge of a divorce court to give a decision which separates the husband and wife. The wife, with the assistance of a couple of the servants, kidnaps the children, who, by the judgment of the court are given to the husband. She is rendered very poor by the separation from her husband, and is forced to take in sewing in a flat of a tenement building of which her husband happens to be the owner. He recognized the children and takes them to his own home after a partial reconciliation with his wife. In the last act the mistaken husband is again united with the wronged wife, just as he is about to marry the wicked traitress, who is shot twice, and killed, of course, by the scowling villain, to the unbounded delight of the audience. The staging was appropriate.

The great attraction at the Grand to-night and the succeeding nights of this week are the wonderful and marvellous Fays. The rate at which the plan is filling up promises a large audience at the theatre to-night to hear the mysterious revelations of the famous Fays.

That they certainly have succeeded in mystifying their audience is proven by the fact that many attend several evenings in order to solve the wonderful and weird exhibitions. The feature of the programme will be Mrs. Fay's divining and answering questions, and these will not only prove mystifying, but humourous.

A mind is an open book to them, and a person who misses seeing and hearing the Fays will always regret it.

"The Blacksmith's Daughter," presented by the St. John's Dramatic Club, made a big hit in Bailieboro last night. The company, upon arriving in the village, was cordially received by Messrs. Goodacre and White, and other Bailieboro residents. Mr. R. S. Bradburn took the leading part very acceptably, and Mr. W. Drysdale was uproariously funny in his comedy role. The company was royally entertained after the performance, and received a cordial invitation to again honour the people of Bailieboro with a performance. The hall where the play was given was well filled, but owing to the smallness of the stage it was impossible to put on all the scenery.

Some Interesting Impromptu Talks On Many Subjects

At St. John's Anglican Young People's Association.

There was a somewhat smaller attendance than usual last night at the regular fortnightly meeting of St. John's Anglican Young Peoples' Association, which may be attributed to the numerous other counter attractions. The meeting proved to be an enjoyable one however, as was evidenced by the applause given the some eight or ten speakers.

The Hon. President of the society, Rev. J. C. Davidson, gave a brief address on the proper methods of conducting business meetings, which was greatly appreciated by those present. Then followed a number of impromptu speeches which were, to say the least, of a great latitude, the subjects of which ranged from "Astronomy", which fell to the lot of Mr. Jos. Bell, to "Ladies' Hats", upon which Mr. John Hogan was permitted to eulogize. Others who spoke were Mr. Collison, on "Conversation"; Mr. N. A. Howard-Moore, "Government"; Mr. A. E. Walker, "Police Protection"; Mr. Hooker, "Diligence"; Mr. Stanley Cannift, "Music". Miss D. Sawer, drew the subject of "Winter" to which she responded with a few short, but brilliant passages of oratory and was followed by Miss L. Pratt, who did not disclose the nature of the subject she had drawn but fulfilled her obligation as an impromptu speaker by adding a few incisive remarks to the subject of "Conversation", which she claimed Mr. Collison had omitted to mention.

After some routine business had been tranracted refreshments were served which brought the evening to a close.

The next regular meeting of the Association, which falls on Monday, March 5th, will be a Literary evening. A good programme will be provided.

And yet without alcohol, without opium or other harmful drugs, there is no medicine in the world which acts so quickly. Improvement is noticed in one week. The first box starts a woman on the road to health.

The alcohol or opium in liquid preparations invariably, in the end, leave the patient in a more pitiable condition than in the beginning.

A HEALTHY OLD AGE

OFTEN THE BEST PART OF LIFE

Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life.

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Mrs. M. J. Dabbruzz

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary J. Dabbruz, of 150 Main Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba, writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a blessing to me through that delicate period known as the change of life. For six years it disturbed my entire system. I had hot flushes, was extremely nervous, became pale and debilitated, very irregular in the monthly flow, and the blood all seemed to be in my head. I had frequent palpitation and throbbing of the heart; in fact, my whole system seemed to be in disorder.

"I received no relief from the suffering incident to this period until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; but I date my relief from the time I took the first bottle. I gradually improved, nature took her course painlessly, and in due time I was a well woman."

Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

A Resolution Was Adopted

By Court Bridgenorth to Family of Deceased Member.

At a recent meeting of Bridgenorth Court, No. 315, C.O.F., the following resolution was passed to the relatives of the late John G. Young, one of the charter members of the Court, who died in January. The resolution is as follows:—

To Mrs. Louisa Young, and Mrs. Marion Young and family.:—

Whereas it has pleased God to take from our midst our late esteemed brother, John G. Young, we the members of Court Bridgenorth, No. 315, C.O.F., hereby extend to you our heartiest sympathy in this your great bereavement.

As Foresters, we miss him in our circle, for in his genial manner and dealings, he always proved himself a true gentleman and Forester.

As a citizen and neighbour we miss him, for his public dealings and true Christian character won for him the esteem of the whole neighbourhood.

His whole trust was in God. Even under the strain of a protracted sickness extending over four years, no complaint nor impatience was expressed by him. But God is too wise to err, and while we bow with you in submission to His will; we pray that the consolation of God's grace may abide with you all as your great affliction, remembering,—

"These severe afflictions
Not from the ground arise,
But oftentimes celestial benedictions
Assume this dark disguise.

We will be patient and assuage the feeling,
We may not wholly stay,
By silence sanctifying, not concealing
The grief that must have way."

Signed on behalf of our Court.

Utica Barber Gave Pastor Hard Beating

PREACHER FORMERLY LIVED IN BUFFALO

Special Wire to the Examiner

Utica, N. Y., Feb. 20th. — Rev. Otto Von Bueren, pastor of Zion's Lutheran church in this city, was attacked by Charles Williams, a barber, in the local post office late this afternoon and so badly injured that the services of a physician were required. The attack on the clergyman was the sequel to the attempt by Williams to have Von Bueren deposed from the pastorate of the church, because of alleged efforts by the minister to ingratiate himself into the affections of Mrs. Williams, until recently the organist of Zion church.

The scandal involving Rev. Von Bueren and Mrs. Williams, first claimed attention three months ago when the woman in a public statement accused the pastor of attempting to compromise her honour, and incidentally she filed formal charges against the minister with the board of trustees with the church. After a searching investigation during which a number were of witnesses were sworn on each side the trustees reported in favour of exonerating the pastor, and the congregation ratified the report. Subsequently the Lutheran Synod of New York took up the matter of the charges against the minister and summoned him to appear before it, but he ignored the order, and Zion church was accordingly cut off as a communicant of the general body.

The matter rested there until this afternoon when Mr. Williams entered the local post office and finding Rev. Mr. Von Bueren writing a letter, attacked him in a vicious manner. The first blow smashed the minister's eye glasses, sending several pieces of the shattered glass into the minister's eyes. Blinded and dazed Von Bueren was next sent sprawling on the stone flooring by a couple of smashes on the nose. He had no chance to defend himself in his blinded condition, and was at the mercy of his assailant until bystanders interfered. Owing to the fact that the assault was perpetrated on Federal premises the government authorities are expected to take the initiative in proceeding against Williams. Rev. Mr. Von Bueren has been pastor of Zion church in this city for several years, coming here from Buffalo.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now, "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this it the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

Fire Water On Indian Reserve

A Number of Indians to Appear Before Magistrate.

County Constable Cochrane went out to the Indian Reserve at Chemong yesterday and issued summonses to half a dozen of the "red men" of the village on Lake Chemong.

On February 9th a meeting and concert was held in the village at which were a number of the Indians with fire water in their possession, and disturbances were the result.

Edward Taylor and Isaac Johnson, jr., were charged with having with having intoxicating liquor in their possession, and also for disturbing the assembly. Samuel Beaver is charged with having liquor on the reserve, and Jonas Jacobs, Geo. Taylor, and Jas. Taylor, jr., with disturbing the concert.

These together with a number of witnesses will appear before Magistrate Edmison at the County Court House on Monday next at eleven o'clock.

Susan B. Anthony will celebrate her 86th birthday on February 15th. A birthday party will be given to her in Washington on that day. The following day she will go to New York.

Why Terminus Was Called After Prince Rupert

Name of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Western Terminus—The Name is Euphonious and Appropriate—Who Prince Rupert Was and What He Did for British Columbia—Some Decidedly Interesting Facts are Given.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF CHOSEN NAME

The above caption is the euphonious and appropriate name which the Grand Trunk Pacific have adopted for their terminus on the Pacific coast. The people of Canada were given an opportunity of naming this city, which some day, will become one of the greatest seaports on the western coast of America, and 12,000 different names were submitted by those who took part in the contest. A name was been chosen that is significant of Canada, and one that was prominent in the early history of the country, when nearly the entire area of British North America was known as Prince Rupert's Land. Under the terms of the competition that the name should contain not more than three syllables, nor more than ten letters, the name which complied with the conditions and most nearly resembled that selected was Port Rupert, this name being suggested by Mrs. John Orme, of Bonnechere, Ontario, and by Mr. R. Kirkwood, of Coppercliff, Ontario. The judges, however, decided that "Prince Rupert" was a more pleasing name and more appropriate, and awarded the $250 prize to Miss Eleanor A. Macdonald, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, who was the only one who submitted this name. The Grand Trunk Pacific, however, recognizing the spirit of the contest, awarded the same amount to each of the two contestants who submitted the name Port Rupert.

But why Prince Rupert? What had the dashing young cavalry leader of the cavaliers nearly three hundred years ago to do with Canada? Prince Rupert was really the first British Canadian business magnate. He was a promoter of the Hudson's Bay Company, and its first Governor, in 1670. In that year Charles II. granted a charter to the prince and 17 other noblemen and gentlemen, incorporating them as "The Governor and Company of Adventurers of England, trading into Hudson's Bay," and securing to them "the sole trade and commerce of all those seas and straits, bays, rivers, lakes, creeks and sounds in whatever latitude they shall be, that lie within the entrance to the straits commonly called Hudson's Straits, together with all the lands and territories upon the countries, coasts and confines of the seas, bays, etc., aforesaid, that were not already actually possessed by or granted to any of our subjects, or possessed by the subjects of any other Christian prince or state. The first settlements of the country thus granted, which was to be known as Rupert's Land, were made on James Bay and at Churchill and Hoyle's River.

Prince Rupert was born in 1619, the son of Frederick V., Elector-palatine and Elizabeth, eldest daughter of James I. of England. He was a man of impetuous bravery, but at the same time showed lack of caution. When only 13 years old he took part in the siege of Rheimberg, and at the age of 18 commanded a regiment of cavalry in active service. At the beginning of the Civil War in England he was placed at the head of a regiment of horse and took part in seven battles. Notwithstanding a serious error at Marston Moor, he was soon appointed commander of all the royal troops. After the defeat of Naseby, on June 14, 1645, he retired to Bristol, but surrendered that city on August 22. The king thereupon deprived him of his commission. In 1648 he was, for want of any competent man, appointed to command the fleet. He was blockaded by Blake in Kinsale Harbour, and in October, 1649, forced his way out and steered for Lisbon. Blake pursued him, and he was only saved by assistance from the King of Portugal. He subsequently escaped to the West Indies, but after the restoration of Charles II. he was made a Privy Councillor, and served under the Duke of York against the Dutch. He was afterwards Governor of Windsor Castle, where, during the last nine years of his life, he devoted himself to scientific and artistic pursuits. He died November 29, 1682.

Are You Strong?

Do You Eat and Sleep Well? —Or Are You Pale, Weak and Miserable?

Has your nerve given out? Have you lost confidence in yourself? Has work became such an awful burden that you look upon it with horror?

There's just one thing left to do, and that is to take Ferrozone and get your system into good shape again.

It's quite impossible for anyone to be weak or nervous that uses Ferrozone. It contains so many strength-giving properties benefit is bound to result from its use.

Ferrozone possesses the power to kindle new vitality and vigor where almost a dying condition of weakness exists.

It is an extraordinary and magical tonic, containing more actual nourishment and strengthening elements than you can get at in any other way. As a blood purifier, nerve strengthener and appetizing tonic there is simply no equal to Ferrozone. Of this we are positively sure.

It is crowned with the success of splendid cures; will restore anyone to health who uses it. The following letters from people who have actually experienced what Ferrozone can do will clearly show you just how beneficially it acts:—

No Medicine Ever Did So Much Lasting Good as Ferrozone.

"It would be difficult to express my thanks for the benefit I have received from Ferrozone," writes Miss Eva Wight, of Florenceville. "I was so weak and miserable that I could scarcely go around the house. My head ached, there was a dragging weakness in my limbs, and I felt as if every spark of life had left me. Ferrozone improved my appetite, toned up my blood, and soon made me well. Nothing I ever used did me half the good I got from Ferrozone."

The Great Tonic, Ferrozone, Brought Back Life.

"I am anxious to speak a good word for such a magnificent tonic as Ferrozone," says E. P. Gerow, of Yorktown. "I was wretchedly worn out. I was apprehensive, and lacked confidence. It was simply due to my very weak state. The only remedy that really did me lasting good was Ferrozone. It rebuilt my strength, has made me as vigorous and happy as a man could be. In the whole range of medicines I never used anything with half the merit I found in Ferrozone."

Though you spend a thousand dollars on doctors, you can't get a more vitalising, strengthening tonic than Ferrozone. It is the best that money, combined with scientific research, can produce. If anything in this world will make you strong it must be Ferrozone. Others have proved its worth. You can easily do so for yourself. It will send new vital energy and renewed youth singing through your veins. It's nature's own remedy—a true food tonic.

Divine Healing Was The Subject At Tabernacle

Rev. Dr. Wilson, of New York, Gave an Interesting Address on That Subject Which Was Handled in a Breezy Manner That Held Close Attention of Audience—Some New Versions of Old Hymns.

LARGE AUDIENCE IN ATTENDANCE

"There is a fountain filled with blood
Drawn from Emmanuel's veins,
Sick people plunged beneath that flood
Lose all their aches and pains."

Such was the revised edition of the well-known old hymn as given by Rev. Dr. Wilson, of New York, at the services in Bethany Tabernacle yesterday. Dr. Wilson, who was the last speaker of the afternoon, gave a half-hour's address on "Divine Healing" in a telling manner that had a marked effect upon the large audience which gathered for the service. The majority of those present were ladies, but the sterner sex was well represented. Dr. Wilson is a breezy, forcible speaker, with a magnetic presence which irresistibly draws his audience to him. His sunny smile, coupled with his ready wit and bright illustrations make his remarks most impressive and he has no trouble in holding the attention of the audience. Although easy and racy in his delivery, his addresses are not marked with the slang so often to be found in the speech of the latter-day evangelists.

Miss Quinn, who delivered a missionary address earlier in the afternoon, concluded with a request to the audience to sing the edition of "Bringing in the Sheaves," as rendered by Dr. Wilson. The refrain, which was heartily sung by the meeting, was as follows:

"Giving up our case,
Falling on our knees;
We shall come rejoicing,
Bringing in Chinese."

Dr. Wilson began his address in his usual humourous style. "I am glad to see, he said, with a winning smile, "that Miss Quinn has one grace not often found in women; she knows when to stop when her time is up. It is an great a thing to know when to stop as to know when to begin. Praise the Lord, I will keep my word, and not say that I am going to say one word, and then say fifty. I am going to be a good boy," he added, laying his watch on the table. "It's 11 minutes after four, and I'll take one half hour."

Rev. Dr. Wilson divided his subject into five divisions all of which were important branches of divine healing. In beginning he said that he rejoiced because he has been sick and was well. After a life of weakness, weariness, failure and depression for twenty-two years he could say that he had not had a pain or ache in his body. "I am brighter, fresher and stronger than ever before," he remarked, vigourously.

The theory of divine healing while looked upon with such disfavour by a large number of people was not a fancy of man. In the first place divine healing rested upon the word of God. The Bible was the great prescription book. "If you would take the word of God as readily as you do the medicine your doctor gives you, you would be much better," said Dr. Wilson, "and", he added, "I am not here to make reflections on anybody." Secondly divine healing was based on the incarnate word of God, the word of God in the flesh and blood of the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the third place on the atonement of the Lord. It was only by His Blood that people might be healed or would stay healed. The speaker referred to the terrible growth of cancer and said that it was only by the divine blood that it could be cured.

The fourth thing upon which divine healing was based was the testimony of all the ages in support of it, and lastly it depended upon the Lord's living body.

At the conclusion of the service several people remained to be annointed.

Fruit-a-tives

or Fruit Liver Tablets.

DR. ALEXANDER FALKNER, Williamstown, Ont., a physician who has enjoyed a large practice for the past thirty years:—"I have much pleasure in certifying to the value of 'Fruit-a-tives' or 'Fruit Liver Tablets' as a medicine for chronic constipation and biliousness, dyspepsia, etc., etc. I have prescribed this medicine for the past six months and can strongly recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' in all cases of constipation, indigestion and flatulence, headaches due to weakened digestion, etc.

DR. A. FRANKFORD ROGERS, Ottawa, a physician who has enjoyed one of the largest practices in that city, states:—"I have no hesitation in recommending 'Fruit-a-tives' or 'Fruit Liver Tablets' as the fact of these tablets being made from a laxative material extracted from ripe fruit appeals, and has appealed to my judgement, and I have used these tablets extensively in my practice and always with most gratifying results. The proprietors of this medicine do not hesitate to furnish the formula of the tablets to physicians, and hence any physician can use these tablets and recommend them without loss of self respect. The formula of 'Fruit-a-tives' is certainly a magnificent one, and in my experience no medicine ever used by me has given such excellent results in constipation and stomach and liver trouble as 'Fruit-a-tives' has. That these tablets act beneficially on the kidneys and skin is beyond doubt and in many cases where the skin was sluggish and inactive and the complexion bad 'Fruit-a-tives' have given the most pleasing results."

DR. D. J. COSTELLO, member of the internal staff of the General Hospital, Ottawa, and who has extensive experience, states:—"I have used 'Fruit-a-tives' or 'Fruit Liver Tablets' with most beneficial results in obstinate constipation and biliousness, and found their action mild and non-irritating, and yet more curative than any medicine ever used previously. I strongly recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to those suffering from these complaints."

Who Is Martha McEwen? Said To Have Lived Here

A Buffalo Girl Who Took Dose of Carbolic Acid in Hotel—In a Glass of Whiskey She Took the Poison—She Will Recover—Her Story Is That She Once Lived in Peterborough—Was Born in Kingston.

WHISKEY SAVED THE GIRL'S LIFE

A Buffalo despatch says:

Myrtle McEwen took a dose of carbolic acid in the parlour of the Swan Hotel, at Swan and Michigan streets, last evening about 8.30 o'clock. She took the poison with intent to kill herself, as she subsequently stated at the Riverside Hospital, but at 11 o'clock, when she was out of danger, she declared that she did not know why she had been so foolish.

The young woman, with two friends entered the hotel and she ordered drinks. She had whisky. While she was talking with the proprietor, Henry E. Hecker, Myrtle remarked to him that she was "going to settle it," but he paid no attention to her, as he thought she was joking. When Becker left the parlour Myrtle picked up the whisky and poured part of the contents of a bottle, which she took from under her dress, into it. She then swallowed the mixture. The girl was removed to Riverside Hospital. Her throat was badly burned, but she was soon out of danger. She did not swallow enough of the poison and the whisky killed the effect of what she did take.

The young woman was at the hotel last Thursday night with a man friend, with whom she had a quarrel.

She stated that she was born in Kingston, Ont., and that she had lived in Peterborough and Toronto, but more recently she had resided at No. 176 Elm street.

Will Celebrate Anniversary

The Mark Street auxiliary will celebrate the silver anniversary of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church in the Sunday school room of the church.

An interesting programme has been provided, consisting of Bible reading by Mrs. (Rev.) N. J. Crotiers, an address by Mrs. Alexander Morrow, and vocal selections by Miss Kendry, members of the Mark street chior, and probably others.

Two British seamen, landing at Reval in the Baltic provinces, have been shot and killed by Russian sentries. The sentries shouted to them to stand but they did not understand the language.

Mrs. Graham Gave Address

At Meeting of Women's Foreign Missionary Auxiliary.

The regular meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Auxiliary of St. Andrew's church, yesterday, was one of more than ordinary interest. Mrs. Wm. Graham, of Lakefield, was present and gave an address on missionary topics. Mrs. Graham's address was much enjoyed, and added greatly to the interest of the afternoon.

Mrs. Potter presided over the meeting, which was one of the largest in the history of the Auxiliary.

THAT OVER WORKED, PLAYED OUT FEELING AMONG WOMEN

There are thousands of females all over our land who are broken down in health and dragging out a miserable existence, overburdened with diseases peculiar to their sex, apparently growing old while yet young. Often they have pale or sallow complexion, hollow, sunken eyes, with a lifeless look; the face has a pinched and haggard appearance; they are weak, weary and trembling, often extremely nervous, starting at every little noise. Many are low-spirited, and some are fretful. Some are apparently bloodless, with cold hands and feet, while others are flushed by an unequal circulation of the blood, dizziness, and sometimes dimness of vision, loss of memory, and often loss of appetite and sleep, and are wearied with terrible dreams.

Palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, smothering and sinking spells, shortness of breath and the sensation of pins and needles are all indications of a weakened condition of the heart or nervous system, and should any of them be present we would strongly advise the use of

They bring health to the broken down, energy to the weakened constitution, tone up the tired, overstrained nerves, and strengthen the weak heart.

Mrs. Edward Jackson, Hall's Bridge, Ont., writes: "For a year I was greatly troubled with nervousness and loss of appetite, and could neither sleep nor eat. After taking a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I was completely cured and can recommend them to all sufferers."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Was Injured Cutting Wood

Mr. Maurice Hynes Met With Accident Near Young's Point.

Special to The Examiner.

Young's Point, Feb. 19. — Mr. Charles Hill, who has been very ill the past year, was conveyed to the Nicholls Hospital on Monday, the 19th inst.

Mr. William Young, sr., who has passed the century mark, is confined to his home with an attack of la grippe. Mr. Young is a wonderful man considering his age and it was only a short time ago that he drove to Lakefield and back alone.

Mrs. P. P. Young is visiting with friends in Toronto.

Mr. T. Labelle, clerk for the Rathbun Co., visited our village on Monday.

There was an article in Saturday's Examiner describing the population, area, and the delightful scenery of the Otonabee River and the Kawartha Lakes, etc. Now, if the long-talked-of street cars came up here it would enable the city folks to see our picturesque scenery in about an hour's run from Peterborough, and would be a great advantage to the cottage owners at Stony Lake, as they would not have any delay in Lakefield transferring from the G. T. R. to the steamboats.

Mr. Maurice Hynes met with a painful accident while cutting wood north of here one day last week. The axe glanced, cutting his knee, and he had to be removed to Lakefield.

Lt.-Col. Roper Resigns Office

Takes Leave of the Governor-General's Foot Guards.

Military men in the city will be interested in the following despatch from Ottawa:

Lt.-Col. S. C. D. Roper, commanding-officer of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, last night handed over the stores, arms and equipment of the regiment, which means his retirement from the command.

In the absence of the senior officer, Major Bate, Major Street received the stores. Lt.-Col. Hodgins, D.O.C., and several of the company officers were present. It will be recalled that during the last drill season trouble developed in the ranks and it appeared as if the commanding officer was not as popular with the rank and file as might be desirable. He then took leave of absence during the drill season, the command devolving upon Major Bate. Subsequently Lt.-Col. Roper resumed command of the regiment, but is now giving it up. It is understood that he will take leave till next month, when the date will have been reached to enable him to retire with the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

Major H. A. Bate will succeed to the command.

On the occasion of the visit of the 57th Regiment to Ottawa last summer Major Bate was acting commanding officer, and the local military men cherish very pleasant memories of the hospitality shown them by him.

PUBLIC HEALTH AMENDMENTS.

The Provincial Board of Health has been doing some thinking, and has decided to suggest important amendments to the public health act. Among these the most important is one looking to centralization in the Provincial body. It has, so a member of the Board informs the Examiner, been found in practice that the local boards of health, under certain circumstances, fail to take the necessary action in sanitary matters because such action would make it unpleasant for them by promoting the criticisms or reproaches of their friends and neighbours with whom they live and with whom they come into contact every day. The local Board of Health, if it incurs expenditure, will in turn incur the hostility of local ratepayers, no matter how justifiable such expenditure may be, or how greatly in the public interest. The people come to a very slow recognition of the importance of obedience to the laws of health. They are inclined to regard the precautions and measures to procure sanitary conditions or remove unsanitary conditions as the outcome of a fad idea—as science dabbling in fanciful experiments. They and their forefathers throve under conditions of dirt which it is now proposed to remove. Such persons have no faith in orthodox methods—as practised or recommended by doctors who, being according to law, are distrusted. They pin their faith to patent medicines and prefer a market faker and the drugs he hawks to all the medications of an L.R.C.P. This class cannot sympathize with the recommendations of a local board of health; they kick if money is spent with the object and result of saving life by preventing disease, by the observance of sanitary requirements. Under these circumstances, weak-kneed, if not weak-minded, members of local boards of health neglect their duty and leave undone many things they should do. The Provincial Board of Health proposes to change this by procuring legislation which will relieve local boards of responsibility in regard to certain sanitary matters, and place it in the central body, who, having no local responsibility, and consequently no fear of local criticism, can take such action as the interests of the public health may demand. The principle of centralization may not be indefensible, but in some cases, where popular prejudice and popular ignorance make decentralization a menace to the public health, it may, with proper precautions, be adopted. If the Provincial Board assumes more power to deal with local health matters, it naturally assumes more responsibility in respect of the necessary expenditure. If there is one thing more than another against which the British spirit revolts it is taxation without representation; and the danger that may come from the proposed new departure will arise from asking municipalities to pay for services in whose adoption they have no voice. However, the proposal has much to commend it. Local boards of health as a rule are content with a rather perfunctory discharge of their duties, and any arrangement which can conduce to a more intelligent and interested dealing with sanitary matters will be welcomed, of course, pre-supposing due regard to the interests involved and the rights of citizens.

A GREAT FUTURE FROM FOREST PRESERVATION

In dealing with the opening up of new settlements in the province, Hon. Mr. Turgeon, Minister of Crown Lands, made an important statement to the Quebec Legislature the other day. He showed that the Quebec authorities had not waited for the assembly of the National Forestry Convention before taking action to effectively preserve the forests in the triple interest of climate, industry, and agriculture. In Quebec, particular attention has been paid to the question of efficacious protection against forest fires. The mode adopted in the eastern zone had proved so satisfactory that notwithstanding great drought of last summer, the province had not experienced a single serious forest fire. The wisdom of spreading the system over the whole of the province has been vindicated.

It is apparently the intention of the Quebec Government to greatly increase the forest reserves of the province. In Ontario, we had no forest reserves in 1896; now we have an area of 9,000,000 acres, and there is serious talk of adding to even this great reserve, which is nearly one-half the size of the whole cultivated area of the province. Quebec established the Laurentide Park in 1895—a work to the great credit of Hon. Mr. Flynn. Since then the Gaspesie and the Rimouski reserves have been added, and the province now has a reserve of 4,500,000 acres. This area is not sufficient for a province the size of Quebec, however; and the Minister of Crown Lands urges that it be doubled in the next two years.

The preservation and perpetuation of the forests is of great importance to every part of the Dominion, but especially to thee two great central provinces—Ontario and Quebec. Ontario obtains from her forest wealth annually a very large portion of her total income. The province of Quebec, too, has been leaning more and more on the revenue that comes from the sale of timber within her bounds. In 1866, the Quebec government only obtained $300,000 in revenue from this source; in 1886 this had increased to $900,000, and last year the revenue from timber reached the figure of $1,600,000. The interest of the people, therefore, in our forests is very great. Taking the Dominion, as a whole, we are proprietors of the greatest area of merchantable forests in the world. The financial future of the Dominion is in very large measure bound up in the preservation of this magnificent source of wealth and power.

But we must insist on our rulers continuing and increasing their watchfulness over these forests for another prime reason. Forests are necessary to the very existence of a country. Time was when great areas of Northern Africa and Europe were fertile, and sustained millions of human beings. To-day, they are sand-covered deserts, with but a village here and there near the few remaining streams that flow from springs as yet uncovered. Even in some parts of our own country where the trees have been ruthlessly removed from a sandy soil, the "blow sand" has been let loose, and threatens to cover up even the good land that lies adjacent. If care is taken to preserve the trees in such localities, the soil may be turned to account, otherwise it is nothing but a menace. What can be done by intelligent afforesting is shown by the experience in Nebraska, where large tracts of such land is being rescued from the blighting effects of sand storms, and is being turned into farm lands for progressive settlers.

There is no objection to the provinces making money out of their forest wealth. What has to be guarded against, as was shown at the great gathering recently convened at Ottawa by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, is that for every tree that is cut down, care shall be taken to have another planted and preserved to reasonable maturity. If we have that secured, and a continuance of the policy of planting hundreds of thousands of young trees annually on the praries, with effective protection from fire everywhere, the future of our forests will be assured. We will have not only in Quebec, but in Ontario, and all over Western Canada, provided effective measures to distribute and hold the rainfall, to maintain, feed and regulate the course of the rivers, and to make of these two central provinces, the greatest manufacturing centre of the American continent.

Debating Will Be Developed

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church was held last night in the Guild room. The president of the Guild, Mr. F. E. Kerr, was in the chair, and the principal business transacted was the arrangement of the programme for the next six months.

It was decided to take up debating more extensively, and a committee composed of Messrs. H. H. Edmison and C. E. Anderson was appointed to decide on the subjects for debate.

Recently the members of this Guild have developed considerable talent in this line and there is every prospect that the future meetings will be increasingly interesting.

SUFFERING WOMEN

Find Health and Strength in the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Every growing girl and every woman nearing middle life suffers from ailments peculiar to her sex. At these times the health and happiness of every girl and woman depend upon the richness and regularity of her blood. Look at the young girl whose blood is weak and watery. Her face is pale, her lips and gums bloodless. Her head aches and her back aches. She has no energy, no life, a poor appetite and no desire for exercise. She complains that even to walk upstairs leaves her breathless. And the woman in middle life — she is nervous, irritable and depressed — liable to sudden attacks of pain and distress that only a woman knows of. She turns from food; horrible dizziness, hot and cold flashes, make her life miserable. But Dr. Williams' Pink Pills banish all this misery, because the fill the veins with rich strong, healthy blood which gives tone and strength to every delicate organ. The case of Mrs. Geo. Danby, of Tilbury, Ont., is one of the many that proves that no medicine can compare with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in curing the ills of womankind. Mrs. Danby says:—"I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blessing to suffering women. For a long time I was a great sufferer from the ailments that affect so many of my sex. I was extremely nervous at all times, suffered a great deal with headaches and indigestion. In fact I was in a thoroughly miserable condition when I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but after taking them a short time I began to improve, and, through their further use, I am now feeling like a new woman. I am sure if all sick women would take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills they would be convinced of the great good they can do."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can make every ailing girl and suffering woman in the land strong and healthy if they are given a fair trial. But great care must be taken to see that you get the genuine pills with the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, on the wrapper around each box. Sold by medicine dealers everywhere or sent by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Editor Post Card Columnf

Dear Sir,—I greatly sympathise with a Mr. Meitre, who I learn from a paragraph in your news column, lost $183 at the Opera House, Monday night. While I am sorry for him, I must say he invited the loss he sustained. When a man pulls a wad of $183 out of his pocket and fishes out a dollar bill to pay for a ticket at the crowded front of a box office, he must count on somebody that is poor but, not, honest seizing upon the situation and taking advantage of it. Many a man has lost both his life and money by exposing a large sum of money in his possession. If Mr. Meitre had provided himself before hand with the price of his ticket and kept his "wad" in an inside pocket hee would to-day likely be 182.50 cents ahead.

Yours, etc.,
CAUTION.

Indians Created A Disturbance

Six Chemong Indians Will Have to Answer Charge.

Mr. Geo. Cochrane, High County Constable, was at the Indian Village yesterday investigating the facts in connection with an alleged disturbance which occurred there on February 8th and 9th. As a result of his visit warrants are issued for the arrest of Isaac Johnston, Edward Taylor, S. Beaver, Jos. Jacobs, Geo. Taylor and James Taylor, charged with creating a disturbance at a social gathering. The first two named are also charged with a second offence, that of carrying intoxicating liquors. They are summoned to appear on Monday next at 11 o'clock at the Court House, to answer the charges preferred. The men are all Indians. Three of them have left their places of abode in Emily more; Johnston having gone to Parry Sound, and Beaver and Ed. Taylor, to Alderville. Mr. Cochrane expects to secure these men, but they may not be here for Monday.

SCHOOL TEACHERS WILL DISCUSS THE SALARY QUESTION

A General Meeting Will be Held To-morrow Afternoon—A Memorial Will, in all Probability, be Sent to the Board of Education at the Next Meeting—The Teachers Said to be Unanimous in Their Belief That Salaries Should be Raised.

The public school teachers of the city will hold a general meeting to-morrow afternoon, when the salary question will be the subject of discussion. The teachers of the different schools have already met, and have considered the question. The opinion, of course, is that the Board of Education should increase the salaries of the city's teachers; and while no definite line of action has been decided upon by the teachers, other than that of holding a general meeting, it is quite probable that at the meeting to-morrow they will decide to send a memorial to the Board, setting forth their reasons for asking for increased salaries.

This movement, it is understood, originated with the male teachers who have had several meetings, and they finally decided to include the lady teachers in the plan for increased salaries; and at the meeting to-morrow all the teachers from the six public schools will, it is expected, be in attendance.

The movement to increase the salaries of the teachers is, it is said, being favourably discussed by a number of the citizens, who believe that in proportion to the salaries paid workers in other lines of activity, under similar conditions, and taking into consideration the fact that it takes several years of preparation, the teachers are not paid enough.

The male assistant teachers receive only $12.50 per week for the year around, which is considered not sufficient.

It is probable that at the next regular meeting of the Board the members will be confronted with the memorial referred to. One of the teachers stated to the Examiner today that it would not be in the nature of an ultimatum, the teachers believing that extreme measures would be unnecessary, since the Board would, in their opinion, see the reasonableness of the request.

The teachers in the public schools of the city at the present time, with their salaries, are as follows:

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE NORMAN JOLLIFFE RECITAL.

Though it has high warrant, the saying that "a prophet is not without honour save in his own country" seemed to have met an exception in the enthusiastic reception given by his home city to Mr. R. Norman Jolliffe, the clever young baritone, at his recital in the Y.M.C.A. hall last night. The hall was well filled with a discriminating audience, whose evidences of approval and pleasure at Mr. Jolliffe's singing must have warmed his heart and given him encouragement to persevere in the way he is going, to the higher levels of artistic vocalism. For although he has already attained a high standing as a singer, his real future is yet to be made. He is still young, and with the artistic progress he has made, there is little risk in prophesying for him a brilliant future. Mr. Jolliffes' work last night was artistically satisfying. He possesses a voice of rich, resonant quality, flexible and pliant, and adaptable to the varying moods to which his warm and appreciative temperament so readily applies it. His singing evidences excellent instruction, and to Herr Wilhelmj a large degree of credit is due. The excellent method which Mr. Jolliffe applies is aided by a well-balanced dramatic intuition and sense of expressive fitness. In his opening number, Allitsen's "Song of Thanksgiving," the robust, but still musical, texture of voice was well developed. His beauty of shading was also admirably brought out in this number, but reached its climax of exquisite finish in "Dearie," substituted for the programme fixture, "Schubert's" beautiful "Wanderer." The expression, phrasing and delicate finish shown in "Dearie," characterized every number sung. In his triple group of songs, Schumann's "Ich Grolle Nicht," Mendelssohn's "Here Under the Trees," and Bruhe's sprightly "Lady Moon," most satisfactory work done. The first was sung to German words, and the singer's excellent accent was worthy of mention, and would not "vex" the ear of a native Teuton. In Eulenburg's cycle of rose songs six in number, and as varied in moods, Mr. Jolliffe met the very exacting demands admirably. His reading was generally good, and his fine grasp of the sentiment, and its artistic transmutation into music were excellently complementary to the good vocal workmanship displayed. Though he sang at times under disadvantages, such as unexpected transposition, owing to a mislaid score, Mr. Jolliffe acquitted himself with very great credit to himself, and to the delight of his audience. The wearing quality of his voice, and the benefit of a good method, which makes exacting demands less exacting, is shown by the fact that though he sang, including encore numbers, over a dozen songs, his last piece, but one, was in smoothness, clearness and steadiness of tone, his best, and best appreciated effort, calling forth a most insistent encore, and a capital singing of "Pretty, Pretty Creature," of whose execution, even with the recollection of Watkin Mills' rendering of it here fresh in the minds of most of his hearers, Mr. Jolliffe has good reason to be proud. He was heard to excellent advantage in duet with Mr. W. M. Van der Water — Sergeant's "Watchman, what of the Night," and with Miss Ethel Y. King, contralto, in a substitute number by Nevin. Among the assisting artists, Mr. Van der Water, of the staff of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, with a beautiful tenor voice of lyric calibre, sang a double number, 'Schubert's "Ave Marie," and "I Love You," by Sobieski. Though suffering from a slight cold his work was extremely satisfying, betraying taste, good method, expression and finish. Miss King, of Toronto, contralto, has a large warm voice, which she used to so good advantage on her first appearance that she was honoured with an encore, which was repeated, and with more reason, at the conclusion of her second number, which was sung with excellent effect. Miss King is young, but with her voice and the excellence she has already attained, she may well hope to distinguish herself as a vocalist. Miss Adele Blachford, soprano, whose voice is of excellent quality, sang, "I Love Thee," by Wilhelmj and a double number, with spirit and finish, though suffering somewhat from nerves. Like Miss King she is young, and has a promising future. The excellent and sympathetic work of Miss Mabel Clarry in the unobtrusive but important role of accompaniste, was of great assistance to the vocalists and contributed to the pleasure of a most enjoyable musical evening, and the triumph of a local vocalist.

LENDRUM

The Debate On The Address From Throne

Hon. Mr. Ross Pleasantly Shows Government Shortcomings.

HEARTLESS SPOILS SYSTEM

Strength of the Present Government Comes From Reaping Results Sowed by Liberal Administration — Many Cases Instanced—Mr. Whitney Replies and the Address in Reply to Speech is Passed.

Toronto, Feb. 21.—The debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne was closed in the Legislature at 6 o'clock yesterday evening. Hon. Geo. W. Ross was the only speaker for the Opposition and Premier Whitney replied for the Government. Mr. Ross made an eloquent and effective speech, illuminated by flashes of humor and apt comparison. His resume of the legislation of the late Government, his defence of the educational system, and his keen criticism of the course of the present Administration, particularly in respect to dismissals from office, were the notable features of a speech lasting about one hour and a half. For the greater part of the time Mr. Ross, who was somewhat fatigued, though mentally as brightly alert as ever, sat in his chair.

Premier Whitney, who followed Mr. Ross, spoke for nearly the same length of time as the leader of the Opposition. He vigorously defended the Government's policy and actions. At times he was somewhat harsh in his personal references to the Opposition leader.

The business of the afternoon opened with the introduction of Mr. E. J. B. Pense, the victor in the recent bye-election at Kingston, whose sponsors were Hon. G. W. Ross and Mr. T. H. Preston (Brant). The members of the Opposition lustily applauded as, the formality over, Speaker St. John stepped from the throne and exchanged a hearty handshake with Mr. Pense, who afterwards took the seat he occupied last session next to Mr. Preston.

Mr. Ross on the Address.

In resuming the debate on the address, Mr. Ross said he was glad that the long period of opposition had broadened the views of the Government supporters. The great bulk of the people felt that the services of the Liberal party during the past 30 years were of immense value to the country. They had nothing to be ashamed of. Mr. Ross outlined what had been done for agriculture. The agricultural college had at least given the Government a Minister of Agriculture; the Liberal party had given the province a license law, a good road policy and a mining policy. From what had been done by the late Government immense pulp industries had sprung up. The Liberal party had built the Temiskaming Railway, which now pays a surplus, and they had developed the water power at Niagara Falls, which yield a large revenue.

A Surplus at Last.

He believed the treasurer would be able to boast of a surplus—he was glad of it, but how did he get it? It was got because the Liberal party had provided for it. The treasurer was something like a symbolical Jack Horner eating his Christmas pie. If there had not been a Liberal party there would be no pie.

"The surest way for the hon. gentlemen to remain in power is to walk in our footsteps in these respects," asserted the ex-Premier.

The Education Question.

Mr. Ross then passed on to a discussion of questions connected with education. It had been promised by the Government that education and politics should be kept apart, and yet the first two appointments in that regard, namely, the inspector of public libraries and the Deputy Minister of Education, had been politicians. The former gentleman had been a Conservative organizer, the latter had been an editorial writer for Conservative papers. Against either of them personally Mr. Ross had nothing to say, but he desired to point out that neither had had any experience in their work, and the teaching profession, whence experienced men could have been obtained, had been overlooked. There was so few plums in the profession that it seemed only fair that when there were any of the nature mentioned they should not be given to outsiders on purely political grounds. When the late Government had wanted an inspector of high schools they had gone to the profession, and had selected a man who in politics was opposed to them. They had kept educational affairs clear of politics, and he challenged the Government now, as he had challenged them when they were in Opposition, to show that such had not been the case. He entered a strong protest against the general statements recently made by the leader of the Opposition and others, to the effect that the educational system had deteriorated. Twenty-four years ago 4,000 pupils passed the entrance examinations into the high schools; in 1903-04 the number was 14,632. Twenty years ago only 272 pupils passed the matriculation examinations into the universities; in 1903-04 551 passed. Twenty years ago there were 11,000 pupils in the high schools; the latest figures showed 50,000. These and other figures Mr. Ross quoted in support of his contention, and then devoted some time to a defence of the ability and influence of female teachers. He agreed that teachers' salaries were inadequate, and said the Opposition would support legislation with a view to remedying that; but he doubted if any legislation could be devised that would keep enterprising Canadians in the profession.

The License Appointments.

Had the license inspectors been removed from party influence, as promised by Mr. Whitney when in Opposition? Mr. Ross thought it was merely a case of changing from one party to another; he would say from one party to a worse. The public did not approve of the removal of the Toronto inspectors. What would be the consequences of all this? If the inspectors were to be under the political whip of the Government it would be a bad thing. He would wait, however, for further evidence. All this had now was a bad beginning.

Only Half a Minister.

The province was promised a Minister of Mines. It had got only half a minister. There was plenty of material inside the House, yet the Premier had passed them over. There was a good deal for him to do, and perhaps he would develop into a pretty good half. New Ontario, said the late Premier, was his day dream. In preventing the Helen mine falling into the hands of the United States steel trust, the Government had gone as far as a Government could go, but he believed that even the present Government was glad that the assistance was given to the Soo industries. The Temiskaming railway was projected and we have Cobalt.

The old Government had been criticized for assisting the Grand Trunk Pacific. It had been said that the road would be built anyway. The fact was the scheme was hanging in the balance.

The Spoils System.

A large number of men had been dismissed without cause. Their sole offence was in being Liberals. It was true that the Dominion Government had dismissed hundreds from office—he had the returns before him—but there were so many he could not count them. But in these cases investigations were conducted while the present Government had conducted only two investigations. Mr. Ross said the Government had made 880 appointments, not including justices of the peace and issuers of marriage licenses. Could anyone imagine a more heartless proceeding? Of these 880, 35 were necessary, owing to death. He did not object to a Conservative getting a dead man's job. They were welcome to as many dead men's shoes as came their way.

Some Omissions.

As a catalogue of what the Government proposed, the speech from the throne was very good, but you could not tell what a book was like by the catalogue. The Opposition would support any good measures brought down. There would be no carping criticisms, but the Opposition would hold the Government strictly to its promises.

A good deal had been left out of the speech from the throne—that was to be expected. In the speech there had been no reference to a bill for a repeal of the tax on corporations, so stoutly advocated during the Opposition life of the present Government. Likewise he noticed that there was no reference to the promised reduction of the succession duties, or the abolition of the public works department or the repeal of the office of clerk of forestry. However, since possession of office had broadened the members of the Government, some of these propositions might be discarded.

Premier Replies.

There was not a single act of commission or omission in the Government's record that it might be now wished to have changed, said Mr. Whitney, who opined that the "awful warning" in the downfall of the late Government would be an effectual deterrent from wrongdoing.

Mr. Ross had started out to tell the history of that Government, but how much had he told? Had Mr. Ross dared to say the present Government had followed in the footsteps of the old? Mr. Whitney referred to the Minnie M., North Renfrew and other episodes of the kind.

Coming to the license question, the speaker said that the present system of administering the law, while defective, was the best in sight. The Chatham incident merely showed that the poison of the late Government's principles had extended to some of the men who supported the present Government. The action of the Provincial Secretary had shown an intention to dismiss from office license officials who acted for party gain. The Government would continue to choose proper men. The Ross Government was referred to as having been able by thimblerigging to delude both liquor men and the temperance folk into the belief that he favored each individually.

Hastings' Dismissal.

Mr. Whitney said that License Inspector Hastings was one of a group of chief heelers of the Liberal party for the last ten or fifteen years. In dismissing other officials he had been allowed to remain.

"I was surprised when the members for Toronto came to the conclusion that they would leave him in," admitted Mr Whitney. "I thought they made a mistake, but I thought their views should govern. After a trial of some months, it was shown that he could not remain in office with regard to the license administration of the city." The Government would not be deterred in future, but would "do the same thing under similar circumstances and considerations."

Pulp Concessions.

Mr. Whitney scored the former policy in pulp concessions. From 10,000 to 15,000 square miles had been given away just before a general election, without any competition, whereas now tenders for such concessions were being advertised, as with timber lands.

Mr. Whitney compared the surplus of the Temiskaming railway with the deficit on the Intercolonial, and announced that a very different policy from that of the late Government would be followed.

The Education Question.

One of the basic schemes of reorganising the Education Department was to have no experts in the office of minister or deputy minister. All the best expert assistance would then be at the disposal of the Government. Mr. Ross was the only man of intelligence in Ontario who did not know two or three things in the situation. The people of the province were determined there should be a change in the educational system. A new era had come, and no matter how good the system had been the forces of evolution insisted on a better. Education aided the mind to unfold itself, so then of its own motion to absorb what it needed. To-day an opposite system prevailed in the province, akin to shutting up a fowl in a dark room to get ready for Christmas. Every one now had his eyes fixed on the necessity of piling up a mountain of straight black marks, and this was one cause of the failure of the educational system, which became more growingly irksome to the better class of educationists.

The Spoils System.

The spoils question was referred to. Mr. Ross had not told of one minister at Ottawa who had himself dismissed over 700 in one department. The Government was told in some quarters that it would not be returned at the next election because it would not dismiss the officeholders, while on the other hand defeat was threatened because it had dismissed them.

In conclusion, the Premier said it would be the endeavor of the Government speedily to bring the bills mentioned in the speech before the House. Their titles spoke for them, and they would have to be fully dicussed and digested.

The address was then passed.

Col. Matheson promised the estimates on Thursday.

With New Blood In the Arteries

YOU WILL FEEL NEW VIGOR AND CONFIDENCE THROUGHOUT THE WHOLE BODY.

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Do you know what it is to feel well — to feel young and hearty and vigorous—to feel full of energy and ambition—to enjoy work and to look forward hopeful and confident of the future.

This is the natural way to feel when your blood is pure and rich and your nerves are a-thrill with life and vitality.

This is the way you will feel if you revitalize your wasted and depleted nervous system by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Not in any miraculous way—not after the first dose or the first box, it may be, but when your system has been gradually built up — your blood enriched and new vim and vigour instilled into the nerves.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a wonderful medicine, but its wonders are accomplished in nature's way, by thoroughly restoring the elements lacking in a run-down body.

No other treatment for the nerves acts in exactly this way. Some relieve by deadening the nerves — some by excessive stimulation.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food brings about lastingly beneficial results by forming new, rich, red blood, and creating new nerve force.

Mr. George W. Lawson, a farmer living near Cosseom and well and favourably nkown throughout Prince Edward County, Ont., writes:—

"About one year ago I was taken sick and felt myself failing every day. I consulted and doctored with several eminent physicians, but received no permanent benefit. In fact they told me they could do nothing for me except afford temporary relief, as it was a general breaking up of old age. My nerves were exhausted and my whole system completely broken up.

"I was just at death's door, and, thinking my time to die had come I gave up hope and resigned myself to fate. At this time my wife read in the papers about some of the wonderful cures being brought about by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I began using it.

"This treatment helped me from the first, and I continued to keep it up for about six months, when I was fully restored to health. To-day I am a well man and made so by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food at a trifling cost. All this in spite of the fact that I spent a large sum of money with physicians only to be pronounced incurable. Though in my 75th year I feel as well as I did at twenty, and can walk as smartly as any of the boys."

There is lots of evidence of what this great food cure has done for others. Ask your neighbours about it. Fifty cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Proposal To Drop The Tax Put On Corn

Notice of Motion In the British House of Commons.

NO SYSTEM OF PROTECTION

Resolution Will Be Moved After Adoption of Address—Irish Unionists Will Attempt to Draw From Government a Declaration of Its Policy In Regard to Ireland by Moving an Amendment.

London, Feb. 21.—The House of Commons devoted the entire day and night sessions yesterday to a desultory debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne. Among the motions of which notice was given, the following will be moved from the Government benches:

"The House of Commons, recognizing the general decision of the people of the United Kingdom, in demonstrating unqualified fidelity to the principles of free trade, deem it right to record its determination to resistance to the proposals, whether for the taxation of foreign corn or by the erection of a general tariff on foreign goods which will create a system of protection."

This resolution will be moved after the adoption of the address. It is understood that the Duke of Devonshire will move a similar resolution in the House of Lords.

Irish Unionists will move an amendment to the address condemning the proposed changes in the Government of Ireland as tending in the direction of home rule. This is intended to draw from the Government a declaration of its policy with regard to Ireland.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 21.—The Reid Wrecking Co. tug salvor of Sarnia, Ont., has gone down in 20 feet of water at the Pere Marquette freight dock at Ottawa Beach. Capt. Reid suspects that an enemy of the Canadian Wrecking Co. had a hand in the sinking.

Died In Cells.

London, Feb. 21.—Walter Henderson, a laborer, 25 years of age, died in the police station cells yesterday morning. Henderson was arrested early last evening for drunkenness.

Good Games In City League

Great Interest Being Taken in Charlotte Street-High Life Games.

There will be good ice for the city league games to-morrow night, if the weather man keeps his word.

The games between the High Lifes and Charlotte street, will be the most important one of the season, and a great struggle will take place between the two to decide which team meets the Suburbs in the finals.

The Bankers-Suicide match should also prove an interesting exhibition of hockey.

As great interest is being taken in the first game particularly there will no doubt be the largest crowd of the season present.

HOCKEY

The Examiner predicted that Port Hope would trim Lindsay last night. "Won't poor old Peter be surprised after to-night's game?" says the Post. "He will likely change his opinion." But "poor old Peter" is right again and its up to Mudville sporting writer to cover himself up in the ash barrel.

• • • •

The Toronto Telegram predicted a short time ago that any good intermediate team could trim any of the senior sevens in Toronto. Wonder has that paper changed its opinion?

• • • •

"Peterborough's chances for the intermediate championship are exceedingly bright" said Mrs. Fay, last night. She also predicted that Lady Gothard, owned by Mr. Martin Connors, would do extremely well at the coming Dufferin Driving Club ice races.

• • • •

Smiths Falls should win the Stanley Cup this year.

• • • •

Brockville was defeated by Smiths Falls in a Federal League game at Brockville Monday night by a score of 6-4. Harold Armstrong and LeSuer are said to have played brilliantly for the winners.

• • • •

The sporting men of this journal can hardly restrain themselves from shooting hot stuff at the Review seven, but "they're trying so hard to forget."

• • • •

On Saturday, 17th, the "Grove" Lakefield, played the "Chieftains" on the Grove ice, the former winning by 15-2. The Grove is anticipating a return match on Saturday 24th.

• • • •

One of the biggest surprises sprung in hockey this season was when the St. Georges defeated Stratford last night by a score of 4-3. The score in Toronto last Saturday night was 11-9 in favour of the Classic City bunch, who won in extra time.

• • • •

Kenora trimmed Winnipeg last night in Winnipeg by a score of 7-5.

• • • •

Port Hope defeated Lindsay at Lindsay last night by a score of 4-3. At half time the Scugog seven led by a 2-1. Waghorne refereed satisfactorily. Nevertheless to say Lindsay is very sore and dissapointed and some of the Mudville sports are out a few greenbacks. After the many prophecies the Lindsay seers made for the Midgets to land first money, the surrounding towns, including Port Hope, of course, will give them the merry ha, ha.

• • • •

Milton is now out of the running for the intermediate championship. They were defeated in Berlin last night by a score of 9-2. At half-time the winners lead by 4-1. As the score in Milton was 8 all Berlin wins the round by seven goals.

• • • •

Lindsay made a mistake playing McWilliams at cover point in last night's game with Port Hope. He does more effective work at rover.

• • • •

Mr. N. McWilliams yesterday received word from a friend in Cobourg that if his brother, Mr. Amos McWilliams, played with Lindsay, in their game with Port Hope, the game would be protested if Lindsay won, on the ground that McWilliams was over age. As it turned out, however, Port Hope won.

They would have had no grounds for protest anyway as McWilliams will not be twenty till the 8th of July. McWilliams played for the local juniors last winter.

CURLING

The Toronto News pays this tribute to Mr. J. D. Flavelle, the well-known Lindsay curler:—

"Mr. J. D. Flavelle, of Lindsay, is to be congratulated upon the showing which he and his associates on the Lindsay rink made at the Winnipeg bonspiel the past ten days. Alone among the half-dozen rinks that went to the Prairie Capital from the Province of Ontario was the Lindsay rink in securing a much-coveted trophy. The Alfred Dolge International Cup, which they carried off after the keenest possible competition, was first inaugurated in 1889 as an international prize. Since that date there have been eighteen contests for the trophy, and in three of these has Mr. Flavelle's Lindsay rink been successful —in 1891, in 1902, and again the present year. Most of the time it has gone to Winnipeg clubs. Only once was it carried across the line, and that was in the first year of its existence, when it was obtained by the Wells' Crusade rink of Portage, Wis. The only occasions upon which it has come to Ontario, if exception is had to 1895, when E. J. Rochon's rink, Fort William, was the lucky winner, the prowess of Mr. Flavelle and his fellows have alone been responsible.

FOOTBALL

The picture of the Quaker Football Club is on exhibition this afternoon in MacDonald's Drug Store window. Mr. R. M. Roy, the artist, has succeeded in preparing an excellent group. The following members of the club are portrayed:—Mr. J. Kirn, President; E. G. Patterson, Vice-President; T. J. Grant, P. Fitzgerald, J. Doris, S. P. McFadden, J. E. Sullivan, G. L. Main, I. D. Moore, N. J. Graham, T. O. Donaldson, H. McIlmoyle, L. Brooks, J. Guerin, J. Crough, B. Huston, R. S. Todd.

The Quaker football team were very successful in most of their games last year under the capable management of Jack Sullivan, and emerged from the football season, City and County champions.

Will Attend Great Banquet

A Number From This City Went to Toronto To-day.

A number of local Liberals went to Toronto to-day to attend the great Laurier banquet, which will be held in Massey Music Hall, arrangements for which have been completed. The work of transforming the spacious hall into a comfortable banqueting room of majestic proportions is practically completed, and to-day will be handed over to the caterer. The employees of the hall worked steadily from the time the Salvation Army meeting closed on Monday evening, removing the chairs from the ground floor. At 5 a.m. yesterday the way was clear for Contractor Young's men to commence the construction of the temporary floor and the erection of the stables. The work of decorating went on simultaneously, and when the guests assemble for dinner to-night the beautiful hall will be completey transformed in appearance.

Among those who will attend from this riding are Hon. J. R. Stratton, Messrs. D. O'Connell, F. D. Kerr, R. Kerr, G. M. Roger, W. S. Davidson, Geo. Elliott, O. Laplante and others.

To Sell City A Stone Crusher

Mr. Hugh Cameron, the jovial steam engine and stone crusher man, is in the city again to-day, the object of his visit to-day being to sell, if possible, a stone crusher to the Board of Works.

Tenders have been called for the purchase of a stone crusher for the use of the city and these will be opened to-night. Mr. Cameron represents the Good Roads Machinery Co., and will make an effort to secure for that company the purchase of the crusher, which the Board of Works will in all probability place the order for to-night.

Was Buried In Bin Of Wheat At Port Hope

Distressing Death of Mr. James Sculthrop—Fell Into Wheat Which Quickly Engulfed His Body—An Unusually Sad Accident—Young Man Highly Respected Throughout Midland District—Was Member of Grain-Buying Firm.

HIS BROTHER HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Port Hope, Feb. 20.—A sad fatality occurred here shortly before 6 o'clock this evening, whereby Mr. James Sculthorp of the seed and grain firm of H. Sculthorp & Sons, lost his life while superintending the loading of a car at their elevator. A stoppage having occurred in one of the chutes, the deceased attempted to remove the obstruction in the discharging bin, but losing his balance he fell into the large body of wheat and was quickly engulfed by the suction. His brother, H. Sculthorp, jun., made a desperate but unsuccessful effort to rescue him and narrowly escaped a similar fate. When recovered the body was buried in over six feet of wheat. Medical aid was summoned and every effort made to resuscitate the man, but without success. The deceased was a young man of a quiet, unassuming nature, and was highly respected throughout the Midland district, in which he was well and favourably known. Much sympathy is felt for the sorrowing parents and deceased's widow in their affliction.

Assembly Of The Bachelors And Benedicts

Most Successful Annual Social Event Celebrated at Millbrook Last Night.

The annual assembly that is given by the bachelors and benedicts of Millbrook, took place last night, and proved to be a very enjoyable affair. The town hall, in which the dance took place, was most appropriately decorated for the occasion and the floor was in perfect condition. Indeed the people of Millbrook pride themselves on the fact that they have one of the finest town halls possessed by any village of its size in the Dominion.

The music at last night's affair was supplied by Gliouna of Toronto, and was delightful. The Council Chamber made a splendid refreshment hall.

Quite a number from Peterborough took in the event and they speak in enthusiastic terms of the pleasure they experienced.

The patronesses of the affair were, Mrs. John Dawson, Mrs. R. J. Doak, Mrs. J. R. Eakins, Mrs. W. E. Given, Mrs. J. C. Kells, Mrs. Wm. O'Brien, Mrs. R. Ruddy, Mrs. A. A. Smith, Mrs. H. A. Turner and Mrs. J. A. Vance.

The committee was composed of the following:—Messrs. H. R. Armstrong, S. W. Clarke, J. R. Eakins, H. W. Johnston, J. C. Kells, Chas. Needler, A. A. Smith, C. H. Winslow and W. T. Wood.

Dr. H. A. Turner was honourary secretary of the dance.

The Girls' Guild of St. John's will hold its Annual Old-time Social in the School Room, on Monday, February 26th. The Ladies and Gentlemen will be dressed in old-time costumes.

Runaway Boy Returned Home

Last night on the evening train a youth about the age of 14, dropped into the city from Orillia, on the hunt for work. He was met at the station by Acting Chief Adams, who had received a message from his father to send him back. He tells a story to the effect that he and his father were not on very cordial terms, and that he had been told to shift for himself. The parent, however, seems to have repented of his severe act, and asked the local police to have him return. The boy promised and went back to the parental roof to-day.

FOR WOMEN AND WOMEN ONLY

Much That Every Woman Desires to Know About Sanative, Antiseptic Cleansing and the Care of the Skin, Scalp, Hair, and Hands.

WHAT CUTICURA DOES FOR WOMEN

Too much stress cannot be placed on the great value of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills in the antiseptic cleansing of the mucous surfaces, and of the blood and circulating fluids, thus affording pure, sweet, and economical local and constitutional treatment for weakening ulcerations, inflammations, itchings, irritations, relaxations, displacements, pains, and irregularities peculiar to females. Hence the Cuticura remedies have a wonderful influence in restoring health, strength, and beauty to weary women, who have been prematurely aged and invalided by these distressing ailments, as well as such sympathetic afflictions as anæmia, chlorosis, hysteria, and nervousness.

Women from the very first have fully appreciated the purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, certainty of speedy and permanent cure, absolute safety, and the great economy which have made Cuticura the standard humour remedy of the civilized world.

TORTURING HUMOUR

Cured by Cuticura, Relief from the First Application.

"I suffered five years with a terrible itching eczema, my body and face being covered with sores. Never in my life did I experience such awful suffering, and I longed for death, which I felt was near. I had tried doctors and medicines without success, but my mother insisted that I try Cuticura. I felt better after the first application of Cuticura Ointment, and was soon entirely well.—Mrs. A. Elson, Bellevue, Mich."

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Sole Props. Send for "A Book for Women." Mailed Free.

Last Meeting A Great Success

Closing Meeting of the Series in Bethany Tabernacle.

The series of services in progress in Bethany Tabernacle for the last few days were brought to a close last evening, there being a large attendance. These meetings have been under the auspices of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, and have been of a very successful character. The addresses have been of a deeply spiritual nature, the attendance good and the reults fruitful.

The principal address last evening was given by Rev. C. I. Wickware, who laboured for a number of years in the Congo region, Africa, and who shortly returns. His address was particularly touching as he pictured the conditions prevailing in the Dark Continent. The barbarous treatment accorded the black man by the white man, in the way of mutilation, and which has been the subject of protestation to the Belgian Government by European nations, was said by the speaker to be only too true.

At the close of the services ten or twelve young people offered themselves as candidates for the mission field. A special offering was also taken for missions, which amounted to $502 in cash and pledges.

Revelations By The Famous Fays Were Wonderful

Bewildering and Weird Performance Given at the Grand Last Night—Mrs. Fay Answered Many Questions in Astonishing Manner—Burglar Who Stole Mr. Wrighton's Jewellery is in Montreal—Peterboro' Hockey Teams' Chances for Championship Favorable.

SOME QUESTIONS WERE VERY FUNNY

The marvellous Fays in their weird and startling work of thaumatungy were the attraction at the Grand last night, and it is safe to say that no more mysterious or wonderful performance was ever given in Peterborough. The audience was kept in a state of bewilderment from start to finish, and the many marvellous things done were beyond the comprehension of those present. So startling indeed were they that some people might be inclined to credit them to some supernatural power, but the Fays informed the audience that the force employed, although at present not understood by the mass of the people, is perfectly natural.

The feature of the programme, of course, was the divining and answering of questions by Mrs. Fay. This power has been heralded far and wide, and naturally a great interest was manifested in the exhibition, which was in every way wonderful as it has been described. Mrs. Fay answered many questions and very few mistakes were made. In nearly every case the name and the question were correctly announced, and the answers were most interesting. Some of the questions and answers provoked much merriment, and others concerning matters of public importance were intensely interesting, and the answers given mystified the audience to say the least. Mrs. Fay was placed in thaumaturgic condition while she made her bewildering revelations. The questions were written on a slip of paper kept by the person who was seeking information, and Mrs. Fay without seeing this paper, read the question and gave the answer. In almost every case was the name of the person and the question correctly given.

In answer to a question concerning the robbery of Mr. W. H. Wrighton's residence in January, Mrs. Fay said that the jewellery had been taken by a professional thief who had performed a similar burglary in Ottawa. He was in Montreal living on St. Catnarine street, and would shortly be arrested. Mr. Wrighton would get back some of his jewellery, but not all of it. The thief was in league with a local person.

Asked as to the money lost at the opera house on Monday night by Louis Mellre, Mrs. Fay said that the person who had found it was in the city yesterday and went away, but would soon return. Part of the money would be given back by Thursday. If not she would reveal the name of the finder.

A question as to who would land the hockey championship brought forth the reply that the chances of the Peterborough team for winning the intermediate honours were very bright.

A well-known young lady asked whom she was to marry, and was told that her future husband was the young man with whom she was keeping company. In reply to a question concerning Martin Conners' mare, Lady Gotnard, Mrs. Fay said that the animal had not been very successful in the past, but would do something at the Toronto races.

Mr. Chas. Cavanagh was informed that his missing watch was stolen from him by a man named Anderson, of Plattsburg.

A young man wanted to know where he would be a year from last night, and was told he would be in the States, but Mrs. Fay added that if he wanted to succeed it would be better for him to remain in Canada.

A merchant asked if it would be wise to leave Peterborough, but was told that the city was bound to prosper and that he would also prosper if he remained here.

In answer to other questions, Mrs. Fay said that Mr. Whitney would succeed himself as Premier of Ontario, and that the new Collegiate Institute would be built, but not this year. Many other interesting questions were answered in a mystifying manner.

The other portions of the programme were quite up to the standard, the vaudeville being about the best ever seen here. Sadi Sefaradi, the famous Russian equilibrist, gave a wonderful exhibition of balancing, his feats being simply marvellous. The Rappo sisters, the brilliant dancers, in their Siberian, Cossack and Russian dances, gave a novel act that was appreciated, while Phil. Staats, the monologue artist, with a trick piano specialty, made a big hit. One of the special features was the mid-air leviation act presented by Mr. John Fay, who caused the hypnotized body of a girl to rise and remain suspended in the air without any support.

The other occult demonstrations were of a high-class nature, and the whole performance is a most thoroughly mystifying one.

Just Started Out On Life's Broad Path

Pathetic Story of Young Married Couple in Brockville.

Sickness Spread its Dread Shadow O'er Their Happy Home

And the Verdict, Lung Trouble, Struck Terror to Their Hearts.

But Psychine Quickly Brought Back Health and Happiness.

Cured Mrs. Walter's Lungs and Made Her Really Well Again.

A story that appeals to all young couples just starting out in life and that will awake tender memories even in older married people comes from Brockville, Ont. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Walter, a newly married couple, had set up their little home on Pearl street and had entered on that most entrancing of all stages of life—the making of the home. How those good days come back to all of us. Those days when every new article added to the household was but another tie binding us to home—when every object beneath the little roof was hallowed. The evening lamp shone o'er humble surrroundings that will live in memory when greater scenes and grander things are long forgotten.

All Life A Dream.

It was at this happy stage that Mr. and Mrs. Walter had arrived. Life lay before them like a long pleasant road down which they could saunter plucking the flowers that grew by the way side and drinking of the brooks that babbled merrily by. They could see neither sorrow nor trouble ahead.

But silently, almost unnoticed, the trouble stole into their household. The young wife grew thin and pale and gradually wasted away. The husband watched with anxious fear. He came home from his day's work hoping to see his wife better, yet dreading he hardly knew what. She had complained of a pain in her lungs, and he was haunted with a dull fear that his dear wife was in the grasp of that most dreadful of all destroyers, consumption.

Doctor's Sad Words.

Gradually the young wife sank lower, till for nine long anxious weeks a stranger prepared the meals and gloom had settled over the once happy household. Then the doctor, after a long examination, sadly shook his head and pronounced the verdict so long expected, yet so terribly dreaded. "There is no cure for her," he said. "Both lungs are affected."

Let us draw the veil over the days that followed, days on which abandoned hope seemed to have blotted out the sun of happiness forever. Let us draw the veil on this sad scene and raise it again on the brighter, happier days that followed.

Happy Home Once More.

For to-day Mrs. Walter is a healthy woman, and where sadness and despair held sway, peace, and happiness once more reign supreme. Psychine did it.

But Mr. Walter is always pleased to tell the story of his wife's wonderful recovery, so here it is in his own words:

"At the time my wife began to use Psychine she was very low," says Mr. Walter. "We had a housekeeper for nine weeks because she was not able to do any work.

"Our physician stated there was no cure for her as both her lungs were affected.

"It was a sad disappointment to us both. We had only been married a short time; just starting out in life.

Psychine Works Wonders.

"We started to use Psychine with little faith, for we had just about given up hope. But the results were wonderful. Before Mrs. Walter had taken one bottle the pain which had been in her lungs for about a year quickly went away, and after taking six bottles Mrs. Walter is a new creature and really well again.

"She was also very much troubled with her stomach, but Psychine helped her wonderfully in that respect, too. So I can only say that where there was once sickness, sadness, and despair there is now health, joy, comfort, and life.

Can't Say Too Much.

"I cannot speak too highly of Psychine, as it has we believe brought Mrs. Walter back from almost death to life.

"I would gladly recommend Psychine to anyone who is suffering from lung trouble, as I believe it to be a certain relief and positive cure.

"Psychine cannot have too high a recommendation."

There you have a good example of the great work Psychine is doing. It cures consumption after doctors have said there is no hope. And you will notice that Psychine leaves the patient in good all-round health. It does not build up one organ at the expense of another. It helps the stomach, while it kil's the consumption germ.

What Psychine Does.

But while Psychine cures consumption it is doing a still greater work by curing those lesser ills that lead to consumption. Psychine cures coughs, la grippe, pneumonia, and catarrh. Psychine not only cures these diseases but it safeguards against all after-effects. Psychine makes the body strong enough to repel future attacks of those diseases. Psychine is what science has vainly sought for years, a sure preventive of consumption. It is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle.

The Camp Grounds
—AT NASSAU POWER HOUSE—
Have Been Secured

Mr. Frederick Nicholls, General Manager Canadian General Electric Company, Gives Permission to Militia to Use the Grounds—This Means That Camp is Practically Assured—The City Council Will be Asked to Assist—Twelve Days Busy Time This Summer—Camp to be Held in June.

This morning Mr. Frederick Nicholls, general manager of the Canadian General Electric Company; Mr. E. G. Patterson, general superintendent; Lt.-Col. Miller and Aldermen Hicks and McWilliams held a conference in the city in reference to the proposal to establish the permanent military camp for No. 3 Military District here.

The object of the conference was to secure permission from Mr. Nicholls, as representing the Canadian General Electric Company, to use the grounds belonging to the company at Nassau. The request of the gentlemen representing the City Council and the local regiment was that the company would allow the militia the use of those extensive grounds, and after hearing the representations made, Mr. Nicholls granted the permission asked for, which means that the camp for No. 3 Military District will this year be held at this point, instead of at Kingston, where it has for years been held.

The procuring of the grounds necessary for the camp was all that remained to be done to secure the camp for Peterborough, and with this difficulty so easily overcome, everything is now smooth sailing.

Lt.-Col. Miller telegraphed to-day to Col. Young, commanding officer of this district, advising him that the grounds had been secured, and Col. Young will report to the headquarters staff favouring the location referred to.

The part that the city will have in this matter will probably come up in a short time. The fact that for 12 days in the neighbourhood of 3,000 to 4,000 men will be camped practically at the city's doors will certainly be a good thing from a business standpoint, and the Council will therefore be asked to assist in the matter, probably to the extent of paying the cost of lighting the grounds during the 12 days' camp, and possibly to bear some other minor expenses. The Council has already been approached on the subject, and the members have, it is understood, practically agreed to the proposal.

The interest of the City Council in securing the camp was indicated by the fact that two members of the Council were present at the conference to-day.

The grounds secured are peculiarly adapted to the requirements of the camp, and it is a matter for much congratulation that Peterborough has been able to secure it.

The local officer commanding, who has worked so energetically in the interests of the city in procuring the camp, deserves the thanks of the citizens for the work he has done. He has demonstrated that he is not only a soldier, but a public-spirited citizen.

Official confirmation of the intention of the authorities to locate the camp here may be expected in the course of a few days.

The Carpet Factory
Is Likely To Come

Chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee Has Good Hopes of Securing it for the City—Conference This Afternoon—Committee Will Probably Meet To-night.

There is, according to Ald. McWilliams—chairman of the Manufacturers oCmmittee, an excellent prospect of the city securing the carpet factory. He stated to-day that in all probability the Manufacturers Committee would meet to-night, when the matter would be finally settled, he expected. There were a number of propositions being considered, and a conference between the Mayor, the chairman of the committee and Messrs. Bristin and Preen will be held this afternoon; when an effort will be made to arrive at a definite understanding which may be presented to the committee when it meets. The gentlemen have been visiting other prospective locations, but it is understood that they are ready to admit that in many respects this city offers greater advantages than any other place visited, and there are strong hopes that they will decide to bring their factory to Peterborough.

They do not, it appears, want any local capital, the firm having sufficient money to finance the works, but there are other considerations which they ask for, and which will be decided at the conference this afternoon, and the meeting of the committee to-night, if one is held.

Mr. Urquhart In North Toronto

Forecast of His Failure to Win in To-day's Bye-Election.

Special to the Examiner

Toronto, Feb. 22nd. — The bye-election polling in North Toronto bye-election, is proceeding to-day, and the indications are that Mr. McNaught, the Conservative candidate, will be returned by a good majority. North Toronto is a Conservative constituency and, normally, should be expected to return a member of that party. Mr. Urquhart, the Liberal candidate, so-named, is in reality, not so much the Liberal candidate as would be expected. By his opening address he is regarded by many, as having placed himself in antagonism to the Liberal party, and therefore does not seem to have the solid support of Liberals, which he must have to succeed, even if he receives the support of many Conservatives, who may be inclined to support him on municipal grounds. It was perhaps significant, that though the Legislature is in session no Liberal member took the stump in Mr. Urquhart's interest.

KEEP BUSY WITH THE PUBLIC
You can keep busy with the public all the time by keeping peeople interested all the time, whether they are buying or not. One of the best methods of accomplishing this is to constantly employ the classified advertising in the Peterborough Examiner. Here the widest read publicity costs you very little and you are always certain of the greatest audience of sure buyers.

New Retail Store To Be Opened About Easter

Geo. Matthews and Son Have Added Another Branch to Their Establishment.

The firm of Geo. Matthews & Son will in a short time have added another retail store to their establishment. The premises, until recently occupied by Westlake & Fleetwood, at the corner of Brock and George streets, has been leased and is being renovated and equipped with modern fittings.

It is the intention of the firm to sell all kinds of fresh meats as well as the products of their pork-packing factory. The premises will be improved by the remodelling of the show windows, and in other ways will be made up to date. When completed the new establishment will be one of the finest in the city. The firm will then have two retail stores as well as their factory in Peterborough. It is expected that the new store will be ready for occupation at Easter.

Dr. Morrison Is Again Chairman

The License Commissioners for West Peterborough met last night in the inspector's office, Water street, for the purpose of reorganization for the present year. Mr. Jas. Kendry, the newly appointed commissioner, was present, Mr. Johnathan Griffin having resigned. Dr. Morrison was again elected chairman of the board for the year 1906. The meeting was adjourned until called again by the inspector.

Tenders For The New STONE CRUSHER WERE Opened Last Night

Board of Works Committee Considered the Matter But Did Not Come to Any Decision—Tenders for Season's Supply of Cement Also Read—Mr. Bogue Claimed That Difficulties Prevented Him Completing Outfall Sewer in Time Specified.

The Committee of the Board of Works was in session for three hours last night, and although not much actual business was done, subjects of considerable importance were thoroughly discussed. The opening of the tenders for the new stone-crusher, and the hearing of representatives of some of the firms interested, was the principal topic of the evening, and occupied the attention of the committee for two hours, at the end of which it was decided to leave the matter over until the next meeting of the committee.

Tenders for the season's supply of cement were also opened, but, after a little discussion this business was left to the chairman and Mayor Best.

The committee finished with hearing Mr. Jas. Bogue's side of the Fifth Ward outfall sewer case, but this matter was also laid over.

There were present Ald. Hicks, in the chair, Ald. Adams, Tovey, Johnston, Graham and McIntyre, and Mayor Best.

Sewer Pipe Supply.

The first business considered was a letter read by the chairman from the Dominion Sewer Pipe Co., of Toronto, which stated that their firm would supply the city with its season's supply of sewer pipe at 77 per cent. off the list prices.

It was moved by Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. Adams that the offer be accepted.—Carried.

Stone Crusher Tenders.

The tenders for the new portable stone crusher to be purchased by the city, were then opened. They were as follows:

Sawyer-Massey Co., Hamilton:
No. 4 crusher on wheels... ... ...$ 850
No. 4 crusher on skids... 750
14 ft. elevator... 180
Screen 5 feet long... 150

Tenders For New Stone Crusher

This offer, which was for Peterborough, included all the accessories, such as an elevator and screen.

Brown and Aylmer offered a second hand Blake crusher manufactured by the Robertson Co., Pittsburg, weighing 19,000 lbs, delivered f.o.b. at Peterborough for $600.

The township of Smith, through Mr. J. H. Garbutt offered their stone crusher, the same to be in good working condition for $400.

The Massey Company also submitted a tender, but as it was for a stationary machine, it was not considered.

The committee passed over the Brown and Aylmer and the Smith township offers and proceeded to discuss the other three tenders.

Representatives of the companies were in waiting and it was thought advisable to hear them before attempting to come to an opinion on the subject. Accordingly John Robinson of the Climax Co., J. E. Harrison of the Sawyer-Massey Co., and Hugh Cameron, the representative of the Champion crusher, were given a hearing and an opportunity to advance the merits of their machines. All three brought out strong arguments in favour of their crushers, which, in weight and capacity seemed about the same.

The committee then discussed the different machines, but did not come to a decision on the matter. The cost at which the equipment required by the city could be supplied by each is as follows: Champion No. 4, $1240; Sawyer-Massey, No. 4, $1125; Climax Co., No. 22, $1138.

After a little general discussion it was moved by Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the matter be left over until the next meeting of the Board.—Carried.

Cement Supply.

Tenders for the 4,000 barrels of cement required for the city were then opened. The first was from the Canadian Portland Cement Co., at $2.28 per barrel, with a rebate on sacks, which left the net price $1.88 per barrel.

The Peterborough Hardware Co. offered Rathbun Star or Lakefield Monarch Cement at 6 cents per barrel over the lowest tenderer.

The Lakefield Portland Cement Co. offered the Board their product at $1.87 per barrel.

Mayor Best remarked that the Lakefield Co. had supplied Hamilton at $1.83 per barrel, and thought that the company was not acting fairly with Peterborough.

After a little discussion it was moved by Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald. Tovey, that the matter be left in the hands of the Mayor and chairman.—Carried.

Permission Granted.

The question of allowing the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Co., to extend a siding across Rink street was next taken up. The board had visited the locality, and had practically had given permission for the work to be done, but it was thought wise to have a formal motion to that effect passed by the meeting.

Chairman Hicks thought that the C. P. R. should be notified, but Ald. Adams said that they would look after their own interests.

On motion of Ald. Johnston the required permission was granted.

Outfall Sewer Trouble.

The last matter considered was the trouble that has arisen concerning the outfall sewer in the Fifth Ward. The council claimed that the contractor, Mr. Jas. Bogue, had not completed the contract, and accordingly the city engineer had kept back 20 per cent. of the sum which Mr. Bogue claims is due him.

Mr. Bogue, accompanied by his solicitor, Mr. G. W. Hatton, waited on the committee last night and presented his side of the case. He said he had met with difficulties which had kept him from finishing the contract; certain things which the city should have supplied were not given him, and he had not been given the right of way through some of the property on the route of the sewer. The septic tank, he said, was finished, and the whole work, with the exception of 500 or 600 feet, was completed. The rest of the work could be finished at a cost of $1000.

Mr. Hatton asked if the city had not lost anything by Mr. Bogue not completing the contract in time why he should not be paid for the work he had done.

The committee adjourned without discussing the question.

Deanery Met In Port Hope

Anglican Clergymen of Victoria and Durhrm Gather.

Port Hope, Feb. 21.—The Deanery of Durham and Victoria met yesterday in St. John's parish, a good number of the members being present.

In the afternoon a business session was held, in the evening there was a service in St. John's church, the members taking part being the Rev. Messrs. J. H. Teny, E. W. Carroll, W. C. Allen, Rural Dean Creighton and H. Marsh. The sermon was preached by the Rev. A. F. Copp who gave a good discourse upon the text, "What think ye of Christ?"

The music at this service was excellent although the choir was at a disadvantage owing to the absence from town of some of its members. Special mention should be made of the beautiful anthem "Hark, Hark, My Soul" sung at the offertory, of which the solos were effectively taken by Miss Lightbound and Mrs. Gamble.

This morning there was a celebration of the Holy Communion at St. Marks church at which the Rev. Rural Dean Creighton was celebrant, assisted by the Rev. A.F. Copp. After a short business session the meeting then adjourned.

RAILWAYS CONSIDERING IDEA OF MAKING NEW ARRANGEMENTS RE SLEEPER BERTHS.

Railways are seriously considering the advisability of entering into an agreement by which the travelling public will either have to pay for their berths in sleepers by 5 o'clock in the afternoon of the day they purpose taking a sleeper, or forfeit reservations. It is contended that many people make reservations over the wire or at ticket offices for a certain night, and under the present arrangements such berths are held until the trains start out, but these people do not inform the companies of their change of plans, but keep the berths reserved until the train leaves. Then the berths are empty and the companies are minus the money they should bring.

It is further claimed that sleepers are run at great cost, and that even though berths are sold to persons who happen to be on a train looking for a berth after it has started, yet the inconvenience to the roads and to the travelling public is so great that a reform ought to be introduced. If people notified agents of railways when they decide not to use berths reserved for them, then they could be sold to others who are anxious to get them, but now persons allow berths to be held up to the last moment just as though they were paid for. This is said to cause trouble and loss which must soon be remedied. It is considered that most persons know by 5 o'clock in the evening whether or not they are going to use reserved berths on the same night, and if they are not absolutely engaged by that hour companies should have the alternative of selling them to those who would use them. Vacant berths return no revenue, and it was stated by a passenger official yesterday that people in Montreal have been known to verbally engage berths on both C.P.R. and G.T.R. trains to Toronto during the day, an dthen use only one berth or perhaps neither at night, leaving the companies in uncertainty. An expression of public opinion on this matter would not be ignored by railways. 3d42

Great Work Of This Society

What the Women's Foreign Missionary Society Accomplishes.

On Tuesday afternoon the regular monthly meeting of St. Andrew's W. F.M.S. was held in the school hall. About 50 ladies were present and listened with interest to a splendid address given by Mrs. Wm. Graham, of Lakefield, on the subject of Foreign Missions, taking for her theme the words of our Lord, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

After dwelling on the great opportunities we have had for hearing all phases of the work discussed and why every Christian should be in sympathy with missions, referring to our Lord's commendation of His faithful servants, and His denunciations of the disobedient, Mrs. Graham made a soul-stirring appeal to those who are so busy with social and domestic cares, that they say "I have no time to go to your meetings, or "I have no money to give," when we are only asked to do what we can, and we can all pray, and if our hearts are right we can give, too, even if it be only the bare membership fee.

The speaker referred to the W. F. M.S. as a great organization, whose history forms one of the most wonderful pages in ecclesiastical records, standing to-day at the head of all church organizations, and its affairs administered in a manner second to none—having no salaried officials looking for graft—no deficit—no broken pledges—no defaulting officers—but having a membership formed of the best blood, the highest talents, the most exemplary character and the deepest piety in the Christian church. It receives the large donations of the rich and the humble offerings of the poor, for it is accepted according to what a member hath, and not according to what she hath not; and it stretches out its hands with these gifts to the north and to the south, to the east and to the west. Its watchword is "The World for Christ," and its motto, "The Love of Christ Constraineth Us;" and yet with all its splendid history, its incomparable equipment and increasing power, it is incomplete because it has not the sympathy and support of every woman in the church. It has a roll of many thousands, but there are still thousands who have no part in it, women and girls who come to church on Sunday, but care nothing for its meetings, its success, its individual claims. "God pity such when the great reckoning comes. Inasmuch as ye did it not unto the least of these, ye did it not unto Me."

Interesting papers were also read by Miss Lundy and Miss Rae, the president, Mrs. Potter, presiding.

At the close of the meeting light refreshments were served.

BE READY FOR CROUP

AND INSIST ON HAVING THE TIME TESTED MEDICINES.

It is not a question of whether you will need a treatment for coughs, colds and croup in your homes, but the question is will you select the most effective medicine or simply be satisfied to take whatever your druggist happens to hand out to you?

Time and experience have proven that you can depend on Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine at all times.

It is only necessary to remember this when the critical time comes and to insist on getting what you ask for.

Should you have children that are subject to croup you had better keep a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house for when the choking spasm comes on there is little time to send for doctor or medicine.

It seems scarcely necessary to dwell on the merits of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine as a cure for croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, etc. Most of us have known it from childhood up. It is almost as familiar as Dr. Chase's Receipt Book.

Mr. G. N. Morrison, 31 Fuller street, Toronto, Ont., writes:

"Gentlemen, — If it should be of satisfaction to you to know (as it certainly has been to me in the past) permit me to say that I have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in my family for years, and have found it from experience to be the best cough medicine. I suppose that I have used eight bottles this past winter; my children will have nothing else, and the best of results invariably ensue. I have also recommended it strongly. If this unsolicited testimonial be of any service to you the pleasure is mine in transmitting it."

Being pleasant to the taste, it is readily taken by the children. Because it brings quick relief to the suffering from asthma, bronchitis, whooping cough, and all the more serious disease of the throat and lungs, it is invaluable as a household medicine. 25 cents a bottle at all dealers.

Lyon McKenzie Subject of Study

At the Y.M.C.A. Debating Club Meeting Last Night.

The Y.M.C.A. Debating Club held their meeting in the Y.M.C.A. parlours last night, Mr. Walker occupied the chair in the absence of the President.

The programme consisted of "My Favourite Poet," given by Mr. G. Roper, followed by Mr. F. Ray's address on Wm. Lyon McKenzie, and his times, which was very interesting as well as instructive. He dealt with the principal events of the life of the man, and also upon the history of the rebellion of 1837. It was a subject which was interesting to all and especially to Canadians. After a brief discussion on some of the most stirring events, the meeting was brought to a close.

This Wedding Had Features

A peculiar wedding took place yesterday, and the melodramatic halo surrounding it contains some spectacular features that put the production of the "Fatal Wedding" away back among the soothing needle trees. While the ceremony was performed yesterday, it was only owing to the unaccountable conduct of the sole witness of the sacred event that the nuptial knot was not tied the preceding evening. The couple, it appears, were very anxious to become man and wife, and sent for a local clergyman to officiate at the marriage ceremony. The witness, for some reason, unknown at the time, objected to the event being solemnized, and refused to sign the certificate. The bridegroom became very angry, and, taking off his coat, threatened to do several things to the annoying witness. The clergyman, seeing that his presence was not needed, left the scene of action. It appears that the witness was under the impression that his friend was being roped into the union, and dissented for this reason. But an understanding was effected yesterday morning, when the groom explained to his friend that it was his earnest wish to be united in the holy bonds of matrimony to the lady whom he had intended to make his bride the night before. The best man and solitary witness gradually grasped the situation, and yesterday morning the happy couple were wedded by the same clergyman and in the presence of the same witness, who was then very willing to act, notwithstanding the fact that he had been perplexingly reluctant the previous night.

There is more real oxygen in a liquified form in the "solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" than in any other preparation of a similar nature. As a prompt cure in the killing of all inside germs of thirst, lungs, stomach or bowels, it has no equal when coupled with "Celery King" the famous laxative. That the stringent Ozone needed a tonic of this nature to procure the best results was so apparent that the Public Drug Co., of Bridgeburg, Ont., offer through your druggist a free package of "Celery King" with every fifty cent or one dollar bottle of "solution of Ozone (the coupon kind." Wants The City To Secure It

Mr. John Bell Thinks Peterboro' Should Get House of Refuge.

Editor Daily Examiner:

Dear Sir,—It seems strange to me to hear that our County Council is talking of buying land near Lakefield or Norwood for the purpose of building a House of Refuge. As a ratepayer of both county and city, I say, what is the matter with the townships of Smith, Douro, Otonabee and North Monaghan, all joining the city of Peterborough like the spokes of a wheel. Why should a county building like a House of Refuge be set away from the rest of our county buildings? Is it because it is a house for the poor, or does our council want a jaunt every time the court sits, to Lakefield or Norwood? It would be great folly to erect our House of Refuge at either Lakefield or Norwood while our court house and jail are in Peterborough, the hub of four of our best townships, where excellent sites can be had near our county city, for small money.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made in duplicate, and on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners.

Separate tenders must be submitted for the work in each District.

Tenderers shall not be in any way entitled to rely upon the classification or any other information given by any person on behalf of the Commissioners, and before submitting any tender bidders should make a careful examination of the plans, profiles, drawings and specifications, and read the forms to be executed, and fully inform themselves as to the quantity and quality of materials and character of workmanship required; and are understood to accept and agree to be bound by the terms and conditions contained in the form of contract, specifications, etc., annexed to the form of tender.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, for the sum of four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000) for District "F" and two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars ($225,000) for District "B" and thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000) for steel viaduct in said District "B". Any person whose tender is accepted shall within ten days after the acceptance thereof furnish the security required by the Commissioners for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms, sign the contract, specifications and other documents required to be signed by said Commissioners; and in any case of refusal or failure on the part of the party whose tender is accepted to complete and execute a contract with the said Commissioners and to furnish the approved security within ten days after the acceptance of the tender, the said cheque shall be forfeited to the Commissioners as liquidated damages for such refusal or failure, and all contract rights acquired by the acceptance of the tender shall be forfeited. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

Attention is called to the following clauses in the form of contract:—

"All mechanics, labourers or other persons who perform labour for the purposes of the construction of the works hereby contracted for shall be paid such wages as are generally accepted as current for competent workmen in the District in which the work is being performed, and, if there is no current rate in such District, then a fair and reasonable rate; and, in the event of a dispute arising as to what is the current or a fair and reasonable rate, it shall be determined by the Commissioners whose decision shall be final."

"This agreement is subject to the regulations now in force, or which may at any time hereafter be in force during the construction of the works hereby contracted for, made under the authority of the Department of Labour and which are or shall be applicable to such works."

"The contractor shall in connection with the whole of the said work as far as practicable, use only material, machinery plant, supplies and rolling stock manufactured or produced in Canada, provided the same can be obtained as cheaply and upon as good terms in Canada as elsewhere, having regard to quality and price."

The contractor shall conform to the Fire Regulations adopted by the Commissioners, and also to the Laws and Regulations respecting fire in the different Provinces wherein the work is being performed.

The right is reserved to reject any or all tenders.

By order,
P. E. RYAN, Secretary.

The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, Ottawa, February 5, 1906.

BUSINESS SECRETS.

There is a good deal to be said in favour of the attitude of Mr. Frederic Nicholls toward the Hydraulic power commission to the effect that certain information in regard to commercial enterprises should not, in the interests of those enterprises be made public. It does not need much consideration to show that the Hydro-electric power commission is not using any too much fairness in asking any company, or companies, to give details that in all financial and commercial circles are considered to be private and privileged.

The Government may desire certain information — it may desire to develop power for the western part of the province—but their right to force from a company information, and experience, representing a large expenditure, which may be convenient in assisting the Government in its enterprise, does not appear, on the face of the matter, to be very well founded.

We all know the sensitiveness of capital and credit in connection with the development of private or corporative enterprises. Newspapers every day experience the truth of this. Hundreds of news paragraphs, which would constitute good reading for the general public, are suppressed, because their publication would prejudice the success of pending negotiations, and produce injurious results to private and corporate interests, with possibly ultimate injury to the general public through the failure of a private enterprise, whose success would represent a public convenience or advantage. The public expect newspapers to furnish the news, but there is such a thing as properly giving important interests preference to the desire to give news — especially when the premature publication of information jeopardizes the attainment of important objects.

Not long since we had a local example of an injudicious desire to give "news." Some work details of an important proposal were prematurely published, in violation of a distinct agreement that nothing was to be divulged till certain matters intimately affecting the success of the enterprise were officially ready to be announced. The consequence was that a flamboyant news paragraph containing information, in the rough, which other papers were in possession of, but did not use, for prudential reasons, was published in so untimely a manner as to hamper the actions, and interfere with the success, of those who are endeavouring to do something of important benefit to Peterborough. The spirit of tea-table gossip may have its place in newspaper work, but the cup should be qualified with a little infusion of sage — a little horse sense should be exercised, a little common prudence and good judgment displayed, which would overbear the desire to furnish mere news prematurely, to the peril of the important interests of the city whose protection should be a newspaper's first care.

MAYOR COATSWORTH'S SCOLD.

Mayor Coatsworth, Toronto's Mayor, seems inclined to place himself in the "me-und-Gott," Emperor William class — to be above discussion and to regard every criticism of him by the press as a crime of civic "lese majestie." The Toronto evening papers may not be the tenderest and most considerate critics, as they have shown on many occasions. Mr. Coatsworth now squirms, and makes a wry face at taking his medicine, but he now knows how it feels himself. Like Saul, at the stoning of Stephen, Mayor Coatsworth, figuratively, held the garments, and stood by "consenting," when other public men, and public parties, were reviled beyond measure. If he has been misrepresented by the "reptile" evening press, he can appreciate the unfairness of similar treatment meted out to others.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Hon. Mr. Fielding, Finance Minister, is suffering from a sprained ankle. If he has not fully recovered when the House meets, there may be a limp in his walk, but one can guarantee that there will be no limp, in the financial statement he will be able to make.

Hon. A. G. Blair has been engaged as solicitor for the Canadian Pacific Railway, under a general retainer. Can that be the urgent personal business requiring immediate personal attention, which precipitated his rather picturesque resignation from the Government during the late Dominion general election?

The Liberal Government of Great Britain declares that it will impose no tax on foreign wheat. No Christian farmer in Canada would like to have a tax of so many cents placed upon foreign wheat, with free entry for Canadian wheat, if such a tax would add a fraction of a penny to the price of the loaf of the poor man at home.

Sir Wilfrid in his splendid speech at the University dinner in Toronto, threw a little grey-matter limelight on the changes which have come over the word "colonial" in the past fifty years. If Canada continues to grow and realize upon its mortgage upon the twentieth century, the word "colonial" will before long develop into "imperial," in order to adequately express the tremendous magnitude of the relations of this great country to the empire. Imperium in imperio may not be a dream.

Mr. Hemsted reports a rough voyage across the Atlantic, landing at New York a day and a half later than scheduled time. He is so far much pleased with Canada and the city of Peterborough.

IS YOUR COAT DUSTY?

You Probably Have the White Scale of Dandruff on It.

If your coat or shoulders have a white dust upon it, the chances are that it is from dandruff. The only way to permanently cure dandruff is to remove the cause, which it a germ. Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ. Every toilet table should have such a hair-dressing, that contains also the destroyer of the dandruff and hair falling germ. It stops all irritation, keeps the scalp sweet, and pure, and wholesome. Remember that something claimed to be "just as good" will not do the work of genuine Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Sweep Silver From Canada After March 1st

Local Banks Will Help to Gather in American Silver and Send it Back to United States—Estimated That $800,000 Worth is in the Country—The Government Will Make $400,000 on the Deal.

WILL FORWARD THE SILVER TO OTTAWA

The banks represented in Peterborough by branches have been advised of a radical move by the Department of Finance of the Dominion Government to abolish the use of American silver in Canada. This sweep of foreign silver will begin on March first, when the banks will begin gathering it in and forwarding it to Ottawa. From here it will be sent to Washington and exchanged for gold. The removal of the American silver will be a good thing for the banks and a profitable thing for the government. The banks will be paid three-eighths of one per cent. for the silver they turn in. It is estimated that this will just about pay for their trouble. The Government will bear the express charges connected with the forwarding of the silver.

It is estimated that the government will make about four hundred thousand dollars out of the silver sweep. It is calculated that there is eight hundred thousand dollars of United States silver in circulation in Canada. When this is removed, Canadian coin will take its place. The seignorage or difference in value between the bullion in a coin and its face value is about fifty-five per cent. As coins are put into circulation at face value the government reaps a profit of more than twenty-five cents on each fifty cent piece it issues.

In 1903 the government issued $774,000 in silver and realized a profit of $462,795. In 1904 the government put silver in circulation to the amount of $895,000 and the seignorage amounted to five hundred thousand dollars.

If eight hundred thousand dollars' worth of American silver coins are replaced by Canadian coins the profit to the Government will be something over four hundred thousand dollars, depending upon the condition of the silver bullion market.

Mr. R. N. Jolliffe Was Banquetted

Last night a number of Mr. R. N. Jolliffe's young gentlemen friends tendered him a banquet at Mr. H. Long's parlours. The gathering included only his most intimate friends, and a most enjoyable hour was spent.

Mr. Long's contribution to the evening's pleasure was no inconsiderable one, and after the dainty spread had been done justice to, a number of toasts were proposed, including one to the guest, in which Mr. Jolliffe was congratulated upon his success in his chosen profession of music, and these congratulations were supplemented by rosy prophecies on his future. Mr. E. M. Best occupied the position of toastmaster, and speeches replete with wit and eloquence were given by Messrs. J. W. Ward, W. Cochrane, W. Richardson, Roy, Best and Dr. Bagshaw.

Were At Home To Friends

Delightful Social Function Given by Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hickey.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hickey gave a delightful "at-home" to about 60 of their friends last night. Progressive euchre and dancing were indulged in, and dainty refreshments served, Mr. Harry Long catering in his usual acceptable manner. The progressive euchre contests afforded much entertainment, Miss Ada Galvin and Mr. E. Marvin winning the lady's and gentleman's prizes respectively. Mr. Jack Connors captured the booby prize. A splendid programme was rendered during the evening, the Misses Doris, who also supplied music for the dancers, acting as accompanists. The merry-making was continued until the small hours of the morning, when, after singing with much fervor "God Save the King" the party dispersed with the unanimous opinion that they had been royally entertained by their genial host and charming hostess.

The Girls' Guild of St. John's will hold its Annual Old-time Social in the School Room, on Monday, February 26th. The Ladies and Gentlemen will be dressed in old-time costumes.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Mark street Methodist church held a very enjoyable meeting last night. There was a large attendance of ladies present, and a deep interest was manifested.

Mrs. Morrow, who was for some time a missionary among the Chinese women in British Columbia, gave a very interesting and vivid description of the work in that field.

Miss Kendry added to the enjoyment of the occasion with a solo in fine voice. Miss Taylor was the accompanist.

Mrs. Fay Entertains A Thousand Women

An Opera House Full of Ladies This Afternoon Ask Her Some Questions—Men Were Not Admitted—Some of the Reported Questions Which Mrs. Fay Was Asked.

Mrs. Eva Fay gave a private and select entertainment this afternoon for the benefit of the ladies only. The Opera house was crowded to the doors. The first lady admitted was pledged to absolute secrecy, and, of course, couldn't help divulging what took place, and consequently made arrangements to furnish the Examiner with a wireless report of what happened. She supplied this paper with the following list of questions: Having an engagement at an afternoon tea this lady was unable to give the answers, but promises to give them to-morrow. The questions are.

"I. Mrs. ———'s new coat really seal skin?"

"Why did Mr. ——— marry that insignificant little wife of his?"

"When will women be given the right to vote?"

"I have two suitors. Which should I marry—the one whom I love, and who has no money; or the one with the wealth, whom I don't love?"

"My father told my sweetheart to keep away from the house. Would it be wise to meet him secretly?"

"Where will I find my missing set of false teeth?"

"Is there any earthly prospect of the choir girl sitting next to me getting married in the next twenty years?"

"Will my daughter's marriage — which takes place next month—prove a happy one?"

"Is Mary ———'s complexion her own, because she paid for it?"

"What use does my husband make of the bulk of the salary which he receives and which he withholds from me?"

"Was my husband at prayer meeting last night, or playing poker, as is probable?"

"Will my husband's relations with Mrs. Blank result in justifying an application for divorce on the ground recognized by Canadian law?"

"Where did the yellow hair come from that I found on my husband's coat this morning? Was it bleached, or original brass?"

"Will father 'pony' up for a new hat at Easter?"

"When will a certain young man I have in my mind accumulate enough courage to make a proposal?"

"Will it be wise for me to accept a proposal of marriage which I have in my mind?"

"Is Mrs. Blank's new quarter-cut hall rack paid for, or will the furniture man ever be paid?"

"Is marriage a failure?"

"Can a man marry on $16 a week, and should I attempt it with a young man who gets $12?"

"I invested $2.50 in some new scheme for preserving fruit. Will the fruit be fit to eat when I open it?"

"Is there any prospect of the bakers of Peterborough reducing the price of bread?"

"Will the female teachers of the public schools get their increase in salaries?"

Said To Have Wrongfully Cashed Cheques

A Serious Charge Preferred Against Italian.

This is Italian day at the police court. Francesco Deranzio was arrested this afternoon by P. C. Miller and it is alleged he wrongfully cashed railway work cheques drawn in in favour of Guesippi De Napri. It appears that both he and the complainant were working on a railway line some distance from the city and that the latter gave him the cheques to take to the city and give to Carman Austin, who keeps a boarding house at 45 Parnell street, and who was authorized to cash the cheques. It appears instead of giving them to the boarding house keeper he took a forged order up to Mr. Minnecola, Hunter street, and he endorsed the cheques on the strength of the order which was purported to give the prisoner the authority to get them cashed. The offence was committed in 1904.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy, in my opinion, that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup, absolutely, in one night. We gave him a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave him instant relief and cure."—Mr. Wm. McGee, 49 Wright avenue, Toronto, Ont.

WEDDING BELLS

LONDERVILLE—JONES.

One of the prettiest of this season's weddings was that which took place last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jones, Bolivar street, when their daughter, Miss Gertrude Olivia was united in marriage to Mr. John S. Londerville, son of Mr. Charles Londerville, Homewood avenue.

The house was very beautiful with its rich decorations of red and white carnations, smilax, palms and ferns. Miss May Adam, of Lindsay, presided at the piano and at the well known strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, the bride entered the parlour and was given away by her father. Miss Bertha Jones, sister of the bride was bridesmaid, and Mr. Edward Allison escorted the groom. The bride, who, of course, was the central figure, wore a beautiful dress of gray chiffon taffeta, trimmed with embroidery chiffon with applique rose buds to match. The bridesmaid was attired in a dress of cream albatross cloth with applique to match.

About thirty guests in all were present to witness the nuptial knot tied under a beautiful arch of smilax and carnations, in the parlour, Rev. W. J. Jolliffe officiating. The out of town guests were Miss May Adam, Lindsay, and Miss Emma Cummisky, Westwood. After the ceremony was concluded the company partook of the wedding dejeuner daintily spread on two tables beautifully adorned with ferns. Among the valuable and useful presents given to the bride and groom were a kitchen shower, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe, for which the recipients were exceedingly grateful: a breakfast, dinner and tea set, and a handsome oak rocking chair.

Mr. and Mrs. Londerville will reside in the city.

WADE—POLLARD.

At the residence of Mrs. George Chalmers, sister of the bride, Water street, yesterday, a quiet wedding took place. Mrs. Jennie Pollard, of Darlington township, became the wife of Mr. Charles Wade, of Sarnia township, residing near the town of Sarnia. The ceremony was performed at 3 o'clock by Rev. F. J. Scott, pastor of the Murray street Baptist church in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride and groom were unattended. After the ceremony the usual dejeuner was served and Mr. and Mrs. Wade left on the 5.15 C.P.R. train for their new home in Sarnia township, where Mr. Wade owns and operates a fruit farm.

FRY—PUE.

At St. Andrew's Manse yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, a quiet wedding was performed by the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter, who united in the bonds of matrimony Mr. James Harold Fry, of Millbrook, son of Mr. John Lenry Fry, of South Monaghan, and Miss Edith Pue, daughter of Mr. Robt. Pue, also of South Monaghan. The bride and groom were unattended. After the wedding they left for Camden East, where they will spend their honeymoon and on their return will reside in Millbrook.

Judgment Was Reserved

BY THE MAGISTRATE IN The Italian Knife Row

A Number of Witnesses Examined at This Morning's Police Court—The Evidence Appears to be Very Much Against the Prisoner—Defence Seemed to be Very Weak.

The attention of the police court was occupied for over an hour and a half this morning with the case of Fero Bruno who was charged with attempting to wound Luigi Guillinardo on the night of Tuesday the 20th of February. The accused was remanded from yesterday morning when he pleaded not guilty to the charge preferred against him. Quite a number of witnesses were examined this morning and the evidence for the prosecution seemed to be very strong against the prisoner. Mr. Nicholas Minnecola acted as interpreter, and his duties were rather arduous owing to very disconnected evidence that some of the witnesses gave. The evidence for the defence did not bring out anything either in favour of or against the prisoner. One of the witnesses for the defence spoke in a very uncertain manner and the court was of the opinion that he did not speak the truth and consequently refused him witness fees, all the others being paid for their services, however.

Italians were plentifully sprinkled in the crowd that assembled to hear the case.

The complainant, Guillinardo, was the first to give evidence. He said he boarded at Mr. Renzetti's house, Charlotte street. He went with others to see a man who boarded in one of Renzetti's houses on Bethune street. The prisoner attempted to stab him with a knife when he was in the front of the house. He saw the knife in the prisoner's hand, but couldn't identify the one produced in court as the knife the prisoner had in his hand at the time. Prisoner kept telling the witness to go away, and the witness left him. Prisoner was standing about three or four feet away from witness and if witness hadn't noticed him the prisoner could have stabbed him. After that he went a considerable distance away and didn't hear any more of the row. He and the prisoner were always good friends. He noticed that the prisoner was drunk.

An Italian, Tomaso by name, who boarded in the same house as Bruno, was lying on his bed upstairs when he heard the noise and went down to see what was the matter. He couldn't understand what was being said. Saw four persons outside, among them, the prisoner. As Bruno was trying to strike complainant, witness caught hold of him and prevented him from doing so. Didn't notice any knife as it was dark at the time. The next witness stated that he was present at the time of the row. The prisoner was under the influence of liquor.

Bruno said he wasn't afraid of anybody; he could kill the whole lot. The witness spoke in English, and Bruno seemed to resent this. He begged Bruno's pardon and asked him to be quiet. He realized that Bruno was under the influence of liquor. Guillinardo, the complainant, came out of the house and said "Good night to you all." Bruno, who apparently was in an ugly mood, said "No good night here," and paid

Defends Action In Refusing To Attend Sitting

Mr. Frederick Nicholls to the Hon. Adam Beck.

INTENDED NO DISCOURTESY

Gave Mr. Smith, Representing Hydro-Electric Commission, Certain Information, and Was Willing to Give Minister as Much "As Might Be Given Without Detriment to Company"—Premier's Views.

Toronto, Feb. 22.—It was supposed yesterday morning that the royal hydro-electric commission would require Frederick Nicholls, vice-president and general manager of the Electrical Development Co. of Ontario, to answer certain questions propounded to him, or face the law.

It is not recorded that Mr. Nicholls answered any questions nor paid a penalty.

Mr. Nicholls, however, wrote to Hon. Adam Beck, protesting that he had not intended to treat the commission discourteously. He also added that he would cheerfully give any information that "might be given without detriment to the company."

When Cecil B. Smith called upon him on Feb. 12, representing the commission, and had asked certain questions connected with the cost of the undertaking, Mr. Nicholls had informed him of the amount of the expenditure already made, and what the probable cost for the completion of the work would be, but that, as the works were not yet completed, it would be impossible to give any more accurate information as to cost. He had then stated to Mr. Smith that if Mr. Beck would make an appointment he should be glad to give all such further and other information as might be given without detriment to the affairs of the company.

Willing to Meet Mr. Beck.

"I have been prepared ever since, as I am now, for you to make such appointment, and am quite prepared, within the limitations above mentioned, to meet you and discuss the matters in question," he wrote.

"I have not had the opinion of my counsel upon a question in respect of which I personally feel very strongly, and that is, that the Province of Ontario has no right, under a commission issued under a statute, which only gives power to deal with the question of "good government," "public business," the "administration of justice" and the like, to investigate what my company is, without breaking any of the laws of the province, legitimately doing business under a charter rightfully granted to it, and under which it is paying very large sums of money by way of rental and royalty."

Discussed by Cabinet.

The difficulty was discussed at a meeting of the Cabinet yesterday afternoon. Hon. Adam Beck and George Pattinson, M. P. P., with E. Douglas Armour, brought the matter to the attention of the Government. Afterwards, Mr. Whitney made the following statement to the press:

"We have discussed the matter with the commissioners and Mr. T. Douglas Armour. No doubt, they will communicate with Mr. Nicholls with reference to the matter in dispute, and I hope an arrangement will be made."

DENOUNCE MOTOR CARS.

Proposal to Force Deposits Which Will Cover Damage Done.

Toronto, Feb. 22.—The fifth annual convention of the Western Good Roads Association, now in session here, includes delegates from all parts of the province. W. H. Pugsley is president and Col. Farewell, Whitby, secretary.

Called primarily to discuss the question of good roads, yesterday's meeting displayed a singular unanimity in denouncing the automobile as ruinous to the peace and well-being of the farming community at large. A resolution will be presented to the Government.

Warden Murphy and Reeve Quinlan (Simcoe County) outlined the operations of the act for the improvement of the public highways, adopted in Simcoe and a number of other counties. With an assessment of $32,000,000, the county had expended $77,000, of which $27,000 was contributed by the provincial Government. Some 300 miles of road had been improved. The results were generally satisfactory.

The convention will reassemble this morning at 10 o'clock.

Crowning Tribute To Canada's Premier

Banner Province to Laurier, Statesman and Orator—Magnificent Banquet—Remarkable Gathering of Leading Liberals of The Entire Province of Ontario—Greeting of Men of The North—A Scene of Splendor—An Inspiring Picture—Gems From Sir Wilfrid's Speech.

Toronto, Feb. 22.—Among all the occasions that move the human heart none can compare with those in which the huge enthusiasms of life take visible form. The splendor of devotion and personal loyalty to an honored leader, finding natural and overflowing expression, creates one of the richest and rarest of such scenes. No tribute can be too extravagant and no homage too lavish when the faith of man in man finds its climax. The representatives of the Reform party of Ontario last night testified the glowing warmth of their affection, not alone for the great leader of a great party, but for the fine genius whose success symbolizes the success of the nation of which he is the picturesque and the practical head, and of which among the nations of the world he stands as the representative. From whatever Valhalla tradition of the past the old British custom of banqueting may have descended, there can have been but few of the hero-gatherings in the long island story of old which could have rivalled this Massey Hall assembly, with all its conjunction of youthful nationality, of fervent patriotism, of expanding destiny, and of astounding present prosperity.

RT.-HON. SIR WILFRID LAURIER.
(Premier of Canada.)

Greeting of Men of the North.

The pulse of the assembly throbbed with the consciousness of these things, and when Canada's Premier rose under the magnificent semi-pavilion of triple color the men of the north showed they lacked nothing of the warmth of the south. It was in large impersonal vein that Sir Wilfrid Laurier spoke to his political adherents last night. His appeal was less of flowery rhetoric and silvery oratory than a bright and intensely interesting narrative of the events that have led up to the present position of the Reform party from its inception by Lafontaine and Baldwin. The familiar events were recounted with the charm of one who fights his battles o'er again, and the speaker was listened to with the closest attention and appreciation. Sir Wilfrid was in very good voice, and spoke for an hour and twenty-six minutes.

A Scene of Splendor.

The striking beauty of the interior of the Massey Hall was much enhanced by the decorations. As the guests entered the hall a scene of splendor and dazzling brilliancy was presented to their view. All the resources of the decorators' art had been taken advantage of with gratifying success. The walls and ceiling of the platform were entirely concealed from view by tastefully arranged draperies. The color scheme was red, white and gold. Grecian columns of white, finishing in festoons of red, white, and blue, formed arches which were draped with crimson curtains edged with white lace upon a background of gold. In the centre was a cluster of Canadian flags. The ceiling was canopied with red, white and blue streamers radiating from the centre. A bank of handsome palms gave a pleasing finish to the design. The boxes were draped with flags and bunting. The fronts of the balcony and gallery were draped with red, white and blue, and at each pillar a cluster of flags, the Union Jack flanked on either side with the Tricolor drooped in graceful folds. Above each entrance the folds of the Tricolor and Union Jack were blended together.

The Floral Decorations.

The floral decorations were ornate and handsome. Rising from the tables on the ground floor to the level of the guests' table on the platform was a solid bank of bloom of brilliant colors, filling the hall with delicious fragrance, and artistically arranged and blended into a beautiful color scheme. In the centre a pyramid of white azaleas and French lilacs, surmounted by Easter lilies, were flanked on either side with a magnificent bank of pink azaleas. On the guests' table was a row of baskets of American Beauty roses, edged with single Von Zion daffodils and lilies of the valley, based with fern. The outer edge of the table was strewn with asparagus fern, yellow daffodils, lilies of the valley and beauty roses. The prevailing colors of the floral decoration of the banqueting table were pink and yellow, consisting of roses, carnations, daffodils and yellow tulips. The buttonieres were carnations and roses.

An Inspiring Picture.

The hall presented an inspiring picture when the guests had assembled. The galleries were crowded, and with the choir seats on the platform presented a vivid ring of color furnished by the bright costumes of the ladies surrounding and setting off the sombre black of the banqueters on the ground floor. At 7.25 a volley of cheering signalized the entry of the chairman, Hon. Geo. W. Ross, accompanied by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth and the other guests. Rev. W. F. Wilson having said grace, the guests were seated and the banquet commenced. At 8 o'clock Lady Laurier and party entered the gallery, and her appearance was the signal for a scene of enthusiasm equalling that which greeted the appearance of the Premier. The audience rose and cheered vigorously. A few minutes later the ovation was repeated when Mr. F. G. Inwood, secretary of the General Committee, presented Lady Laurier with a magnificent bouquet of American Beauty roses, the stems ranging about five feet in length, and trimmed with ribbon of similar color.

The arrangements of the committee for handling the large audience were perfect, and the guests, without difficulty, found their allotted places on the floor and in the gallery respectively.

While the menu was being served the orchestra of the Queen's Own Rifles, which occupied a place on the platform, furnished an excellent program of music.

Royal Toast Proposed.

Promptly at 9 o'clock the notes of a bugle rang through the hall, calling the vast assembly to order, and the chairman, Hon. Geo. W. Ross, rose to propose the Royal toast. He was received with acclamations that anticipated the thunders to follow.

"I ask you to drink to His Majesty the King."

The band played the National Anthem, and the patriotic fervor of Canadian citizenship swelled the loyal chorus.

Once more the trumpet sounded and the chairman proposed "The Lieutenant-Governor," a toast also received with hearty applause, while the band played "The Maple Leaf." Mr. Ross himself led with a "Hip-hip-hip" the cheers that followed.

The chairman announced that the local Liberal associations had sent in addresses to Sir Wilfrid, and forty had been received.

"Take them as read," a voice suggested.

Mr. Ross acquiesced, with the exception in favor of the General Reform Association's address, which he called upon Mr. H. M. Mowat, K. C., to read. The address met with much applause during its delivery, especially on the reference to Lady Laurier, when Sir Wilfrid bowed his acknowledgments.

Other Addresses Presented.

The following is a list of the Dominion Riding Associations and Clubs submitting addresses: East Algoma, West Algoma, Brockville, North Bruce, South Bruce, Carleton, Dufferin, Dundas, Durham East Elgin, South Essex, Frontenac, Grenville, East Grey, Halton, Hamilton, West Hastings, West Huron, West Kent, East Lambton, North Lanark, South Lanark, Lincoln, Niagara Falls and St. Catharines, East Middlesex, West Middlesex, Nipissing, Ottawa, North Oxford, North Perth, South Perth, East Peterboro', Prescott, South Renfrew, North Simcoe, Toronto Reform Association, East Toronto, South Toronto, West Toronto, North Wellington, South Wellington, Wentworth, North York, Laurier Club, Fielding Club, Young Men's Liberal Club, Toronto; Young Men's Liberal Club, London.

Miss Mae Dickenson sang "The Red, White and Blue," the assembly joining in the chorus.

Address of Hon. Geo. W. Ross.

Hon. G. W. Ross, after acknowledging the honor done him in choosing him as chairman, expressed pleasure at the large response to the banquet. Tremendous enthusiasm was aroused by Hon. Mr. Ross' peroration, in which he said, "We are nation builders, and the master builder sits at my right hand."

To him was due homage for three reasons. Because he was a great Canadian; because he was the leader of the Liberal party, and because of his great personality. Amid avrice, cupidity, social circumstances and political surroundings, he had born himself honestly always.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Speech.

Sir Wilfrid was greeted with a tremendous outburst of cheering by the men and the waving of handkerchiefs by the ladies. Later there was round after round of applause and the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow." When he could be heard Sir Wilfrid proceeded with his speech, and these were among the many political gems which fell from his eloquent lips:

"Up to the present moment we have sought markets chiefly in Europe, but the time has come when we must seek markets in the Orient."

"We have before us the experience of all the past ages. It is within our power to profit by the experience of the past ages, to improve upon their virtues, to avoid their mistakes."

"Let us see that in this country of Canada there shall be work for all hands and the best remuneration for all work."

"Canada has emerged during those ten years from the obscure condition of a simple colony to the rank and station of a proud nation."

"This year, I have reason to believe, our trade will reach the $500,000,000 mark."

"Let our civilization be such a civilization as never existed before in the world, based, and exclusively based upon peace and the arts of peace."

"It seems to be the policy of a certain part of the Conservative party, with regard to their opponents, to praise the dead in order the better to abuse the living."

"We want to be on good terms with the whole people of England. We cannot admit, we do not want, that our party differences should be made the apple of discord to be thrown among the people of Great Britain."

Other Speakers.

Hearty receptions were accorded the other speakers, who were Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, Senator Gibson, Hon. N. A. Belcourt, Hon. Geo. P. Graham and Hon. Richard Harcourt.

The banquet came to an end shortly before 1 o'clock this morning with the singing of "God Save the King" and cheers for Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

TERRIBLE PAINS ACROSS BACK

SUFFERED EIGHT MONTHS WITH KIDNEY TROUBLE. WOULD HAVE TO STAY IN BED FOR THREE DAYS AT A TIME

Doan's Kidney Pills CURED HIM

Mr. Thomas Fitzgerald, Haroldean, Ont., writes us as follows: "I was a great sufferer from kidney trouble for eight months. I had terrible pains across the small of my back. I would have to stay in bed for three days at a time and could not do any work. I tried several remedies but of no avail, and also plasters but they were of no use.

One day a neighbor of mine advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I was so much discouraged I told him I was tired of trying remedies, but he urged me to try one box so I purchased one, and before I was through using it, I found a change for the better so I got five boxes more, and I have had no trouble with my kidneys since. I would just be without Doan's Pills in my house."

It is really not difficult to cure kidney trouble in its first stages. All you have to do is to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial. They are a never-failing cure for all forms of kidney trouble. They quickly relieve the congested, overworked kidneys, and gradually bring them back to health.

Doan's Kidney Pills 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

Lindsayites Again Display Rowdyism

Port Hope Hockey Team Supporters Treated to Repetition of Attack Made on Citizens of Peterborough a Year Ago—Nature and Results Almost Identical.

The people of Lindsay seem to have a habit of presenting bouquets to supporters of teams which happen to go to their town, and defeat their pets. The Port Hope Guide of yesterday tells of an occurrence which will bring memories to some Peterborough people as they read it. The Guide says:

"Space forbids a fuller account, but in closing we regret to have to mention the disgraceful conduct of the Lindsayites at the depot. They came down for no other reason than to make trouble, and just before the train pulled out they hurled coal and other missiles at the Port Hopers. Mr. Victor Hagerman, son of Mr. C. A. Hagerman, was standing on the steps of the car when he was struck in the face with terrific force by a large piece of coal. He fell over in a faint, and had it not been for a Port Hoper who was standing near by, he might have fallen under the train. He was carried inside and it was found that his nose had been broken. This of course was the work of some low rowdies, and we do not blame the Lindsay players for the regrettable occurrence. We are of the opinion, however, that a policeman should have accompanied the boys to the station, and afforded them protection, as this is not the first occurrence of the kind that has taken place in Lindsay."

This affair is almost an exact duplicate, both in its character and its results, of one which occurred last year when Peterborough defeated Lindsay at home. Then the blame was laid by the Lindsay papers on the visitors, but no one will place much credence on this explanation.

City League Games To-night

The City League game to-night between Charlotte Street and the High Lifes has attracted a great deal of interest and will no doubt be largely attended. The Bankers-Suicide game should also prove a good exhibition.

"Peterborough can trim either the Argos or Berlin" said a local enthusiast to-day whose opinion on hockey matters has considerable weight. "Why the Berlin team is little, if any, stronger than they were last year, while the locals are fifty per cent. better. It seems reasonable, doesn't it, that the wearers of the blue and green can put it over either seven. It's not an idle speculation" he added, "but a reasonable conclusion". Representatives of both the Examiner and Review teams would like to ask Mrs. Fay who will win the great press game, but are a little nervous concerning the probable answer. The Review people are afraid of being told that they will be trimmed while the Examiner men hesitate to ask her for fear the answer will impress the Review with a sense of the hopelessness of their trying to beat their front door rivals and that they will not play the game at all.

Editor Post Card Column:

Will you please call the attention of the authorities, to the fact that on Saturday afternoons George street is unnecessarily blocked by farmers and their relations and sweethearts standing in the middle of the sidewalk and blocking them, and we hope that they will see that the crowds are kept moving.

A few evenings ago I attended a meeting where there was some debating and the police was severely criticised by the ladies present for allowing crowds of men to congregate in front of the Peterborough Hardware Company's store on Saturday nights and block the side walk so they could not get by.

Yours, etc.,

Explained City's Private Bill To Mr. Carscallen

Ald. McWilliams and City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall Were in Toronto Yesterday for That Purpose--Went Carefully Over the Various Clauses of the Bill—Hon. Adam Beck Was Also Interviewed.

NOT KNOWN WHEN BILL WILL COME UP

Ald. McWilliams and City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall were in Toronto yesterday to make the necessary arrangements for having the city's private bill come before the Private Bills Committee. The Peterborough bill asks for several important privileges. It asks for permission to issue debentures for the outfall sewer in the Fifth Ward, and for power to extend the time for issuing debentures under the Collegiate Institute bylaw. The bill also asks for permission to divert the creek in the Fifth Ward, and in Wards 3 and 4 to fix the assessment of the Central Milling Company, and the Downham Creamery, to purchase the Sugar Beet Company's property, to acquire a water power and supply electric power to manufacturers. The last clause deals with the pollution of the water in the river and lakes above the waterworks dam.

The deputation from Peterborough waited upon Mr. Henry Carscallen, chairman of the Private Bills Committee, and in an hour's interview with that gentleman, went carefully over the bill, explaining many points of merely local interest, which, while clear enough to those who are familiar with the conditions, would be complex to anyone else.

Ald. McWilliams and Mr. Hall also interviewed the Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission appointed by the Government to investigate the whole question of power and the development of power by municipalities.

The question of what privilege will be granted to Peterborough in this respect will depend upon the action of the Government in reference to the Niagara Falls power and the rights given to municipalities in Western Ontario.

The Peterborough representatives also called upon Mr. W. P. Wilkinson, secretary of the Private Bills Committee, in regard to the formal requirements of the bill. They returned to Peterborough last night. It is not known when Peterborough's bill will come before the committee.

Judgment Was Reserved

to Guillinardo, "get out as soon as you can." Saw Bruno taking out his knife, and heard him telling Guillinardo to go away or he would strike him with the knife. He left Bruno and advised him to go away, telling him he was drunk and not to raise a row. Tomaso held prisoner and didn't let him strike. Saw the knife, but couldn't make out whether it was long or short. He and Guillinardo went to the police station together to lay information against prisoner. After they arrived at the scene of the trouble with Acting Chief Adams, a young man told them that Bruno was looking for them. Witness didn't see knife after he went back. This witness gave his testimony in a very straightforward and comprehensive manner. The witness who followed said that he went up town from the boarding house in front of which the trouble occurred, early in the evening, returning shortly afterwards at about 7.30. He asked for Tomaso, using Thomas, the English word. He heard Bruno swearing, and saying "if I find him to-night I'll kill him."

Three witnesses for the defence were examined, but their evidence had practically no bearing on the case.

The first witness told of a party including complainant who returned in the evening with the others, including his brother. He thought they had come to attack him over the words that occurred at the card game in the afternoon. He said that Bruno had been playing cards in the afternoon, and that the complainant's brother had a few words with Bruno. The prisoner, who took the box on his own behalf, stated that the reason he pulled the knife was to cut some tobacco, and that he had no intention of attacking his accuser. The evidence of two of the defence's witnesses revealed nothing in connection with the case.

His Worship Police Magistrate Dumble reserved judgment until tomorrow. Crown Attorney Wood conducted the prosecution. The prisoner had no counsel.

Norwood Was Again Victor

Defeated Campbellford Hockey Team Last Night by Score of 4-1.

Special to The Examiner.

Norwood, Feb. 20. — On Monday evening Norwood Hockey team was again victorious on the open-air rink here, this time the opponents being the fast Campbellford aggregation. Campbellford has a very fast seven, they being runners-up in the Trent Valley League last winter, but having no rink this winter have not had much practice. The attendance this year so far has been very, encouraging, there being about two hundred and fifty spectators at the game.

The players were inclined to be rough and were not held in check by Referee Cole, of Campbellford. If he had penalized more, the game would have been a much better exhibition of hockey. The score at half time was 2—0 and at full time 4—1 in favour of Norwood.

As usual Kempt was the fastest man on the ice, while Pearce and Doherty both played strong games. Robson was tried out on the wing and played a good game using his body to advantage. Nicol at cover certainly played a great game, the visitors' rushes generally ending by Hennie taking the puck up the ice. Although Nicol has not been playing for a couple of years he put up a star game all through. Huyck at point blocked nicely, but was very slow in clearing. Power in goal had not much to do, but he let an easy one pass. For Campbellford Garvey played a very good game at centre, while Shannon made a few good rushes. Townsend at point and Shaw in goal played well, the former making some dangerous long shots on the Norwood nets. He is a good shot but was checked too closely to be of much harm.

The line-up of the two teams was as follows:—

Goal umpires—Donald, Campbellford; and C. McLaughlin, Norwood.

West Peterborough Honours The Premier

An Address Was Presented to Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the Great Banquet Last Night in Toronto, Expressive of Esteem in Which He is Held.

At the great banquet to Sir Wilfrid Laurier last night in Toronto an address from the Liberals of the riding of West Peterborough was presented to the Premier. The address was taken to Toronto by the deputation representing this riding, and was tendered to Sir Wilfrid with numerous others from the different ridings of the Province represented at the banquet.

The address was as follows:

Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, G.C.M.G.; D.C.L.; LL.D.; P.C.

We, the members of the Liberal Association of the Riding of West Peterborough, beg to avail ourselves of the occasion of your being honoured as a guest by the Liberals and citizens generally of the great capital of the Province of Ontario, to join in the hearty congratulations and tributes of respect which are lavished upon you.

We offer, with our congratulations, our most heartfelt assurance of our respect for your high personal character, gifts of mind, eloquence of speech and confidence in your leadership, and the national policy it represents.

While we acclaim you as our party leader, and hereby gladly renew our fealty to you in that capacity, we take special pride in recognizing you as one of the foremost of the many statesmen the past has given this country, whether we have regard to the noble work you have done in creating national solidarity of sentiment among the diverse races that compose the sturdy citizenship of Canada, or to the strengthening of the ties which bind us to the Mother Land, as well as those which knit British and Colonial sentiment and interest into one great and harmonious Empire.

We are gratefully recognizant of the many services you have given in both those capacities. From the day when you first entered upon public life, more than a generation ago, the cementing of the two great races in Canada has been the goal of your ambition, the wish of your heart, the theme of your eloquence, and the burden of your toil as a public servant, and the triumph you have achieved has won for you, not only the affection of your political allies, but the respect and admiration of your political opponents, and an honoured place in the hearts of all patriotic Canadians,—for all have recognized your undivided devotion to and pride in your native Canada. And though you have won the high respect of the United Kingdom by your loyalty, as shown in your dutiful preference for its commercial interests, and though your eminence as a man and a statesman has made you not only an honoured, but favoured, guest at the courts of two sovereigns, yet we feel sure that no honours, however high, are dearer to your heart than the homage and duty placed before you by your fellow-citizens of Canada, in grateful remembrance of your eminent services for the country, which have placed us in the front rank of "the dominions beyond the seas," which form the bulwarks of the greatest Empire known to history.

You have been our honoured and faithful leader for a score and a half of years, and in your twenty years of valiant opposition, and in your ten years of triumphant ministry, you have never once forgotten your great responsibility, nor for one moment faltered in the fight for the interests of Canada. Your magnificent faith in her future has inspired the whole country to a splendid advance all along the line—from the Atlantic to the Pacific. You have spent the robust years of your life in forging the bonds of a homogenous national brotherhood, and with a firm unshaken and unshakeable faith in our material resources and future possibilities, you have consecrated the years of your maturer life to the forging of material bonds that will tie the Canadian continent together with links of steel.

With renewed assurances of the most distinguished esteem, we join with our fellow-citizens of Ontario in bidding you welcome, and trust that you will be spared to see a great measure of grand realization—which you have done so much to auspiciously begin—of your prophetic vaunt—that "The Twentieth Century belongs to Canada."

On behalf, dear Sir Wilfrid, of the West Peterborough Liberal Association.

R. Kerr, Secretary. G. M. Roger, President.

Peterborough, Feb. 21, 1906.

Selecting Organist And Choirmaster

The Quarterly Official Board of the George street Methodist church met last night, when routine business was transacted. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Crothers, presided at a meeting of the special committee held after the board meeting. Applications for the position of organist and choirmaster of the church were considered. A number of applications have been received, and these were taken up, and the number, of eligible applications narrowed down. These will be communicated with, and it is probable that a choice will be made in the near future.

Mrs. Eva Fay Told Toronto Hockey Score

Said Score in Argo-Berlin Game Would be 1-1—Some Other Interesting Information Imparted to a Large Audience in Grand Opera House Last Night—Peterborough Good Place to Stay In—Some Advice Given and Personal and Domestic Matters Explained.

"What will be the score of the hockey game?" was the question that flashed over the ether waves at the Grand opera house last night, from Mr. Cavanah to Mrs. Eva Fay, the Thaumaturgist, who has created a sensation here which is unparalleled in the history of amusement. "This thought comes to me," said the oracle, "I seem to see a number of men playing in a distant city." "You mean the game at Toronto?" An affirmative nod of the head signified Mrs. Fay's correctness, and with slow and measured tones she said: "At the end of the first half the impression comes to me that the score will be 1 to 0 in favour of the Berlins." At this the plaudits of the house drowned any further utterance of Mrs. Fay, and she passed by the subject and answered one or two others, when her attention was called back by the concentration of the thoughts of many of her audience that she had failed to answer the question in its entirety. "There comes to me the constant thought of this hockey game; it will be finished in the course of half an hour, and the final score will be a tie. I seem to see it marked down 1 to 1. I may err in this, but that is how it comes to me." The correctness of this remarkable woman's statements was proved this morning, when telegraphic communication confirmed this prophecy was received.

Whatever uncanny power this marvellous Mrs. Fay may wield, the Examiner will not attempt to explain or discuss, but that it is a wonderful power goes without saying. Heretofore there has been from time to time throughout this country and the States a number of fakirs and cheap charlatans who have endeavoured to gull the indulgent public with their imitation of this wonderful work. Many of these impostors have not hesitated to use the name of the Fays, but their ignorance of the work of this character soon exposes them to ridicule, and inasmuch as the lion's skin cannot cover the long ears of the ass, these impostors are short lived.

The remarkable performance given by the original Fays have created a sensation from one end of the country to the other. That Mrs. Fay is an adept in mystic is not to be denied.

Peterborough, according to Mrs. Eva Fay, is a mighty good place to stay in. Last night she was asked by a number of persons if they should leave this city, and her answer in the great majority of cases was that they had better remain here, some few were told that they would do well if they went West.

At any rate the Fays have got the people guessing, and while there are some who persist that the thing is a fake, there are many others who are just as firm in their opinion to the contrary. The Grand Opera House last night was well filled, and there could be no question about the interest which the evening's proceedings aroused. In the main the programme was much the same as on the preceding night, the vaudeville features being of the same good quality, and were enjoyed by the audience. The chief attraction, however, was Mrs. Fay and her exhibition of "Thaumaturgy" which closed the evening's performance is the wonder of all who heard it.

During the first part of the programme, that in which the occult demonstrations were given, Dr. Eastwood and W. Miles acted as a committee, and saw that Mrs. Fay's hands were securely tied, and that the exhibition was as represented.

Some decidedly interesting information was given by Mrs. Fay to her questioners, including advice on matrimonial subjects, domestic affairs, and business pursuits. One man was told where he was at 10.30 Saturday night. He had evidently forgotten, or the experience was such a pleasing one that he wished his memory refreshed on the subject. At any rate he asked Mrs. Fay, and was informed that he was in Lakefield and that he stood in a doorway with a young lady, who, in answering to the question as to "whose baby she was," said that she was "his baby."

The "High Lifes" she says have a good chance for the city league championship. There is another team but it was indistinct. T. Chapman was the first name called. He was told in answer to the question if he was going to stay in Peterborough, that he was going to the west. Mr. Fanning learned that he was in the laundry business and that he had his place of business at 285 George street. Mr. W. Miles wanted to know where he came from and was told it was England, which was correct.

A young lady asked where she would be a year from now, and was informed that she would change her name in the meantime and live near Toronto. Mr. G. H. Giroux has lost a fountain pen and Mrs. Fay says he will find it in the office. He works, she said in the Trent Canal Office, and is going to succeed well.

Mr. C. G. Graham was told something about the receipts at the Oriental Hotel on Saturday. Mrs. Fay was reluctant to state the amount at first, because she did not want to tell the wives how much money their husbands spent.

A. Armstrong was told that he would go away, probably to Toronto.

Mr. Jas. L. Maude was told that he too, would soon leave Peterborough. He was described as a clever man, a good window-dresser, and that he would soon go to Montreal where he had received a good offer.

W. Cavanah and W. Breen were both thinking of the hockey game in Toronto and learned that the half-time score was 1—0, in favour of Berlin. They were informed later that the final score was a tie, 1—1.

Mr. W. Fleetwood is going to have lots of money by 1909, and will prosper.

Mrs. Jewel was given the information that she was going to be well cared for by her son, whom she was advised to make a jeweller.

Mr. J. W. Butaber was told that his thoughts were on a dime.

W. Cavanah was anxious to know how the city hockey league games were to result, and was told that the High Lifes were were bright, but but that there was another team, the name of which she could not see.

Stock market traders were tipped that C.P.R. was slated for an advance to-day.

Someone was anxious about the King's Plate winner this year, but he would not tell his name, and Mrs. Fay said she hoped he played and lost.

A diamond lost out of a ring on Brock street was said to be now worn by a pullman porter between Toronto and Chicago, who came into possession honestly.

A shareholder in the Birkbeck Loan Company was told that she would get part of it back, but not all. The shareholder was a lady, and Mrs. Fay said that "Joe" did not want her to invest the money in the first place.

J. E. Seagram's entry will win the King's Plate this year, Mrs. Fay says.

A young lady was informed that she would be chums with her girl friend for a number of years, and until she changed her name.

This afternoon a matinee for ladies is being given and the Opera House is filled.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

GIRL OF THE STREETS.

Decker and Veronee will present the big new melo-drama, the "Girl of the Streets," on Monday night next at the Grand Opera. This is a play which appeals to the hardest of hearts and as a consequence the audience is impressed with Miss Mortimer's story and the actors in the drama are accorded the undivided attention of their auditors. There will no doubt be a repetition of the business enjoyed by this interesting melo-drama wherever it has been presented. That popular young comedians Edith Gray will be seen as "Kit" the heroine.

Peterborough At The Banquet

Peterborough was well represented at the Laurier banquet last night. Hon. J. R. Stratton occupied a seat at the guests' table, while the other representatives from this county were seated at Table V, and were as follows: John Lang, William J. Miller, Keene; Frank Regan, Frankford; John Finlay, M.P., Norwood; F. D. Kerr, D. O'Connell, Richard Hall, V. Eastwood, George E. Elliott, Ozias de Laplante. Mr. W. G. Morrow was also present.

Congregation Of St. Paul's Holds Social

A Splendid Programme Was Rendered and Refreshments Served.

The congregational tea and social held at St. Paul's church last night was very enjoyable, and the attendance fairly large. A splendid programme was rendered, a particularly entertaining feature of which was the amusing talk on Uncle Remus, delivered by Mr. R. M. Denniston.

The first number on the programme was a solo, "My Ain Folk," in his "ain" excellent style, given by Mr. John Crane in this "ain" excellent style, who was Miss Moore sang in good voice, "A Carnival," and, as a recall number, rendered "Annie Laurie." Mr. Jas. Dawson's big baritone voice was heard to advantage in his two numbers, "On the Braes o' Mar" and "Will Ye No' Come Back Again."

Mr. Denniston was then introduced by Rev. Dr. Torrance, who humourously remarked that the speaker was not a Presbyterian, but should be one.

Mr. Denniston said that the Uncle Remus stories contained more in them than appeared on the surface, and that considerable enjoyment and good could be obtained by reading them. What Charles Perault, the French barrister, who was the author of many of the old fascinating fairy tales, has done for these stories of dainty superstition, Joe Chandler Harris has done for negro stories of the kind that were dealt with by the speaker. When the negroes are themselves questioned about these stories they claim no knowledge of them, but if one shows he is familiar with them he can find no easier way to reach their confidence.

The hero of these stories is Brer Rabbit, chosen, not because he is courageous or powerful, but probably because he is very cunning and amusing and makes a splendid central figure, about which all the quaint tales revolve. Brers Coon, Bear, Wolf, Fox, Possum, Terrapin and others also prominently figure in the many humourous escapades of which Brer Rabbit was always the principal. Many, indeed, were the interesting and amusing adventures which Brer Rabbit and other animals were identified, and many, indeed, were Brer Rabbit's hairbreadth, and, it must be confessed, gratifying escapes. The speaker held the attention of his audience throughout his address, and kept his listeners in perpetual good humour.

Miss Helen Davies sang in her usual excellent voice, "Your Lips Have Said You Love me." She was enthusiastically encored and responded with Abt's "When the Swallows Homeward Fly." The closing number on the programme was a duet by Messrs. Dawson and Crane.

Mr. Crane occupied the chair and also acted as accompanist. During the selections which Mr. Crane sang, Mrs. (Dr.) Torrance presided at the piano. Refreshments were served after the programme was concluded, and it was conceded by all present that a very enjoyable evening had been spent.

Association Of Fairs Met

Mr. D. Hughes Charles in Attendance at Meeting.

Mr. D. Hughes Charles is in Toronto to-day, where over a hundred members of the Ontario Association of Fairs and Exhibitions Mr. Charles among them, are in attendance at the annual meeting. At the first day's session the members heard the annual address from Mr. J. W. Sheppard of Cayuga. He advanced the principle that the Government grant to country fairs should be portioned in proportion to the amount of attention paid to purely agricultural exhibits. He held that the Government had been right in revising the Agricultural and Arts Act.

Mr. H. B. Cowan, the superintendent of fall fairs, said that he had visited fairs in nine different states, and found that they had sacrificed the agricultural features for horse racing and special attractions, and so were behind the Ontario exhibitions.

Mr. H. B. Donly of Simcoe, was on the programme for an address on "School Children's Day at the Fair," but he was not present. Several speakers in his absence advanced the suggestion that school children should be allowed to enter the fairs free, because they always brought their parents with them.

Mr. Cowan gave an interesting description of the work of agricultural societies in different parts of the province, his description being illustrated with stereopticon views. To-day the delegates will hear a number of other important papers and elect officers.

Hospital Tents Were Ordered

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons to-day received an order for five hospital tents for consumptive patients, from the county of Perth. These tents are fitted with wooden doors, and glass tops, and all special fittings for consumptive patients. Some time ago the firm made a similar tent for the King's Daughters of Stratford, and this acted as bread upon the waters, the tents giving such satisfaction that the five others were ordered by the county.

Did C.P.R. Stock Go Up To-day?

Mrs. Fay predicted an advance in C. P. R. to-day on the stock market but whether she was correct in that prediction has not been determined. To-day is Washington's Birthday, a holiday in the United States, and consequently the New York stock exchange was closed, so that a quotation was impossible. The indications were, however, it was learned at the office of J. R. Heintz & Co., that the stock would advance some to-day. So Mrs. Fay may not have been far astray after all.

Lakefield Woman Ends Life; A Suicide

Mrs. J. Crowe, a Woman Seventy Years of Age, Jumps Into River at Lakefield—No Reason Assigned for Her Rash Act—Was in Good Health and in Apparent Good Spirits—Had Lived in That Village for Thirty Years—Husband Was Well Known and Died Fifteen Years Ago—The Particulars.

Special to The Examiner.

Lakefield, Feb. 23.—Last night about 5.30 a most distressing affair occurred here, Mrs. Crowe, a widow woman, 70 years of age, who, since the death of her husband, fifteen years ago, has lived alone in the village, committed suicide by jumping off the bridge crossing the canal into the water above the Dickson Company dam, and, although her body was recovered inside of a few minutes, all efforts at resuscitation were unavailing, and her dead body was taken to Bickle's undertaking rooms to await instructions as to their disposition.

As far as could be learned there was no apparent reason for this rash act on the part of the deceased lady, other than that of melancholia, with which she may have been afflicted, and which may have developed by reason of the fact that she lived alone.

The late Mrs. Crowe, had been in good health, especially good health, considering her advanced age, and illness could not therefore have been advanced as a reason for her act.

About the hour mentioned Mrs. Crowe crossed the high level bridge spanning the canal from the side on which she lived to that opposite. When she reached the bridge over the portion of the river which forms the mill pond for the Dickson Company's mill she deliberately walked to the side of the bridge, climbed the railing and leaped to the waters, a few feet below. It was not dark at this time, and there was no one just on the spot at the time. A small boy, however, was near by, and saw her jump off the bridge. He at once raised the alarm and Mr. Arthur Kidd, who lives near the bridge was the first to be told of the affair. He at once ran to the spot, but the body had disappeared from sight. In a few minutes, however, with the assistance of his sons, he succeeded in locating the body and removing it from the water.

Dr. Baker was called, and every effort was made to restore her, but without effect, and her body was taken to the undertaking rooms.

Coroner Grey was communicated with, but decided that an inquest was unnecessary, and the body will be buried here.

The deceased had lived in Lakefield for the past 30 years, coming here with her husband. He died about 15 years ago, and since that time she has lived the greater part of the time alone, except during the visits she paid her daughter, Mrs. John Wall, who lives in North Smith, and from whose home she returned only a short time ago. Mrs. Wall was her only daughter, and she had one son, Thomas, who at the present time is working in the woods.

Her husband was a cooper by trade, and was, during his lifetime, one of the best known men in the village.

Farmer's Waggon On A Railway Bridge

A Narrow Escape of a Farmer Near Belleville—Tried to Drive Horses and Waggon on Railway Track—Stopped on the Bridge Over Moira River.

The Belleville Intelligencer says: William Montgomery, a farmer, residing in the 2nd con. of Tyendinaga, had an experience last night that he will not soon forget, and one that nearly caused his death. He took a load of hay out to Mr. Palmer at Corbyville yesterday, and left for his home about 8 o'clock. He proceeded all right until he came to the Cannifton road crossing over the Grand Trunk, when his team, instead of coming straight over, turned to the right and started up the track. Montgomery, it appears, was unconscious of where he was going and lay in the bottom of the waggon. The team proceeded to the iron railway bridge which crosses the Moira, and started to cross on the south track. They picked their way out about two rail lengths, when down both of them went between the openings. While the horses were down, No. 11, the passenger train, passed on the north track. A heavy freight train was just about to leave on the south track, when word of the accident reached the station and the train was held just in time, or there is no telling what might have been the result had it started out. The man and horses would certainly have been killed, and perhaps the train would have been derailed on the bridge. The services of the wrecking crew were required to rescue the horses.

Population Of City In 1915 Will Be 50,000

"What will be the population of Peterborough in 1915?" was the question which was asked Mrs. Eva Fay at the Grand last night, and the encouraging answer given by the remarkable woman, who is mystifying everyone who has seen her, was: "The number comes to me as 50,000." Mrs. Fay has evidently a strong faith in the prospect of Peterborough becoming a great city, and the answers given in many cases when the people asked should they leave Peterborough, were they had better remain here.

Manufacturers' Committee Discussed The Terms

Which the City Could Offer the Carpet Factory--Messrs. Bristins' (Limited), One of the Largest Carpet Factories in the World, May Locate Here--To Employ Fifty Hands at the Start--Committee of the Whole Will Meet To-night to Decide Matter.

The Manufacturers' Committee met yesterday afternoon in the City Clerk's office for the purpose of considering the question of adopting means to secure the establishment here of the carpet factory, to which reference has already been made in tahse columns. A number of propositions and counter propositions have been made by the representatives of the Company, which is known as Bristin's, Limited, and the Manufacturers' Committee, none of which were entirely satisfactory to both parties. Ald. McWilliams had been in Toronto on Wednesday and had received another proposal from Messrs. Brimtin and Preen, who are representing the company and it was for the purpose of submitting this proposition to the Committee that the meeting was called. That the gentlemen referred to are impressed with Peterborough's advantages is evident from their apparent desire to come to terms with the city, and the last proposition made by them was more favourable than any previously submitted. Mr. Brimtin had called the chairman of the committee up by telephone, yesterday morning from Toronto, and informed him that they were prepared to come to Peterborough and close the deal at once, in case the proposition was agreed to. They would make arrrangements at once for preparing plans for the erection of the buildings, which would cover about two acres, and 50 hands would be employed at the start.

The matter was discussed very freely at the meeting yesterday, but the committee decided that it would be unwise to commit the council to the proposition without first having the question discussed by committee of the Whole, and with this in view a meeting will be called in the near future, at which an effort will be made to secure the attendance of all the members of the council.

There is a difficulty in the way of closing with the carpet people until Mr. Howard, with his stove proposition has definitely decided whether he will come to the city to locate. But it is expected that a decision will be reached in this question in a short time.

In view of the fact that there is only one carpet factory in Toronto at the present time, and that that Company is so busy that it finds difficulty in filling orders, makes the proposal to establish such a factory here seem a good one, and especially with a wealthy firm like the Bristins at the back of it, the industry should flourish.

The representatives have been visiting a number of other cities in the province with a view of locating there, but it is understood that if satisfactory terms can be secured from the City of Peterborough they will decide to come here.

The Teachers Talk Salary

But Nothing Was Decided on Yesterday.

The teachers of the public schools met yesterday afternoon in the Central School to consider the question of salaries. The proposal to memoralize the Board of Education was discussed, but no action was taken.

James Mead Is The Defendant

The case of W. F. Nelson vs. Jas. Mead, who is sued for $100, balance on an account, is being heard to-day at the Division Court. Mr. A. R. Hazard of Toronto, is acting for the defendant and Mr. J. Osias Laplante for the plaintiff. At the time of going to press the case was still on.

It will be remembered that James Mead is the operator who disappeared so suddenly from the city a few weeks ago. He was in the employ of Mr. Nelson.

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Two Grateful Letters from Women Who Avoided Serious Operations.—Many Women Suffering from Like Conditions Will Be Interested.

When a physician tells a woman, suffering from female trouble, that an operation is necessary it, of course, frightens her.

"The very thought of the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart. As one woman expressed it, when told by her physician that she must undergo an operation she felt that her death knell had sounded.

Our hospitals are full of women who are there for just such operations!

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but such cases are much rarer than is generally supposed, because a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after the doctors had said an operation must be performed. In fact, up to the point where the knife must be used to secure instant relief, this medicine is certain to help.

The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who, by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, have escaped serious operations.

Mrs. Robert Glenn of 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation, but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in its favor. I have suffered untold agonies from a serious female trouble for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation, but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound, and I am only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same. Pray accept my hearty thanks and best wishes."

Miss Margaret Merkley of 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, severe shooting pains through the pelvic organs, cramps, bearing-down pains, and an irritable disposition compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said that I had a serious female trouble and ulceration, and advised an operation as my only hope. To this I strongly objected—and I decided as a last resort to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"To my surprise the ulceration healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared, and I am once more strong, vigorous and well; and I cannot express my thanks for what it has done for me."

Serious feminine troubles are steadily on the increase among women—and before submitting to an operation every woman should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been curing the worst forms of female complaints, all functional troubles, inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement, weakness, irregularities, indigestion and nervous prostration. Any woman who could read the many grateful letters on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office would be convinced of the efficiency of her advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR LOCAL LABOUR

Ald. Johnston's Monthly Report to The Labour Gazette Very Promising for Future.

All the Local Industries Were Working Full Time and the Prospects Are Bright.

While There Was the Usual Winter Cessation of Outside Work the Factories Were Busy.

ALD. W. J. JOHSTON, Who Reports Labour Conditions Prosperous.

The report of the local correspondent for the Labour Gazette, Ald. W. J. Johnston, for this month gives the information that while the work outside was quiet, as is, of course, usual at this period of the year, the factories were all busy, and the prospects for all kinds of labour for the coming summer are of the brightest. The report is as follows:—

Inside workers in factories and shops were well employed, but outside work was quiet during January, except in a few instances where a few men were engaged. The mild weather continued during the month and the corporation had several men putting in sections of towers by day labour. Though there was particular activity in the iron trades, there were sufficient men to meet the demand. The work of preparation for dredging the river-bed was being carried on. During the past year from 200 to 250 men have been employed on new and repair work on the Trent waterway, under the supervision of the Superintendent, who has endeavoured to keep the flow of water regular for the maintenance of power for the many large industries which derive their power from the dams on the waterway. There have been no complaints of lack of power in any of the factories, and all employees have been kept steadily at work. Local transportation was only normally active. Wholesale trade was not as active as in December, but retail trade was fair. Bankers reported a steady business. The Traders Bank has opened a branch in Lakefield and the Bank of Montreal a branch in Fenelon Falls. Wages rate remained unchanged. The printing and allied trades secured by voluntary agreement an 8 hour day at the same rate of wages. The labour market was free from disputes.

The addition to the American Cereal Co's plant was nearly completed. It will give about 1 acre more floor space on the five floors. About 40 men were at work on the construction of this building, costing $50,000. The lock works added from one-third to one-half more capacity to their space. A general overhauling was in progress in the factory, which was expected to be in full operation by February. A large wholesale warehouse will be built in the spring. An electric company from Indiana, U. S., was negotiating for the establishment of a Canadian branch in Peterborough. The city council was considering the procuring of the Auburn Power Company's dam, also No. 4 dam from the Government. This, with the power available at the city's dam, would put the city in a position to offer cheap power to industries and be a strong factor in inducing them to locate at this point.

The Colonial Weaving Company is one of two of its kind in Canada. Since its establishment here, some two years ago, it has been continually adding new machinery to its plant and is at the present making room for the installation of more. The company manufactures flags of all kinds for boats and clothes, weaving the name of the firm on each piece. Thirty-five hands are given employment. The J. J. Turner Company has been doing a large export trade with Montreal and England in tents and similar goods.

The Central Milling Company was running 24 hours per day. The machine Telephone Company also was busy placing new phones. The company has 500 subscribers at the present time.

It is probable that work on the new armouries will be begun in the spring. The Council of the County of Peterborough has decided to erect a house of refuge, costing from $25,000 to $30,000 during the coming building season.

It was stated that if the Trent Canal were completed within the next two years, the American Cereal Company would build a 9,000-barrel per day flour mill. This would mean an annual output of 1,500,000 barrels or 300,000,000 lbs. of flour, requiring 7,500,000 bushels of wheat, which would be shipped into the mill and reshipped in a finished state.

The stocking of ice-houses gave active employment, but the continued mild weather hindered progress very much, and, if it continues, the ice supply will be short for the coming season.

On account of the fine weather and good roads, the markets were well patronized from all parts of the district.

Condition Of Local Industries.

Agriculture. —Employment consisted chiefly in hauling wood, hay and other produce to market. A few wood choppers were engaged cutting cordwood for farmers in the district.

Lumbering. — Quietness prevailed, and, according to several reports, the industry was greatly impeded in the several shanties and camps for want of snow and frost. It is estimated that the quantity of lumber will be far short of what it was last year.

Manufacturing.—The various factories and manufacturing concerns were busy. The Matthews Pork Packing house reported a quiet month on account of the shortage of hogs.

Mining.—While no active work was in progress in this vicinity, mining in Hastings county, Marmora and Bancroft was being carried on actively.

Railway construction and employment.—Section work and repairing were the only works in progress. The proposed C.P.R. short route between the Georgian Bay and Peterborough was being surveyed.

Condition Of Particular Trades.

Building trades.—Plumbers alone reported activity.

Metal, engineering and shipbuilding trades.—Iron moulders, workers and helpers, corenmakers, machinists, engineers, linemen, brass workers, blacksmiths, boilermakers, and horseshoers were busy. Electrical workers, sheet metal workers, tool sharpeners and jewellers had an active month. Steam engineers, ship workers and bicycle workers reported conditions dull.

Woodworking and furnishing trades. —Woodworkers, upholsterers, varnishers, polishers, coopers and gilders were actively employed. Wood carvers and car builders were very dull. Pattern makers had a busy month.

Printing and allied trades.—A busy month was reported.

Clothing trades.—Journeymen tailors, garment workers and boot and shoe workers were busy. Hat makers and glove makers reported conditions dull.

Food and tobacco preparation.—Bakers, confectioners, butchers, meat cutters, ice men and cigar makers were busy.

Leather trades.—Leather workers had an active month.

Miscellaneous. — Barbers, broom makers, clerks, stenographers, delivery employees, hotel, restaurant and theatre employees and laundry workers were busy. Furriers had an active month.

Transport.—All railroad workers were actively employed. Street railway employees, cab drivers, cabmen, carters and draymen were busy. Steam workers reported a very dull month. Teamsters also had a quiet month.

Unskilled labour.—This class had a dull month.

District Notes.

Lakefield.—A saw mill which employed from 8 to 10 men all the year, was burnt, but will likely be rebuilt. The loss was estimated at $3,000.

Day Subsequent To The Wedding Was Celebrated

Last night, as the evening train from the east arrived in the city, it brought, among other passengers, a newly-wedded couple from Havelock, who had been enjoying matrimonial life for but one day, but, this fact was only known by the young bride, as the husband was oblivious of his environments just at that time.

The young couple, it appears, were happily wedded on Wednesday in Havelock, and left yesterday on their wedding journey for Peterborough. The baggage consisted of the wedding bonnet wrapped in a newspaper, and a satchel containing a number of bottles of "medicine" under the supervision of the groom. This was a state of affairs that had been concealed from the bride during their acquaintance, and which she had not discovered until it was too late to recall the fatal words that bound the fatal knot.

The long trip on the cars, the groom was pleased to state, together with the frequent frowns of the lady by his side, caused a peculiar drowsy feeling in his brain, which made him forget, notwithstanding the fact that a few empty pieces of glassware testified a different but silent story. The helpless groom, nevertheless, was "kindly" assisted off the car by the brakeman and was given a grand ovation by a few hundred of the citizens, one of whom generously provided him and his faithful Guinea with a handsome conveyance, in which to take a jaunt about the city.

A sympathizing lady, with no lack of pathetic feeling, mentioned to the bride the marvellous revelations foretold by the mysterious Fays, whereupon there were loud lamentations of having lost the opportunity of discovering, before too late, her husband's tastes.

As the chaise journeyed through the city with the inebriate's head reposing peacefully on the shoulder of the youthful bride, someone was heard to ask if it were a procession advertising the coming show. As the wedding principals disappeared through the streets of the city silent prayers were offered by those of the female bystanders who probably had been inveigled likewise, to console the sorrowful bride of a day, who had already begun to discover the fact that connubial life was not all a peaceful dream, and that the felicitous state of celibacy would have been much pleasanter than the present conditions.

Presentation To Miss Sperry

Former Peterborough Lady Honoured on Leaving Norwood.

Special to The Examiner

Norwood, Feb. 22. — The members of the Epworth League, on Monday evening, presented Miss Kate Sperry, who is leaving for the west in a short time, with a gold locket and chain, also a pleasing address, which was read by Miss Lillie Buck, the presentation being made by Miss Grace Foster. The following was the address:

Dear Miss Sperry, — As you are about to depart from our midst we feel that we could not let the opportunity pass without expressing our deep regret at your departure, and our sincere appreciation of your faithful services as a worker in our League. Your regular attendance and faithful performance of your duties have won for you the respect and esteem of the members of the League and we feel that, while we are losing a valued friend and worker you will be able to do even greater good in your new home.

We ask you to accept this locket, as a slight token of our regard for you and trust that amidst new surrounding you will not forget your many warm friends in the Norwood Epworth League.

Grace Foster,
Lillie Seargat,
Lilhe Buck.

Miss Sperry is a former Peterborough resident, where her mother and sisters now live. She is a sister of Mrs. D. A. Fraser.

Mrs. Moffat of Toronto, is a guest at the home of Mr. J. B. Pearce.

Miss C. Gjerdrum of Carleton Place is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Ida Gjerdrum.

Mrs. Harry Andrews, accompanied by Miss Muter of Carleton Place, visited friends in Norwood on Thursday.

On Wednesday evening the members of the Methodist church choir met at the home of Mr. Hiram Fry, and presented him with an address. Mr. Fry, who is leaving the choir, has been a faithful member for the past sixteen years. The following address was read by Mr. Geo. Duffield:

Dear Mr. Fry:

Understanding that you have decided to leave our choir we take this opportunity to make known to you our regret at the step you have taken. We have long recognized the value of an instrumental accompaniment to vocal music; therefore the loss we sustain in your retirement will be keenly felt. For many years you have rendered our choir faithful and valuable service, and we are exceedingly sorry that you are about to leave us. We trust that after a brief period of rest you may be again able to occupy the position which you have so efficiently filled. We are aware of the fact that the duties of a choir master are of a very exacting nature and that the individual who is faithful to his trust must sacrifice his personal comfort and convenience. We cannot therefore allow this opportunity to pass without expressing our appreciation of the able and willing service you have so cheerfully given during the many years. We ask your acceptance of this address as but a feeble expression of our esteem. We trust that your life may long be spared and all the blessings of a bountiful Providence be yours.

Signed by the members of the choir.

A Horse Case In Coboconk

An Offence to Exchange Horses After a Trade.

Lindsay Post: On Tuesday last County Police Magistrate McSweyn held court at Coboconk, when a case of public importance was brought to light, showing that there are still some people who trade, and, after getting the poor end of the bargain, steal back their former property. It is theft of the worst kind, and the following should be a warning to the people of the county, as Magistrate McSweyn is determined to put an end to such infractions of the law.

Mr. Frederick Gunn, of Coboconk, traded a horse with one, Jewell, and after keeping the animal for some days, he thought he had the worst of the deal. It seems that he talked over matters with some person, who advised him that there was no law for horse trading, and that he could lawfully go to the other man's stable, leave the horse he got and take the other one away. This Gunn did in the dead of the night, and was subsequently charged with theft by Jewell. At the trial, Mr. Jas. A. Lee, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. F. A. McDiarmid for the accused, and after counsel had consulted together at the request of the magistrate, Mr. McDiarmid admitted that his client had violated the law, but under a mistake, and that he was willing to make any reasonable amends and pay all costs. The judge allowed the accused to go on paying the costs of the case.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Peterborough, Feb. 22, 1906.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—Will some people who go to theatres never learn that it is the most annoying thing imaginable to the people near them, to keep continually talking and buzzing while some part of a play or performance is going on that demands absolute quietness on the part of the audience. I went to see the Fays the first night they appeared here and had a splendid seat in the balcony and was in a position in fact to thoroughly enjoy the entertainment had it not been for the absurd and annoying comments of a couple of apparently green females who sat behind me and continually kept exclaiming "Oh, this is no place for us"; "I know how he does that"; "He must have some wire attached to that girl. I don't think she is there in mid air without support"; "I wonder how they answer those questions" and other abominably annoying remarks, which should be discussed outside the theatre, when the performance is over. People who behave like the ones referred to have no more sense than the noisy little boy in the "gods" who, however, is under the watchful eye of the house constable and if not good will be promptly ejected.

Yours for sensible conduct,
THEATRE-GOER.

Charged With Serious Offence

To-day High County Constable Cochrane served a summons on Nathan Bell, of Dummer, who is charged with indecent exposure. The alleged offence is said to have taken place on February 6. He will come up for trial on Tuesday, at 11 o'clock, at the County Court House, before Police Magistrate Kemison.

KIDNEYS AND BOWELS—TO PREVENT DISEASE BY CLEANSING THE SYSTEM—YOU MUST USE

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

There's need in every home for a medicine that will promptly cure biliousness, kidney derangements and constipation.

A medicine that by cleansing the filtering and excretory organs will remove all poisonous waste matter, and by so doing prevent fevers, colds and such deadly diseases as dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease.

No medicine satisfies this need so well as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

This is no idle boast, but an absolute fact that is backed up by the testimony of a hundred thousand homes.

The reputation of Dr. A. W. Chase as author and physician is the guarantee which first made this great medicine popular.

Now it stands on its record of cures—a record which has seldom, if ever, been parallelled in the history of medicine.

As a treatment for backaches, headaches, indigestion, aching limbs, liver derangements, kidney disorders and constipation, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are prompt, thorough and effective.

Once their merit is tested they are kept in the house and relied on in cases of emergency. By keeping the liver active and the bowels regular they positively prevent serious disease.

Mrs. Geo. Lawson, Consecon, Ont., writes:—"Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills made a well woman of me, completely curing me of constipation, rheumatism, stomach troubles and a very severe kidney trouble after years of suffering. I am now sixty-eight years of age and very grateful for what Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have done for me and for the remarkable cure of my husband by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Backache Plaster promptly eradicates pain and may be used on any part of the body.

Rural 'Phones In Durham County

Farmers are Building Lines in That County.

The Port Hope Times says: Mr. G. W. Jones, of Newtonville, was in town on Saturday for the purpose of organizing a local telephone line for Hope and Clarke Townships. Lines have already been built from Orono, Pontypool and Newtonville, and the object is to build another line into Hope Township with connection with Port Hope. Mr. Jones obtained the names of 20 farmers who are anxious for connection. In the autumn it is expected that some 200 subscribers will be connected on the line. An extension is now being built from Tyrone to Orono. For farmers who will construct a mile of line the charge for a 'phone is only $3 per year, and in addition they receive half the tolls that they collect from their neighbours. The charge for those who do not construct line is $10 per year.

Grave difficulties have arisen from the publication of General Sir Ian Hamilton's book on the Russo-Japanese war, the book having given umbrage in Japan.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1906.

NORTH TORONTO.

The result of the election yesterday in North Toronto, the return of Mr. McNaught, the Conservative candidate, by a large majority, was to have been expected. The result is not any reflection upon Mr. Urquhart's ability or integrity, but a reproof to the auspices under which he appealed. The contest was a political one to elect a representative to the Provincial Legislature, but it was sought to make it merely a matter of parish politics involving the municipal interests of Toronto. The people took it upon political grounds and the result was all the more positive, since in the beginning of the campaign Mr. Urquhart took a stand which doubtless alienated many of his Liberal friends, and thus we see a normal party majority of 300 swollen to one of a thousand.

TWO WAYS.

The Ontario Government is said to have under consideration the installation of an electric light plant in the Parliament buildings to light these structures, and it is also reported that the University would like to make an arrangement to purchase from this source light and power for its own use or join the Government in operating the plant and enjoy the use of the electricity developed. The establishing of an electrical plant in in the Parliament buildings may be feasible in a certain sense, but would it be the most advisable thing to do? If the province is to go into the business of generating electricity it would be better to place its plant in the Central Prison, where cheap labour would be available for firing, etc. In that event the Central Prison, the Toronto Asylum, the Parliament buildings and the University and its connected institutions could all be supplied with light and power from this central source.

But isn't there a still better plan, if Mr. Whitney is of the same opinion he expressed at Niagara Falls in 1900, when addressing the electors in a bye-election he declared that the power to be developed at the Falls should be "free as air." If in pursuance of this policy he should relieve the development company of all charges for the use of the river, Niagara Falls power could be brought to Toronto at a very low figure—much below, no doubt, what an electric power plant either in the Parliament buildings or in the Central could produce it. During that same bye-election contest the Mail and Empire promised that Mr. Whitney would "do anything in his power to make the power free," and as the organ never varies from the most perpendicular veracity by the latitude of a hair, the thing may yet be done, for Mr. Whitney now has power of making Niagara power "free as air," to the direct benefit of the provincial finances, though what is credited to one side of the ledger would have to be charged to it on the other side.

A LITTLE "LOW DOWN"

The tolerant and charitably considerate attitude of the temperance people as represented by the Alliance towards the Whitney Government, as compared with the attitude of tense hostility to the Ross Government is very remarkable. If the Ross Government had invaded the prize ring and selected a slugger and another panderer and sent them out for the License Department, Toronto, to act the role of spies and informers—to tempt diseased keepers to a breach of the law, there would have been a howl from the Alliance people and other Conservative temperance people. And with good reason. There is no name more odious than an informer and nothing more contemptible than the sneak work he pursues. It is a very commendable thing to strictly enforce the license law—it is in the interests of both the community and of the traffic itself, but the license law never contemplated that the agency responsible for its enforcement should descend to the employment of spies to tempt inn-keepers and when they yield to the temptation in an unwary moment to punish them for a breach of the law brought about by the agents of the law.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The promise of the Conservative Government to enforce the license law, had better be recalled. The object of rigid enforcement is to lessen the evils of drunkenness, yet the figures of the latest license report show that in the year 1905, the first year of "rigid enforcement," under the new regime, the commitments for drunkenness were 567 in excess of the commitments of the same class for the previous year.

The Globe presents a prescription—"to be taken as needed"—to cure indecision, in regard to bestowing the proper name — Parliament or Legislature — to be applied to the assemblage of provincial representatives. "Parliament" means a talking association; "Legislature" a law-making body. So that the reader may take his choice of titles from his point of view.

Mr. Whitney's argument in the Legislature to justify dismissal of Liberal office holders went to show that those dismissed were partizans. The License Inspector dismissed in Toronto, was considered so little of a partizan that Conservative commissioners, by way of protest, themselves resigned. Does Mr. Whitney expect to get officials without political conviction? Or is it to be held that Conservative officials have a right to exercise partizanship?

The employment of whiskey detectives by Hon. Mr. Hanna to entrap hotel men into committing breaches of the license law will, says the Hamilton Times, be condemned by most right-thinking people. Enticing men to break the law by imposing on them to sell liquor out of hours is no more defensible than encouraging people to steal with the object of having them arrested and punished. It is not British fair play, and British communities will not support such contemptible tricks, even though brought about by the Government.

SIR WILFRID IN TORONTO.

La Presse, an independent journal, published in Montreal, has the following, under the above heading:

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been for several days the guest of Toronto. The readers of La Presse have followed with us the varying phases of the grand demonstration, of which he was the object. It presents an unforgettable spectacle for the province of Quebec. One of our own people, a son of a modest farmer of St. Lin, a student of l'Assumption College, has become, by virtue of his talent, his incontestable superiority of genius, the leader of his party, and Prime Minister of Canada. Speaking with equal fluency his mother tongue, and the English language, he is acclaimed by the capital of the great English province, the home indeed of the most violent Toryism. La Presse rejoices in the triumph won among our Ontario neighbours by the great Canadian, who governs this country. La Presse thanks Toronto Grits and Tories for the homage they have rendered him, whose object has been to unite, without fusing, the two great races which inhabit Canada. Our province, we say it with pride, was, under the inspiration of Cartier and Champlain, the bosom friend of Sir John Macdonald. Ontario elected battalions of 'Grits' to combat the old man, but it was the Conservative phalanxes of Quebec which gave him his majority. Sir John and Cartier personified an epoch — before them Lafontaine and Baldwin; and yet before them, Louis Joseph Papineau. Sir Wilfrid is the man of our time, of our generation, an honour to our race. He completes the work of his predecessors. Long may he live!"

Temperance Concert Was Great Success

Fine Programme Rendered at George Street Last Night — Singing of a Boys' Chorus of Forty Voices Was a Feature of the Entertainment--Recitations and Solos Were Cleverly Rendered by Young People.

CHORUS WAS TRAINED BY MR. GLIDDON

An interesting and novel entertainment was the temperance concert given in the Sunday school room of the George street Methodist church last night.

The programme, which was arranged by Mrs. Jas. Kendry, was given almost entirely by young people, and was one of the most enjoyable juvenile entertainments given in a long time. The concert was held in connection with the Women's Auxiliary, and was arranged to meet the expenses incurred by the improvements to the church. The audience was a fairly large one although it was not nearly as big as the merits of the programme deserved.

The various numbers all dealt with the subject of temperance, and were very cleverly given. The work of the chorus, composed of forty boys, was very fine and showed what such an organization could do under a good leader. Mr. Gliddon, who has been in charge of the boys, deserves great credit for the work accomplished in such a short space of time. He has had but few rehearsals with the chorus and yet their work last night was very creditable, the various numbers being sung with spirit and in true voice. The shading in the soft passages was very effective.

The solo numbers were equally delightful and the little people were warmly applauded. Harold Hatcher, Freddy Seymour, Arthur Hall and Miss Maude Titterson were all very successful in their musical contribution to the programme, and the recitation given were also much appreciated. Miss Sisson acted as accompanist in a finished manner.

Following is the programme:

Chorus, Won't you Sign the Pledge? by boys.
Recitation, Prohibition, Master J. Markle Garvin; encore, A Word to Dominion Government.
Solo and chorus, Why Have I no Papa? Harold Hatcher.
Chorus, Motto Song.
Recitation, Master Norman Laing, encored.
Solo and chorus, Your Mother is Loving You Yet, Fred Seymour and chorus; encored.
Chorus, Loyal Temperance Legion.
Recitation, Miss Maud Titterson; encore, The Star of Bethlehem.
Solo and chorus, Please do not Sell Father any More Drink, Master Arthur Hall; encored.
Chorus, The Broken Pinion.
Solo, Miss Maud Titterson.
Recitation, The Vagabond, Mr. H. Dunlow; encores, The Mouse, The First Suspenders.
Chorus, Won't you sign the Pledge? God save the King.

WEDDING BELLS

MOISE—McELROY

A very pleasing event took place at the residence of Mrs. H. McElroy, Port Hope, on Wednesday, February 14, when her only daughter, Miss Ida J., was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Henry Moise, of Toronto. The Rev. H. E. Abraham, of the First Presbyterian church, officiated.

After congratulations were extended to the young couple, the guests all proceeded to the dining room, where a sumptuous wedding dejeuner was served, the table and house being tastefully decorated with hyacinths, primroses and carnations, for the occasion.

The beautiful wedding cake was a present from the bride's uncle at Lakefield. The presents were both numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held by their many friends. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome seal coat with sable trimmings.

The evening was spent in social intercourse and games. Mr. and Mrs. Moise have taken up their residence in Port Hope on Bramley street.

The members of the Canada Railway News Company, Toronto, of which Mr. Moise is an employee, presented him with an elegant and costly silver tea service, accompanied by an appropriate address, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Moise many years of wedded bliss.

THE BEST STOVE CO

Last Tributes Were Paid To Late Alfred McDonald

Funeral Took Place This Morning and Was Very Largely Attended--Eulogy Was Made to Deceased by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor.

The funeral of the late Alfred McDonald took place from his late residence, 2 Crescent street, this morning to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery. The funeral cortege was one of the longest that ever turned out to pay their respects to a departed citizen of Peterborough and showed the esteem in which the deceased was held by all classes of the community.

No less than four societies were represented in the cortege, about 200 members in all turning out. The Orders represented were the C.M.B.A., Catholic Order of Foresters, Ancient Order of Hibernians and St. Peter's T.A.S. The pall bearers, who were all members of the C.M.B.A. were Messrs. Geo. Ball, Joseph Picard, Sr., Jas. Bogue, R. Sheehy, H. Phelan and John Corkery.

The Cathedral was crowded with friends of the deceased and the services were most impressive. Requiem Mass was sung by Rev. Dr. O'Brien, assisted by Rev. Father Kelly and Rev. Father Galvin and the prayers for the dead were pronounced by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor.

His Lordship, after a few comforting remarks based on the text, "I am the resurrection," paid a high tribute to the deceased, whose life, he said, had been in every way an exemplary one, characterized by many virtues. Sunday after Sunday he had seen the large figure of the deceased standing before him worshipping God, and the thought had often come to him, what an example he was setting to others. His life was not only marked by the attributes of a good citizen but also by the supernatural virtues of a good Christian.

Among the beautiful floral tributes received, were the following: Spiritual bouquet, from Boys of fourth book, Murray street school; Spiritual bouquet from Mr. T. C. Laplante; gates ajar, from employees of deceased; heart, from Mr. and Mrs. Irwin; cross, from Gold Lake Hunt Club; bouquet from John Laplante, wreath, from Mr. V. Eastwood; cross and wreath from C.M.B.A., and bouquet from Mr. W. Rudkins.

Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald, Chicago, brother and sister-in-law of the deceased, and Mrs. Stemler, his sister, also of Chicago, were in the city for the funeral.

Pleasant Social Evening Spent At Murray St. Church

Tea and Concert Under Auspices of Ladies' Aid—About Four Hundred Were Present—Presentation to Mrs. Mowat—Col. E. B. Edwards Was Chairman—Programme Presented Very Pleasing—Ladies in Charge.

MRS. MOWAT GAVE ORGAN RECITAL

There were about 400 persons present last night at the tea and concert given by the Ladies' Aid Society in connection with the Murray street Baptist church. Judging therefore from the large attendance the enthusiasm manifested in the church work of the ladies must be exceedingly gratifying to them.

Refreshments were served in the spacious Sunday school from 6 to 8 o'clock under the supervision of Mrs. Thos. Wilson. After the supper the company retired to the church, where Mrs. Mowat, organist of the church, gave a charming organ recital and entertained the audience until the commencement of the programme.

During the evening Mrs. Mowat was presented with a beautiful cut glass water pitcher by the choir.

The lengthy programme was introduced by the chairman, Col. E. B. Edwards, superintendent of the Sunday school. Mr. Edwards, in a short address, expressed his appreciation of the good work being accomplished by the Ladies' Aid, and considered any assistance given them would be of much benefit. The chairman presented the following enjoyable programme:

Hymn 646. "All Hail the Power," etc.
Piano solo, Miss Frances Routley.
Recitation, Miss Maud Titterson.
Solo, Miss Clara Kidd.
Instrumental duet, Mesdames Mowat and Kerr.
Solo, Master Herbert Mowat.
Reading, Mrs. Duncombe.
Solo, Miss Parnell.
Solo, Mr. Jas. Dawson.
Instrumental duet, Mesdames Quinn and Walker.
"God Save the King."

The committee in charge of the affair were Mrs. Thos. Wilson, Mrs. Packard, Mrs. B. Yelland, Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Jas. Lewis, and no doubt the successful issue was directly due to their aggressive efforts in connection with the tea and concert.

Lots of Water In Trent Canal

The Head Waters Are Being Now Conserved.

"The very general thaw of the past few days has caused the Rideau River to rise and spring floods will soon be in order. It has risen between one and two feet at Billings' Bridge and is also rising quite rapidly at Janeville. Hurdman's Bridge, and at points in New Edinburgh. The ice has not broken up yet at Billings' Bridge, but there are some slight signs that it will soon unless there is a pretty hard frost. The water has been rushing over it rapidly during the last couple of days. In some places the Rideau canal is also open.—From the Kingston Whig.

• • • •

In view of the above reported condition of the Rideau Canal, the Examiner this morning asked Mr. J. H. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Canal, concerning the condition of the water in the local streams. Mr. McClellan has just returned from Balsam Lake and other head waters of the Trent Canal, and he reports that while there is plenty of water in the various lakes, rivers and streams, there is no danger whatever of any flooding. The water is being carefully conserved, and there is reason to believe that there will be plenty of water this summer for navigation and power purposes.

The Report On Insurance Has Been Presented

Investigation of New York Organizations and Its Results.

8 BILLS IN LEGISLATURE

Evils Made Apparent by the Life Insurance Inquiry Under the Legislative Committee Might Have Been Known Through the Ordinary State Department of Insurance Had It Done Its Duty.

New York, Feb. 23.—The commission appointed at the last session of the New York Legislature to investigate life insurance, made its report yesterday. It embraces a long review of the testimony taken by the commission and conclusions as to remedial legislation. In addition, there is a chapter devoted to the state insurance department, in which the commission declares that it would seem that the superintendent of the department has had ample power to ascertain the transactions of insurance companies, but that the supervision by the department has not proved a sufficient protection against extravagance and maladministration. Instances are given of reports made on the affairs of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., the New York Life Insurance Co., and the Equitable Life Assurance Society, in which nothing was brought out to show the conditions developed in the testimony given before the committee.

Should Examine Accounts.

In its detailed report of the investigation of the companies, the commission says the accounts of the Mutual Life Co, should be thoroughly examined, in order that the extent to which moneys have been misapplied and the responsibility for any misapplication which may be shown may be determined.

Concerning the New York Life Insurance Co., the commission found that its transactions with Andrew Hamilton showed extraordinary abuses, and that the statement sent from Paris by Hamilton was without suitable specifications.

Taking up the Equitable Life Assurance Society, the commission tells of the dissensions last February, which resulted in the reorganization of that society, and in the disclosures which brought about the legislative enquiry. The syndicate operations of the Equitable and James H. Hyde and the relations between the society and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., as brought out in testimony before the commission, are referred to at considerable length, as also is the $50,000,000 Union Pacific pool under the management of E. H. Harriman, Jacob H. Schiff and James Stillman. Participation in this pool by the Equitable, the commission affirms.

Specific Cases.

Former Governor Odell's shipbuilding suit against the Mercantile Trust Co., which was settled by that company, is treated of, the commission holding that the circumstances of the introduction of the Ambler bill might have been sufficient to induce that settlement on the part of the officers of the trust company through fear that proceedings inimical to its interests might be taken if those who could initiate them were not appeased. The committee report contains a full statement of loans made to E. H. Harriman and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. by the Equitable.

The payment of $20,000 a year to Senator Depew by the Equitable, the commission holds, was not warranted, the testimony as to the services by Senator Depew not appearing to be sufficient for such payment.

The commission also sets forth that it does not appear what services were rendered by former Senator Hill, who was paid $5,000 a year.

The commission finds that in spite of the irregularities shown, there is no reason to question the solvency of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., the New York Life Insurance Co., nor the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Not Result of Discussion at Albany on Insurance Bills Introduced.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 23.—The net result of all discussion in both Houses in connection with the introduction in the Legislature yesterday of the report of bills of the joint special life insurance investigating committee, is that there will be a public hearing on the bills before the investigating committee itself, on Friday, March 9, at 11.30 a. m., in the assembly chamber. Meanwhile the bills are in committee of the whole in the Senate and in the standing committee on insurance in the assembly.

Three of the eight bills amend the penal code. One provides for the election of new directors and one amends the general legislative law. One amends the general corporation law.

One of the bills prohibits all campaign contributions by life insurance companies.

Another amends the penal code so as to make the receiver of a rebate equally guilty with those allowing it.

Another amendment repeals the provision of the general corporation law, which allows companies to exchange real estate.

It is made a misdemeanor in another bill to make a false entry in the books of a company or to falsify in any way a report required by law.

Prosecution for Perjury.

Another bill provides that in any prosecution for perjury the falsity of the territory upon which the charge is based may be proved by showing that the accused has made a statement to the contrary.

The so-called "insurance lobby" is affected by another measure, applying to all corporations and individuals. Any agent employed by a corporation in connection with legislation must file a notice of his appearance and of the matter in which he is interested, with the Secretary of State, within 60 days after the adjournment of Legislature. Employes of such agents must file statements showing the amounts paid and the purpose and time of the appearance.

Provision is made in another bill for the election of new boards of directors in all mutual companies Nov. 15, 1906, to which time all elections of new boards are postponed. Holders of policies of $1,000 or more of one year's standing may vote in person, by proxy, or by mail. Provision is made for the publication of lists of qualified voters and of nominations. The proxies heretofore granted shall expire July 1, 1906.

General Amendments.

The bill amending the general insurance law follows the recommendations of the report. Its principal provisions are:

Officers and directors of companies shall not be interested in any sale or loan in which the company is interested, except in relation to policies they themselves hold.

Any policyholder, upon facts within his own knowledge, may cause an examination of the company, if the superintendent of insurance believes the facts to be sufficient to warrant it.

Reorganization of existing stock companies and their mutualization are provided for.

All violations of the insurance law are made punishable as misdemeanors and nearly all fines or penalties are stricken out. Every life policy must contain the life contract between the holder and the company. Statements of the insured shall be deemed "representations" and not "warranties." Misrepresentations on the part of the companies or their agents are prohibited.

To Find the Surplus.

Provision is made for ascertaining the surplus of companies, limiting the amount of contingent reserve, and compelling the distribution of all surpluses annually, either in cash or extended insurance at the option of the policyholders to whom the dividends are due. Valuation of the reserve on policies is provided for, in order to encourage new companies. Provision is made for the payment of surrender values when dividends are taken in extended insurance instead of cash.

An important amendment for the election of directors in stock companies which are being mutualized, by the filing of lists of all policyholders of one year's standing to the amount of $1,000 in the office of the superintendent of insurance and in the home and general offices of the companies five months before election; that companies may make nominations four months, independents three months, and others two months before the election. Proxies must be given two months before the election. Section 56 of the insurance law is repealed. This section now permits actions against insurance companies only through the Attorney-General.

New Business.

New business is limited on a percentage business basis, the general maximum prescribed to be $150,000,000 a year, and companies are permitted to write all the new insurance they can obtain up to $50,000,000. The bills limit the expense of the companies, and provide that all salaries about $5,000 must be fixed by the board of directors

Temiskaming Railway Bonds To Be Offered

Provincial Treasurer Makes Important Statement.

AN INTERIM APPROPRIATION

Six Hundred Thousand Dollars For Current Expenses — Appointment of the Art Committee—Several Bills Introduced — Liberal Members the Guests of the Hon. G. W. Ross at a Luncheon.

Toronto, Feb. 23.—In regard to the sale of provincial securities, Hon. Col. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, informed the House yesterday that an offer had been received which would secure the province a higher net rate than any previous offer. A short session was held. Until the committees get to work there will be scant business for the House.

In reply to Hon. Mr. Harcourt, the Treasurer said: "During 1906 the Government received seven definite proposals for the purchase of securities to be issued by the province. Several of the parties offering to purchase asked that their offers be considered confidential, unless a sale was completed. As the sale of a permanent issue of stock or bonds has not yet been completed, it is deemed not to be in the interest of the province that the details of these offers should be made public at the present time. During the present year a proposal has been received from responsible parties, which would secure to the province a higher net rate than any previous offer."

He added that it should be borne in mind that every one per cent. in the price would mean $70,000.

Mr. Harcourt asked if the offers were from home or abroad, and the Minister said "abroad."

Police Superannuation.

Hon. Mr. Hendrie introduced a bill to amend section 492 of the consolidated municipal act of 1903, by adding a sub-section providing that municipal councils may raise annually a sum sufficient to provide for the superannuation of members of the police force who have been not less than 25 years in continuous service, the allowance to be one-half the salary of the officer 12 months previous to retirement.

Mr. Hoyle introduced his promised bill to amend the Assessment Act. In addition to eliminating the word "trade" from the act, it provides that the minimum business tax be on $100 rather than $250.

Mr. Gamey introduced a bill to amend the Public Schools Act. Its object is to assist trustees in unorganized townships.

The Premier moved the appointment of a select committee to direct expenditure on certain moneys to be voted for art purposes, as follows: The Speaker, Messrs. Whitney, Foy, Matheson, Hendrie, Ross, Harcourt and Preston of Brant. Mr. Whitney said some time ago this had been done but recently it had been dropped.

The House went into committee to discuss the interim appropriation of $600,000 to pay salaries and other expenses of government.

Want Agreement Quashed.

The fight between Kingston and the Kingston, Portsmouth and Cataraqui Electric Railway will be carried into the Legislature. Mr. Pense yesterday presented a largely signed petition asking that the compact made between the City Council and the company in July last be not ratified.

Government Telephones.

Orangeville has taken up the battle for a provincial telephone service. Dr. Lewis of Dufferin offered a petition from the Municipal Council, asking that the Government give early attention to the question, and declaring strongly for Government operation of all public utilities. The action taken in Manitoba, re telephones, was cited.

Guests of Mr. Ross.

An Opposition caucus was held early yesterday afternoon, after a luncheon given in the reception room by Hon. G. W. Ross. Not a word was said about Mr. Ross' possible translation to Ottawa. The whips, C. M. Bowman and J. B. Tudhope, were re-elected. It was decided to meet frequently, and another caucus will be held next week.

ELECTIVE COUNTY COUNCILS.

Ontario Municipal Association Favors Present System With one Change.

Toronto, Feb. 23.—"That this association approve of the present system of elective county councils.

"That we believe that the disqualifying clauses in section 81 and 82 might be removed and all councillors, reeves and mayors be eligible for election of county councillors."

This in brief is the resolution which will be presented to the Provincial Government at 11 o'clock this morning, backed up by a delegation representing every municipality in the province.

For seven long hours the delegates to the Ontario Municipal Association yesterday wrestled with the matter, and shortly before midnight a basis acceptable to all was reached.

World's Highest Skyscraper.

New York, Feb. 23.—The Singer Manufacturing Co. have filed plans for a structure which will be higher than all existing skyscrapers by 200 to 300 feet, and will be about forty feet higher than the Washington Monument. It will erect over the central part of the enlarged structure a tower of 40 stories, which will rise to the height of 593 feet, 10 2-3 inches. The tower will be 65 feet square for thirty-six stories and will be surmounted by a dome containing four additional stories, above which will be a cupola and a flagstaff. The total cost of the improvements is $1,500,000.

A Murderous Attack Made Upon Farmer

Highwayman Thrice Shoots a Farmer Near Owen Sound.

TWO SHOTS WERE EFFECTIVE

Sight of One Eye Destroyed by a Bullet—William Morrison's Exciting Adventure on the Lonely Leith Road Six Miles From Owen Sound—Did Not Know Where the Shots Came From.

Owen Sound, Feb. 23.—Wednesday evening about 7 o'clock, along the road skirting the bay, just below the summer resort of Leith and about six miles from Owen Sound, Jas. Morrison, a farmer of Sydenham, was murderously assaulted by a man who had been riding on his wagon.

Morrison had come to town with a load of hogs and had disposed of them, receiving over one hundred and fifty dollars in a cheque payable at the Bank of Hamilton. He was unable to leave for home till after six o'clock and as he approached Leith, six miles from here, he noticed a young man walking behind his wagon. With customary good fellowship of the farmer he invited him to have a ride. The fellow got into the rear of the wagon, but refused an invitation to get on the seat where they could talk.

After passing Leith and as they approached the gate of a farmer named Veitch, and quite near his own house, a shot rang out and a bullet grazed Morrison's head, flattening against the scalp. He wheeled in the seat and asked where the shot came from and was told it came from the bushes. Not knowing what to do, and dazed, he had just turned again when a second shot was fired, which entered the bridge of the nose and, passing through the left eye, lodged within an inch of the temple, without piercing the skull. This shot was followed by a third, which went wide.

As he swung out of the seat he noticed the young fellow had jumped from the wagon and was standing on the roadside. He called to him to run to a nearby house and rouse some one to search for the perpetrators of the outrage. The fellow started off and it appears Morrison, who had retained consciousness, managed in some way to reach home.

Morrison is a powerful man physically and to this is due the fact that he never lost consciousness. Had he done so in all probability he would have been robbed. The police are following the matter up.

Had a Bad Leg.

"For twelve years I was a great sufferer from eczema on the inside of the leg. There was a raw patch of flesh about three inches square, and the itching was something dreadful. Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me, took away the itching, and healed up the sore." — Mr. Alex. McDougall, postmaster, Broad Cove Marsh, N. S.

Killed by Falling Tree.

Edmonton, Feb. 23.—Rev. Mr. Almgren, a Lutheran minister of Wotaskiwin, was accidentally killed by a falling tree. Some parties were cutting down a tree near the trail and it started to fall as Almgren and a companion were passing. Both leaped from the rig to escape, but Almgren was caught.

Says It Was a Joke.

Windsor, Feb. 23.—Edward Cowell, arrested on the charge of non-support, has been released on bail furnished by his brother-in-law. He says the alleged sale of his wife to a neighbor farmer was a big joke.

The TERRIBLE PANGS OF DYSPEPSIA CAN BE CURED

To be dyspeptic is to be miserable, hopeless, confused and depressed in mind, forgetful, irresolute, drowsy, languid and useless.

Constipation, headache, heartburn, sour stomach, distress after eating, belching of wind, faintness, and fullness and distention of the stomach are a few of the many distressing symptoms of the poor, weary dyspeptic.

Dyspepsia is a disease that in one way or another resembles nearly every other disease, and the only way to get rid of it is to tone up the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. This will be quickly done by the use of

It regulates the stomach, stimulates the secretion of the saliva and gastric juice to facilitate digestion, removes acidity, purifies the blood, and tones up the entire system.

Mrs. M. A. McNeil, Brook Village, N.S., writes: "Last winter I was very thin and was fast loosing flesh owing to the run down state of my system. I suffered from dyspepsia, loss of appetite and bad blood. I tried everything I could get but to no purpose. I finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters, and from the first day I felt the good effects of the medicine and am strong and well again. I can eat anything now without any ill after effects. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, for I feel it saved my life."

Charlotte Street Seven Defeated The High Lifes

The Score Was 2-1—At Half Time Game Stood 1-0—Quite a Surprise to Followers of the Game—Suicides Defeated the Bankers by 8-1.

The biggest surprise yet in the City League was sprung last night when the apparently invincible High Life seven met defeat at the hands of the Charlotte Street aggregation by a score of 2-1. At half time the game was a tie 1-1. On the play the best team won. The Methodists had the puck in their possession most of the time, particularly in the second half. Fitzpatrick in goal for the losers played his usual gilt-edged game and it was due to his steiling work that the score against the losers was not larger. He goal. Miller scoring. The High Lifes ice was partially covered with water when the game was commenced and the going was heavy throughout. The condition of the ice made either fast combination or individual work impossible and the game was not marked by any brilliant team or one man plays. The only rush that was in any way spectacular was made by Moore, cover point for the winners, when he carried the puck right down to the High Lifes' the slush than the Charlotte Street were a little off colour. The heavy ice seemed to trouble them more than it did their opponents. It was generally thought that wearers of the blue and white would be more at home in throughout. Nicholls and Grose helpe.en, but the latter showed surprisingly good condition and dug in all the time. The Charlotte Street defence played the game of their lives last night, and while not particularly noticeable were very effective. Lang in goal defended his position well and Roddy and Moore at point and cover point were in good form. But the work of the forwards was most noticeable the whole quintette playing a nice game. Miller was in particularly good form securing both goals for the winners. As usual, though, he hogged the puck altogether too much and thus rendered his work fifty per cent. less effective. Dusty was in better form last night than he has been before this year and played one of the best games on the ice. He was right after the puck from the first tap of the gong and stayed with the game blocked nicely. Ford was the first to rd the team out a great deal, although the former was on the fence too often for the good of his septette. Long played well for the losers. Rose did good work and never let up all th ough. One great difficulty with the High Lifes was that they seemed impossible to hold their heads. Their play was not marked by nearly as much coolness as it should have been.

Fitzpatrick, Meagher and Ford all did great work on the defence and struck off many dangerous looking ru hes. Glover as referee was strict and impartial but he had his work cut out for him and some of his decisions seemed to meet with disfavour of both teams. The game was a rough exhibition, eighteen men being ruled off.

The Game.

A short time after the face off Grose was chased for bodying Rose and had to do 5 minutes. Hall and Nicholls got tangled up and both fell. Long broke away on a good rush up the side and shot but Laing stopped well. McGrath was boarded two minutes for tripping. Nicholls shot and Fitz tripping. Miller followed with a mistake the water fall and took a nasty tumble in a little west side lake. Rose tore off a splendid rush and shot from a difficult angle, scoring the High Lifes first. Time 12 minutes. 1-0.

Dusty was given two minutes for goal but Fitz was there. Hall got ute for slashing. There was a hot mix up around Charlotte Street goal. Rose took three minutes rest for charging Dusty. Miller rushed but got mixed up with McGrath's stick and fell. Nicholls was penalized th ee minutes for a heavy body. Dusty shot on minutes for tripping. Ford was given two minutes for tripping. Moore rushed from his position right down to the High Lifes goal, but here he fumbled the puck. Miller got it, however, and shot and scored. The din that heralded the first tally of Charlotte Street was deafening. They were the favourites with the crowd, the majority of whom encouraged them all the time. Time of last score 7 minutes. 1-1. Miller was penalized two all their regular teame xcept Watson five minutes for holding a man with his stick. The half-time score stood 1-1.

Second Half.

The second period opened with Long on the fence with still four minutes to serve. Charlotte Street was pressing. Grose shot from the side. Nicholls was given one minute for tripping. Roddy and Nicholls shot in succession. Nicholls got five minutes more for tripping. Moore received a crack over the head but was all right in a minute or two. Dusty and Rose mixed it up and both were given five minutes. The referee was hit on the head with a stick opening a wound he received in Brockville and the game was delayed for a short time. Miller scored in fourteen minutes. The crowd cheered till the rust began to drop off the rafters. 2-1. Grose was given three minutes for slashing. Nicholls received the same length of time for tripping. With two Charlotte Street men on the fence and very little time to play the High Lifes tried ddesparately to tie the score and for a time it looked as though they would, but they were not equal to the occasion. Ford was given three minutes' rest. Miller received five minutes for tripping and was off for the rest of the game. Meagher and Nicholls roughed it and both were put off for the remainder of the game. The game ended with both teams playing hard.

BANKERS - SUICIDES.

This game was a very poor exhibition of hockey. The Bankers were short all their regular teame xcept Watson who was easily the pick of them all. Weir and Carmichael played fairly well but the Suicides had an easy time of it and won in a gallop They were without the services of Wilson, their regular goal tender but Big Chief Metheral filled the position very acceptably. McMillan was also an absentee. As the Pankers couldn't scrape together seven men, each team played a man short.

For the Suicides Campbell, Gilman and Mann were conspicuous and all three played good hockey. The Weatherstones were in the game all the time and are a valuable pair. The game was not unduly rough and Fitzpatrick, the High Lifes goal tender refereed satisfactorily. He was given three rousing cheers, as he came on the ice in the second half by a crowd of his admirers and graciously acknowledged this tribute to his worth with an encouraging smile.

The Game.

Carmichael scored the first for the Bankers in three-quarters of a minute. He was benched for two minutes for slashing shortly afterwards. Weatherstone landed the Suicides' first goal for the Suicides in 41-2 minutes. Mann did the needful again in 21-2 minutes. 2-1. Campbell rested two minutes for tripping. Metheral made a good stop. Carmichael slashed at Weatherstone and was allowed to rest for one minute. Rush stopped two in succession. Watson uncorked a good rush and shot, but the rubber went wide. Sawers tripped and was timbered for two minutes. Weir bored one in on the big chief but the latter chased the rubber into the corner. No more scoring was done in the first half. Half time score 2-1.

Second Half.

Campbell scored in a minute. 3-1. He did it again in the same time. 4-1. There was a face off in front of the Bankers' goal and Mann retired the rubber. Time three minutes. 5-1. Campbell tripped Watson and had to watch the game from the bleachers for three minutes. A. Weatherstone bodied Watson and was penalized for two minutes. Carmichael took three minutes for slashing. Mann shot and Rush stopped but Campbell put it through on the rebound. Time 10 minutes. 6-1. Easy for Suicides. Watson tried to rally but Metheral refused to get out of the way. In a mix-up Neillson scored in a peculiar manner for the Suicides. 7-1. In two minutes more Mann scored the Suicides last in three minutes. 8-1.

WEARY DAYS AND SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Many men and women toss night after night upon sleepless beds until near dawn. Their eyes do not close in the sweet and refreshing repose that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right. Worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quieted. Or, again, you have heart palpitation and sensation of sinking, a feeling you are going to die; or perhaps you wake up from your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and rest leaves you for the night. Allow these conditions to continue and you will feel your health declining.

It is the nerves and heart that are not acting properly.

They can be set right by the use of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They soon induce healthful, refreshing sleep, not by deadening the nerves, but by restoring them to healthy action and removing all symptoms of heart trouble, which is often the cause of nervousness and sleeplessness.

Mrs. Ennis Chambers, Massey Station, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with dizziness, weak spells and fluttering of the heart. I was so bad at times I could not lie down in bed at nights but would have to sit up. I doctored for a whole year and got no relief. I took three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and was so completely cured I have not been troubled since. I cannot recommend them too highly."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or sent direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Parry Sound Will Play Next With The Locals

First Game is Billed to Take Place Here on Monday.

Parry Sound won the championship of groups 10, 11 and 12 last night by defeating Sturgeon Falls by 6-3. They will play the locals here on Monday night and the return game in Parry Sound the following Wednesday.

Perry Sound has been playing fast hockey this winter and their game with the locals will no doubt draw a bumper crowd. It was thought that perhaps a sudden death game would be played in Barrie with Parry Sound but just as the Examiner goes to press it is learned that home and home games will be played instead of the game on neutral ice.

Pill Pounders Won Their Game

One of the "smoothest" hockey games of the season was that played by the Pill Pounders and Cressman's Counter Hoppers at the Brock street rink last night, the former emerging from the gentle fray victors by the close score of 2-1. "Bill" Metheral was the referee and he watched closely all attempts at rough and unscientific hockey so there was not one attempt at mixing it up. It is stated that the dope men administered too freely "Bug death" among the Hoppers of the Counter which was the direct cause of their failure to land a victory. However, they have some excellent players in Bell, Todd, and Darling, the latter being responsible for their only goal. For the Mortar Grinders Mann and Quinn were the prominent ones each scoring a goal. These were very ably assisted by the rest of the team and so added another victory to their credit.

The Hoppers are not yet disheartened and issue a second challenge to the Pill men for a game to be played as soon as convenient, the losers to provide an oyster supper for the two teams.

The line-up of the teams was:—

Pill Pounders.		Cressman's
Harrison	Goal.	Cressman
Davidson	Point.	Meredith
Quinn	Cover Point.	W. Todd
Darke	Rover.	Seymour
Mann	Centre.	Bell
Fitzgerald	Right Wing.	Darling

HOCKEY

Peterborough is slated to win the intermediate O.H.A. championship, while the junior honours now lie between Port Hope, Lindsay, Woodstock and Owen Sound.—Montreal Herald.

• • • •

Mrs. Fay didn't actually say that the High Lifes would win, but that their chances looked good or something to that effect and so they did.

• • • •

If there is any town in Canada where it is more dangerous to win a game than in Lindsay, many people would be glad to hear of it. The only way to emerge from the place in safety after trimming the Lindsay pets, is to take a battalion of infantry as an escort and use an armoured train. The missiles used in the assault on the Port Hope team the other night included large lumps of coal.

• • • •

Some person up in Lindsay must have a few Ferris Wheels in his head. The Examiner stated the other day that it was the intention of Port Hope to protest Amos McWilliams if he played against them in the Midgets-Port Hope game. Mr. N. McWilliams, of this city received a wire to that effect, Now the Post says, "Thanks, Peter, but the news is old". The news was not old at the time it was published—that is, for the Peterborough fans, and as far as the Post is concerned, the matter wasn't published for its benefit anyway. The Post is in no way connected and its comments are superfluous.

• • • •

Mr. C. A. Hagerman, of Port Hope, was struck with a piece of coal while standing on the car step of the Port Hope special after the recent game in which Port Hope trimmed Lindsay. Is not surprising considering where it came from—no more surprising than news of bomb throwing from Russia.

To Report On Water Power

Mr. J. E. Belcher, county engineer, was in town on Tuesday and in company with ex-wardens Buck and Pearse and Councillors Andrews and Webster, made an examination of the water power on the Grover property—one of the sites offered for the proposed House of Refuge. Mr. Belcher will report to the county council at their meeting in Peterborough next Saturday as to the utility of this power and the probable cost of harnessing the stream.—Norwood Register.

Mr. D. H. Charles Defends Racing At Fall Fairs

Annual Meeting of Fall Fairs Association and Officers Elected.

Mr. H. B. Cowan, secretary of the Fall Fairs Association, addressed the members yesterday morning on the subject of horse racing at the country fairs. He said that the introduction of horse racing, in many instances, had meant the ruin of a hitherto prosperous institution. Trials of speed were first introduced between farmers' horses belonging to the neighbourhood. Then horses were brought from a distance to compete, and finally the specially-bred racer was brought in, and all of the other parts of the fair were neglected for the horse racing. He appealed to the representatives of the agricultural interests not to allow the racing men to get control of the agricultural exhibitions.

There was also an interesting discussion on "school children's day at the fair," which is being continued this afternoon.

Mr. William Channon and Mr. J. Ellis introduced a resolution to the effect that as there was a general desire on the part of the public to have horse racing, and as the law prohibiting horse racing at country fairs was practically a dead issue, the Legislature should be asked to repeal the law and leave the question of racing to be decided by each society for itself.

Mr. D. H. Charles said that any man who called horse racing immoral must have an evil mind himself. The resolution was carried.

Messrs. Hal. B. Donly, of Simcoe; William Laidlaw, of Guelph, and Mr. McCready, of the Macdonald Institute, Guelph, discussed making a feature of "School Children's Day" at the fair and advocated giving prizes for collections of such as were attractive to school children.

At the afternoon session the association elected the following officers:

President J. W. Sheppard, acclamation.

First Vice-President, James Mitchell, Goderich.

Second Vice-President, William Laidlaw, Guelph.

Secretary-Treasurer, Alex. McFarland, Otterville.

Corresponding Secretary, H. B. Cowan, Toronto.

A DIFFERENCE IN LUNGS.

In the Edinburgh University three human lungs lie side by side. One is of an Eskimo and is snow white. In life, this would be ruddy with rich blood. Another is that of a coal-miner and is black. The other is of a town dweller and is a dirty slate gray, as are the lungs of most city residents. That's why consumption thrives in cities.

One reason why Scott's Emulsion does so much to keep down consumption is because it helps to keep the lungs clean and supplies them with rich, red blood. It makes the lungs germ-resisting. If the body is run down and health is at a low ebb Scott's Emulsion will build it up quickly and permanently.

Lakefield People Are Very Confident

Of Securing the New County House of Refuge—The Advantages of That Village Said to be Superior to Those of Any Other Proposed Location—Willing to Leave the Matter to the Council.

Special to The Examiner

Lakefield, Feb. 23. — It is understood that in a very few days the all-important question of the location of the County House of Refuge will be finally settled. If the matter is considered solely on its merits or on the merits of the various district, Lakefield people have no fear as to the result.

They have perfect confidence in the member of the County Council to deal with the matter in a thoroughly, impartial and intelligent manner, and this being the case, they await their decision with that confidence which is only begotten of a knowledge that the arguments and facts submitted in support of Lakefield are superior to those which have, or can be, produced, by any other part of the county.

That Lakefield is the place for the establishment of the institution, is the general opinion of the leading citizens of the county.

Its natural geographical position, as the hub of the county, gives it an argument which cannot successfully be assailed, aside from the claim for recognition by the County Council as the largest commercial centre and the heaviest contributor to the county fund. Lakefield is easily reached from all parts of the county.

Mr. Macfarlane Much Respected In Winnipeg

Former Peterborough Man Who Died There Was One of the City's Most Prominent and Respected Business Men—Occupied Very Important Position With Marshal Wells Co.—His Firm Held Him in High Esteem.

FITTING TRIBUTE TO POPULAR MAN

The Winnipeg Free Press of Tuesday has the following reference to the death of Mr. W. G. Macfarlane, which occurred on Monday in that city:

William G. Macfarlane, one of Winnipeg's brightest young business men, passed away last evening at 10 o'clock at the family residence, 391 Carlton street. Mr. Macfarlane had been suffering from a lingering illness for the past year. He was removed to southern and eastern sanitoriums and everything possible done by relatives and friends to relieve his condition, but without avail. Tuberculosis developed, and for several months past his life had been despaired of. Remarkable vitality alone prevented earlier dissolution.

The late Mr. Macfarlane was born in Peterborough, Ont., and was in his 35th year. When quite a young man he came west to share in its fortunes. Always of a bright disposition and energetic in business it was not long before he was well up in the commercial world. His first important position was at Brandon, where he was manager of the J. T. Wells Co.'s hardware business. Several years later he became identified with the J. H. Ashdown Hardware Company here, leaving that firm to enter the employ of the Marshall Wells Co., of Duluth, as wester Canadian representative. Rapid business growth and good work on the part of Mr. Macfarlane caused the Marshall Wells people to establish a Canadian branch in Winnipeg. He was appointed manager, and also vice-president of the company, both of which positions he held until his death. The principals of his company held Mr. Macfarlane in the highest esteem and have manifested this in many ways during his serious illness. Deceased was popular with a large circle of friends who will deeply deplore his death while in the very prime of life. Among the surfers of the city there will be general regret, more especially at the Granite Club, of which he was an enthusiastic and popular member.

Mr. Macfarlane is survived by a widow and two children. Mrs. Macfarlane, his mother, has been in the city from the east for several months, having been summoned when her condition became serious.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE FAYS.

Again did the marvellous Fays startle and mystify the multitude which filled the auditorium of the Grand Opera House last evening. To say that Mrs. Fay has bewildered the people of Peterborough would be an inadequate expression of the sensation caused by this mysterious woman. On every side it is the Fays who are under discussion, in the hotel corridors, at the clubs, on the street corners, it is the Fays who form the chief topic of conversation. No person living or dead has created such furore and consation as Mrs. Fay in her remarkable experiments in Thaumaturgy. Whence came this power? What is this weird attribute which Mrs. Fay seems to possess to such a remarkable degree? She seems to see the things of the future without eyes, and reads at will the innermost thoughts of her audience. Any attempt at explanation is ridiculous, for on every side when one seeks to find an explanation they are met by a blank wall of refutation. On Monday evening Mrs. Fay was successful in reading the numbers of watches of many in the audience, dates on coins, etc., but in spite of all these things the people of the city were inclined to be skeptical, but as the engagement progressed and more wonderful things were told and every theory was necessarily abandoned, for when some of our best citizens, well-known business men asked Mrs. Fay test questions, the answers to which were known to them alone, and this remarkable woman made correct replies in every case, there was no question but that her power was wonderful. For instance, last night Mr. H. B. Collier, manager of the Peterborough Cereal Co., asked, "How many cases of Canada Flakes are now ordered at Peterborough?" and Mrs. Fay, with lightning-like rapidity, said, without hesitation, "445 cases," which was absolutely correct. Dr. Poole, the veterinary surgeon, was anxious to test Mrs. Fay, and asked, "Where was I born?" "You are an Englishman, sir," came the reply from the stage, "but it seems to me you were born in my land. It was near my home. It was India where you first saw the light of day." This was startling, as it proved correct, and very few could, of course, have been cognoscent of the fact that India was Dr. Poole's birthplace. Mr. Francis was evidently skeptical of Mrs. Fay's ability, so tried to test her by asking how old he was. Like a lightning flash came the reply, "Why, you are 23, sir." This was acknowledged by Mr. Francis to be correct. Neil Lee asked, "Where was I on Feb. 6, 1903, at 6.30 a.m.?" "Glasgow, Scotland, Queen's Dock, and you wrote that question on a leaf from your memorandum book." There were many questions of this character, and in each case Mrs. Fay came off with flying colours. It seems as if nothing is hidden from this remarkable woman and her power; whatever it may be is astounding. The questions answered last night were about 300 in number, and covered the whole gamut of human emotion, ranging from the sweet thing who wanted to know when she was going to be wed, to the astute business man who was anxious as to the state of the stock market and to profit by Mrs. Fay's power to peep into the future.

Mrs. Fay is no novice in her line. Her name is known from one end of the continent to the other. Born in an obscure village in the northern part of India at the foot of the Himalayan Mountains, the child of a mixed marriage between the daughter of an East India Rajah and a British army officer named Gordon, Mrs. Fay's veins tingle with the blood of the Saxon race on one side and from her mother she inherits some of the highest cast and richest blood of India from a long line of ancestors. Yogis and Mahmatas extending back from generation to generation, lost in the time of antiquity. The strange accomplishments of these mystic people of the East and their wonderful knowledge of things hidden from the ordinary mortal seem to be reincarnated in this marvellous and attractive Mrs. Fay. Her personality is indeed most attractive. Her East Indian cast of features are of the highest type and lends to her an oriental expression most pleasing. Her every movement is as graceful as an antelope and her bearing as dignified as a queen. Her first appearance to her audience wins and captivates at once. There is a certain magnetism about her person which seems to inspire a feeling of confidence. She is supported by a most excellent company of entertainers. Of Mr. Fay little need be said. He is simply a sort of an accessory to the fact. His lectures are entertaining, and his polished manner is the very perfection of good breeding. He is a good spieler, to use a vulgar term, although it would be a profanity to call him thus. His talk is the very quintessence of refinement, and flows as calm and embothly as the waters of the Nile.

"GIRL OF THE STREETS"

"Girl of the Streets," by that popular young authoress, Miss Lillian Mortimer, now being produced by Decker and Veronee, is a melodrama built on new and novel lines. It tells the story of how a man, who, wishing to attain an end, resorts to the most foul means and is thwarted in the perpetration of his villainy by a woman whose love has been outraged. So startling are the scenes that one is almost horrified, and yet so natural and true to life that the author is complimented by the sincerity of applause and concentrated interest of the audience. It marks an epoch in the production of the character of plays usually seen at popular prices, both as to the nature of the play and the immensity of the scenic accessories. It will be the attraction at the Grand on Monday, February 26, with Edith Gray in the title role.

"IT'S UP TO YOU, JOHN HENRY"

Charles E. Grapewin, the star of "It's Up to You, John Henry," which is to appear at the Grand, February 27, is well known to local fun-lovers. For years he toured the country as a vaudeville star of the first magnitude, and at one of the highest salaries ever paid to an artist in that field. Since leaving vaudeville he has climbed the rungs of the legitimate ladder with rapid bounds, and to-day is considered one of the best light-comedians on the American stage. Nor does he resort to the questionable methods employed by some to obtain laughs. His work has been characterized as clean, pleasing and legitimate. There is a certain magnetism about him that is perceptible and is felt by the audience the moment he steps on the stage. His smile, walk, stage presence, mannerisms, gestures, his way of reading lines, all command attention and create admiration. His style of humour can truthfully be called "contagious," which was conclusively proven in his performance of "Mr. Pipp" last season.

"SIGN OF THE CROSS"

No play is better known nor more universally praised than Wilson Barrett's powerful story of the persecution of Christians in the days of Nero's terrible reign in Rome. It will pass through the area of dramatic record as the first play to be championed by princes and clergy of all denominations in all countries where "The Sign of the Cross" has planted its success. In America it has had a succession of memorable triumphs in its splendid presentation by William Greet and his London company from the Lyric Theatre. Messrs. Fred. G. Berger and R. G. Craerin have succeeded Mr. Greet in the ownership of "The Sign of the Cross" for the United States and Canada, having purchased the rights to present this great drama and also having secured all the original scenery and appointments from the Lyric Theatre, London, which attracted so much attention for sumptuous scenic and costume display. "The Sign of the Cross" will be a great attraction at the Grand February 28. Many of the leading players of William Greet's London company will be in the cast of forty carefully chosen actors.

Italian Who Resorted TO KNIFE SENTENCED TO Two Months In Goal

Light Sentence for Fero Bruno Who Attempted to Wound Luizt Guillinardo—Franso Deranzio Remanded Until Monday.

Fero Bruno whose case came up for hearing yesterday morning and the morning before on a charge of having attempted to wound Luigi Guillinardo, was sentenced to two month in the county gaol by His Worship, Police Magistrate Dumble at this morning's session of the police court. "The man's action," said his Worship, in summing up the case, "points to the fact that he drew the knife with the intention of wounding Guillinardo." He also stated that although the prisoner in his defence said he expected that Guillinardo and his brother had come to assault him on account of the words that the prisoner had with the complainant's brother in the afternoon, the evidence of the witness didn't support him in this theory, however, but went to show that he had deliberately drawn his knife for the purpose of attacking the complainant. In this country it is more desirable that men resort to fists than knives in settling quarrels. His Worship said he would not tolerate such conduct on the part of Italians or any others and imposed a sentence, which, he remarked, was a light one for the offence, of two months in the common gaol. He instructed Mr. N. Minnicola to inform the prisoner of his sentence. He did so and Bruno did not appear to be visibly affected in either one way or the other.

Francesco Deranzio, who was yesterday arrested by P. C. Miller, on the charge of having "taken, stolen and carried away $43 in the year of 1903, appeared before the court to answer that charge. It is alleged that Deranzio wrongfully cashed a railway cheque for the above amount that was drawn in favour of Guesippe De Napri. It is stated that the cheque was given him by De Napri to take to Carman Assta, an Italian boarding house keeper, 45 Parnell street, who was either to cash it or keep it for De Napri; which he was to do is not definitely known. He got the cheque endorsed, it is said, on the strength of a forged order, and took the money himself. He went out of town and returned recently. He intended, he said, to pay back the money. The prisoner did not plead or elect as to how he would be tried. His counsel, Mr. D. O'Connell, asked that the case be adjourned until to-morrow. Owing to the fact that Mr. N. Minnicolo's business requires his attention to-morrow more than on other days, the case was laid over until Monday. The prisoner, after he had been taken downstairs, said to a reporter, "I intended to pay the money back, for if I didn't I wouldn't have come back to the city."

"Oh, well, he added, these greenhorns are no good and always put a fellow on the bum."

Deranzio is rather a respectable looking young Italian, dresses well, and speaks fairly good English.

Mr. B. Lastar Loses Faith

Does Not Think the Fays Have Kept Faith.

Mr. B. Lastar, who is a friend of Mr. Louis Mellre, who lost $183 at the opera house on Monday night, says he is disappointed with the Fays. At Tuesday night's seance in the opera house, Mr. Fay, he asserts, stated that he might get part of the money back on Thursday next, and if he did not, she would reveal the name of the man who had it, on Thursday night. This was not done, and Mr. Lastar says that he was told that he must communicate privately, which he did, by letter, with Mrs. Fay, but the answer was not forthcoming, and he asserts technical excuses were made to postpone an answer to his questions as to the name of the person in possession of the money.

The most satisfaction Mr. Lastar was able to get was the following written reply from Mr. Fay, which he regards as evasive:

"To answer this question absolutely would lay Mrs. Fay open to criminal libel, as she has no way of proving her statement. The money, or part of it, will be returned as she said, on or before Thursday next, as she told you before."

This, Mr. Lastar declares, is not satisfactory, since he declares that "next" Thursday is not "last" Thursday. Mr. Lastar said that if a more satisfactory answer were not given he would expose the whole transaction at the opera house to-night.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy, in my opinion, that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup, absolutely, in one night. We gave him a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave him instant relief and cure."—Mr. Wm. McGee, 49 Wright avenue, Toronto, Ont.

Revolver Is Missing Link In Evidence

Old Country Waif Tells Differing Stories of Its Disposal.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION

Albert Stewart, Who Robbed Hogg Postoffice, Behind the Bars at Owen Sound on Charge of Being the Man Who Murderously Assailed Jas. Morrison on the Leith Road on Wednesday Night.

Owen Sound, Feb. 24.—Yesterday morning a youth, Albert Stewart, was lodged in the police cells here on suspicion of being the man who murderously assaulted James Morrison, a farmer living near Leith, Wednesday evening. He was brought up in court in the afternoon and remanded a week.

County Constable Foster made the arrest at the house of Mr. Handle, on the 16th concession of Keppel, near Kemble, where he had been tracked from where the shooting occurred.

Stewart is an old country waif who was raised by a farmer in Sullivan Township. At the death a few years ago of the latter, the young fellow drifted into town, where a friend secured him employment. He had not been long in town before he was given a three months' sentence for stealing a pail of candies from the Grand Trunk freight department. On his release he filled positions around town in intermittent stages, going out to work as a farm hand with the farmers of the adjacent sections at times.

Robbed Hogg Postoffice.

Last winter he robbed the Hogg postoffice and got a six-months sentence. Up to last week for some time he was employed temporarily at the farm of Albert Lemon, on the east shore near the Morrison farm, and knew the people and the neighborhood. On the night of the attempt on Morrison's life Mrs. Lemon was aroused from her sleep by some one walking in the house. Thinking it was an aged uncle who was residing with the family, she inquired what he wanted. There was no answer, but a hurried exit by the person.

Tracks in the snow showed that the person who was seen on the road corresponds with Morrison's assailant, and the tracks were identical with those near the Lemon residence. Stewart knew that Lemon had sold a large quantity of seed grain last week, and it is surmised that this visit to Lemon's was with the object of robbery.

Stewart admits that he was not at Handley's on the night previous, and tells different stories as to the disposition of a revolver he was known to have had.

CROWN PROSECUTOR CLEAR.

Sir William Mulock Says Satisfied Counsel Gave No Opinion.

Toronto, Feb. 24.—Crown Prosecutor DuVernet yesterday in the Assize Court stated that the Gurney Foundry Co. were consulting him in 1903 in regard to the law connection with the labor trouble in their moulding shop. It turned into a general inquiry as to conspiracy and he quoted his opinion in the case against the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways when they refused to permit the telephone of an independent company to be installed in their station at Locust Hill, as also holding in the question put to him in an off hand manner.

"I am quite satisfied that Mr. DuVernet gave no opinion," said Chief Justice Mulock. "He was not paid for it, neither was it in writing. I attach no importance whatever to any supposed opinion given by Mr. DuVernet mentioned by Mr. Carrick."

"I want it understood that Mr. DuVernet did give an opinion and that we were influenced by it," interrupted P. McMichael of the Dominion Radiator Co., who was in the box when the chief justice made his statement.

"If I were you, Mr. DuVernet, I would go on with these cases without being placed in the unenviable position of a counsel giving evidence," continued the judge, ignoring the interruption.

George Watson, K. C., said he would press it no further.

The evidence was not of an exciting nature and at the conclusion of yesterday's proceedings the court adjourned until March 13.

The evidence of J. H. Patterson of the Toronto Hardware Co., showed that G. H. Sherlock, a non-association master plumber, owed his company a bill, and preparations were made to sue. A committee of the association waited on Mr. Patterson and asked him not to do it lest Sherlock would make revelations.

Mr. Patterson also had occasion to have some work done by Fred. Armstrong. When the bill came in he found he was charged an increase of 25 per cent. on his own goods. He obtained a rebate on protest.

Donald McArthur of the Standard Ideal Co., said he had got himself disliked because he sold goods to George W. Guest, an outside plumber.

A Ticklish Topic.

Quebec, Feb. 24.—A ministerial caucus was held in the private bills committee room yesterday morning when it is said an increase of the members' indemnity was discussed without any decision being arrived at.

Montreal, Feb. 24.—The death occurred yesterday of the Right Rev. Monsignor David Ramsay, domestic prelate to the Pope, at the age of 80 years. He was a brother of the late Judge Ramsay of the Court of Appeals.

PREMIER ROUVIER'S APPEAL

Warns M. Jaures, Socialist Deputy, of the Effects of His Words in Germany and Asks That Debate Be Not Forced at This Time—House Respected His Wish—Feeling More Hopeful at Algeciras.

Paris, Feb. 24.—Premier Rouvier made an earnest appeal to the Chamber of Deputies yesterday not to force a debate at this moment, as it might embarrass the interests of the country.

Later, the Premier added, when the conference at Algeciras terminated or was suspended he would fully discuss the question.

M. Rouvier's reference to the possible suspension of the conference caused surprise. The orators yielded.

Premier Rouvier laid the Moroccan situation fully before the Cabinet yesterday.

Minister of Marine Thomson announced his intention to ask Parliament to build three battleships, each of 18,000 tons, which will be the largest French ships yet constructed.

M. Jaures, the Socialist leader, declared that France demanded to know the real situation, of which the people are ignorant. The conference had attained nothing, he continued, except the possibilities of a conflict. M. Jaures concluded with saying that it would be piteous were the two great nations to fall on each other over the miserable question of Morocco.

M. Rouvier, after warning M. Jaures of the effect his utterances would have in Germany, declared that the Government had the entire support of the country. France, he said, was deeply desirous of peace, but of peace on condition that her rights and dignity be safeguarded.

More Hopeful Feeling.

Algeciras, Feb. 24.—The first feeling of depression over Germany's rejection of the French proposals is gradually wearing off, and a slightly more hopeful feeling is observable among the delegates.

This is due largely to the amicable spirit shown between the French and German delegates during the formal debates on the Moroccan Bank question.

Strong influences operate to induce the Germans to recognize the syndicate of French bankers who furnished the first loan to Morocco, and who seek thereby to obtain a preferred position in the state bank and numerous compromises on the details of the bank are being discussed.

The deadlock on the question of policing Morocco is unchanged, but the improved feeling also extends to that question.

Conference Adjourns.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Ambassador White yesterday cabled the State Department from Algeciras that the Moroccan conference had adjourned until Saturday next, after discussing the question of an international bank.

A very strong spirit of conciliation seemed to prevail.

The understanding here is that there is no immediate prospect of hostile issues between France and Germany on this subject.

Montreal, Feb. 24.—Over $2,000,000 will be expended during this year on hotels by the C. P. R., is the statement made by Hayter Reed, general manager of the C. P. R. hotel system, who has just returned from a western inspection trip.

SITUATION CRITICAL.

Mutinous Turkish Troops Want Their Pay Before Fighting.

Constantinople, Feb. 24.—An extraordinary meeting of the Council of Ministers has been summoned to confer with the Sultan at the Yildiz palace, and deal with the situation in Yemen, Turkish Arabia.

The hitherto localized revolt in Yemen against Turkish rule has been fanned into a more widespread rebellion by a warlike proclamation of Sheik Mahrud Yehia. A number of tribes have joined the rebel sheik and the encounters with Turkish troops which have taken place at various points indicate that the situation is critical.

Turkey is embarrassed by the objection of the troops to go to Yemen. Further reinforcements which were on their way there mutinied on board a transport in the Red Sea early this week and refused to do any duty until they received their arrears of pay.

Engineer's Wonderful Escape.

Ingersoll, Feb. 24.—Dan McGinnis, engineer at the Ingersoll Packing Co., had a wonderful escape from death by scalding. He was in one of the boilers putting the head to a pipe in place when, not knowing he was there, the fireman turned a two-inch stream of water 212 degrees hot into it. Before McGinnis could climb out he was very badly scalded on the left side, both hands, the neck, and lower part of the face. He was removed to his home, where he is making favorable progress.

Windsor, Feb. 24.—Arthur Howell, a Wabash brakeman, residing in St. Thomas, was killed here in the Grand Trunk yards, while shunting cars. An engine and fourteen cars passed over his body.

Debate On The Address Was Very Bitter

Premier Interrupts Chamberlain Who Voiced False Statement.

DEBATE ON CHINESE SLAVERY

Transvaal Responsible Government to to Settle the Question Ultimately, the Conditions to Be Subject to Assent of Imperial Parliament—Kaffirs Reach Better Tone Over Statement of Mr. Churchill.

London, Feb. 24.—An amendment to the address to the throne, in reply to the King's speech at the opening of Parliament, expressing regret at the fact that the Government had brought the reputation of the country into contempt by describing the employment of Chinese in South Africa as slavery, was defeated in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon by 416 to 21 votes.

The debate, which lasted two days, developed considerable bitterness.

The Liberal Position.

Briefly summed up to the Liberal policy is that there shall be no violent expulsion of the Chinese, but that while some of the great servile conditions of indenture will be eliminated, the ultimate decision of the question is to be left to a responsible Government of the Transvaal.

Joseph Chamberlain, and other members of the Opposition declared the Government had ridden in power on false pretences. Mr. Chamberlain asserted that he had been informed that the mining magnates had approved the Government's proposals, which could not be carried out for several years.

Says Statement Is False.

Premier Campbell-Bannerman here interrupted Mr. Chamberlain, saying the statement was false.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Asquith said that though he would like to do so, the Government could not take a wet sponge and wipe the hateful ordinance off the statutes.

However no new license for the importation of coolies would be issued, the ordinance would be amended, and all coolies desiring to leave South Africa would be repatriated at the cost of imperial exchequer.

Transvaal to Decide.

When a responsible Government is established in the Transvaal it would have full power to determine whether to retain the Chinese. But the conditions would be subject to the assent of the Imperial Government.

Trading on the Stock Exchange opened much more cheerful yesterday, all departments sharing in the improvement. Kaffirs had an appreciably better tone on the statement of Winston Spencer Churchill, Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, in the House of Commons yesterday outling the Government's policy on the Chinese labor question in South Africa.

Will Investigate.

Washington, Feb. 24.—Without opposition the House yesterday passed the Tillman-Gillespie resolution directing the inter-state commerce commission to make examination into the subject of railroad discriminations and monopolies and report on the same from time to time.

The Adventurers

By H. B. MARRIOTT WATSON

In the circuit of my fancy I came suddenly upon this consideration, which pulled me up quite sharply, even with a little breathlessness. These unknown antagonists were still banded in arms against me, and I was alone. I had had repeated evidence that I was pursued by their ingenuity and in two ways. On the one hand I was to be evicted from my own house, and simultaneously my bureau was rifled, as I could not now doubt, for the purpose of securing my remnant of the precious document. What would be the next step which these insolent tricksters would essay? I had no one in the castle beyond the estimable Mrs. Main and a neat housemaid, neither of whom was to be counted in a warfare such as the situation promised to my imagination.

The one man that was daily visible about the place slept at Llanellan, as Mr. Kesteven had informed me. What puzzled me at this point was the isolation in which my host had enwrapped himself. He had taken no pains to protect himself. Exposed, as he must have known he was, to the treachery of an unscrupulous foe, he was thrown absolutely upon his own resources unless indeed he relied upon the near proximity of Hood in times of emergency. But Hood perplexed me, recurring in my thoughts, a haunting figure, provoking only a vague uneasiness and a great uncertainty. And once again the odd conjunction of the captain and the innkeeper returned before my eyes. One thing was certain to my newly awakened wits—I must have some companion in my confidence. There were several friends among my old acquaintances who would serve me, but the year was drawing on and the holiday season was at his height. The odds were that I should discover Pengelly or Rogers or Sheppard was far enough from London by this. I wanted aid forthwith, and forthwith must have it. So it fell that my mind recurred to Montgomery. He was not very much to my taste, certainly not congenial company, but he was obviously honest, and I could swear that he would be faithful.

And so indeed he proved. I rode over next morning to the farm which constituted now all that was left of the old estate of the family. He was plaiting a whip in his dining room—a high wainscoted chamber, very dingy and untidy and heaped with all the unimaginable rubbish of a young man's fancy. On my entrance he rose, his silly face beaming red, and grasped my hand with an awkward sentence of welcome.

"It's good of you to come so soon," said he.

"I've come to take you back," said I.

He stared at me. "Oh, all right!" he said, as if this mission of mine had been a matter of course. "Come and have a drink."

It was but 11 in the morning, though the breakfast things still cumbered the table, and so I refused his hospitality, a refusal which did not prevent his pouring himself out a glass of beer.

"Montgomery," said I, "leave that alone and keep your head clear. I want you."

The boy bounded to his feet sheepishly enough to what he doubtless considered my rebuke, but with a show of eagerness which pleased me.

"Got your horse?" I asked.

He nodded, all attention now, and I continued:

"Then fling your legs up and be off, and ask your servant to send on your bags. I'm going to keep you for a week."

"Bully!" he said and clamored out of the room in a cheery fashion.

I had already made up my mind not to be too explicit with Montgomery. He was too recent an acquaintance, despite my conviction of his fidelity, to intrust with a precious secret. Indeed, the first occasion of our encounter would not have commended him to many particular people. What I told him, therefore, as we rode back embraced but the general atmosphere of intrigue in which I was involved. The word that stuck in his mind was "burglary," and it greatly excited him.

"Shall we have the police over?" he asked anxiously.

But, strangely enough, although the thought had occurred to me more than once, it was almost in old Kesteven's words that I replied:

"There are none nearer than Raymond." To that I added, "Besides, I think we two are in no need of assistance against a ruffian or two."

The next two days passed very peaceably. As I am fond of laying my plans ahead, I wrote to Sheppard at his chambers asking him if he were still in town and if he felt disposed to pay me a visit, referring briefly to the strange turn which my fortunes had taken. I saw nothing of the captain, at least at the castle, and for some reason or other I felt no desire to revisit him just now. He had evidently forgotten my invitation, nor did I remind him of it when we met casually upon the road the day after Montgomery's arrival. He gave me a civil greeting, cocking his eye at my companion in his good humored, cynical way, and when we had passed, on looking back, I saw him standing at the crossroads, rod in hand, gazing intently after us. Seeing me do so, he waved his hand and moved off upon his journey. Montgomery was as docile as a spaniel, submitting readily, I suppose, to the superior will, and I had no complaint to make of him save that he wearied me a good deal. He himself, however, had a complaint, for he was grievously disappointed that there had been no bloodshed. We saw not a show of a burglar, and I fancy he thought me in his private mind something of an impostor, which possibly was the very reason which made him strike up an acquaintance with Sercombe. I certainly had no right to protest, for the captain was a pleasant fellow and so far as I knew harmless, and, moreover, life at the castle was not enlivening. But all the same I was a little annoyed to find them upon such close terms with one another.

The third day after Montgomery's arrival I resolved to ride into Raymond to see the little lawyer, and, mounting the black horse which had come to me as part of my inheritance, I left the castle shortly before lunch. The nag was a steady creature, though not very handsome to the eyes, and shortly I was upon the other side of Llanellan and cantering down into the long stretch of forest which lies toward the little town. Here, as it chanced very oddly, whom should I meet but Greenstreet himself, driving out to the castle upon the very point of business on which I was bound for Raymond. Encountering thus we agreed to make a convenience of the locality, since I could not persuade him to turn back with me, and we completed our conversation over a pint of ale at the little hostelry in Llanellan. The transaction was comprised in a brief time, and that finished I turned my horse's head forthright for home.

As I drew near the park gates it wanted a little of 4 by my watch. The sun beamed sharply overhead, and the great ilex by the stone pillars of the gateway threw a black blot of shadow across the drive. I headed the horse across the sward, making for the stables which lay among the farm buildings to the north of the castle. Leaving the animal in charge of the handy man, Williams, I walked back by way of the park, skirting the western wing of the building. Upon this side, as I have said, lay a dense shrubbery, through which the little brook streamed over its pebbly bottom to the waterfall upon the southern declivity of the hill. A pathway ran circuitously through this growth of laurel and box, evidently of comparatively recent origin, and winding by several pretty spots, bordered with the rivulet, finally emerged upon the boundary of the park and joined a cross track from the gateway by a leafy avenue of limes.

As it was early and I was in no mood to face Montgomery all at once, I struck into the shrubbery and sauntered quietly along the pathway. Suddenly at a bend before me and slipping softly round the elbow I beheld the figure of a man, but it was gone ere my senses were fully awake in that sultry afternoon. I stood still a moment, stirred somewhat strangely, and then ran quickly to the corner. Peering round, I caught sight of a figure stealing among the shrubs. It paused a moment and then, as it seemed to me, slipped stealthily through the bushes and disappeared.

The next instant I had recognized Hood. There was nothing very remarkable in this, but what moved my blood was a more curious recognition. Swift as the flight of a swallow there darted into my mind the recollection of another vision. I identified the memory. It came back upon me with an odd sense of perplexity and a still stranger feeling of fear where and when I had first encountered that lean and stealthy body. I had seen the man disappear in the same furtive fashion upon the banks of the stream in the valley below, and what had then arrested my vague memory now also again attacked it, but this time with certain knowledge. This was the man who had been with Mr. Kesteven upon the day on which I had first encountered him in the wood.

The fact astounded me, thrilled through my warm limbs to the very marrow of my bones. And yet it seemed too absurd to be accepted on the spur of a moment's fancy. I stood pondering in a state of excitement and then, hastily turning about, ran in the direction of the castle.

What was Hood's business there? I asked myself the question without the assurance of an answer. There was really but little to arouse my suspicions, and yet I was agog with curiosity. I entered the castle courtyard and opened the door of the dining hall. The first object that met my eyes was Montgomery sprawling upon the table and stertorous with drunken sleep. Plates were laid for two, and empty bottles upon the table testified to a generous lunch. Leaving him for a moment, I ran upstairs and pushed open my door silently. As I did so there was an exclamation, and I entered and came face to face with Captain Sercombe.

Montgomery sprawled upon the table in a drunken sleep.

He held one hand in his tightly buttoned coat and looked at me with a watchful eye.

"This is very regrettable, Mr. Greatorex," he said.

The apology sounded so ludicrous in my ears that I broke into a tiny laugh and thereby relieved myself. The time for action was come.

"I must apologize," said I, "for my unexpected return, the more particularly as I have no doubt interrupted you on important business."

"Not at all," he said pleasantly; "not at all. I had quite finished."

"Then if you have been successful, Captain Sercombe," said I as pleasantly as himself, "I think we had better understand each other at once."

A slight smile ruffled his puffy face, but he kept his hand in its hiding place. "That will be unnecessary, sir, I assure you," he rejoined. "I fear I am a bad hand at crib cracking."

The effrontery of the man amazed me, but I showed nothing in the face that I wore.

"Why not give it up?" I asked smoothly.

He shrugged his shoulders. "Almost you persuade me," he returned jauntily.

"Fishing," I resumed, "is a more equanimous pastime, Captain Sercombe, I have heard."

"No doubt," he responded equably and glancing at the window. A twitching of his mouth belied his calm appearance, and I was disposed to believe that he contemplated a desperate move. I sat down upon a chair by the door and surveyed him coolly.

"May I ask," said I, "if you have found this sort of thing usually profitable?" I nodded at my bureau.

"I was in hopes this would prove so," he answered smoothly. "I am not an old hand at it."

"But you have able assistants?" I asked.

"Come, come, Mr. Greatorex," he replied, with a touch of impatience in his voice, "let us get to business!"

"By all means," said I. "You will find me a most reasonable man. In my profession I have had occasion several times to deal with your profession."

If I had expected him to wince at this undisguised thrust I was doomed to disappointment. A smile flitted over his face, and that was all. He withdrew his hand from the breast of his coat. "May I sit down?" he inquired in his most courteous manner.

"Come," said I, "it is rather I who should apply to you for permission."

"We will not stand upon ceremony," he observed, whipping a chair deftly beneath him.

"A very natural sentiment upon your part," I retorted ironically.

"Mr. Greatorex," said he, with his smile and now thoroughly in charge of himself, "there is one thing I pride myself upon, and that is command of my temper."

"A very useful trait—in your profession," I remarked.

The captain took a cigarette from his case. "You will not mind," said he. "The window will air your bedroom." And he puffed the smoke from his nostrils, and it hung about his ragged red mustache. I waited, my eyes fastened on him.

"What are you going to do?" he asked presently.

His own expression carried not a trace of anxiety.

"In these cases," I made answer, "there is a natural course with which her majesty's dutiful subjects do not usually tamper. For my own part I confess that I was at first tempted to take matters into my own hands, but on reflection I do not think I shall interrupt the ordinary course of justice."

"Ah," he said, taking the cigarette from his mouth, "you will call in the law."

I nodded, and a slow smile illumined his red face.

"I think I can persuade you to forego that satisfaction," he said, "though I may possibly find it more difficult to prevent your earlier resolution."

"I am entirely in your hands," said I, smiling to him, for indeed I was now chuckling to myself not only at the man's equanimity, which was quite to my taste, but at my own mastery of the situation.

He looked at me inquiringly, and I was amazed to see the difference in his eyes now. They were tense, sharp, and every trace of idle indifference had left them.

"You are aware, Mr. Greatorex, what we are quarreling over?"

"I assure you, my dear sir," said I, "that I am quarreling over nothing. I am sitting at your feet. Pray continue."

"I think," he said dryly, "that we are beating about the bush. This game of tierce and carte is very well for novices, but we are got beyond that and come to actual quarters. Come, I think this air of yours is a mere affectation which has played its part."

I said nothing save, "I am waiting to hear you, Captain Sercombe."

"You are aware," said he, "what you have in this house." He was watching me very carefully, ready, I did not doubt, to cry off in another direction if I showed my ignorance of his meaning.

"I know what you and your friends are after," said I.

He heaved a sigh of relief.

"Then I table my cards," said he. "You have a piece of paper which I want."

"Exactly," I answered, casting a look at my open bureau. He laughed.

"Oh, I will admit you have the better of me so far," he exclaimed. "But we are not yet at the end of the campaign."

"No," said I; "not until the police from Raymond arrive." He leaned forward and tapped me on the arm very earnestly.

"You mistake me," he said. "I think, Mr. Greatorex, that you do not quite understand the position."

"Upon my soul," said I, "I believe you are right. When a common burglar shall preach to his victim one must indeed revise one's notions of the world."

"You are determined to be flippant, Mr. Greatorex," he replied severely, "and so I will disillusionize you. You have inherited this property from Mr. Kesteven?"

I bowed.

"A gentleman with whom I had not the pleasure of personal acquaintance," he resumed, "but whom I have reasons for considering a very discreet and tenacious man. Now, why, Mr. Greatorex," he said—and he stared at me dispassionately—"now, why do you suppose that Mr. Kesteven did not employ these police of yours?"

The question certainly took me aback. I had never considered it. If the old gentleman had feared an attack, why had he not taken precautions against it? But I was not inclined to make a poor appearance in the argument, and so "He had excellent reasons," I said cheerfully.

"You say well," said he, nodding, but scrutinizing me keenly. "Excellent, indeed, with which, since you are obviously acquainted, you will no doubt understand a good many things which would otherwise puzzle you."

Here I confess he had me again in his hands. "Quite so," I stammered as bravely as possible.

He laughed softly. "I think, Mr. Greatorex, that we had really better understand each other and not be so civil. What you don't know, despite your brave profession of knowledge, is that the treasure disposed in this house is treasure trove—that is, that it was not the property of the late Mr. Kesteven and was not in his power to bequeath, and consequently is not now your property, but the property of her gracious majesty our sovereign queen, less a somewhat infinitesimal percentage which we may term salvage. That, I take it, is a statement which is new to you."

It was, indeed, and now that the facts were revealed to me suddenly and as by magic the many mysteries of the past few weeks were illumined and grew plain. I kept my countenance as well as I might, for all my astonishment, and then—

"This is very interesting," said I, "and I am in your debt for the news."

"Bah, Mr. Greatorex!" he interrupted. "Haven't I said that we must dispense with civilities? Time passes, I have much before me, and we have not concluded our bargain."

"Bargain?" I echoed.

"Why, certainly," said the captain, grinning pleasantly. "I take it that we are enemies, but that we make war upon terms."

"State your terms," said I coldly, having now an inkling as to the new situation.

"That is better," said he approvingly. "In the first place, this contest is a private one, carried on by both sides without public assistance."

For Family Colds

A reliable cough and cold cure should be always in the house ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear.

It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning.

It is safer, too.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in Canada and the United States to-day are never without it.

A dealer writes: "Shiloh's Consumption Cure is without doubt the best remedy for Coughs and Colds on the market. Once used, my customers will buy no other.—L. Elsley, Nassagaweya, Ont."
